Texas Governor Asserts She Heeds Duty's Call and Enters Race Again

Moody Detects Fine Hand of "Pa" in New Effort to Salvage Wreckage

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson today declared she is in the race for Governor of Texas "with all my heart." In a 900-word statement she declared that Atty.-Gen. Moody, her cheif opponent, never had accepted her offer to resign.

The Governor's statement, which has been awaited since the Democratic State Executive Committee last Monday certified her name with that of Moody's for the run-off, presages a heated two weeks' campaign for the Democratic nomination, which in Texas means election.

No official statement as to her plans had been made by Gov. Ferguson since her announcement two days after the July 24 primary in which she said she would not be a candidate in the run-off.

Mrs. Ferguson makes the Ku Klux Klan her principal issue, declaring that the Klan is celebrating Moody's large vote in the first primary as "a Klan victory."

"DUTY TO STATE"

Moody's vote in the first primary was about 409,000, which was 1770 short of a majority over all other candidates. The Texas law requires a run-off primary in those offices in which no candidate receives a majority.

Mrs. Ferguson declares that her duty to her State "is greater than my personal preference for private life at this time."

She declared Moody had forfeited his right to a place on the run-off and general election tickets because of his asserted acceptance of contributions from Representative Satterwhite and R. L. Bobbitt, candidates for the Legislature. The primary law prohibits campaign contributions from one candidate to another candidate.

Referring to her challenge to Moody to resign, she said, "Not only did he not accept my proposition, but he left himself in a position where he would not be bound in case I should have led him by 25,000 votes in the primary. Here are his very words: 'I accept the challenge issued by Jim in his wife's name.' In many other statements in the newspapers he called my proposition 'Jim's bluff,' and not to this good hour has he ever said he accepted my proposition.

"ONLY BLUFFING"

"I submit to all fair-minded people that the acceptance of a challenge by 'Jim' is not the acceptance of a challenge issued by 'Miriam.'

"If the vote had been in my favor, Mr. Moody had carefully worded his reply so that he would not have been bound and he would have immedi-

GERTRUDE INVITED TO SWIM HERE

GERTRUDE EDERLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—William Wrigley, Jr., today issued an invitation to Gertrude Ederle to be the first human to swim the Catalina Channel. He asked the Chicago Tribune to transmit the offer to her.

Mr. Wrigley said he is setting aside $5000 for Miss Ederle's project. This sum is intended to underwrite all expenses of her trip to the west coast and her training there. The balance of the $5000, according to Mr. Wrigley, will be a "merited reward to America's greatest swimmer whether she succeeds in the Catalina swim or not."

"There are no strings on my offer," the owner of two ball clubs, skyscrapers, mines, steamship fleets and an ocean island declared. "The Catalina Channel never has been swam. I have been approached a dozen times in the past by swimmers who thought they could do it. I always declined to back them.

"It is only fair that this triumph should wait for the wonderful New York girl and be a strictly American triumph."

Mr. Wrigley said that the choice of time and place for the swim would be left to Miss Ederle, but that he thought that some time between October and the Christmas holidays would be suitable.

The distance between the California mainland and Santa Catalina Island at the most approachable points is about twenty-three miles. The water of the channel is reported as generally smoother and no colder than the English Channel even during the winter season here.

KNIFE USED ON BUDGET

Coolidge Slashes $99,000,000

President Limits Maximum to $3,270,000,000 for 1928 in Session With Lord

Total is Greater Than This Year Because Congress Voted New Charges

PAUL SMITH'S (N. Y.) Aug. 11. (AP) A maximum limit of $3,270,000,000 for government expenditures in the fiscal year 1928 was set by President Coolidge today. This is $55,000,000 more than was provided for the present fiscal year, exclusive of Postoffice Department costs.

The figure was arrived at during a conference with Brig.-Gen. Lord, Director of the Budget, who came to White Pine Camp to take up with Mr. Coolidge the budget program for next year, and represents a cut of $99,000,000 by the Chief Executive in the preliminary estimates submitted by the departments and bureaus of the government on July 15, last.

CAUSE OF INCREASE

The increase over the present year is caused by additional fixed charges, occasioned principally by legislation in the closing weeks of the recent session of Congress, and means, Gen. Lord said, that the surplus next year probably will be negligible, whereas in the fiscal year ended June 30 the surplus was $377,000,000. The result of today's conference is to be communicated by Gen. Lord to the departments and bureaus which will be required under the law to submit final estimates by September 13, next. It is the hope that on that date the total requirements will be less than the limit set today. Whether any departments face especially heavy cuts was not revealed.

Under the policy of secrecy which surrounds all budget-making until the final reports are transmitted to Congress, few details were made public today. It was said, however, the estimated increase in expenditures for 1928 over the present year is accounted for largely by new fixed charges.

MORE FIXED CHARGES

Through legislation in the recent session, it was added, an additional $36,000,000 is required for pensions of Civil and Spanish War veterans, $18,000,000 more is needed for the Veterans' Bureau, $16,000,000 for providing for the first-time payments by the government to the Federal employees' retirement fund, and $5,000,000 for schools and construction in the District of Columbia.

This new burden of $75,000,000, it was explained, was slashed in actual fact $20,000,000 by reductions in operating expenditures being made in a number of departments, so that the budget demands for next year will be but $55,000,000 more than for the present year.

The new fixed charges, it was said, have made impossible the realization of the hope expressed by the President at the last semiannual business meeting of the government that estimates for 1928 could be held to $3,200,000,000.

COOPER'S LEGACY IN QUESTION

Records Cause Doubt on $9,000,000 Inheritance and Virginia Estate

PEORIA (Ill.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive) The town of Kewanee today is wondering if the $9,000,000 inheritance of John Cooper, an ironworker, is a myth or a reality. The talk started when word was received from Wilmington, Del., that there was no record of the supposed estate and information from the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia, where Cooper is reported to have been left 16,000 acres, also discredits the report.

"Though all the rest may lose faith in me, I will be undisturbed as long as members of my church stand by me," Cooper said today in discussing growing rumors that the legacy is a hoax. He is a staunch church-member.

Confidence that the fortune would be turned over in due time as advertised was expressed by Rev. Mr. Oliver, pastor of the Christian Church, and A. L. Freed, a pillar of the church. Both are members of the committee named to handle the $250,000 building fund Cooper promised Sunday for a new church.

Yesterday he announced another gift from his expected legacy. He promised to make a cash donation to the Kewanee Public Hospital sufficient to build a nurses' home.

Gossip that the promised windfall of millions might be a delusion was aggravated today by the report that a reporter had requested to see the will disposing of the millions, but had been told that the document was "none of his business."

INJUNCTION TRIAL IN BAY CITY STRIKE ENDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The hearing on the injunction requested by twenty-three "American plan" building contracting firms to restrain San Francisco bay counties members of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners from assaulting "American Plan" workers was ended today before Superior Judge Walter E. Herzinger. The court asked both sides to submit briefs. A decision is expected in about a month.

QUICK TEST ON TAX DUE

Community Law Action Sought

Atty.-Gen. Sargent's Aide in San Francisco to Rush Case to High Court

Supreme Tribunal Will Rule; Shortridge Backs Appeal of California Women

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Frederick W. Dewart, special assistant to U. S. Atty.-Gen. Sargent, arrived here today from Washington for the express purpose of bringing to final decision in the United States Supreme Court the controversy over California's community property in relation to Federal inheritance taxes.

Dewart will confer with U. S. Atty. Hatfield and with attorneys representing nearly a score of suits in the Federal courts arising from Washington interpretations of the community-property law.

CASE TO BE CHOSEN

Out of these cases Dewart will select the one most representative of California's contentions, and will seek to expedite its settlement by the highest tribunal of the nation.

Just what case will be chosen will not be known until decisions have been made by the local Federal courts on some of those now pending.

"The recent ruling of Atty.-Gen. Sargent that a Federal estate tax must be paid on the entire community property on the death of the husband is a grave injustice," said United States Senator Shortridge here today. He continued:

"Husbands work eight hours a day—some times. Wives, inside the home, work all the time. The wife's right to her half of community property should be something more than a tangled maze of meaningless words.

MUDDLED SITUATION

"The status of a woman's interest in the community property is fundamentally a vested one—one that not even the Attorney-General or his aides, or the President, himself, has a right to set aside.

"Courts in California, upholding the woman in this right, have been over-ruled on the ground that her share of the community property is mere expectancy. The use of that word in such a matter is indeed unfortunate. Small-minded judges have caught up the word, and the situation is muddled. The husband, we may grant, has a managerial interest during his life, but that is a mere technicality.

"Why do judges enjoin drunken, vagabond husbands from dissipating community property, unless the wife has in it such vested interest as I say that she has?"

Dewart will be in San Francisco approximately two weeks.

SESQUI BAN ON SUNDAYS PRONOUNCED

Judge Holds Operation Worldly Employment and Contrary to Law

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Judge Edwin O. Lewis handed down a decision in Common Pleas Court today holding that the opening of the Sesquicentennial exposition gates on Sundays for an admission fee is unlawful.

In Pennsylvania, he said, the operation of anything not necessary on the Sabbath, for which an admission fee is charged, is worldly employment and contrary to law.

"It looks like Sunday closing," said Mayor Kendrick when he learned the decision. "This is one of the hardest of many blows we have sustained. I will confer with the City Attorney tomorrow to decide our future course in the matter of operating the exposition on Sunday."

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Rev. J. Frank Norris will go to trial here November 1 for the slaying of D. Elliot Chipps in the office of the First Baptist Church on July 17.

The setting was agreed on at a conference here this afternoon between prosecution and defense counsel, including the special prosecution employed by Mrs. D. E. Chipps, divorced wife of the slain man.

Rival of Fonck for Atlantic Air Prize Drops Out

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Lieutenant Commander Noel Davis, who planned an attempt to beat Capt. Rene Fonck to Paris in a nonstop flight, has been forced to give up the project.

Refusal of Capt. George H. Wilkins, Arctic air explorer, to sell his plane The Detroiter, caused his withdrawal, Lieutenant Commander Davis said today. He began making plans last May to attempt the flight and win the $25,000 prize offered by Raymond Orteig for the first nonstop flight to Paris.

Davis said it was impossible to assemble another plane before Fonck's scheduled departure late this month.

ILLINOIS PRIMARY CRASHES

Decision May Force Return to Convention System; Impasse Faced in Fall Elections

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Illinois political affairs were thrown into a serious muddle today when the Illinois primary law of 1910 was held to be invalid and unconstitutional. The decision was given by three circuit judges at Dixon, Ill. Judges Harry Edwards, William Emmerson and Harry L. Heer in the Lee county court decided that the act under which Illinois has been nominating public officers for sixteen years does not measure up to the Illinois constitution because of several technical defects.

The decision was rendered in a suit brought by William J. McAlpine, Dixon, attacking the primary law and asking an injunction against county officers to prevent the payment of election expenses such as salaries of clerks and judges of election and the printing of ballots at the April primary. The injunction was granted. The decision of the three judges was unanimous.

Experts in the office of the Board of Election Commissioners said today that the State probably will have to go back to the old law of convention nominations. Under that law an election is held for the selection of delegates to party conventions. Party conventions nominate all the candidates for city, county and State offices and for Congress and the United States Senate.

The decision raised the question whether the nomination of Frank L. Smith for United States Senator and other nominations made at the primary of April 13 will stand. If the decision is appealed to the State Supreme Court and is upheld there prior to the election in November an unusual situation will develop in Illinois politics.

A few years ago the primary act of 1919 was knocked out, but in that case, known as the Fox case, the election had been held before the decision was given, so there was no question of the validity of the election.

Records in Old Love Suit Filed to Beat Claim

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11. (AP)—Records in a breach-of-promise suit filed forty-nine years ago against William Edenborn, Louisiana capitalist and railroad magnate, who died last May 14 at the age of 78, leaving a $72,000,000 estate, were presented in Federal Court here today.

The musty old papers were introduced by counsel for four nephews and nieces of Edenborn in hearing of their suit to enjoin Mrs. Sophie Meier, farmer's wife of Gumbo, St. Louis county, from prosecuting her suit in Circuit Court for a daughter's share of Edenborn's millions.

The breach-of-promise suit was filed by Miss Fida Dettly of St. Louis, who asked for $10,000 damages, charging that Edenborn had not kept his promise to marry her and was the father of her child, then 3 years of age.

Leeds Money Asserted Back of King Move

ATHENS (Greece) Aug. 11. (AP)—The newspaper Eleutheros Tipos published an asserted confidential report from the Police Prefect of Yanina to the Cabinet saying that city is a propaganda center for a movement aimed at restoration of the monarchy, with money supplied by Prince Christopher.

Prince Christopher shares in a trust fund created by his American wife, the late Princess Anastasia, who when she married him in 1920 was the widow of William B. Leeds, tinplate magnate. Anastasia died in London August 29, 1923.

SAND HILLS ROAD OPENS TO TRAFFIC

Seven Miles of Pavement in Imperial Valley Does Away With Plank Trail

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive) State Highway Engineer Morton today announced that seven miles of new pavement twenty feet in width across the sand hills between El Centro and Yuma has been opened to traffic. The new section of highway eliminates an eight-foot plank road on one of California's important interstate connections, Morton declared.

The old plank road across the Imperial sand dunes was the first passable highway for automobiles located entirely within American territory between the Imperial Valley and Yuma.

It was built in 1916 largely by public subscription, and later was taken over and maintained by the State Highway Commission.

A heavy increase of traffic during recent years has overwhelmed the narrow road and in places all but demolished it. The seven miles of new asphalt concrete pavement is the result of many months of study of conditions on the desert, where many engineers believed building a pavement was impossible.

COURT REFUSES STAY TO DOOMED SLAYER

BALTIMORE, Aug. 11. (AP)—Judge Stanton in City Court today denied Richard Reese Whittemore a writ of habeas corpus. Application for the writ was made Monday in an endeavor to save Whittemore from the gallows. He is scheduled to hang a few minutes after tomorrow midnight for the slaying of Robert H. Holtman, a Maryland penitentiary guard, on February 21, 1925.

CHILD DIES, THREE HURT IN TORNADO

House Demolished When Struck by Twister Near Padroni, Colo.

STERLING (Colo.) Aug. 11. (AP)—One child was reported killed and three persons were seriously injured in a tornado which struck a mile east of Padroni, Colo., last night.

The child, Alvin Zulpo, 4 years of age, was killed when the wind demolished a house. His mother, brother and aunt were injured.

After the building was reduced to splinters, the father crawled from the debris and carried the women and children to another house across the road. Returning, he got the body of the child.

Skipping along a narrow path, the wind overturned several homes, wrecked automobiles and farm machinery, scattered haystacks and damaged crops.

Irene Castle Through With Stage and Films

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Irene Castle McLaughlin is through with the stage, the moving pictures and all publicity, she announced when she came in on the French liner France last evening.

Because of the wish of her husband, Frederick W. McLaughlin to keep himself and his wife out of the limelight from now on, she will keep in modest retirement. She was reluctant to stand before the photographers who besieged her when the ship was coming up the bay.

"If my husband were here he wouldn't stand for it," she said, "but so long as it's the last time, I suppose I might as well."

GOLF CLUB BLOW FATAL

BELOIT (Wis.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Injury of the brain caused by an accidental blow on the jaw from her husband's golf club has resulted fatally for Mrs. Robert W. Fisher, 24 years of age. She stood too close behind the tee as her husband was driving on a Rockford (Ill.) course several weeks ago.

GERMANS HURT IN CLASH

Republicans and Communists in Battle at Celebration to Honor Constitution

BERLIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—Many persons were injured and taken to hospitals tonight when Republicans and Communists clashed after a torchlight procession by the Republicans in honor of the seventh anniversary of the adoption of the Republican constitution. It was necessary to call out a strong force of police before order was restored.

All Germany today observed the anniversary.

Chancellor Marx, speaking at special exercises in the Reichstag, said that despite political differences among the German people, the conviction was growing that the growth of the fatherland alone could be achieved upon the foundations of the Weimar republican constitution.

The Chancellor led the cheers for "the beloved German fatherland and the German nation united in a republic."

President Von Hindenburg postponed his summer vacation in order to attend today's ceremony to show his loyalty to the republican constitution. The Monarchist Premier of Bavaria and the Nationalist Premier of Thuringia, however, announced that they would not be present at the exercises in their respective States.

Special exercises were held this evening in the State Musical Institute. During the day, patriotic programs were held in all the schools in Berlin and republican banners and the republican flag was displayed on all public buildings.

TWO SCORE EXECUTED

Mexican Bishop Reports Riots

Two Priests Among Those Put to Death for Part in Asserted Revolt

Episcopate Takes Extreme Patriotic Stand in "Battle of Words"

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11. (AP)—Archbishop Leopold Ruiz y Flores, who has arrived from Michoacan, has informed the archbishopric that two Catholic priests and between twenty-seven and thirty-seven Catholic citizens were executed by the military authorities on the 1st and 2nd inst. on a charge of heading an uprising growing out of the religious situation.

The Department of the Interior tonight announced that it has no knowledge of the incidents mentioned by Archbishop Ruiz.

The archbishop reported that the disturbances occurred in three towns in the states of Michoacan and Guanajuato. A battle between soldiers and citizens lasted for a day in the town of Zahuayo, Michoacan. The bishop estimated that probably about fifty persons were killed in the battle. The other two towns where disturbances occurred were Acambaro and Irapuato in the state of Guanajuato.

Archbishop Ruiz y Flores said the people of Zahuayo refused to deliver the Catholic churches to the municipal committee appointed to take them over after the priests had ceased to function on July 31.

SOLDIERS FIRED ON

A group of fifty soldiers arrived from a near by garrison and were fired on by the people, who took up positions in the church towers and house roofs and engaged in a day's exchange of shots.

The next day Federal reinforcements arrived and subdued the Catholics. The soldiers then executed two priests and the leaders of the citizens.

The archbishop said that the people at Acambaro also refused to turn over their churches. Two visiting government engineers, who attempted to assist the local officials, were killed by the crowd and their bodies hacked almost to pieces. The priests vainly appealed to the crowd to desist. Federal troops then arrived and executed three, and possibly more, of the leaders. All Catholic priests fled and the authorities are searching for them.

QUIET RESUMED

The archbishop said that at Irapuato, a Mexican Protestant woman taunted the Catholics as their services ceased, whereupon the crowd killed her and then set fire to several residences of Protestants.

Federal troops then arrived and executed three or four leaders of the mob.

After these troubles, Archbishop Ruiz y Flores reported, the states of Michoacan and Guanajuato became quiet. He said he himself had not fled to Mexico City, but was merely here to discuss matters with the episcopate.

The controversy between the government and the Catholic church over the government's religious regulations showed no signs of lessening today.

LOYALTY ASSERTED

The "battle of words," as it is being characterized here, owing to the statements of the Catholic episcopate regarding its stand and the government's reiteration of its policy, was still in progress, seemingly with no prospects at present of anything more dangerous than words being used.

The Catholic authorities, who consistently have ordered moderation and no violence, declared today that they will not support any revolution. The episcopate even went further when in a statement to the Associated Press it asserted that in the event Mexico is menaced by armed conflict with a foreign power, the church and its members will support the Mexican government with absolute loyalty.

"We Mexican Catholics," the statement reads, "will imitate the conduct of French Catholics in the World War, who despite the fact that they had been greatly wronged by their government through antireligious legislation and exploitation of their rights, were among the first to show their patriotism when the conflict began."

MANY DENOUNCEMENTS

Since the present religious controversy developed about 100 "denouncements" of Catholic Church property have been made to government officials. Within the past few years about 300 denouncements were made but not settled. Thus 400 denouncements are pending and Atty.-Gen. Ortega has ordered representatives of the Department of Justice immediately to investigate the situation.

A denouncement means that a person, whose name is never made public, informs the government that a certain piece of property which frequently is not used for religious purposes and does not seem to belong to a church is, in fact, church property held in the name of some private individual.

The Mexican Constitution forbids church ownership of property or priests from holding property for the church or a third party posing as the owner for the purpose of protecting church property.

Any person "denouncing" or informing the government of such disguised ownership receives a certain percentage of the value of the property if the government finds the information given is correct and it seizes the property. The informant's name remains secret as far as the public is concerned. It is understood some persons expect to have handsome incomes due to making denouncements.

Government officials estimate that property valued at more than 25,000,000 pesos may be seized by the government if pending "denouncements" are sustained.

This property consists of ranches,

ANDREWS RETURNS HOME LAUDING BRITISH PACT

Prohibition Enforcement Chief Says England Has Been Good Sport to Help Plug Rum Leaks

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, head of the prohibition enforcement division of the Treasury Department, returned today on the French liner France, expressing great satisfaction as to the agreements reached with the British government regulating smuggling from British possessions. Gen. Andrews said he will leave for Washington tomorrow and begin at once setting up the machinery for the operations of the new agreement signed during his recent visit to London.

He denied that the government had adopted ruthless tactics in its campaign to enforce prohibition by poisoning industrial alcohol, as was prominently charged in New York newspapers today.

EXPLAINS MEETING

"That is just propaganda," he said. "The law denaturing alcohol for industrial purposes was made in 1906 in order to protect Federal revenues."

The general would not discuss the antiliquor smuggling agreements at length, but said the machinery he will set up in Washington will be founded on "a matter of exchange of information and evidence." Each country, he said, will stand by "to see that its own laws are observed."

"The meeting in England," he explained, "was a meeting of the representatives of the executive departments of both governments, getting together to discuss this smuggling with a view of arriving at a common understanding of the facts, and agreeing upon the administrative machinery which would tend to stop illegal shipping operations.

"That is what I went over to do, and that is what we did."

The conference was 125 per cent successful, he said, and will have "a very marked effect for more successful enforcement of prohibition in so far as it regards smuggling."

BRITISH PRAISED

"They tell me at the British Foreign Office," he said, "that this is the first time that a thing of this kind has ever been done between nations. Instead of trying to come to an understanding through diplomatic correspondence, which is very difficult to understand sometimes, a very slow process at least, the British government, out of their natural sense of law and order, were good sports enough to invite us to come and sit around a table with them and call these matters up in this novel way.

"The plan to throoughly fits in with the integrity of the law that the English themselves were quick to suggest a remedy for conditions which indicated unlawful practices. The British feel and we feel that this is quite an advanced step in international relations."

Gen. Andrews said that the agreements do not mean that fault has been found with the English enforcement of their own maritime laws.

COLONIAL LAWS

"There is nothing wrong with the English laws," he said. "I do not wish to give such an idea. The fault, if there is slackness, is with the colonial laws. Take the situation in the Bahamas, for example. The British are no more cognizant of local violations in the Bahamas than we would be in a port of the Philippines."

The government never had denatured alcohol for commercial purposes with a view to inflicting death on drinkers as had been charged, he said.

"We are working for a formula," he added, "and have been for a long while, which will be absolutely 'bootleg proof.' Perhaps it will take the form of an element which will have a disagreeable odor and this will warn any one taking it that it is bootleg."

In seeking for a formula which denatured the alcohol and yet did not contain poison, the government had made use of kerosene, which is "really good for the system," he said.

Gen. Andrews did not estimate the amount of liquor from England and the British colonial possessions which will be cut down as a result of the antismuggling agreements. His estimate when he took office fifteen months ago that 20 per cent of the contraband liquor came from the British possessions was "a guess figure," he admitted. Activities of the Coast Guard fleet during the past year greatly have reduced the amount, he added.

VETERANS WARNED

Adjustments Under New Act Must be Made at Home

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—World War veterans were counseled today by the Washington office of the Disabled American Veterans that there is no advantage in coming to the capital to attempt to obtain adjudication of claims under the July 2 amendments to the act governing the administration of the Veterans' Bureau.

"Hardly had the law been changed before poorly advised disabled men commenced to arrive here, only to receive the information that the power to settle their claims rests with the regional office back home," said Gen. John V. Clinnin, national commander of the organization. "One of the best friends a disabled veteran could have is the one who keeps him at home and handles his claim through the office of the Veterans' Bureau in his State."

Youth Fatally Shot Playing House Breaker

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Harry Lord, 13-year-old lad, was shot fatally this morning by a boy companion, John Evans, of the same age, when the boys were playing "burglar and sheriff."

Evans was sheriff, and used a .38 caliber revolver which the boys did not know was loaded. Young Lord entered the Evans bedroom as a burglar. A moment later he fell screaming to the floor, mortally shot, physicians say.

Police searched his residence and reported that they had found manifestos of the League for the Defense of Religious Liberty, the organization which initiated the economic boycott.

STUDENT FEDERATION OF CUBA BACKS CALLES

HAVANA (Cuba) Aug. 11. (AP)—The students' federation has sent a message to President Calles of Mexico expressing support of his policy in the religious situation. The federation has also requested authority to hold a parade and demonstration Sunday in support of the Mexican government.

AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR STAYS NEUTRAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—The American Federation of Labor through its president, William Green, announced today that it had in no way interfered with the attitude of the Mexican Federation of Labor regarding the religious controversy in Mexico.

"We have not given approval or support," he said, "to the Mexican federation in any policy which it may have adopted or in any decision which it may have made to support the government in the present situation."

Mr. Green said that while both the American and Mexican federations are members of the Pan-American Federation, each is an autonomous body and that the American organization has no right to interfere with the work of its sister federation which, in turn, has no authority in American labor affairs.

ROME PAPER BLAMES FREEMASONS FOR TROUBLE

ROME, Aug. 11. (AP)—International Freemasonry is responsible for the Mexican government's "tyrannical religious persecution," says the semiofficial Tribune in a vigorous criticism today of the Calles government.

"The Mexican government's measures against the Catholics, which have reached a most odious and exasperating form, are not justified by the necessity of a defense against the church," the paper says. "It is a Masonic procedure, obeying without restraint the fundamental canons for the negation of all religious principles. International Freemasonry has achieved an intrigual application of its program in Mexico."

DR. TAYLOR'S REPORT BRANDED AS UN-AMERICAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Father John J. Burke, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare took issue with a recent report of the religious controversy in Mexico by Dr. Alva W. Taylor, editor of the Christian Century.

Taylor's report set forth in a resolution adopted by the Goodwill Mission, which he heads, was said by Father Burke to give no reliable or informative survey of "true conditions" and is for "the most part occupied with repeating the anti-Catholic tirade of Calles."

"The report is sectarian in the worst sense of the word," Father Burke added. "It is certainly injurious to our own American traditions and to our institutions of government, when a committee of Americans will voice defense of the denial of these rights which we hold inalienable—liberty of worship, liberty of speech and assembly, liberty of education, the right to hold property, and the right to trial by jury."

Man and Young Girl Burned to Death in Auto

ATASCADERO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Niles G. Hyatt of San Mateo, about 55 years of age, and a girl about 9, believed to be his daughter, were burned to death when their automobile caught fire on the State highway about two miles north of here today.

The bodies were removed to Paso Robles where the identifications were made at the Coroner's office through papers found in the machine.

Navy's Outlay in San Diego Given as $40,000,000

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 11, (AP)—In a farewell address at the Masonic Temple here today, Rear-Admiral Ashley Robertson, commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, stated that approximately $40,000,000 had been expended by the United States Navy in San Diego in the last three years through construction work and payrolls of officers and men. Rear-Admiral Robertson will soon leave for Philadelphia to take command of the Atlantic scouting fleet.

WHITTIER STUDENT INJURED IN CRASH

LA GRANDE (Or.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Wendel Hunt, 25 years of age, apparently a college student of Whittier, Cal., was found unconscious and seriously injured beside a wrecked touring car which had plunged off the highway at a curve on Emigrant Hill between La Grande and Pendelton today.

WETS TRAIL FAR BEHIND IN OHIO

Pomerene's Victory Only Antidry Solace

Klan Partisans Triumph in Two Instances

Cooper Wins Republican Governor Race

COLUMBUS (O.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Ohio remains normally arid if fairly complete returns from yesterday's primary may be taken as a criterion of the voters' sentiment on prohibition.

The vote gave definite indication that every candidate for nomination on both tickets who had the temerity to declare definitely against prohibition had been soundly rebuked.

Harry C. Gibson, Westerville, former State prohibition agent, who sought the Republican gubernatorial nomination as an avowed wet, was running seventh James C. Beatty, East Liverpool, who conducted his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor with the slogan "Ballot for Beer with Beatty," trailed far behind both Gov. Donahey and A. P. Sandles.

Alfred J. Pierini, Dayton, most emphatic of several wet candidates for the Republican Senatorial nomination, was running last in a field of eight contestants with Senator Willis, dry, leading easily.

POMERENE VICTOR

The outstanding triumph of the candidates whose tendencies were inclined toward liberality on the prohibition question was that of former Senator Atlee Pomerene. He did not declare himself on the issue, but has been officially recorded as voting "no" in years past on measures favored by the Anti-Saloon League.

While the election gave some indications of waning ballot strength on the part of the Ku Klux Klan, two candidates for nomination for State offices who boasted of Klan support seemed likely to be nominated. They were Bert D. Buckley, Dayton, for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer, and in the Democratic race for nomination for the same office, Hamilton G. Deweese, Columbus Klan candidate, appeared to have a substantial majority over John M. Patterson of Cincinnati.

Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati business man, won the Republican nomination for Governor over Thad H. Brown, Columbus, Secretary of State, by a plurality of around 15,000. In 8627 of the 8634 precincts, Cooper's plurality was 15,366. The vote was: Cooper, 165,025; Brown, 149,369.

HARD-FOUGHT BATTLE

The Cooper-Brown fight, one of the hardest fought and most spectacular in a primary election in years in Ohio commanded chief interest tonight. There were a few contests in doubt through the State ticket. Heads of the Republican ticket at the November election will be Cooper and James O. Mills, Columbus restaurant proprietor, opposed to Gov. Donahey who rolled up an impressive vote, on the Democratic ticket, and Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, former Lieutenant-Governor.

Generally organization candidates won handily on all tickets. The two women on the ticket, Mrs. Evelyn Frances Snow, Mount Vernon, who sought the Republican nomination for Governor, and Supreme Court Judge Florence E. Allen, Cleveland, who opposed former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene, for the Democratic nomination for the Senate, were badly defeated.

Mrs. Snow polled only 5656 votes in 7998 precincts, and Judge Allen was 20,000 votes behind Pomerene in 7670 precincts.

United States Senator Willis administered a drubbing to his seven opponents, for the Republican Senatorial nomination. In 7468 precincts he had gathered a total of 203,677 votes, while his closest opponent, Charles Q. Hildebrandt, Wilmington, had only 49,784 votes.

BLACK LEADS FIELD FOR UNDERWOOD SEAT

BIRMINGHAM (Ala.) Aug. 11. (AP)—With approximately half the vote in yesterday's Democratic primary tabulated tonight, Hugo L. Black, aspirant for the nomination to succeed Oscar W. Underwood in the United States Senate, was far in the lead of John H. Bankhead, his nearest opponent. James J. Mayfield, L. B. Musgrove, and Thomas E. Kilby, were trailing in the order named.

The Ku Klux Klan of Alabama was believed to have supported Black almost solidly, although the national headquarters of that secret order had favored Musgrove for the place by reason of the latter's stand against Underwood, who was characterized as a foe of the Klan.

Tabulations late today from 948 of the 1800 precincts in the State, showed Black, 34,826; Bankhead, 23,042; Mayfield, 15,727; Musgrove, 13,929; and Kilby, 13,631.

In the race for Governor, Bibb Graves and Charles S. McDowell, Jr., were running neck and neck in a contest for first place with Graves shading his opponent by a narrow margin, A. H. Carmichael was running strong and the compilation showed him only a few hundred votes behind McDowell. A. G. Patterson, was in fourth place and registering much strength. It was a free-for-all with no man claiming victory or conceding defeat. Each candidate claimed that votes to be counted might change present figures.

Graves's total with 993 precincts in was 32,092; McDowell had 29,689; Carmichael, 28,808, and Patterson, 21,004.

Road bonds and education constituted the principal issues in the gubernatorial race, although Graves injected a national sidelight by declaring that a vote for him would eliminate Al Smith from Alabama politics and hog-tie the New Yorker insofar as claiming Alabama support in any possible Presidential aspirations was concerned.

GOV. TERRAL TRAILS OPPONENT 12,875 VOTES

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Gov. Terral was 12,875 votes behind Chancellor Martineau tonight in tabulations of 1595 out of 2009 precincts in the State in yesterday's primary. The vote was: Terral, 75,449, and Martineau, 88,324.

A total of 163,773 votes had been tabulated unofficially in the race for Governor, leaving approximately 45,000 yet to be accounted for if the vote this year was up to that of two years ago when 207,000 votes were cast.

GOV. PEAY CONCEDED VICTOR IN TENNESSEE

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Hill McAllister, State Treasurer, opposing the renomination of Gov. Peay for a third term, conceded the nomination to Gov. Peay after the official count of votes in the counties today. Gov. Peay by almost complete official returns was leading McAllister by nearly 8000 votes.

MA SAYS KLAN FORCES FIGHT

ately said that he was only bluffing with Jim."

The challenge to resign, which Mrs. Ferguson refers to, was one made by her in her first campaign speech of the present primary. She offered to resign her office if Moody led her by one vote, provided he would resign as Attorney-General if she led him by 25,000 votes.

Mrs. Ferguson also bases her refusal to resign on the charge that the primary was illegal because those who bolted the Democratic party in 1924 to vote for the Republican candidate for Governor, Dr. George C. Butte, were permitted to return to the party and vote in the recent primary.

She states that there were 200,000 such "bolters" and that if they had been excluded, as she says she had a right to presume, that she would have led Moody by 100,000 votes.

"Backing Mr. Moody . . . were the organized forces of the Ku Klux Klan," continues her statement. "In other words, my proposition was based upon a Democratic primary and not a bolting Ku Klux Klan primary. Even if Mr. Moody had accepted my proposition directly to me I would have been released by reason of political fraud and illegal election."

CALLED UNFAIR

She further contends that she was denied the right to have supervisors at every election box by an opinion rendered by Atty.-Gen. Moody denying this right. She declares that this made the election "unfair."

The statement uses the phrases "political wolves" and "political shylocks" in reference to Moody's followers, and concerning the demand that she resign her office, says:

"They are thirsting for blood and a pound of flesh. I shall not accede to their demands, but shall remain at my post to perform the work which I promised the people I would perform, regardless of consequences."

Mrs. Ferguson, in her statement of July 26, promised to resign her office at the close of the special legislative session she called for September 13, next.

"Gov. Ferguson's statement continues:

"When the July primary was over I was again anxious to be relieved of another vicious campaign like we had in the first campaign. Impelled by this desire I announced very shortly after July 24 my tentative withdrawal from the race. This action upon my part was of course based on the facts then before me. No sooner had I made this statement than the Ku Klux Klan leaders all over the State began to claim that they had elected Mr. Moody Governor of this State and the lawless head of this political organization was raised all over this State and a reign of terror now threatens the people of Texas.

"Everywhere the Klan began to shout that the anti-mask law was a thing of the past. As against this boast I want to say that I am going to ask the Legislature to pass a law requiring the Ku Klux Klan to register their membership."

Mrs. Ferguson charged that oil interests were against her and her proposed 3-cent gasoline tax for the schools, she continued:

"The issue in this campaign is the oil companies, the Ku Klux Klan and Mr. Moody on one side, and Ma Ferguson, the people and the school children on the other side."

MOODY SAYS IT'S TIME TO CUT SHACKLES

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Moody, opponent of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson for the Texas Democratic gubernatorial nomination, after reading Gov. Ferguson's announcement of her candidacy in the run-off primary, said that the statement was prepared by Mr. Ferguson and not by the Governor.

"This latest statement," he said, "coming from the executive office which was prepared by Mr. Ferguson, must certainly exhaust the patience of the people of Texas and show even to those who have followed him through all his vicissitudes, his absolute lack of political sincerity and his utter faithlessness to his word. This playing fast and loose with the people of Texas must certainly be revolting to the sensibilities of high-minded citizens everywhere, and the time is surely here for the people of Texas to reclaim their government from irresponsible control."

MAKES PET OF BLACKSNAKE

Illinois Man Tells How "Bruno" Eats Food Out of His Hand

EDWARDSVILLE (Ill.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—B. G. Waggoner, an attorney of Edwardsville, and owner of a farm and orchard north of Alton, told friends that he had succeeded in striking up an intimate acquaintance with a blacksnake which he came upon on the farm about a month ago and which he has named Bruno The snake comes when he calls, Waggoner said.

"Bruno has become a pet," Waggoner said. "He is as gentle as a kitten and crawls toward me when I hold insects and other particles of food in my fingers for him."

Waggoner said he had trained the snake to coil itself around his ankle. 'During the past few weeks Bruno has succeded in ridding the farm buildings of mice. The snake is becoming thoroughly domesticated, Waggoner said

GOVERNOR IN BUSINESS TALK

Addresses Women's Meeting in San Francisco

Outlines Struggle to Keep Taxation Down

Says Politicians, Not School System, Neglected

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Gov. Richardson, speaking before a luncheon of approximately 500 women of San Francisco and the Bay Cities at the Hotel Whitcomb today, reviewed the accomplishments of his administration and reiterated his support of adequate appropriations for the humane, charitable and educational institutions of California.

The Governor, without attempt at campaign oratory, told in a plain and convincing manner of his work in combating the mounting cost of government and of the effort to give the taxpayers of California a business-like government without frills, at the same time taking care of the needs of every institution and function of the State.

Today's address was the first delivered by Gov. Richardson in this city during the present campaign. It was the women voters to whom he brought his message.

Miss Margaret Mary Morgan, who presided as luncheon chairman, read the following telegram from John L. McNabb, chairman of the executive committee of the San Francisco Richardson-for-Governor group:

SENSIBLE GOVERNMENT

"Impossible for me to reach San Francisco for luncheon. As one of Friend Richardson's original supporters, I indorse his administration. It has been a sensible, practical, economical and honest effort to govern the State for the taxpayers and not for the politicians. Whatever displeases the politicians should receive the whole-shoulder support of the taxpayer citizens."

Mrs. Minerva M. Swain, chairman of the Women's Richardson Committee, declared "the Governor's economy and efficiency program resulted to the benefit of the taxpayers in that the State is receiving value for every dollar spent for the schools."

Mrs. Swain pointed out that the first new building erected since 1911 at the Institute for the Blind in Berkeley was built during the Richardson administration.

"The schools are better off today than four years ago," she declared.

"Gov. Richardson stands for law and order, and the strict enforcement of sentences of convicts. This strict enforcement of the law by this courageous man is the very best insurance for the safety of home and family," Mrs. Swain said.

BUSINESS MANAGER

"As Governor, I have visualized myself as the business manager of the State, and I have made it my business to become acquainted with all of its institutions," Gov. Richardson declared in pointing out the work of his administration as far as the numerous State institutions are concerned. "I have always stood for all humane legislation and I shall continue to thus stand," the Governor said.

"When I went into office there was no surplus and the general fund was exhausted, and as a result the 1923 budget had to be drastic or new taxes would have been required," the Governor said, in discussing his economy program.

"We are now guarding our surplus of $12,000,000," he declared.

In spite of the extraordinary and heavy expenditures of $7,000,000 for new buildings; $3,500,000 for the foot and mouth epidemic and automatic increases of 17 per cent over which the Governor had no control, the Governor showed that the present surplus has been maintained and no new taxes have been forced on the people.

"Without a business administration in 1923-25 an ad valorem tax would have been necessary," Gov. Richardson said.

"It is not the schools that have languished, but a few politicians," Gov. Richardson stated in refuting the statement that he had injured the schools. "No person is more interested in education that I."

The Governor pointed with pride to the fact that he has missed but one meeting of the Board of Regents of the University of California during his term in office.

DEFINES PARDONING POWER

The Governor devoted the closing part of his talk to the subject of law and order in which he said:

"The women are most interested, for they stand for the strict enforcement of the law and the punishment of criminals."

The Governor explained his attitude on the pardoning power and insisted that such power was intended only for use when there is a miscarriage of justice.

"I have exercised particular care in the selection of judges because I wanted to carry out a program of law and order," the Governor declared. Back of the police power of the officers of the State is the National Guard, the Governor said, in that the guard may be considered a great moral influence for protection.

Woman's Body in Green Valley Lake Identified

REDLANDS, Aug. 11. (AP)—The body of a woman, clad in a bathing suit, found floating on Green Valley Lake, in the San Bernardino Mountains, today was identified as that of Mrs. Emil M. Pray of Redlands. Redlands police tonight were searching for the driver of a sedan automobile which Mrs. Pray was seen to enter at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. Pray's clothing was found folded on the bank of the lake. There were no bruises on her body.

The Coroner's jury returned an open verdict of drowning. Redlands police have a description of the driver of the automobile. Pray reported his wife's disappearance to the Redlands police.

FRAUD SUSPECTS ARRIVE

LAW AND CRIME ALIKE PAY TOLL

New York Policeman and Bandit Killed

Officer Wounded by Man Slain Later

Bank Robbers Make Haul and Get Away

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Sudden death took its toll today from both the law and the outlaw.

A detective was killed in police headquarters by a prisoner who took advantage of a courtesy to seize the officer's own gun and shoot him down.

A robber was fatally wounded by a detective he had shot, perhaps mortally, after wounding a storekeeper.

A gang of robbers believed to have been led by the notorious Bum Rogers, crossed the city line and escaped with $13,000 in cash from the Hewlett-Woodmore National Bank at Woodmore, Long Island. This crime was unmarked by bloodshed.

The first shooting occurred a few minutes after Detective John M. Singer had brought Gene Pierce, a giant negro, from Hammonton, N. J., where he had been arrested in connection with an automobile theft. It was hot, and Singer took off his coat. The prisoner asked if he might get a drink of water.

SHOOTS FIVE TIMES

"Help yourself," Singer told him and motioned to a water cooler. Pierce moved toward the corner and then suddenly turned to snatch Singer's revolver, exposed by the removal of his coat, from its holster. He fired five times. Only one bullet took effect, but that severed the jugular vein.

The prisoner fled, but was captured several hours later and exactly nine hours after the shooting he was indicted for murder and trial set for the 23rd inst. The patrolman who made the capture was promoted shortly after Singer had been killed.

John Hutchinson, manager of an upper Fifth-avenue chain-grocery store, was slightly wounded when, armed only with a beer bottle, he defied a gunman who later gave his name as Michael McDonald. McDonald ordered the bottle as he entered the store and as Hutchinson turned from the ice box with it, he faced a revolver. He threw the bottle and the robber fired.

McDonald then walked away but was trailed by a chauffeur who saw him pulling a revolver up his sleeve as he left. He notified Patrolman John P. Cook.

GASPS HIS NAME

As Cook closed in, McDonald slid his gun from his sleeve and fired. Cook dropped, seriously wounded, but as he dropped he fired and his shots found their target. The patrolman and robber were rushed to a hospital, where the former was operated on in an effort to save his life and where the latter died after gasping out his name.

The Woodmore bank robbery took place just as William Brower, cashier and manager, had opened the vault. Four armed men suddenly confronted him and took a bag containing $13,000 in bills. They locked him and a gas company official, who had entered during the robbery, in the cashier's cage and escaped in a waiting car.

Description of the gang leader led police to believe that he was Bum Rogers, notorious thief who escaped last December from a keeper who was taking him on a train to Auburn prison to serve thirty-seven years.

CHICAGO KILLERS LINE UP FOR BATTLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Liquor runners and gunmen, who yesterday advanced their fighting front to the wide thoroughfare of Michigan Boulevard, tonight concentrated in gangs and ran to cover, evading police who fear a "war to death" by rival crime barons.

Police information has it that the associates of Dion O'Bannion are making a new bid for the liquor-running rights of the city and hope to attain the heights their noted leader once held—that of dishing out privileges and territory in dispensation of alcohol, beer and other liquors.

TO DEFEND "RIGHTS"

Opposing gangs, both large and small, and some with reputed political connections are prepared to defend their "rights" and "territory."

Nine gangsters were arrested and released and ten others are sought in connection with three recent killings and the boulevard battle.

Vigilance over the gang districts was strengthened following the killing last night of Louis (Big) Smith, New York gunman, who was shot to death as he stood on a street corner.

A Coroner's jury returned a verdict that Smith met his death by bullets fired by an unknown assassin.

Mrs. Evelyn Smith, his widow, told the jury that Smith expected to be killed.

SHOT FOR REVENGE

Smith, believed by the police to be implicated in the killing of Jules Portugese, charged with the theft of $300,000 in jewelry, was shot by a friend of the dead man, who sought revenge for his death, Michael Grady, in charge of the investigation, said.

The police tonight, believing more fatalities to be impending, were searching for Sam (the Greener) Jacobson, friend of Smith, who, it had been rumored, is the next "marked gunman."

Poll of Party Shows Trend to Majority Rule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—A majority of Democratic National Committee members have responded to a request from Clyde W. Herring, committeeman from Iowa, for their views in favor of the abolition of the two-thirds convention rule.

Reporting today to other committee members on his poll, Herring said one-third of the membership was noncommittal, but that more than half who replied were whole-heartedly in favor of the nomination of Presidential candidates at national conventions by a majority vote.

FIVE DEAD IN RUM BATTLES

Two Others Wounded, Coast Guardsman Missing After Clashes in Florida During Five Days

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Three known dead, two reported killed, two men critically wounded and one man reported missing were the toll from two encounters between rum runners, hijackers, bootleggers and guardsmen and Federal agents in Florida in the past five days.

Three asserted violators of the liquor laws were killed in a pitched battle with seven Federal prohibition agents on a lonely Everglades road near Homestead, when they pursued and opened fire on the government agents, who were returning to Miami after a series of raids on hidden stills in the Everglades.

Capt. Bob Pants and Leone Conway, cook of the British rum runner Hazel E. Harman, were brought to a St. Augustine hospital Monday, critically wounded as a result of a battle at sea. The two men say they were attacked by hi-jackers and in the resultant exchange of shots two men in the attacking party were killed.

The schooner was taken in charge by a Coast Guard patrol boat after the two wounded men had been removed by a shrimp fisher.

Five additional Coast Guard vessels left their bases in Miami and Key West Monday night, and they are patrolling the vicinity of the islands to prevent a recurrence of clashes.

Residents of Jacksonville Beach reported having witnessed a three-cornered battle between three vessels and a seaplane a short distance off shore yesterday.

NEW SEATS ON LEAGUE UNEXPECTED

Reconstruction Commission May Limit Permanent Posts to One More

GENEVA, Aug. 11. (AP)—The commission on reconstruction of the Council of the League of Nations is expected to decide against any increase of the permanent membership, except the new seat to be allotted to Germany. Dr. Giuseppe Motta, president of the commission, has suggested that the final meeting be held the 30th inst.

Should this action be taken, Spain's hope for a permanent seat membership would vanish. With Brazil resigned and Spain's attitude toward resignation problematical, some members of the commission are said to be averse to increasing the number of nonpermanent seats from six to nine, as planned. If this objection is sustained, the proposed allotment of three seats to Latin America will fail. Meantime, Cuba is strongly favored for one of the Latin-American places on the council.

Ten Sentenced to Death After Killing Scores

TYUMAN (Siberia) Aug. 11. (AP)—Ten desperadoes were sentenced to death here today for the murder of more than 100 victims. Chief among the condemned is the notorious woman bandit Ekatrina Psihianova, wife of the leader of the gang, who, himself, was known to the intimidated peasantry as "the Jack the ripper of the Ural mountains." The woman was accused of killing her victims with an ax.

The robbers had been organized into a strong band of several score, with rigid rules the slightest infraction of which was punishable by death. For two years the district had been terrorized by the criminals, who are accused of killing whole families. They attacked government warehouses, strangling the guards and seizing stores of vodka and textiles, which they sold at great profit.

The crimes of these robbers and of others who emulated them grew so frequent and so bold that the soviet Minister of Internal Affairs sent a commission to Tyuman, with forces strong enough to restore order.

Californian of Spanish Regime in 108th Year

FRESNO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Born in 1819, when California was under Spanish dominion, William M. Harden, said to be the oldest white man in the State, celebrated his 108th birthday anniversary Tuesday at the County Hospital in Sonora.

Harden is still active, taking daily walks and doing his own washing. He was born in Georgia.

PRISONER FILES SUIT

Richest Folsom Inmate Seeks to Stay Cashing of Check

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—"Count" Schofsky, richest prisoner in Folsom State penitentiary, filed suit today seeking an injunction to prevent Attorney R. M. Rosen from obtaining $7850 of the more than $20,000 on deposit in Schofsky's name in the safe of Warden Smith at Folsom.

The amount of $7850, according to today's petition, was filled in by Rosen on a check signed by Schofsky in blank. The check was obtained, Schofsky asserts, by Rosen from Stanley Vissel, an attorney, for whom Rosen had rendered services to Schofsky.

Schofsky said he had $20,000 in his possession when he was arrested on the Mexican border attempting to smuggle [illegible] into the United States. Since his sentence to prison he has resisted all legal attempts to secure it.

DUKE OF YORK TO QUIT AUSTRALIA IN JANUARY

SYDNEY, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—It has been definitely decided that the Duke and Duchess of York will leave Australia in the middle of January on the Renown, traveling by way of the Panama Canal. They will visit New Zealand first, then visits will be made to all the States of the commonwealth, except Westphalia. The Federal parliament in the Federal capital at Canberra, which the Duke and Duchess are expected to open, will be opened May 9. The return home via the Suez Canal in June.

GERMANY REGISTERS PACTS WITH LEAGUE

GENEVA, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Germany surprised League of Nations members today when it included among fifteen treaties handed to the League for registration, four pacts with Russia, including the famous Moscow pact of last April. Inasmuch as registration by Germany of treaties is voluntary, the same as similar action by the United States, it was not expected that the official text of the accords would be revealed until Germany had actually affiliated with the League. The treaty of friendship and commerce negotiated with Washington in 1923 also was registered.

NEIGHBOR STATES PROTEST BULGAR COMITADJI RAIDS

Sofia Urged to Use Severe Means; Premier Refuses to Accept Responsibility for Acts

SOFIA (Bulgaria) Aug. 11. (AP)—A collective note requesting the Bulgarian authorities to take severe measures to stop the activities of Bulgarian comitadji or irregulars, was presented to Foreign Minister Bouroff today by the diplomatic and Greece:

The tone of the note was much more moderate than had been anticipated. The representatives of the three countries, while stressing the desire of their governments to live on good terms with Bulgaria, called the latter's attention to the necessity of bringing to a definite end the activities of the Comitadji which have caused unrest for some time along the border.

The three countries ask Bulgaria to order the frontier authorities to fulfill their obligations, not only for the sake of good neighborly relations, but also in accordance with existing conventions for surveillance of the border. Bulgaria is asked to take most severe measures in order to render impossible in the future the activities of all revolutionary organizations.

Foreign Minister Bouroff, replying verbally to the diplomats, said that he would send a written reply after the text of the note was submitted to his government.

BULGARS REFUSE TO TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

This is the emphatic stand of the King Boris government given officially today, just before the joint note from Jugo-Slavia, Greece or Rumania was delivered.

"Will Bulgaria assume responsibility for the raids?" Foreign Minister Bouroff was asked.

"No," the Minister replied emphatically, "because Bulgaria is doing all in its power to make the raids impossible.

"If Bulgaria assumes responsibility for the occasional passage of individuals from Bulgaria to Jugo-Slavia, then logic requires that the Jugo-Slav frontier guards be at least five times more numerous than ours and be held five times more responsible. If we wished to strengthen our frontier guards, this could not be done in view of the stipulations of the peace treaty which fixes our minimum number of guards at 2000 for 2000 kilometers of frontier, with three men for each two kilometers. We would be devoid of sense and reason to encourage such raids, because it is foolish to believe that we gain from such tactics."

Minister Bouroff declared border conditions greatly improved over former years, it being indicated by a decreased number of raids that Bulgaria is exerting the greatest effort to prevent incursions. At the same time, he said, Bulgaria was invaded dozens of times in the last seven months by armed bands from Jugo-Slavia, but it never occurred to the government to hold Belgrade responsible. The minister explained that more than 500,000 Macedonian refugees are in Bulgaria and that fifteen years ago the Bulgars, Serbs and Greeks all employed Macedonians to raid the Turks during the time the civilized world applauded the inroads of these little bands on Turkish territory. This legend of hero worship, which surrounded the comitadjis for half a century, cannot be wiped out in the small space of fifteen years, when conditions are entirely different, he said.

MRS. VAN SKIKE WILL TAKE TEN-MILE SWIM

VENICE, Aug. 11.—Mrs. Anna E. Van Skike, 66-year-old swimming wonder, will make her "ten-mile-before-breakfast" birthday swim Thursday morning, the 12th inst., at 2:30, according to reports received today. Yesterday it was reported that the veteran swimmer would start this morning, but this was due to a confusion of plans. Mrs. Van Skike has been seeking a favorable high tide with minimum of wind and surf, according to her friends.

MUTES SPEED CONVENTION

Two Thousand Silent Delegates Discuss and Act on Reports of Officers and Committees

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—The silent convention of the National Association of the Deaf moved forward today with a dispatch possible only through the visual comprehension of the 2000 delegates, none of whom can speak or hear.

As in the thirteen preceding triennial gatherings, the sign language was the medium through which the convention received, discussed and acted upon reports of officers and committees.

RHYTHMIC SONG "SUNG"

A song written by a mute for fellow-members of the organization was "sung" at today's session. With only rhythm and without music, it is "Washington, 1926," composed by J. Frederick Meagher, a young member of the association and a newspaper correspondent in Chicago.

On the steps of the Lincoln Memorial late yesterday the Gettysburg address was rendered in the sign language by Rev. F. C. Smielau of the Pennsylvania delegation. The delegates also danced with almost faultless rhythm to the strains of music communicated to them through the vibrations it caused in the ballroom floor.

LAW EFFORTS REPORTED

President Arthur L. Roberts reported to the convention on the association's success in efforts to have laws held to be discriminatory against the deaf removed from the statute books of Maryland, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, since the 1923 meeting in Atlanta, and to block passage of the eugenics bill proposed in Wisconsin. This latter measure would have forbidden the marriage of the deaf and speechless.

He criticised the Legislature of New Hampshire for not removing restrictions which prevent mutes from receiving automobile driving permits. Fair tests, he contended, had demonstrated that the unusually sharp eyes of the deaf compensate for their failure to hear as far as driving is concerned.

STATE ROAD FORCE HELD PROFITABLE

Operation for First Half of 1926 Shows Balance of $51,665

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Profits earned by the State Traffic Force during the first six months of 1926 totaled $51,665. Will H. Marsh, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, so announced today.

Salaries paid the approximately 200 motorcycle officers on the force amounted to $251,353, Marsh explained, while fines paid by the traffic violators they arrested, together with delinquent fees collected by the officers, totaled $303,018 for the six months.

More than 111,000 offending motorists were stopped by State officers during the half year, most of them being sent on their way with a reprimand. In 37,246 cases the violator was placed under arrest, and in 8104 cases fines were assessed. The fines totaled $227,424, while delinquent fees collected from motorists who were late in obtaining their 1926 licenses came to $75,594.

Of the motorists stopped for reprimand or arrest, 22,488 were speeding, 52,478 had glaring or otherwise faulty lights, 13,685 were breaking rules of the road and 22,474 were violating miscellaneous sections of the motor vehicle law.

FLAMES NO BARRIER IN GOLD RUSH

Winnipeg Men Battle Way Through Forest Fire to New Mineral Field

WINNIPEG (Man.) Aug. 11. (AP)—How a small party of Winnipeg prospectors battled their way through flaming forests to win a 600-mile race for gold in Northwestern Manitoba, was related here today. J. O'Sullivan, A. J. Demers and George and Frank McClatchey were the winners. A group of Minneapolis men lost.

After their American rivals obtained a three-day start, the Manitoba party left here by railroad for mile 239 of the Hudson Bay Railway. They plunged into dense forests July 21, last, for a 175-mile journey to Oxford Lake, which is 150 miles northeast of the [illegible]s. Not more than four hours sleep was obtained each night of the overland journey.

In the midst of the trip, the party was overtaken by a raging forest blaze. Once the four lay flat on a rocky point for six hours overlooking a river while flames leaped over their heads.

Traveling ankle-deep in ashes of burned spruce trees, the men reached Oxford Lake before the Minneapolis party. They quickly staked claims. Samples of antimony ore assayed more than 50 per cent pure metal, with $70 of gold to a ton. A vein ten-feet wide was traced 2000 feet before it disappeared beneath the lake. The claims were on an island in the center of the lake.

BRILLIANT CAREER OF FLYER ENDS

World War Ace Falls to His Death When Parachute Fails to Open

DAYTON (O.) Aug. 11. (AP)—The brilliant career of an army air ace, Lieut. E. H. Barksdale, who was credited with having bagged half a dozen airplanes during the World War and who many times escaped death by a hair was ended at McCook Field here today when he jumped from his plane and his parachute failed to open.

Shot down from a high altitude and wounded during the World War, Lieut. Barksdale merely scoffed when death reached out to him. Time and again he grinned when his motor failed and he was forced to jump and use a parachute to descend to earth from comparatively low altitudes.

Today necessity again demanded that he jump. While more than 1000 feet in the air, in full view of F. Trubee Davison, Assistant Secretary of War in charge of aviation, his plane went into a tail spin.

Apparently realizing he would be unable to right the plane, Lieut. Barksdale jumped, His parachute caught in the fusilage, the plane swung over and over and the officer was seen to fly through the air He was killed instantly.

Barksdale entered the Army Air Service soon after war was declared, and in a short time his ability in the air attracted attention of his superiors and he was sent to France.

COOLIDGE GIVES FARMERS HOPE

President Grants Interview on Market Problems

Holds Conference With Rule, Co-operative Chief

Visitor Declares Executive Favorable to Credits

PAUL SMITH'S (N. Y.) Aug. 11. (AP) The co-operative marketing problem for farm crops received renewed attention today from President Coolidge. Turning from a conference on government financial policies with Brig.-Gen. Lord, director of the budget, Mr. Coolidge received Arthur R. Rule of New York City, general manager of the Federated Fruit and Vegetable Growers, Inc., one of the largest national co-operative organizations, who later said:

"The farmer has no better friend in the country than the President."

CREDITS FAVORED

The position of Mr. Coolidge toward the farm co-operative problem, however, was unrevealed, although Mr Rule did not hesitate to express the conviction that the President is favorable to a program for supplying the farmers with adequate credit machinery and, through the Department of Agriculture, a better understanding and use of the co-operative marketing method.

The visit of Mr. Rule, who was received at the executive offices, was arranged at the suggestion of the departments of Agriculture and of Commerce, with whom he confers frequently on farm business matters.

HEARS CROP REPORT

He took occasion to report on crop conditions as he has found them throughout the country, and to repeat suggestions he has made to officials of the Department of Agriculture on technical matters involved in the setting up within the department of a separate division of co-operative marketing as provided for in legislation passed at the recent session of Congress.

The suggestion was made by Mr. Rule, without, however, Mr. Coolidge indicating his views, that the Rural Credits Act be broadened in respect to the powers it gives for setting up national agricultural co-operatives handling the marketing of perishable products.

Widow of Late Sausage King to Annul Marriage

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP) Mrs. Ottilie Gobel Reed, widow of the late Adolph Gobel, millionaire Sausage Manufacturer, obtained an order permitting her to take steps to annul her marriage to Stewart J. Reed, also known as Josef Rittmeyer, in the Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday.

Mrs. Reed's papers filed in court says Reed is a fugitive from justice, wanted for bigamy. She asserts that when she married him in Washington D. C., in 1924, he already was married to Hedwig Kierdrof, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Reed is president of Aldolph Gobel, Inc. She married Reed soon after he had been employed to assist her in drawing up plans for a mausoleum for her husband

FOUR SERIOUS FIRES RAGE ON

Hundreds of Fighters Man Wide-Flung Front

Rancher's Blunder Brings Grave Consequences

Residents Abandon Town as Blaze Menaces

QUINCY (Cal.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Four brush and timber fires of disturbing proportions tonight were engaging the attention of hundreds of fire fighters on a widely-flung front.

The most serious fire, reports received here stated, was at Seneca, approximately thirty-five miles from Quincy. This fire apparently had been brought under control yesterday but was revived and given almost uncontrollable impetus when a rancher, fearing his homestead was endangered, started a backfire. The flames swept over and destroyed most of the buildings of the Glanzier Mining Company, burned down several miner's cabins and was carried by flying embers across the north fork of the Feather River into some heavy timber. Late reports received here said that the fire was raging on a two-mile front and was being combatted by more than 100 fire wardens and volunteers.

Other fires were reported to be in progress in the La Port district, near the Clipper Mills at Greenville, in Plumas county, and near the Western Pacific Railroad station at Blairsden in the Feather River Canyon region.

The residents of Greenville were so alarmed by the extent of the fire near their community that they abandoned all business and united in diverting the flames from their village.

NORTHERN IDAHO FIRES BURN OUT OF CONTROL

MISSOULA (Mont.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Crews fighting fires on the Pend Oreille and Kaniksu forests in Northern Idaho are encountering great difficulties in checking the spread of the flames, but forces on the Flathead and Kootenai forests in Western Montana have made considerable headway, according to reports to district forestry headquarters here today.

Three big fires still were burning fiercely on the Kaniksu, while three new lightning fires broke out yesterday.

UNIVERSITY DONATIONS ACCEPTED

Gifts to Total of $30,000 Acknowledged by Board; Crocker Named Chairman

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Board of Regents of the University of California, meeting here today, accepted gifts totaling approximately $30,000. The largest, $4500, was donated by Templeton Crocker, to be used for the establishment of a fellowship in dramatics.

Other gifts included $3567 from the San Francisco Community Chest for three months' subscription to the University Hospital; $2500 from Miss Ellen B. Scripps for the Scripps Institution of Oceanography; $2160 from the National Research Council for the continuation of work of Dr. Herbert M. Evans; $3000 from the National Research Council for work in planetary research; $1000 each from the California Dental Association, Charles Nourse, William H. Crocker, Mortimer Fleischhacker, Mrs. Clara H. Heller and Max Rosenberg for various research work.

William H. Crocker, San Francisco banker, was unanimously elected chairman of the Board of Regents at today's meeting. He succeeds Arthur W. Foster, who recently resigned.

Wife Asks for Annulment of Second Nuptials

Declaring her husband kidnaped their child after they were once divorced and that she was forced to marry him again to ascertain the whereabouts of the child, Mrs. Edna M. Pyler sought an annulment yesterday in Judge Wood's court of her second marriage to Tom Pyler.

According to Mrs. Pyler she and her husband were divorced in 1917 and remarried in 1924 but she declared they did not live together. She sought an annulment on the ground that her second marriage to Pyler was an irregular proceeding. She declared her husband now is in the County Jail charged with assault and battery on her.

Judge Wood took the case under submission.

Boy Chained by Parents in Rear of Home Freed

NEWARK (N. J.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Shackled daily for months with a heavy chain about his neck, Salvatore Rossetti, 8 years of age, one of ten children of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Rossetti, was freed today when neighbors reported his imprisonment to police.

The lad, said by his parents to be ingovernable, was chained every day to an old bootblack stand in the rear of his home, neighbors said.

The chain, three and one-half feet long, was padlocked about the boy's neck and nailed to the bootblack stand.

Even that failed to keep him fast, Mrs. Rossetti said, as he picked or broke several padlocks.

HARNETT TO ENTER STATE GOLF CLASSIC

DEL MONTE, Aug. 11. (AP)—James D. Harnett, former amateur champion of Florida, has forwarded his entry for the California State amateur golf championship which will be held here September 4 to 12. The tourney will consist of twenty-six flights. An innovation to be introduced this year will be compilation of scores by an auditor armed with an adding machine.

Grandfathers in Texas Duel Die With Boots On

SWEETWATER (Tex.) Aug. 11. (AP) Two grandfathers of the Texas cattle country will be buried Wednesday after having died with their boots on in settling with automatic rifles the quarrel that fists had failed to settle.

W. S. Reed, 65 years of age, father of eighteen children, wealthy landowner, and J. D. Ware, 70, father of sixteen children, a tenant on one of Reed's places, were the victims of the duel they fought near their homes Tuesday in Scurry county, thirty-five miles from here.

Neighbors said both men had gone constantly armed since Ware got the better of a fistic fray precipitated a month ago by a disagreement over work done for Reed by one of Ware's sons.

Berkeley Will Become Junior Naval Academy

BERKELEY, Aug. 11. (AP)—The University of California next Monday will become one of six junior United States naval academies. Under a plan of the Navy Department officers of the Naval Reserve will be trained here and at five other universities in a four-year course similar to that at Annapolis.

Sixty students will be accepted for the naval curriculum this fall. Fifteen-day summer cruises will be included in hteprogarm cluded in the program. The University of Washington at Seattle is the only other Pacific Coast institution in the list.

BURGLARS FLEE AS MAN ENTERS HOME

WALNUT PARK, Aug. 11.—W. G. Gregory, returning home late at night, was probably just in time to save his residence from being ransacked of many valuables. He entered the home by the front door, and noticed a light burning. The members of his family had left a few days ago to visit relatives in another city. He then made his way into a bedroom and discovered his clothing had been stolen. Jewelry and silverware were untouched. It is thought that the housebreakers had just started their work and were frightened away when he stepped upon the front porch to enter the house. The lock was pried from a rear screen door.

SPANISH TAKE CITY IN THREE DAY STRUGGLE

RABAT, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Chechaouen fell into the hands of Spanish troops yesterday after a bitter three-day struggle. At Veharka, reinforced Spanish regulars forced the surrender of the town, which was the scene of one of the worst disasters of Spanish military history. The town of Doomer, which long was one of Abd-El-Krim's strongholds, was doomed when the powerful Oueld Saide surrendered after holding out for months, giving up his seven cannon, a mortar, two machine guns and shells and cartridges representing the last of the important military supplies Krim allocated to Yebalas.

SWEDEN AND AUSTRIA IN ARBITRATION PACT

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 11. (AP)—An unlimited arbitration treaty, making war illegal under all circumstances, has been concluded between Sweden and Austria, the eighth in a series of somewhat similar nature recently signed by the Swedish government with various European neighbors. The others were with Norway, Finland, Denmark, Poland, Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia, and Germany.

THE STORY OF A REAL SUCCESS—Chapter Three

Economy

How Fontana Holds Down the Settler's Necessary Costs

THE MAN who intends at some time to own a piece of productive farm land in Southern California has a deep interest in the methods used to fix the selling price of this soil. So has the community. If an excessive price is placed on productive land, it adds to the burden of the producer, reduces his purchasing power and affects business adversely. But the greatest injury is inflicted on the buyer. As a rule his capital is barely sufficient to get him into limited production. Every hundred-dollar raise added arbitrarily to the selling price of land makes it more difficult for him to start, and seriously affects his chances of ultimate success.

These are fundamental kindergarten principles every buyer and seller of land should know and consider, but all too often they are obscured by the pink cloud of thoughtless or indifferent optimism.

We at Fontana knew that our success depended on the ability of the settler to make good. Therefore we endeavored to keep his burden as light as possible. We based our selling prices not on what the traffic would bear, but on the actual cost of the land and improvements, plus the cost of the water, plus a reasonable profit.

To this basis we have adhered steadfastly. The temptation and the pressure to add a few hundred dollars to the acre price because we could get the increase, recurred frequently, but we believed that it was good business to hold prices down instead of holding the settler up. And the very real, substantial success of Fontana has strengthened this belief.

Ready-made farms cost too much

Similar considerations caused us to adopt the policy of selling only land, water and growing trees. We probably could increase our sales fifty per cent by placing on the market orchard units completely equipped with homes and poultry houses, but the cost to the settler would be far too high. This is the way it works out:

Let the cost of the home, including the contractor's profit, be $2,500; a fully equipped 1,000-hen poultry house costs $1,500, or a total legitimate cost of $4,000. When the seller of the land undertakes to supply them, he must add to this $4,000 a percentage to cover his overhead, his interest, his risk and his profit; and when he sells them, he adds sales expense and commissions, the total rarely falling below thirty-five per cent of the original cost of home and poultry plant. Thus the buyer is needlessly burdened with an additional expense of $1,400 minimum in useless costs and commissions.

At Fontana we save the settler this heavy load. He arranges privately for the construction of his home and plant, but our knowledge of building costs is always at his disposal to protect him against overcharges. We sell him the land only, though we assist with straight building loans when required. We know that the saving of $1,400 on $4,000 worth of buildings will make success just that much easier for him.

Our interest rate on building loans and deferred payments is seven per cent and no more. We believe that it is unfair and unsound to burden the settler with a hidden interest rate. Too often a nominal rate of seven per cent is almost doubled by the following practice:

The contract provides that a loan of, say, $2,000 is to be repaid in three years, a fixed amount including seven per cent interest to be paid every month. This rate makes the total interest for the three years amount to $420, making a total debt of $2,420 and thirty-six monthly instalments of $67.22 each. Every month, though, a part of the capital is repaid; in eighteen months the loan has been reduced to $1,000, but the interest on the full amount of $2,000 loan goes merrily on to the end. Thus in reality the borrower is paying twelve instead of seven per cent for the use of the money.

Camouflaged interest is banned

WE DO NOT MAKE THAT KIND OF LOAN CONTRACTS AT FONTANA. Our settlers pay seven per cent only on what they owe, not on money already paid.

The success of these policies has been demonstrated by the success of Fontana as a community, by the fact that eighty-five per cent of the Fontana land to be marketed has already passed into private hands. And the Fontana policy of holding down prices and costs to the settler is continued in the marketing of 1,400 acres of young walnut orchards, the last large block of land still left in the hands of the original owners. It will also be applied in the disposal of the last remaining citrus and deciduous groves in various parts of the property.

SUPPORT FOR NAVY URGED

Secretary Wilbur Cites Benefits Young Men Derive From Training on Battleships

TACOMA, Aug. 11. (AP)—A plea for greater public support in the navy program for developing the floating force to a point where it is at least on a parity with the navies of other nations, was voiced by Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur last night in an address at a Chamber of Commerce banquet here in his honor.

Paralleling the work of the United States Army and Navy in striving for world peace is the work of the forty-nine Supreme Courts of the nation, said Secretary Wilbur, with the exception that theirs is a work involving less glory and gallantry.

INSURANCE AGAINST WAR

"The Navy is not only an excellent insurance against war, when it is properly equipped and placed on a parity with the other navies of the world, but its peace-time mission is even more important," said the Secretary, "and that is its function as one of the greatest places in the world for the training of young America.

"Among the 86,000 men of the Navy, you may get an excellent cross-section of America. The officers and men from the ships that have recently visited your city gave you a cross-section of America, one of the greatest public services the Navy is called upon to render is the training of young men that they may accept and do credit to important places in civil life in whatever branch of industry they are best fitted.

"Realize that 1400 young men taken from all walks of life are responsible for the navigation, propulsion, control of fire in battle and all other departments of one of our first line battleships. Theirs is a technical knowledge learned in the Navy that has its counterpart in civil life for their subsequent success.

"In peace or in war, the men that we depend upon to fight the battles of the United States Navy should have the best of equipment or at least as good as that of the enemy that we may be called upon to fight.

ADVANCE OF SCIENCE

"The advance of science has called upon us to make sacrifices to keep up our Navy to this point of efficiency."

Secretary Wilbur, Capt. W. R. Gherardi, his aide and George B. Cramer, a chum of the Secretary's son who is making the western tour with the party, will leave for Seattle this morning. They will remain in that city until Monday, then leaving on a warship with the fleet for San Francisco.

CUSTOMS MEN PLAN UNIFORM ACCOUNTING

SEATTLE, Aug. 11. (AP)—Customs collectors from the Pacific Coast expect to meet in Washington, D. C., in September to adopt a uniform system of accounting, entries, appraisals and documents for all western ports. Collectors from the Coast who are expected to attend the conference are Millard T. Hartson, Seattle; Louis A. Schwaebe, Los Angeles, and William B. Hamilton, San Francisco.

RUMOR BELIEVED UNFOUNDED

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Reassuring word has come to relatives of Evelyn Eastman, former Chicago girl reported missing from her Near East Relief post in Russian Armenia. Near East headquarters in New York communicated yesterday the belief that rumors of Miss Eastman's kidnaping are unfounded. They had no definite word, however.

FEW CIVIL WAR NURSES LIVING

DES MOINES, Aug. 11. (AP)—Only a small band of gray-haired women, the last survivors of the army nurses of the Civil War, will represent their national organization at its annual convention, to take place here in conjunction with the Grand Army of the Republic encampment, September 19 to 24. Only five members of this heroic group, which administered to the suffering Yankees, were present at the reunion of the National Association of Army Nurses of the Civil War, at Grand Rapids last summer.

TILDEN AND JOHNSTON BEAT NATIONAL CHAMPS

DECIDING SET ONE OF LONGEST EVER PLAYED

Richards and Williams Defeated in Final Davis Cup Trial Match, by 6-2, 6-4, 17-15 Score

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 11. (AP)—The three-day test of Davis Cup team candidates came to a dramatic close on the West Side courts today with victory resting on the side of William T. Tilden and William M. Johnston in their final match against the national doubles champions, Vincent Richards and R. Norris Williams, 6-2, 6-4, 17-15.

BILL TILDEN

The eastern team, which had won its two previous matches on Monday and Tuesday, carried America's first two ranking players through one of the longest and most brilliantly played battles of tennis in the final set. For thirty games service prevailed without a single break, and then the national singles titleholder and his Far-West partner smashed through Richards for advantage. Johnston has battered his way through the forty-second game for a victory without losing a point.

SENSATIONAL TENNIS

Few encounters on the historic West Side courts have produced more sensational tennis than today's struggle between members of the "big four." So strong and accurately placed were the services of each player and so decisive were the volleys and smashes at the net that only few of the games advanced as far as deuce. Moreover, there were only

The dope, as far as the Coast League standings are concerned, ran true to form yesterday at Wrigley Field where Marty Krug's league-leading Angels administered a 10-to-3 lacing to the cellar-guarding Seals in the series opener. The Seals were easy for the Cherubs yesterday. Elmer Jacobs blanking them until the Krugmen had run up a ten-run lead.

The Great Mails started for San Francisco and was wild and ineffective against the Home Guards, who finally sent the port-sider shower-ward after the fourth inning. Five runs were scored off Mails and his successor, Mr. Knute Hansen, whose monicker would lead one to believe that he hailed from one of the Scandinavian countries, was treated in a like manner by the clouting Cherubs. Marty Griffin finally wound up on the mound for the visitors and got by the last two rounds without allowing a run.

The Angels are still leading the second-place Oaks by nine and a half games and Marty Krug says the only way they can be gotten out of the lead is by

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—The State Athletic Commission will hold a special meeting tomorrow morning which is expected to straighten out the remaining tangles in the Dempsey-Tunney heavyweight situation. If they accept the invitation extended to them by Commissioner George Brower, the two members of the license committee, Cols J. J. Phelan and D. The initiative designed to force a prompt and final showdown on the situation was taken today by Brower, who exercised his prerogative in calling the special session in spite of the fact that such meetings usually are subject to the call of the chairman, James A. Farley.

Unless there is an unexpected hitch overnight those close to the situation, including Mr. Brower, and Promoter Tex Rickard, are confident that Dempsey will be granted his license tomorrow, thus eliminating the last

Bambino Adds Another Home Run to String

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Home from an unprofitable western swing, the Washington Senators gave the league-leading New York Yankees a setback today, taking both games of a double-header by the same score, 5 to 4. The night cap was eleven innings, Tate breaking it up with a home run to deep center.

In the sixth inning Babe Ruth hit a home run over the right-field wall, his thirty-seventh of the season. Lazzeri tied the score in the ninth on Severeid's out, Tait to Judge. Score:

WOULD RETURN TO PITTSBURGH

Northern Paper Announces Probable Loss

Venture on Coast Result of Difficulty in East

Former Associates Seeking for His Return

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Call says today it has apparently reliable information that Glenn Scobey (Pop) Warner, head football coach at Stanford University and one of the greatest gridiron mentors in the country, is seriously considering making this his last season at the western institution and may return to the University of Pittsburgh, where he was in charge for many years.

Representatives of Pittsburgh, alumni and others, the paper says, have visited Warner at his Palo Alto home to urge and discuss the matter of his return. The famous coach is said to still hold a strong feeling for the eastern city and its university.

Warner left Pittsburgh two years ago and in connection with this the article says, "it might be revealed that Glenn Scobey Warner might not have retired from Pittsburgh to seek peace and quiet among the wilds of Palo Alto if he hadn't been interfered with too much by directors of the university.

"His western gesture is said to have been in retaliation for acts of sabotage on the part of the university's interference squad. He retired gracefully and conducted himself sufficiently at Stanword to make him respected more by his old home town."

Since coming to Stanford, Warner has had unusual success. In 1924 his Cardinal team held California to a 20-20 tie and last year defeated its traditional rival by a 27-14 score, the first victory over the blue and gold in twenty years. In addition, Warner developed Ernie Nevers, all-American fullback last year, and considered the greatest player at that position ever turned out at Stanford.

Gorchakoff and Other Coast Tennis Stars Fare Better in Junior Tourney at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—The national junior tennis championship savored strongly of California today as four Pacific Coast boys won their way into the quarter finals with impressive victories over their fourth round opponents. One Texan, one Chicagoan and two easterners also landed in the select group of eight as the result of the day's play which left only seeded players for the final dash for the title.

Only two of the favorites were forced to travel three sets to gain their bracket, and both displayed fight by coming back to win the final sets after dropping the first.

Howe Bancroft of San Diego upset Don Strachan of Philadelphia, 3-6, in the opening set, but Tilden's protege had evidently learned the secrets of the national champion's comeback power, for he increased the speed of his drives and crushed Bancroft in the next two sets, 6-0, 6-3.

MEETS TARTAR

Ben Gorchakoff, Los Angeles, struck a Tartar in Jimmy Quick of Dallas, Tex., dropping the first set, 3-6, and then winning the next two, 6-2, 6-1.

Snell Beaten by Ramies in Harbor Fight

Pico Ramies slammed his way to a sensational victory over the tough little Tacoma druggist "Doc" Snell in the ten-round main event at the Wilmington Athletic Club last night. Ramies won eight of the ten rounds and never let Snell get set.

Snell carries a potent wallop in both hands, but Ramies's superior ring generalship won him the decision hands down. Kid Kopex defeated Battling Ward in the six-round semi-wind-up. Frankie Bolt fought himself into a draw with Billy Blake, although it looked like Blake's fight. Joe Bell won a technical kayo decision over Tony Flores in the fourth round. Pat Patricks drew with Eddie Regare in the opener.

DUNCAN DEFI UNANSWERED

LONDON, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—George Duncan, the noted British golf pro, who challenged Walter Hagen following the latter's criticism of British professional golf, is astonished at not having received a reply. After Hagen's remarks about golf here, Duncan intimated that he was ready to play Hagen on American soil in a seventy-two-hole match for $2500 side bet. Duncan wants the match next month and has named Pine Valley, near Philadelphia, as the battle ground, this being considered the hardest test of golf in the United States. The Briton is communicating with friends in the United States, endeavoring to bring Hagen to play.

HOMERS BY SHELLENBACK AND KERR HELP HOLLYWOOD UPSET MISSIONS BY 10-TO-7 SCORE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Two home runs, one by Johnny Kerr in the second inning, and the other by Frank Shellenback in the eighth, sent the Missions crashing to another defeat today, for those two blows accounted for five of the ten runs made by Hollywood. Hollywood won the game, 10 to 7, making two jolts in as many days handed the Missions.

FRANK SHELLENBACK.

Those two home runs were disastrous, but boots by McDowell and Rodda in the third helped mightily in the making of three runs that put the Missions under a big handicap right off the reel. The Missions wiped out that lead of five runs by rallies in the fourth and seventh, and stepped out in front themselves by one run, but Joe Oeschger could not hold the advantage, and he was beaten when Hollywood scored four in the eighth.

HAD TWO MEN OUT

Oeschger had two men out in that eighth round, and runners on third and second when John Peters came to bat. Peters singled to left, scoring both runners and putting Hollywood one run to the good again. Then came Frank Shellenback, a pretty fair country hitter, and he soused the ball into the bleachers, scoring Peters ahead of him, and the game was a wreck from the local standpoint.

Jimmy Christian started the pitching for the Missions, and the Stars were glad to see him in the second. Zoellers singled, Coumbe doubled, and Kerr hit the ball out of the lot, the hits coming so fast that Christian was groggy. Lee varied the attack by beating out a bunt, but Peters hit into a double play and Shellenbeck struck out. The last two named did plenty of damage in the eighth, however, when their two hits scored four runs and won the ball game.

Errors by McDowell and Rodda helped Hollywood score three more in the third. Frederick hit to begin the inning, and Gooch bunted him to second. O'Doul was passed, and when McDowell kicked Zoellers's grounder, Frederick scored. Rodda played tag with Coumbe's grounder and O'Doul scored. Kerr was passed to fill the bases and then Christian was lifted.

RAP OESCHEGER, TOO

Oeschger pitched to Lee, who singled to left to score Zoellers, and then John Peters obligingly hit into another double play to end the inning. Oeschger got the situation in hand after that and blanked the visitors until he had two men out in the eighth. Then they knocked him out of the box and Eckert had to finish the game.

The Missions got off in front by scoring a run in the first, when Zoellers dropped Boone's

Nebraskan Wins Two Out of Three Falls in Daro Mat Carnival at Olympic

John Pesek, Nebraska Tigerman, defeated popular Nick Lutze at Lou Daro wrestling carnival last night. Some 6000 fans saw Pesek defeat his youthful opponent in two out of three falls and thereby earn the right to meet Joe Stecher, world's champion matmat, in the next show.

Pesek took the first fall after eight minutes of wrestling with a figure four and double wrist-lock. Lutze came back and grabbed the second with a bar-armscissors and wrist-lock. The fall came after 52 minutes and 40 seconds of grappling. Pesek captured the final fall and the match in 19 minutes and 10 seconds with a head-scissors and double wristlock.

John Freeberg and Charley Hansen, two of Lou Daro's latest grapplers pulled and struggled for forty-five minutes to a draw. The special event was another draw after Gilberto Martinez and Stanley Pinta had wrestled for thirty minutes.

John Paxos tossed Go Go Gobar in twelve minutes and thirty-one seconds with a flying headlock to win the opener.

CARDS STILL WIN

BOSTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Jess Haines pitched his second shutout of the season against Boston, and the Braves ended their current home stay by dropping a 2-to-0 game to St. Louis. Haines held the warriors to five hits. Brilliant fielding staved off St. Louis runs until the eighth, when singles by Bottomley and Douthit and O'Farrell's double broke up the game. The score:

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER
BILL HENRY

WE'RE having a terrible time these days with the tennis season in full swing and the gridiron season fast approaching and the fans in each sport in a state of terrific suppressed emotion. In the last week or so we have been threatened with terrible consequences by both factions. Several tennis fans have threatened to have nothing further to do with us if we don't quit getting football into the column, while several more gridiron enthusiasts take every mention of tennis as a personal insult. Trying to reach a happy medium is what causes little white hairs to sprout suddenly around the edges of the cerebellum. With Californians pretty nearly monopolizing the situation in the tennis world, it is pretty hard to ignore that sport and with college only a few weeks away and tickets already on sale for football, it is sure impossible to pass up the pigskin pastime.

Stanford will never let Pop Warner go back to Pittsburgh without a struggle. The big coach has really just commenced to get his system working at Palo Alto and after two seasons, in one of which they tie the Bears and the other beat both the Bears and C.S.C., they are not going to see the man who made these accomplishments possible, slip out of their hands without a protest. Warner has meant a great deal to Stanford because he restored the old feeling of confidence that was missing under former regimes. The Cards have been going into battle of late with the feeling that they "knew their onions" and that is more than half the battle.

California net stars are still going strong. Four youngsters from this State in the semifinals for the national championship is no mean accomplishment. It means that all four of them will be ranked in the first ten for the year and it means that California has an even chance to come home with the championship. It certainly looks as though either Bunny Ryan or Helen Wills, both Californians, ought to bring the women's championship back to the Golden State, and there are those who think Bill Johnston may bowl Bill Tilden over for the men's crown.

Anybody wishing to enjoy a perfectly aggravating evening can do so without difficulty nowadays listening to the rooters for Strangler Ed Lewis and Josephus Stecher explaining just how their man is the real heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, whereas the other hasn't any claim whatsoever. To our way of thinking—if we may be said to engage in that fascinating occupation from time to time—the only way to settle this matter is to toss the two boys into a ring, having first searched them for concealed weapons, and let the winner emerge with the sole right to wear the crown. Doubtless both would be well paid for the trouble and so would the fans who would witness it.

German Star Set on Beating Trudy's Mark

BOULOGNE (France) Aug. 11. (AP)—Spurred by the feat of Gertrude Ederle in swimming the English Channel in fourteen hours and thirty-one minutes, a German swimmer named Verkoffer has arrived at Calais with the avowed purpose of swimming the channel in twelve hours.

With Mme. Jane Sion of France and Omer Perrault of Canada, forced to quit their channel attempts today the turbulent stretch of water was free of the crush of swimmers which has challenged it in the past few days. Heavy seas and rain squalls compelled the two swimmers to abandon their attempt.

Miss Clare Belle Barrett of New Rochelle, who came within two miles of swimming the channel last week, plans to start on her second attempt Sunday. Miss Lillian Cannon of Baltimore, hopes to start Monday.

eleven deuce games and but four breaks through service in the entire match.

Williams proved the vulnerable link in the championship team during the first two sets, two breaks in the first set and one in the second being scored as Tilden and Johnston whipped back the ball at his feet. Better teamwork also prevailed on the side of the victors.

Preceding this match, which lasted almost two hours, Edward G. Chandler of California and Lewis N. White of Austin, Tex., lost the final struggle of their series against George Lott of Chicago and Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., 6-4, 6-4, 1-6, 7-9, 6-4.

Chandler and White, who had won two previous matches in the series, experienced a lapse in their play today and rallied too late to pull out the match.

EAST-WEST PLAY NEXT

Interest now turns to the East-West matches at the West Side Club Friday and Saturday, the feature contest of which will bring together Tilden and Johnston on Saturday for the first time this season.

HOLE IN ONE CLUB GAINS SIX MEMBERS

The B. H. Dyas Hole-in-One Golf Club has steadily grown this summer until the total membership numbers 165. The last three days has seen six golfers applying to the unique organization.

T. W. Ewing scored his ace at the fourteenth hole of the Harding memorial course at Griffith Park. William Paar, made his one strike at the third hole of the California Country Club. The sixteenth at Bellevue was made in one shot by C. E. Lavering. Ray Hawley sunk his drive on No. 2 at the Oakmont Club. F. M. Galbraith made the ninth hole at Westward Ho in 1 and Lloyd Brooks scored a single on the thirteenth hole at Annandale.

LOMSKI SCORES KAYO

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Leo Lomski, Aberdeen middleweight, scored a technical knockout over Mickey Rockson of Portland in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round main event here last night. The end came when Rockson's manager threw in the towel to save the Portland boy from further punishment.

Gallery and Hinckley Win Squash Play

In the most sensational squash game ever played at the Hollywood Athletic Club, Tom Gallery and Dick Hinckley, national senior A.A.U. doubles champions won two out of three games from Dan Jones and Kent Redwine by the scores of 21-20, 12-21 and 21-18 and advanced to the finals of the annual doubles championship of the film city club.

TOM GALLERY.

In the other game "Murderball" Holman and Esmond Wiley won two straight games over Sandy Wilson and Frank Egger, the scores being 21-9, 21-16. These two winners meet Tuesday afternoon for the club championship or the country for that matter as all the high ranking players of the A.A.U. are members of the Hollywood A.C.

The game between Gallery and Hinckley, Jones and Redwine took two hours and fifteen minutes to complete. In all but the second game they were never more than 2 points apart. At times it looked like Jones and Redwine were going good enough to cop the game, but the title-holders pulled themselves together and stopped several bad rallys.

MERMAIDS ENTERED IN ARROWHEAD SWIM

Once more women athletes will journey to Lake Arrowhead Saturday for their annual swimming and diving meet while the fifth annual mile-high meet for both sexes is scheduled for the week after.

For the women's meet Aileen Allen will bring a squad of mermaids from the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club and there will also be entrants from Long Beach, Anaheim and other cities.

MARY TAYLOR IN NATIONAL EVENT

Miss Mary Taylor, star Southern California junior tennis player, has been entered in the national girls' tennis championships at Philadelphia in September, according to an announcement made last night by Wynn Mace. Miss Taylor will leave Los Angeles next week after competing in the county championships. She will also play in a few eastern tournaments before the nationals. Miss Louise MacFarland of Pasadena, is also going to Philadelphia for that tournament.

DECIDED EARLY

Yesterday's contest was decided as early as the third inning, and it was a long two-base double against the left-field bricks by Ray Jacobs that put the skids under Walter the Great. There were three men on and two out when Jake rammed his double, and three runs resulted from the poke.

Mails's trouble in this inning started after he had retired E. Jacobs and Statz to open the round. Marty Krug, who sat in at third while Mails was pitching, started the rally with a single to center. Mitchell drew a walk. Wally Hood, who started in right field and shifted over to left when Art Jahn was hit on the knee cap by one of Mails's fast ones and forced to retire, singled to center, and Krug scored. Weis walked, filling the bases. Mails put himself in trouble by getting three and two on R. Jacobs, who socked the next pitch high up in the direction of the left-field wall. It didn't look as if the drive would carry to the fence, but Brower kept backing up clear to the bricks, and finally had to watch the ball thud against the barrier about five feet above his head. The runners were all in action on the pitch and all three scored on Jake's double.

Mails stuck it out through the fourth inning and the Angels nicked him for another marker. Truck Hannah singled to left for a starter and E. Jacobs sacrificed him to second. Jigger Statz then pounded one to left center for two bases and Hannah romped in from second. Krug walked and Statz stole third on the fourth ball. Mitchell popped to Mulligan and Statz was out at the plate on an attempted double steal to end the round.

Hansen took the mound for the Seals in the fifth and the Seraphs greeted him with a three-run welcome. Hood singled to center and was forced at second by Weis. R. Jacobs fanned. Hemingway singled to left and Hannah walked, filling the bases. A wild pitch by Hansen scored Weis and moved the other runners along a base. Elmer Jacobs's single down the right field line brought in the inning's two markers.

GET TWO MORE RUNS

The Seraphs got their last two runs in the sixth, Frank Brazill, who replaced Krug, accounting for one of them with a home run poke into the bleachers. With one out, Hood walked and went clear to third while Suhr was throwing out Weis. Ray Jacobs sent Hood home with a double down the leftfield line.

Up until the seventh Jacobs had allowed the visitors only one run, but in the seventh the Seals bunched a couple of hits with a wild pitch to put over their first score. Mulligan doubled to right center to open the inning, and stayed on second while Averill fanned and Jolley arched to Hood. Suhr singled infield, Mulligan taking third. Jacobs put over what looked like a third strike on Camilli, but Umpire Phyle didn't think so, arousing the ire of fair Elmer. Jake then uncorked a wild pitch and Mulligan romped home. After that outburst, the Seraph slabster fanned Camilli without a doubt, ending the inning.

The Seals picked up two more in the eighth on singles by Baker and Yelle, infield outs by Valla and Brower, and Mulligan's single to right.

HOPPING NEARING BOWLING VICTORY

The ninth round of the annual Southern California individual championship bowling tournament was held this week at the Angelus Academy and resulted in Harry Hopping practically cinching the title and the Eddie Cleckner diamond medal. He now leads with thirty-five games won and nineteen lost, a five-game lead over the field.

Only two rounds of the tournament remain to be played. The big fight will be for second place and the B. H. Dyas Company trophy. Four bowlers are tied up at present.

TIGERS ON TOP

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers bunched three doubles and two singles in the fourth inning for three runs and won from the St. Louis Browns today, 4 to 1. A wild pitch and a fumble in this inning contributed to the result. Score:

PAVE WAY FOR DEMPSEY BOUT

Late today neither Col. Phelan nor Col. Wear had shed any further light on their attitude, which was expressed at yesterday's hectic session in their decision to "defer" action on Dempsey's license application pending his compliance with the "rules and regulations of the commission." Brower, however, said he expected both licensing officials to attend.

Compliance with the commission's rules is interpreted to mean that Dempsey's license will be forthcoming upon presentation of formal agreements for his match with Tunney. As a result Rickard and Dempsey both will go before the commissioners tomorrow armed with all the necessary papers designed to show that the Tunney match has been arranged in full accordance with the regulations of the boxing solons.

Tunney's presence will not be required. The challenger received his license yesterday and returned afterward to his training camp at Speculator, N. Y.

TAKES FRESH START

Dempsey took a fresh step in the situation today by visiting the offices of the commission to leave copies of two more contracts for a match with Harry Wills. These were presented at the request of the license committee, which yesterday examined a third Wills-Dempsey contract, drawn up at Niles, Mich., last September, one of those exhibited today was signed at Huntington, W. Va., October 6, 1925, and the other made with B. C. Clements of the Coliseum Club of Chicago, was signed at Los Angeles on March 6, 1926.

It was not indicated what further bearing these documents would have on the attitude of the license committee toward Wills's long-standing challenge. It appeared yesterday that the licensing officials were inclined to dismiss the Wills issue on the ground that the champion, by signin at Niles, already had accepted the negro's challenge.

line drive and Rodda counted. The Missions bunched four hits with a pass, an error by Frederick, and a wild pitch by Shellenback to score three in the fourth and they forged to the front by scoring three more in the seventh. Gooch's fumble gave Finn a start; Swanson and Boone followed with hits and the three runs scored on an infield out, a fielder's choice and McDowell's sacrifice fly. But that was all.

ELKHARD KAYOS HERMAN

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Chief Elkhart of Oklahoma City knocked out Tillie "Kid" Herman of San Antonio in the eighth round of their fight here last night.

Helen Wills is Drawn to Defend Title

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Miss Helen Wills will defend her national tennis championship next week in the Forest Hills stadium, according to the draw announced today. Miss Wills is seeded in first place. There are sixty-five players in the field, which was drawn at the offices of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

That Helen would defend her title had been announced, but the draw made her defense definite. The field is devoid of foreign stars, none of whom accepted the U.S.L.T.A. bid.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan, who has two victories to her credit over Miss Wills, is seeded in second place and has drawn a bye for the first round. The other seeded players in order are Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, Miss Mary K. Browne, Miss Eleanor Goss, Miss Martha Bayard, Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin and Miss Penelope Anderson.

Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, one of the leading players, will not compete in this tournament. She starred for the American team in the Wightman Cup matches in England and feels that she may go stale.

HOOD FACES LOPEZ IN ARMORY BATTLE

Ernie Hood, the Pasadena flyweight, will have a hard battle tonight when he takes on Georgie K. O. Lopez, the slashing fighter from Wilmington, in the eight-round main event at the Pasadena Armory.

Two good six-round bouts also feature the show. Jack O'Brien and Joe Cortez will try to settle an old argument in the semifinal. These welterweights have met three times previously, Cortez winning the first on a K. O. and the other two being draws.

K. O. Joe Cardoz and "Chuck" Nash, 156 pounders, will meet in the other six-round bout. The four-round preliminaries are Al Molina vs. Avalino Arceniega, 110 pounds; Willis Durham vs. Strothers Phillips, 180 pounds.

JOE ROCHE MATCHED TO MEET SCHLAIFER

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Morrie Schlaifer, Omaha middleweight, and Joe Roche of San Francisco have been matched for a ten-round bout at Dreamland Auditorium August 20. It will be Schlaifer's first appearance in this section for more than a year, when he lost a decision to Lefty Cooper.

M'LOUGHLIN TO INVITE WORLD NET STARS HER

Maurice McLoughlin, former national tennis champion, left here last night for the East where he will attend all the large tennis tournaments and attempt to sign the leading players of the world for the annual Southern California championships at the Los Angeles Tennis Club in October.

The Davis Cup teams of France, Japan, United States, Canada and Cuba will be invited to play in the local meet. Practically all the first ten ranking players of this country are being sought in addition to scores of star junior players. Manuel Alonzo, colorful Spaniard, is also on the list.

Departing from the usual custom, the Los Angeles Tennis Club will stage the tournament rather than the Southern California Association. Club officials, headed by Paul Green, chairman of the tournament committee, are attempting to make the Southern California championships as international in flavor as possible.

McLoughlin will not enter any of the tournaments but will be on hand for the Davis Cup matches and all the larger invitations. The United States team will be invited to play in Los Angeles before for Australia.

BERKELEY, Aug. 11. (AP)—The University of California freshman football schedule for 1926 was announced today by Luther Nichols, general manager of the associated students. It follows:

September 26.—San Bernardino High School at Berkeley.

October 2—Open date.

October 23—University of Southern California freshmen at Los Angeles.

October 30—Open date.

November 6—Stanford freshmen at Stanford.

Vancouver is Scene of Sud Victory, 10-3

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Vancouver seems to be the Seattle club's good-luck spot, for Red Killefer's Indians won here again today, Portland falling a victim to the tribe, 10 to 3. Seattle has played three Coast League games here this season and has won every one of them.

The Indians found Leo Mangum's slants easy to solve and cinched the contest in the fifth, when they scored four runs. Miljus held the Beavers safe, except in the second, when they scored their three runs. Rohwer hit a home run in this inning. Fuzzy Hufft of the Indians also poled out a circuit clout.

Seattle leads in the series, two games to none. Score:

Solon Errors Allow Acorns to Annex, 5-3

OAKLAND, Aug. 11. (AP)—Oakland defeated Sacramento, 5 to 3, today in a ball game featured by a ten-minute argument between Umpire Augie Moran and Manager Buddy Ryan of the Senators. Ryan disputed a decision at third base when both Umpires Moran and Burnside ruled McLaughlin out. Moran ordered Ryan from the game, but the Sacramento manager refused to go so three policemen escorted him from the field. The Senators could not do much with Leo Dickerman's offerings in the pinches, while they kicked away their own game in the fourth by contributing three errors. Meanwhile, the Oaks turned three hits into four runs to win. Score:

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

GUESS who they're touting as quarterback for the Stanford varsity this fall? None other than "Hank" Millage, the demon fullback on the Cardinal peagreen eleven two years ago and who was prevented from playing last year because of a bum knee. The author of this information is Jim Reynolds, who imparted it in the spacious lunchroom of the Auto Club, where Mister Donald Stuart Doig was staking us to a two-bit feed.

Needless to say, Mister Reynolds had in tow a couple of Stanford recruits to whom he was dishing out a free feed a la Doig, the only difference being that Reynolds caters to athletes and Doig to his intellectual superiors. It is entirely by way of passing that we mention Mister Reynold's occupation as secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California has nothing to do with his interest in maintaining the prestige of Stanford athletics.

However, be that as it may, Mister Reynolds between gobbles of food which he was pouring into himself and the embryo athletes, found time to dissertate on the remarkable qualities of "Hank" Millage. It is in no light vein that we chronicle the prowess of "Hank," for he is very apt to prove an extremely sore thorn in the sides of California, U.S.C. and other football teams this year.

In receipt of certain literature on the subject from Don Liebendorfer, the news hawk at Palo Alto, Mister Reynolds remarked that "Husky" Hunt, the peewee coach of the freshman pigskinners at Stanford, believes Millage will not only step into the shoes of "Mugs" Mitchell, but those of Ernie Nevers as well. For a sophomore, that is some stepping, but it indicates the confidence radiating from the Cardinal portals, where recent dispatches credit "Pop" Warner with a desire to return to his old love at Pittsburgh.

Whether "Husky" is right or not, Millage's ability as a great defensive player and interference runner is well known. If he can add to these qualities that of running a football team in a heady manner, he will rank as a star of the first magnitude at the end of his first season of varsity football. Stanford is bound to have a swell line this year, and if "Pop" Warner can make a real quarterback out of Millage or somebody else, the Cards are a darned good bet for the Coast title.

Now that the Auto Club baseball team has won the title in the major industrial league or whatever league they were playing in, Donald Stuart Doig, who knows more about touring conditions than prize fights or anything else for that matter, is strutting around like a poisoned porpoise and telling everybody about "my team." He relates with great gusto that "Tub" Spencer, who does the catching for the club and for many years played in the Coast League, had his nose broken in the game last Sunday, but played the last six innings with his injured organ dripping blood. Whereat Mister Doig threw out his chest and chugged off home to El Segundo.

Taylor Date With LaHood Final Go Here

Bud Taylor

Bud Taylor's bout against Dixie LaHood at the Olympic Auditorium next Wednesday night will positively be his one and only appearance before he meets Charley "Phil" Rosenberg for the bantamweight championship Labor Day in Chicago.

Eddie Long, manager of the Terre Haute Terror, wired this information yesterday to Matchmaker Joe Levy of the auditorium. "Please make it clear," Long requested, "that Taylor is taking sufficient chance meeting a boy of LaHood's caliber one month before his title engagement without boxing again.

"There is no use for any other Southern California promoter to attempt to use Bud before he 'wins the title.' We are not in the market for any other bouts until Rosenberg is out of the way."

In this way Long makes it clear that Taylor does not expect any easy pickings when he meets the larruping larruper from Butte. Taylor arrives here tomorrow at 2 o'clock and the celebration which was staged two days ago is replanned for today.

Dixie LaHood pulled into Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and at once opened training at the Manhattan gymnasium. The Montana boy looked every inch his reputation as one of the five best bantamweights in the world.

"LaHood is not a boxer therefore he will not box Mr. Taylor," declared Dixie's manager, John L. Sullivan, in plain words yesterday. "Dixie is purely and simply a fighter on the order of 'Pinwheel' Pete Sarmiento. LaHood expects to rely on his punch to beat Taylor. He thinks he has a good chance."

One Club Golf Tournament at El Caballero

Some interesting golf was played at the El Caballero Country Club yesterday afternoon, when the one-club tournament featured the day's play.

First low gross went to Harry Baker with a 90, and G. M. Griffiths won second low gross with a 93. First low net was won by C. O. Hagen with a 70; Bob Allen shot a 79; Ted Withers' card showed 84. First blind bogey was won by G. Arton, second, H. H. Tolle, third, H. L. Averrill, and fourth, G. B. Kircker.

ART KUSSMAN IS ELIMINATED

Emmet Pare, displaying an improved game, carried Chicago's colors into the quarter finals by eliminating Eddie Jacobs, Baltimore southpaw, 9-7, 6-4.

Berkeley Bell, the wiry bronzed Texan, loomed larger as the coming champion by crushing Malcolm Hill of Waban, Mass., with unexpected ease, 6-1, 6-2. Bell has yet to lose more than two games a set to an opponent, and the relentless manner in which he puts his foes away stamps him as one of the greatest younger players in the game.

LANGLIE UPSETS DOPE

Howard Langlie, the Seattle blond who furnished the only upset of the tournament by defeating Henry Johnson in the third round, tumbled before Dolf Muehleisen of San Diego, 6-3, 6-2, while John Doeg, seeded No. 2, disposed of Joseph Smith of St. Louis, 6-3, 6-4.

In the other matches of the day Julius Selinson, New York, beat Art Kussman, Los Angeles, 6-4, 6-1, and Robert Seller, San Francisco, eliminated Gustav Feuer, Miami, 6-2, 6-3.

CALLAHAN OKAY FOR GANS BOUT

Mushy Returns to Gym But Will Wear Leather Helmet When Working Out

Mushy Callahan came back to the gymnasium for the first time yesterday since his left eye was cut open in training. The wound is nearly healed, but will probably leave a slight scar. He will do no boxing until next Monday, and then back of a punch-proof headguard.

Callahan appears to be in splendid shape. He has kept up his roadwork and will go in the ring against Baby Joe Gans at Vernon on August 24 scaling close to 135 pounds.

Joe Benjamin, who returned to gym training yesterday for the first time since he fought Ace Hudkins nearly a year ago, was amazed at the change in Callahan's boxing style.

"I'll pick Mushy over Gans right now," said Benjamin. "And what a house Callahan and I will draw when I get back in shape. Give me thirty days and I'm ready for Hudkins again. My hand is all right now."

Benjamin is acting in the capacity of Ruby Goldstein's manager here. Goldstein is another of Ace's victims. He is a clean-cut looking fellow with no marks of the ring.

Gans is boxing middleweights at the Main Street Club. He figures that the postponement has added greatly to his chances to beat Callahan.

Test Sunday Blue Law in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11. (AP)—An injunction will be sought to prevent police interference with a baseball game the Philadelphia Americans propose playing at Shibe Park on Sunday, August 22, to test the blue laws of 1794.

This was announced today by Charles G. Gartling, counsel for the Athletics, at the conclusion of a conference with Mayor Kendrick and City Solicitor Joseph P. Gaffney.

Mr. Kendrick informed Mr. Gartling he would use the full police power to prevent the playing of professional baseball here on the Sabbath. He declared there was no comparison between the opening of the Sesquicentennial Exposition, which he held to be purely an educational and patriotic project, and the playing of professional baseball on Sunday.

Meehan Hopes of Comeback Flicker Out

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Willie Meehan, San Francisco ring favorite of a decade ago, saw his chances for a come-back flitter away tonight when he lost on a technical knockout to Eddie Sullivan, Santa Rosa heavyweight, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round fight at National Hall.

GRANGE AND SILVER TONGS TAKE TO ICE

WHEATON (Ill.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Harold (Red) Grange, galloping ghost of the gridiron, has returned to his first love—the ice wagon. Equipped with the solid silver tongs presented him several months ago, Red called on his old customers today and was given a royal welcome, along with admonitions not to track up the floor nor upset the cream. Archie McKinney, another Wheaton athlete, is teaming with Red on the ice wagon in preparation for further football conquests.

JACK DEMPSEY.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Jack Dempsey got rough with his sparring partners today in the workout at the gymnasium, knocking out one, flooring another, and administering considerable punishment to two others.

Alfredo Porzio, Argentine claimant of the South American heavyweight championship, gave Dempsey aggressive opposition until a right-hand chop to the jaw sent him sprawling late in the first round and put an end to the set-to.

CHICAGO NET STAR BEATS SEEDED PLAYER

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Charles Lejeck, Chicago, furnished the first big upset of the national public park tennis tournament today by defeating Ralph Rice, No. 2 seeded player, in the round before the semi-finals. Playing a superb net game, and with his deep drive working almost to perfection, Lejeck was easily the master after losing the first set, 3-6. He took the next three sets without extending himself, 6-1, 6-4, 6-3.

LA BARBA FIGHTS FRIDAY

Chicago Fight Fans to See World Flyweight Champ For First Time; Paluso Faces Fidel

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Fidel La Barba, flyweight champion of the world, meets Emil Paluso in the main attraction of Mullen's all-star card Friday night at which time Middle West fight fans will get their first glimpse of the boy that beat Frankie Genaro.

Mullen has a colorful bill lined up with Joey Sangor meeting Charley "Phil" Rosenberg, and a well-rounded supporting cast.

While most of the boxers took early workouts, Fidel waited until after 3 o'clock before taking his workout. The champion went five rounds with his traveling companion from Los Angeles, August Gotto, and seemed to be in the best of shape.

The ringworms remained to see La Barba go through his training, as the California boxer has won the favor of the fans, and there is much interest being manifested in his first Middle West bout.

The illustrious young men on this card of champions were looked over by Dr. J. P. O'Connell yesterday on behalf of the Illinois Boxing Commission, and the medical examiner reported sound findings in each of the eight cases.

"It is the most thoroughly conditioned group of boxers we have had since the legalized game began," Dr. O'Connell stated.

The boxers worked after submitting to Dr. O'Connell's scrutiny and a few hundred again closed in around the two rings to watch whichever one happened to be on exhibition. Emil Paluso, Leo Flynn's flyweight challenger, was on hand early and boxed for the first time. Joey Sangor, who will attack another world champion, Rosenberg, came on while Paluso was working and Charle Rosenberg, Russie Leroy, Leo Wax, Spug Myers and Clyde Hull followed simultaneously.

BURNS, MOORE CLASH IN DREAMLAND ARENA

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Young Johnny Burns of Oakland and Jimmy Moore, negro middleweight of Cincinnati, meet in a ten-round main bout at Dreamland Auditorium, Friday night. Burns, a youngster at the game, is fighting his first main event in this section after an impressive sweep through the ranks of preliminary boxers.

BAY CITY TITLE GOAL OF WOMAN GOLF STARS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Mrs. Frank Sheedy, city woman golf champion, and Mrs. Brent Potter, former title-holder, will meet tomorrow in one of the semifinals of this year's tournament. Mrs. Sheedy today eliminated Mrs. R. C. Rosenberg, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Potter defeated Mrs. W. C. Haaker by the same score.

The other semifinal will be between Mrs. Louise Lengfeld and Mrs. Harry Braddock.

BOXERS END WORK FOR 'LEGION GO

Hoppe and Rosen Resting Today for Ten-Round Bout Tomorrow Night

The training grind for the Hollywood American Legion stadium main-eventers, Charley Rosen and Dick Hoppe, winds up today. The boys are in the best of condition and the rematch has every indication of being much better than the fight the boys had over a month ago.

DICK HOPPE

The outcome of this fight means much to both Hoppe and Rosen. Rosen is all set to fight Jimmy McLarnin should he win, and Hoppe has a date with Ace Hudkins lined up should he repeat the stunt he did to Rosen in their last fight. Hoppe is a better fighter now than he has ever been.

Dick Hoppe was always a good boy, but money came too easy. He fought and trained as he pleased a few months ago. Realizing that he could make a wad of coin by getting in shape and knocking over some of the lightweights in the money, Dick went to the mountains and is a made-over fighter.

Charley Rosen was going along very nicely until he bumped into Hoppe, who gave him his first setback since coming to California. Eddie Sears and Rosen didn't like the trimming and asked for the rematch and got it.

COLD AIN'T NO NAME FOR IT. I DON'T KNOW HOW IT WAS LAST WINTER- I WAS DOWN IN FLORIDA WHERE LAND WAS SO HIGH THAT IF YOU GOT SAND IN YOUR EYE THEY'D CHARGE YOU DOLLARS FOR IT.
BUT WINTER BEFORE LAST- BOY! IT WAS SO COLD UP HERE THAT- WELL YOU REMEMBER THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS THAT HE READ OVER THE RADIO IN JANUARY- WELL WE DIDN'T GET IT TILL IT THAWED OUT IN JUNE.
WE HAD THREE BOTTLES OF EMERGENCY LICKER WE GOT ON THE DOC'S PERSCRIPTION AN' THEY FROZE SOLID. WE HAD TO CRACK THE GLASS OFF AN' USE 'EM FOR ALL-DAY SUCKERS.
HAD A HARD TIME GETTIN' THE FIRE STARTED. MATCHES WOULD LIGHT ALL RIGHT BUT THE FLAMES WOULD FREEZE AN' BREAK OFF BEFORE WE COULD USE 'EM. FINALLY WORKED IT BY STRIKIN' TWO PIECES O' ICE TOGETHER AN' UTILIZIN' THE SPARK.

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms, Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., says: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from the Vegetable Compound. Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. Many women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness. Their own life and that of their families is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their housework easily, happy homes are the result.

SENSATION DUE IN GAINES TRIAL

Prosecution Will Present Startling Evidence

Neighbors Tell of Hearing Family Affray

Wife Said to Have Tried Death Because of Jealousy

SEATTLE, Aug. 11. (AP)—Evidence by which the prosecution declares it will show that efforts of Sylvia Howard Gaines, 22 years of age, to terminate a "strange, unnatural relationship," with her father, Wallace Cloyes Gaines, caused him to murder her, will be allowed in the Superior Court here tomorrow, when trial of Gaines resumes, the court ruled tonight.

After Mrs. Olive Memmer, a neighbor of Gaines's, testified to an incident in the home life of Sylvia and her father, Defense Attorney Robert S. MacFarlane, asked the court:

"Are we to understand that the casual connection has now been established between the defendant's relations with the deceased and the murder?"

"Yes," was the reply.

The court ruled yesterday in excluding such testimony "at this time," that the prosecution must show a connection between relations of the dead girl and Gaines before evidence of the relations could be admitted.

WIFE SOUGHT DEATH

At today's hearing, George A. Memmer testified that Gaines and his daughter Sylvia were prepared to leave their residence and live elsewhere when the defendant's wife tried to commit suicide in November. Memmer is a neighbor of the Gaines family.

"It was Sunday," Memmer declared. "I saw Bob (a nickname of the defendant,) standing near the cellar entrance. Bob said: 'Bess has tried to bump herself off, I guess.' By Bess he meant Mrs. Gaines, his wife. Bob and Sylvia were there and Mrs. Gaines was on the bed, apparently unconscious.

"Sylvia said she couldn't stand it any longer and was going to leave with her father. They had their grips packed ready to go. I heard Mrs. Gaines say: 'Bob, don't hit me; I'll be good to her.' Bob said, 'Oh, she's just raving.' He said he would send her to a hospital. A doctor came and said there would be a big scandal if she was sent to a hospital. Sylvia said she would not take care of her. Bob and Sylvia left the house and when they came back they said they would stay. The next evening they were there and Mrs. Gaines said 'they're going; they're going; they're going to leave me.'"

JEALOUSLY ASSIGNED

Fred Niendorff, a newspaper reporter, testified that when he asked Gaines the day after the killing if Mrs. Gaines wounded herself on account of jealously of Sylvia, the defendant replied: "Well, I guess it was."

Mrs. Olive Memmer, wife of George Memmer, declared that Gaines told her the morning after Sylvia was slain that "I think I know who did it."

"Monday preceding the murder," she testified, "Gaines came to my house and said Sylvia was going to her mother, Mrs. H. E. Maynard in Boston. Gaines said 'when the kid goes I won't be far behind her.' He said he wished Bess (Mrs. Gaines) would not come back from California. She had gone there after she shot herself.

"Several days before the murder I saw Bob and Sylvia, about June 8, they were planning a fishing trip. At that time Bob drove by the side of our house fast to his garage. He got out and tried to open the back of his car. He was intoxicated and could not do it. George, my husband, went out and helped him.

SYLVIA NERVOUS

"A little later I saw Sylvia come out of the house and she was very nervous and terribly excited. Later after George had gone downtown with Bob, who wanted to send a telegram, I went over to see Sylvia because I knew she was nervous.

"She had her trunk packed and was putting some photographs in it. Bill Gaines, her uncle, came in —Sylvia had sent for him. When Bob and George came, Bob came in the back door and asked if Sylvia was there. I said yes. He saw his brother Bill and seemed surprised."

Mrs. Maynard, whom Mrs. Memmer mentioned was Gaines's first wife. They parted sixteen years ago, and Sylvia had lived with Mrs. Maynard in Lynnfield, Mass., until she came to Seattle to visit her father in September.

FILIPINO TO BATTLE MEXICAN SATURDAY

Another interesting Filipino fighter is booked for the Main Street Athletic Club Saturday night. Alki Akol is the Filipino and his opponent will be Mateo Magdaline, new Mexican bantamweight sensation. Akol made a big name for himself on the Coast by his ten-round fight with Newsboy Brown at the Olympic Auditorium. Alki gave the newsboy one of his hardest fights. Magdaline decisively beat Young Carpentero in his last Main Street appearance and took an eight-round nod over Angel De La Cruz in a previous start at Culver City.

Kid Luceo and Chappy Cruz, flyweights, meet in the four-round semifinal. Cruz is also a great entertainer in the ring and has a style that is a little bit better than the average Filipino fighter. Cruz should go a long way as he lost but one decision in sixteen and that was to Akol in ten rounds not long ago. Other bouts on the card are all up to the usual standard of Main Street preliminaries and much action can be expected.

WIDOW OF GEN. FORBES TAKES LIFE

Former Social Arbiter of Sacramento Leaps from Third Floor of Hospital

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Mrs. Jane Yore Forbes of Marysville, widow of the late Adjt.-Gen. Edwin A. Forbes of the California National Guard and a social arbiter in Sacramento during the administration of Hiram Johnson, is dead here.

She died today two hours after leaping from a third-story window of the St. Francis Hospital, where she was under treatment for a nervous disorder. Her daughter, Miss Hazel Forbes, saw her leap, but reached the window a moment too late to restrain her.

Friends of Mrs. Forbes said that she had been despondent for several months because of her illness. She had been a patient at the hospital since July 26.

Gen. Forbes, at the time of his death, was one of the wealthiest men in interior California, owning a newspaper, stock yards and blooded live stock.

Berlin Savings Accounts Show Steady Gains

BERLIN, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—The savings accounts of Berliners will reach 100,000,000 marks by the end of the month, according to predictions of officials of the city's savings institutions. Despite this fact there is an unemployment roll numbering 270,000.

Every seventeenth Berliner now is carrying a savings account, which is all the more remarkable since these all were opened after the money stabilization less than three years ago.

The average amount of the accounts also has grown from 16 marks at the beginning of this year to 25, though still far below the pre-war showing when the average was 185 marks.

WATER DIVISION CASES SPEEDED

Richardson Policy Credited With Higher Efficiency

Cases Pending Cut Despite Increased Applications

Action Costs Also Reduced by Business Methods

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive) Elimination of delay and red tape and the substitution of economical and expeditious service have resulted from the application of Gov. Richardson's business policies in the operation of the State Division of Water Rights, according to a report made public today by Edward Hyatt, Jr., chief of the division.

Since Gov. Richardson took office in January, 1923, the rate of action by the division on applications for water permits has increased from thirty-seven to sixty-nine per month, an increase of 86 per cent, Hyatt's report reveals. The number of cases pending has been reduced 32 per cent and the unit cost of operation reduced 35 per cent.

CASES INCREASE

The major function of the division relates to the appropriation of water and in this connection 2884 cases were acted upon from January 1, 1923, to June 30, 1926, as compared with 1755 cases during the four years ending December 31, 1922.

Hyatt's report gives the cost of each action taken during the Stephens administration as $162 as against $105 during Gov. Richardson's administration.

"Notwithstanding the great increase in new applications," says the report, "the work has been expedited to such an extent that the number of pending applications has been decreased at the rate of seventy-one per year, showing more prompt expeditious handling of water matters.

"During the past three and a half years the Division of Water Rights has undertaken an investigation of the San Gabriel River basin in Southern California to determine the probable effect upon the underground basin of the construction and operation of flood control reservoirs which are proposed to be constructed by the county of Los Angeles. This investigation is still under way. Another accomplishment of the division has been the supervisory work in the Sacramento and San Joaquin districts.

LITIGATION AVERTED

"The Division of Water Rights is working to the end that expensive litigation over water rights may be avoided since it has been found that in the past the development of water resources has been retarded by tedious litigation more than any other single cause. The fairness and efficiency of the State Division of Water Rights is now coming to be so well recognized that interested parties have, during the past few years, left the determination of physical facts to the department and have settled their differences by compromise or have avoided long drawn-out law suits by asking the courts to apply the principles of law to the facts found by the State Department. Those familiar with the water question of the State admit that more progress has been made in the conservation of water in the last three and a half years than in any similar period in the history of the State, to which result the efficient and expeditious manner in which the State Department handled such matters has contributed to no small degree. There is a general demand that such fair and efficient State administration be continued for four years more."

Germans to be at Parley Over World Tribunal

GENEVA, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Germany is expected to participate in a conference of members of the League of Nations on the American World Court reservations if a method can be devised whereby Berlin unofficially can be invited.

Altogether twenty nations have accepted the council's invitation to meet at Geneva on September 1, next, although India is the only British dominion and Cuba is the only South American or Latin-American country thus far to accept. France is the only large power that has not answered the League's communication.

The indication is that the court members are not inclined to accept the reservations unless the United States interprets them, which the latter has refused to do. However, the World Court members may accept them on condition that their own interpretation be accepted by the United States, which will necessitate further action by the Senate.

TRAINING ARRANGED

Foreign Officers to Attend Army Schools in United States

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—More than fifty foreign army officers have been authorized to attend various army schools during the present year, and additional requests have come from various capitals which it has not been possible to grant. By countries the distribution of foreign officers among army schools and summer camps is as follows: Bolivia, one; Chile, one; Cuba, twenty-six; Guatemala, two; Irish Free State, six; Mexico, seven; Netherlands, one; Norway, one; Peru, two; Siam, two; Spain, two. Two Japanese officers are serving with American regiments under an exchange agreement.

Skirts Will Shrink to Limit and Still Remain What They Are; Nude Visionette Vests Will Be Featured and Waistline, if Any, Will Land Below Hips

At least that is the first reaction of a mere male after gazing at the models displaying the colorful styles of the coming season at the National Garment Retailers' Association at the Hotel Commodore.

For the skirts are very, very short.

Other tips picked up by the observer were:

The waistline is going to land below the hips, if it lands at all.

Nude visionette vests with gunmetal buttons will be featured.

The flapper silhouette has joined the hoop skirt in the discard.

White monkey fur for trimming is just the thing.

These styles are authentic, the association said, because 7000 firms have accepted them as the "prevailing mode for fall."

SENATE NOW ANTI-COURT SAYS BORAH

Idaho Statesman Declares Ratification Would Lose if Vote Came Up Today

NAMPA (Idaho) Aug. 11. (AP)—In the light of the attitude of debtor nations toward the United States and the debt cancellation and by virtue of developments on the function of the World Court, the Senate, if a vote was taken today, would reverse its decision and decline to ratify the World Court, Senator William E. Borah told members of the Nampa Rotary Club this noon. The Senator, in speaking of international relations growing out of international debts, declared that "the next fifty years will mark the most severe economic war history has ever recorded," and that "there is no reason for the United States to give up that which is rightfully hers in view of this coming economic conflict."

The Senator, discussing the attitude of England and France toward the United States, the reception of American tourists during the last few months, the adverse editorials and news comments of European newspapers and publications, declared that the recently published letter of Georges Clemenceau to President Coolidge "must have struck harshly on all American ears. It is the wish and hope of the American people and the American government to continue in peace and harmony with the nations of the world," he continued, "but it is not the part of a dignified nation to remain silent when charges are made which we think are unfounded."

Senator Borah explained that "in the past few months there has been a great feeling manifested against our people and our country." The United States has been represented as "Uncle Shylock."

"Americans have been charged with being rapacious and usurious," he said, "but when the history of the World War is written the generosity of the United States will have no parallel in the history of the world."

The Senator, citing the entirely unselfish motives which actuated America's entrance in the World War and the relief furnished Europe, said that "while no one desires to diminish the heroic efforts of the Allies prior to our entrance, the fact remains that without the American boy the nations now criticizing us so severely would be the defeated rather than the victorious nations."

HARDING LAUDED FOR STAND ON WAR DEBTS

By insisting upon the sanctity of obligations, President Harding saved the world in a time of great moral crisis, John Lathrop, editor of the Tax Digest, yesterday declared in a speech to the Hollywood Rotary Club. When there was talk of cancellation of war debts of the Allies, he said, the President at first inclined to the suggestion; what stopped him was hints that some of the debtor nations would repudiate.

The actual repudiation of contracts by some private firms—in some ports, he said, goods specifically ordered were allowed to remain on the wharves, refused by the consignees—moved the President to take a stand to save the credit structure, the world faith in contract commitments.

"The easy way was to cancel. But at what a cost! A weak yielding to threats of repudiation, a fear to face the designation of Shylockism, and the permitting of the immoral shattering of the world's faith in promises, official and private! The way of ultimate redemption through the years may be hard, but it is the way of honor," he said.

Canadian Tariff Revision Plans Told by Meighen

TORONTO (Ont.) Aug. 11.—Speaking at Deloraine, Man., last night, Prime Minister Meighen, Conservative leader in the Canadian election, made the clearest-cut tariff pronouncement of the campaign so far.

"We shall revise our tariff through and through as it has never been revised in twenty years," Mr. Meighen said, speaking of the Conservative intentions if returned to power.

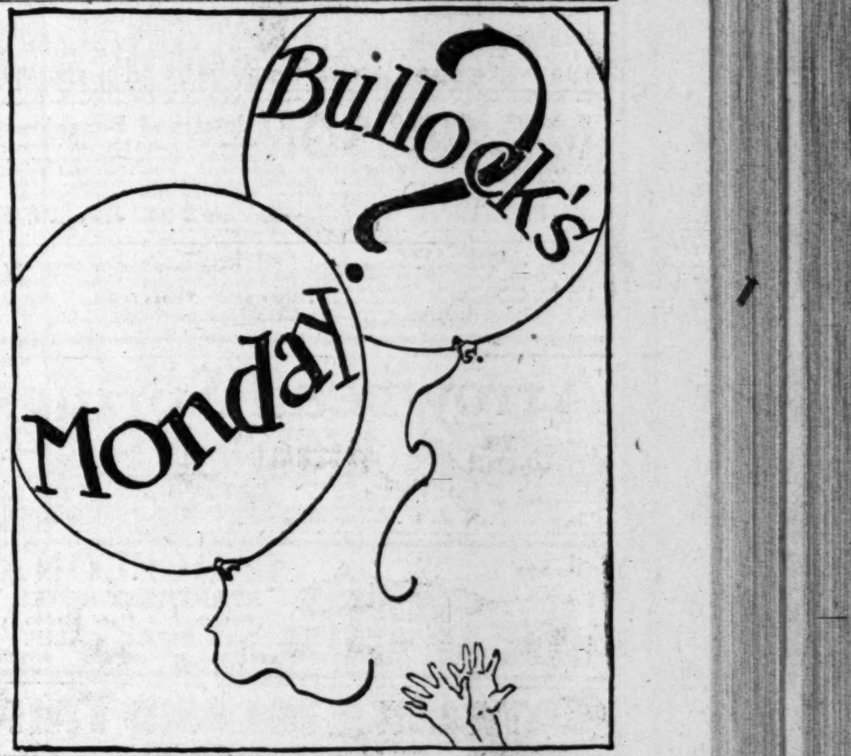
"I don't mean that Canada shall have a Haman's gallows tariff. It is not the height of it that counts so much as the permanency and stability of the protection afforded. We will give every Canadian industry a chance, and if competition does not properly regulate prices the government will."

EAGLES NOMINATE OFFICERS OF AERIE

SEATTLE, Aug. 11. (AP)—Nominations for Grand Aerie officers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and proposed recognition of women's auxiliaries formed the principal business of the annual convention here today. Nominations included Grand Worthy President Michael O. Burns, Hamilton, O.; Grand Inside Guard, Charles J. Chenu, Sacramento.

DOWNING LEAVES

Within the next few days a successor is expected to be named to Claude C. "Cloudy" Downing, who has resigned from the position of athletic director of Alhambra High School, which he has held for seven years. Downing is leaving school to engage in business in Alhambra.



BELASCO'S ILLNESS DECLARED TRIFLING

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive) A report that David Belasco, who has been slightly ill with a cold, had suffered a relapse, was denied tonight at the Belasco Theater. It was said that the producer virtually had recovered and that he would be at his office tomorrow morning. Mr. Belasco, who lived for many years at the Hotel Marie Antoinette, recently moved to Park avenue.

SEATTLE TO BUY STREET CARS

SEATTLE, Aug. 11. (AP)—The City Coucil here yesterday authorized purchase of eighty street cars at a cost of $1,420,000. A St. Louis concern supplies them. The Council reversed action by which it had ordered that no part of $500,000 for a street railway bridge be diverted to purchase the cars. It was found that the cars would cost $120,000 more than was allotted for them and that sum was taken from the bridge fund.

DEBT PACTS GO OVER TILL FALL

Stormy French Parliament Session Adjourns

Premier Poincare Remains "Cock of the Walk"

Accords Wil be Studied During Recess

PARIS, Aug. 11. (AP)—After having decided the fate of seven Premiers and eight Finance Ministers in the course of a year, Parliament adjourned this evening with Premier Poincare "the cock of the walk."

The adjournment will continue probably until the middle of October and leaves the question of the inter-Allied debts to examination by specially appointed subcommittees of the Chamber's Finance and Foreign Affairs Committee during two months' recess.

DETAILS PROMISED

M. Dariac, chairman of the Chamber's financial subcommittee studying the debts, has been promised by Premier Poincare the complete documents of the Washington and London debt accords, as well as all details regarding the original circumstances of the contracting of those engagements. These documents, at the same time, will be communicated to M. Frankin Boullion, chairman of the subcommittee of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

M. Dariac, who was a minister in the short-lived governments of M. Ribot in 1914, and M. Herriot this year, declared tonight that he hoped to convoke his committeemen by the middle of September. The other subcommittee will be convoked soon afterward.

Premier Poincare, reading the decree of closure in the Chamber of Deputies this evening, replied, "that is a secret of the future," when a Deputy from the left asked when Parliament would be reassembled. He was equally noncommittal regarding a rumor that he had made an incognito visit to Alsace-Lorraine in order to combat an autonomous movement there and to work out benificent changes in the regime under which the restored provinces are now governed.

WARNS OF WORK

Refreshed by yesterday's victory in the National Assembly at Versailles on the sinking-fund amendment, Premier Poincare let it be known that the Senators and Deputies will have plenty of work when they reconvene in the fall. He expects them to "jump through the hoop" and to ratify all the economic decrees the government may decide on.

The Communists, who were vociferously inclined at the National Assembly yesterday, were given short treatment by the Chamber today. M. Duclot's protest against the Moroccan campaign, M. Cachin's interpellation on inter-Allied debts and M. Berthon's interpellation on the Syrian situation were summarily squelched.

PIANO TUNERS BEMOAN JAZZ

Say Modern Ear Debased Until it Can't Detect Discordant Notes

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive.)—One thousand of the most highly trained ears in America assembled today when 500 piano tuners met in their annual convention. Walter Kiehn, advertising manager of a Chicago piano company, was the principal speaker. He absolved the piano tuners from responsibility for the 13,000,000 untuned pianos in the United States.

"Jazz music almost put out of existence one of the most scientific and critical of modern professions," said the speaker. "It is difficult to say whether jazz originated from untuned pianos or untuned pianos were the result of jazz. But undoubtedly there is a close connection. Where a so-called musical structure is based entirely on dissonance and where cacophonies are introduced on purpose, the mere accidental noises of a tin-pan piano are not noticeable. The unfortunate result of this has been the miseducation of the human ear. Ears don't hear as well as they used to—although they look about the same."

Government's New Civil Air Bureau Opened

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—The aviation division of the Department of Commerce was officially launched today with the induction into office of William P. McCracken of Chicago, First Assistant Secretary for Aviation, and taking over of an airplane from the Postoffice Department.

The airplane, a Dehaviland, was turned over to the Commerce Department at its landing-field at College Park, Md. It will be used chiefly in experimental work in the perfection of radio beacon signs developed by the Army, Navy and Bureau of Standards. One or two other planes may be acquired by the department, as later needed.

The department plans to establish radio beacon towers at airports throughout the country, through which a continuous series of signals will be sent along the airways as guides to flyers.

Two Aircraft in Ford Reliability Tour Forced Out

DES MOINES, Aug. 11. (AP)—Twenty-two of the twenty-four airplanes of the Edsel Ford commercial airplane reliability tour negotiated the fifth leg of their journey, 230 miles from St. Paul to Des Moines, today without mishap.

The Woodson No. 14, piloted by P. H. Downie, forced down with minor damages near Ankeny, Iowa, was able to continue to the flying field here late today, but the Pitcairn No. 19, piloted by J. G. Ray, forced down five miles northeast of Faribault, Minn., may be out of the tour entirely, a telegram received here said, unless repairs can be quickly made.

The Travel-Air No. 2, piloted by Walter Beech, the first plane to arrive here, landed at 12:26 p.m. and turned in a flying-time average of 116.94 miles an hour, which keeps him in the lead he has maintained since leaving Detroit.

The planes go to Lincoln, Neb., tomorrow.

TWO CLUBS BACKING TRAEGER IN SESSIONS

VENICE, Aug. 11.—Two meetings of organizations backing Sheriff Traeger's re-election drew big attendances here yesterday. In the evening the Traeger Club gathered 100 strong in the Strand Cafeteria, and in the afternoon the Women's Auxiliary perfected organization at the headquarters, 75 Market street. Mrs. George Hines is president of the auxiliary. A resolution indorsing Traeger's candidacy was adopted.

PLANS MADE TO PROTECT STOCK

United States and Mexico Draft Agreement

Guard Against Import of Diseased Animals

Conference at Washington Finishes Task

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Plans for repelling invasions of foreign live-stock diseases have formulated in Washington at a joint conference of Mexican and United States officials, just concluded. The Mexican delegation was composed of Antonio Castro-Leal, Charge d'Affaires of the Mexican Embassy; Jose Figueroa, chief of cattle division of the Mexican Department of Agriculture, and Daniel Ortiz Berumen, in charge of the section dealing with disease-control measures. The United States representatives were Dr. John R. Mohler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture; Dr. A. W. Miller, chief of the field inspection division of that bureau, and R. W. Flournoy of the State Department.

The constant menace of numerous foreign live-stock diseases and the mutual interest of Mexico and the United States in combating them by effective and uniform measures were the occasion for the conference.

For the proposed regulations to become effective they must receive final approval by both governments and are now being submitted through the State Department for that purpose. Veterinary regulations of the kind proposed are in the nature of a treaty between Mexico and the United States.

FEATURES OF PACT

Following is the essence of the more important proposed regulations:

Both countries are to maintain border stations and seaports for the importation of animals and an adequate live-stock sanitary police service to guard against the introduction of live-stock affected with or exposed to contagious diseases. Due notice must be given each country of opening a new port or closing an old one.

Animals kept under observation at designated quarantine stations will be subjected to suitable tests for the diagnosis of disease.

Veterinary officials in both countries are to supervise the sanitary handling of animal by-products, forage and other commodities that may be carriers of disease.

Necessary measures governing the disinfection of vessels and other means of transporting animals are to be taken.

Special precautions will be directed against the introduction and spread of foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, contagious pleuro-pneumonia and hog cholera.

Veterinary officials of each country will control the importation of animals through a system of permits and permanent records.

Live-stock sanitary officials will define territory in their respective countries in which any contagious or infectious disease exists and will indicate zones that are considered exposed to prevent the spread of the infection.

Importations of live stock will be refused from foreign countries or zones in which rapidly spreading diseases are prevalent.

TO GIVE NOTICE

The respective governments are to notify each other through their usual diplomatic channels of the appearance and extent of seriously acute contagious diseases.

An exchange of official regulations' periodicals and other publications of mutual interest is also provided for.

Though the foregoing safeguards are believed to be reasonably complete, the conference planned also for the drafting of such additional regulations as may be found necessary to carry out the purposes of the agreement and to meet future problems. The countries already are enforcing most of the restrictions against foreign live-stock diseases recommended by the conference, but the meeting of the delegates was beneficial in arranging for uniform procedure. To live-stock owners of both United States and Mexico the action of the live-stock conference promises added security and protection from foreign plagues.

WATCH SAVES NEGROES FINE

Stopping of Time Piece Let Them Play Cards on Sunday

FORDYCE (Ark.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Because Will Burch, negro, has a watch which stops at erratic intervals, he and another negro were saved $25 and a cost apiece on charges of playing cards on Sunday.

Burch said he was at home Sunday when another negro dropped in and suggested a game of cards.

"We can't play long," warned the defendant, "'cause it's almost F ay."

So they set the watch on the table and started to play. Not so long afterward Marshall Galloway entered and told the players they were under arrest.

"But w ain't done nothin'," both protested. "It ain't midnight yet."

The watch showed 11:30. But the marshal's watch showed past midnight, so he took the pair along.

When arraigned before Mayor Smith, His Honor looked at the watch. It was ticking merrily and accurately. He reached for his pen to put down the fines. Then the watch stopped. He shook it, it ticked on a bit, then stopped for a rest. The Mayor concluded the negroes were telling the truth or had a trained watch. He released them.

A TISH STORY
By Mary Roberts Rinehart

No matter what Charlie Sands might try to insinuate, there was no disputing the fact that at Tish's first séance she materialized an undeniable goldfish—and, at her second, she transmuted said goldfish into something suspiciously resembling an astral cat!

Yet her psychic powers—and her indomitable will—ran slap, bang into a stone wall when she wrestled with Emmie Hartford, that human jellyfish, to cure her doting but deluded husband, Will, of his delusions.

There has never been a Tish story with as many laughs in it as this one and you will want to turn right to it the first thing in this week's Saturday Evening Post—now on sale—five cents.

COURT UPHELD BY SHORTRIDGE

FRESNO, Aug. 11. (AP) Vigorously upholding his vote and actions favoring adherence to the World Court, with safeguarding reservations and without participation in the League of Nations, United States Senator Samuel M. Shortridge last night addressed a large crowd at a mass meeting in Courthouse Park.

"In 1924, at the Cleveland convention where Calvin Coolidge was nominated for the presidency, he stood up on the platform adopted by his party, a platform which reasserted that the nation was opposed to membership in the League of Nations and to ratification of the Treaty of Versilles.

"But, we went further than opposing the League or having aught to do with the political affairs of Europe. We wanted to have controversies settled peaceably without bloodshed.

"The House passed the World Court resolution by a vote of 301 to 28. The resolution came to the Senate, and was opposed by some pretended Republicans. It was passed by a vote of seventy-eight to seventeen—the glorious seventeen, who love no one, praise no one, forgetting past favors and hating everyone.

"Whatever may be said to the contrary, the Senate of the United States had but one thought, world peace and the guarding of this republic.

"The very first reservation with which the resolution was passed provided that in no way was this country to be legally bound to an alliance with the League of Nations or treaty of Versailles. This reservation alone should quiet those claiming we have allied ourselves with the League."

FOX HOUNDS FED ON HORSE FLESH

RICHMOND (Ky.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Thoroughbred race horses as well as those scientifically bred to trot or pace are worshiped by most Kentuckians. Their sleek coats and their speed, their breeding and stamina and all the other attributes to the race horse, are watched carefully.

But what of the common, garden variety of Dobbin? At last a place has been found in this county for him—he is fed to dogs! Fox hounds, which in sharp autumn nights bay and bark as they chase their prey, now eat the old, worked decrepit, wornout and toothless animals which for years have worked out an existence on a hillside farm, generally the "poorest" for soil in Kentucky.

DRUG ON MARKET

"Dog meat" on Jockey Row in this city was a drug on the market when last they were offered there—court day, when every imaginable price of live or dead stock was put up for auction. The animals, days of usefulness gone, with thin flanks and ribs so plain in some cases they might rattle if a stick were drawn sharply across them, were slow movers at $2 to $5 a head. It is hot weather and they could not be used to advantage in the enterprise that has sprung up in Madison county, home of noted fox hounds in the last five years.

It is not generally known that during November, December and January when the weather is cold that the sale of worthless horses is brisk. They are picked up on Jocky Row—as the place of offering for "plug" horses is called—at from 50 cents to $2.50 each by owners of dog kennels in the county. One fox hound owner purchased from twenty-five to thirty of these animals during the winter and feeds his dogs on what is left of the horses after they are slaughtered and the hide is removed. Other dog fanciers are and have been using worn out horses for dog meat in proportion to the size of kennels for years. The hide of the horses is generally sold for enough to offset the purchase price.

At the August and September Jockey Row sales, the ancient nags which still have enough teeth to put on flesh during the fall months sometimes bring as much as $10 or $15 if looks as if they will survive until cold weather arrives. Failing a "swap" or trade, with other owners of like steeds, they can always be turned over to kennel owners in the colder months. He is out of luck if his offering is minus teeth. Horse traders' wiles and tricks cannot conceal the absence of teeth and the toothless animal is not salable in the heated months.

CHEAP MEAT

Horse meat is the cheapest that can be procured for dog kennels and the fox hound and bird dogs seem to thrive on it. While some persons may see room for criticism of this method of disposing of old and useless horses, such action is held to provide a much more humane finish for the faithful workhorse than the former custom of some communities of turning the nonproductive animal out helpless in the rigors of winter weather to wander away and starve to death.

It is estimated by one person who has taken part in the purchasing end of this enterprise in this county for five years that an average of 200 horses a year are thus spared starvation in this county alone.

He Knew

Dinner was over, the women had retired to the drawing room, and the men, over coffee and cigars, were talking of love. Suddenly the host exclaimed:

"Well, I tell you this. I have kissed the South Sea Island maiden; I have kissed the dainty Japanese maiden; I have kissed the girls of Spain and of France, but I tell you truthfully, to kiss my wife is best of all."

Then a young man across the table called out:

"You're right there!"—[Tid-Bits.

A Painful Dilemma

High Blood Pressure

ARE YOU LUCKY?

Vital statistics show definitely and positively that 1 out of every 3 persons with high blood pressure dies within a year. If you are lucky, however, you can escape for three years.

Yet somehow many people imagine that they can escape the serious consequences indefinitely. Somehow, they think that the tremendous toll, which high blood pressure takes every year, will not include them. And invariably these people pay the penalty of indifference.

If you are wise, you will begin the Witter Water treatment the moment symptoms appear. Not a patent medicine, but a time-tested, natural mineral water. Inexpensive. Easy to take. At least investigate it. Mail the coupon for details.

SYMPTOMS

1. Cold hands and cold feet.
2. Slight momentary dizziness.
3. Sleep unrefreshing.
4. Sleep disturbed by dreams.
5. Feeling of fullness in the head.
6. Gastric disturbances.
7. Constipation.
8. Lowered vitality.
9. Nervousness.
10. Persistent headaches.

ITALO-SPANISH PACT DEFINED

Treaty Held Purely Limited to Europe and Africa

Asurance Given Agreement Not Aimed at America

Declare Newspaper Comment Unofficial in Views

ROME, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Italo-Spanish Treaty recently signed at Madrid has a purely European and North African scope and contains no articles referring directly or indirectly to North or South America.

This assurance was given by a government spokesman today following editorial comment to the effect that the treaty would permit co-operation between Spain and Italy against militaristic, commercial and political penetration of South America by the United States.

"Neither in the Mediterranean nor in South America," the government spokesman said, "does the treaty affect the United States. America's right, as a signer of the Algeciras pact, to a voice in the Moroccan and Tangier settlement is unimpaired, but we are intensely desirous of seeing it used.

"While the treaty does not specifically provide for joint Italo-Spanish action in South America, it is natural that the intensified friendship of the two countries will also result in closer co-operation in that field.

"But the newspaper commentators who speak of such action being directed against the United States do not represent the government viewpoint. Italy has no imperialistic intentions or desires in South America.

"Just as there is room politically for everyone, including England, in the Mediterranean, there is room economically for all of us in South America, especially Latin nations."

ELEPHANTS ESCAPE TO DENSE WOOD

Fleeing Pachyderm Pursues Horse After Indian Rider Goes Other Direction

WINNIPEG (Man.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive) Western headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Railway received records today of the most unique order ever issued on a Canadian railway.

Engineer Frank Sheridan was instructed by telegraph to keep a sharp lookout for three elephants on the Crows Nest division. They escaped six days ago from the coterie of fourteen being transported by a circus and remain at large in the densely wooded and mountainous country around Cranbrook, B. C., where several forest fires are raging.

As a result of the outbreak five men are in a hospital, fifty circus employees and Indian guides are on the trail and an airplane is being rushed to Cranbrook.

While pushing through the thick forest Tuesday on a big stallion, an Indian guide was surprised when one of the elephants charged through the brush, crashing everything down before him. The Indian fleed in one direction, his steed in another. Fortunately for the Indian, the elephant pursued the horse for a considerable distance and permitted the man to effect haven by scrambling up the hillside.

Following the spoor of the elephants is said to be comparatively easy, but actual location calls for careful stalking, the wild instincts of the animals now being in the ascendancy, circus men say.

Treinta y Tanto Han Sido Ejecutados en Michoacán

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Agosto 11.—Acaba de llegar a ésta, procedente de Michoacán, el arzobispo de aquella diócesis, don Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, y ha informado a este arzobispado de que en los días 1 y 2 del actual fueron ejecutados allá dos sacerdotes, y de veintisiete a treinta y siete particulares, por las autoridades militares. Se les acusó de encabezar un levantamiento motivado por la situación religiosa.

Noticia el señor Arzbispo que ocurrieron disturbios en tres problaciones de los Estados de Michoacán y Guanajuato. Duró un día la batalla librada entre soldados y particulares en la población michoacana de Zahuayo. Estima el prelado que murieron como cincuenta personas en ese combate. Acámbaro e Irapuato, ciudades de Guanajuato, son los otros dos lugares donde hubo disturbios.

Hasta hoy no ha dado señales de apaciguamiento la controversia entre el gobierno y la iglesia católica, que surgió con motivo de las disposiciones sobre cultos. La "guerra de palabras," como ha dado en llamársele aquí, pues ha consistido en declaraciones del episcopado católico y contradeclaraciones del gobierno, sigue en actividad, aunque sin probabilidad alguna de que pase de las palabras a los hechos.

Las autoridades eclesiásticas, que han estado siempre aconsejando la moderación y predicando contra la violencia, declararon hoy que no apoyarán revolución alguna. Llegó aun más allá el episcopado, pues, en una entrevista con la Prensa Asociada, manifestó que, si Méjico se viere amenazado de conflicto armado con alguna nación extranjera, la iglesia y sus fieles apoyarán con absoluta lealtad al gobierno mejicano.

"Nosotros, los católicos mejicanos," dice la declaración, "imitaremos la conducta de los católicos franceses en la guerra mundial, los cuales, a pesar de haber sido muy vejados por su gobierno, mediante leyes antireligiosas y explotación de sus derechos, fueron de los primeros en demostrar su patriotismo cuando se inició el conflicto."

ATENAS (Grecia), Agosto 11.—Ha publicado el periódico "Eleutheros Tipos" un presunto informe confidencial del prefecto de policía de Yanina al consejo de ministros, por el que comunica a éste que aquella ciudad es un centro de propaganda, donde se trabaja por la restauración de la monarquía con dinero suministrado por el Príncipe Cristóbal.

Este príncipe tiene parte en un fondo depositado por su esposa norteamericana, la difunta Princesa Anastasia, quien, cuando se casó con él, era ya viuda de William B. Leeds, magnate de la hoja de lata. Anastasia falleció el 29 de Agosto de 1923 en Londres.

Mujeres Acusadas de Hacer Circular Moneda Falsa

Diez personas, a quienes se acusa de integrar una "banda licorista y falsificadora de moneda, que gira un millón de dólares," han sido arrestadas en Los Angeles y San Francisco, según hace saber W. W. Ashe, agente de la reservada. Cinco de los reos son mujeres. Se les señalaron finzas de $2500 a cada una de las mujeres, a quienes se acusa de haber hecho circular billetes falsos de $19, y de $3000 a cada uno de los hombres, sobre quienes pesa el cargo de haber fabricado esos billetes.

Según manifiesta Ashe, las actividades de esta cuadrilla de malhechores, se dedicaron a la falsificación de papel moneda, a fin de hacerse de fondos con que emprender en gran escala el negocio de fabricación y contrabando de licores. Agrega el citado agente secreto que en los condados del sur y del norte de California han sido puestos en circulación muchos millares de dólares en moneda falsa.

Ayer a última hora salieron rumbo a la frontera mejicana algunos agentes de policía, para seguir una pista que les descubra quizá el paradero de Herman Everett Shipley, alias Don McCrae, que fue chófer de los papás de Jackie Coogan, y a quien se persigue por haber dado tres balazos a Joseph Block, velador especial, en una riña a pistola ocurrida la mañana del último martes en el jardín de la casa de los Coogans. Por más que la policía guardó reserva sobre su viaje, rumórase que éste ha sido rumbo a Tijuana, donde parece que ha sido visto Shipley.

E. F. Attleson, Sheriff of Chickasaw county, has been suspended from office and on the 19th inst. will go before Judge W. L. Eichendorf in District Court at New Hampton to show why he should not be permanently removed. The charges are intoxication, willful misconduct and maladministration of office.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Agriculture in Nebraska is working itself out of the disastrous depression with which it has been struggling for six years, but its progress toward equality with other industries is painfully slow. In 1925 the average farm family in that State had eranings of about $24 larger than the income of 1924, but the Department of Agriculture at Washington declares that its earnings are still nearly 30 per cent below those of 1920.

State Tax Commissioner Williams has mailed out to county treasurers a statement of the amount of reductions in taxes in each county, effected by the reduction in the State tax levy, which was set at 1.8 mills by the State Board of Equalization. The decrease in total State taxes of 1926 over 1925 is $1,698,330.46. The reduction in Douglas county (Omaha) totals $188,065.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—The will of the late Rt. Rev. Mgr. James G. Doherty, providing more than $500,000 for the erection of the long-contemplated new Catholic Cathedral in Detroit, was admitted to probate. Mgr. Doherty was for years pastor of St. Vincent de Paul's Church. Bequests to benevolent organizations of the Detroit diocese and to the University of Detroit total about $125,000. A total of $65,000 is set aside for benevolent uses outside the diocese, and more than $25,000 is willed relatives and friends.

The Gardner Petroleum Company has decided to sink its first test well to the Dundee formation, 3000 feet below the surface, it was announced at Saginaw. The test failed to find any oil in the Berea or the Saginaw sand around 2000 feet. Thirteen years ago oil was found in the Dundee, but not in paying quantities.

Motor cars containing combination passenger coach and baggage compartments and capable of hauling a trailer, may be used by the Pennsylvania system on the forty-nine miles of track between Grand Rapids and Muskegon. It is believed this means of transportation will be more economical than steam trains and service of this kind on the Butler, Pa., branch of the railroad has been highly satisfactory, it is said. One of the motor cars is expected at Grand Rapids shortly.

AKRON

AKRON, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Plans were announced by Arden E Hardgrove, superintendent of City Hospital, for a campaign with $800,000 as its goal. The funds will be used to expand and rebuild the institutions. Work is to be started soon on construction of a new Children's Hospital, to cost $500,000. The new St. Thomas Hospital, sponsored by the Sisters of Charity, is to cost $800,000. The Peoples Hospital also is planning improvements, involving expenditures of several hundred thousand dollars.

The bulk of the estate of John A. Britain, Akron business man, who died recently, is left to his widow, according to a will filed in Probate Court. Carl C. Shisnell, his stepson, also shares in the estate.

George W. Huber, general manager of the Renner Products Company, will travel through Alaska on a hunt for big game. He plans to visit the Aleutian Islands in search of a kodiak bear and later go inland in search of white Alaskan sheep.

LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 11. (Exclusive) An offer of $300,000 in cash for the assets of the Great Southern Refining Company, with an agreement to accept the liabilities of the company, has been received, it was stated to stockholders at a meeting at Lexington. The board of directors was instructed to hold the offer open until September 1, and accept it at that time if no better proposition had been received.

M. D. Grubbs and J. F. Wilson, owners of the Planters' Tobacco Company, and their manager, J. S. Wright, charged with conspiracy to commit an offense against the government and with using the mails to defraud, were held to the Federal Court under bonds of $5000 after an examining trial before United States Commissioner S. T. Fruit, at Hopkinsville.

Grubbs, Wilson and Wright conspired to defraud seven insurance companies by making claims of loss after fire destroyed their stock in an old warehouse that burned last December, it was charged.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Mrs. L. B. Rich 62 years of age, died at her home, 1974 Beard avenue South. She has been ill for several months. Her husband is head of the Glass Lumber Company. Mrs. Rich was born November 19, 1863, at Racine, Wis., and had made her home in Minneapolis for many years.

Becoming confused when she stepped between two parked automobiles, Mrs. Lillian M. Larsen, 50, prominent Duluth club woman, was killed when she was struck by an automobile driven by Miss Agnes Wanless, 19. Miss Wanless was exonerated of all responsibility for the accident by Duluth police after an investigation.

The Tri-State Telephone and Telegraph Company will take over the property of the Waseca Telephone Company at Waseca, as soon as the transfer is approved by the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission. The Waseca Company was organized in 1897 and at the present time its stock is owned by thirty-nine residents of Waseca, headed by Dr. F. A. Swartwood, former Mayor. It has a capital stock of $121,000.

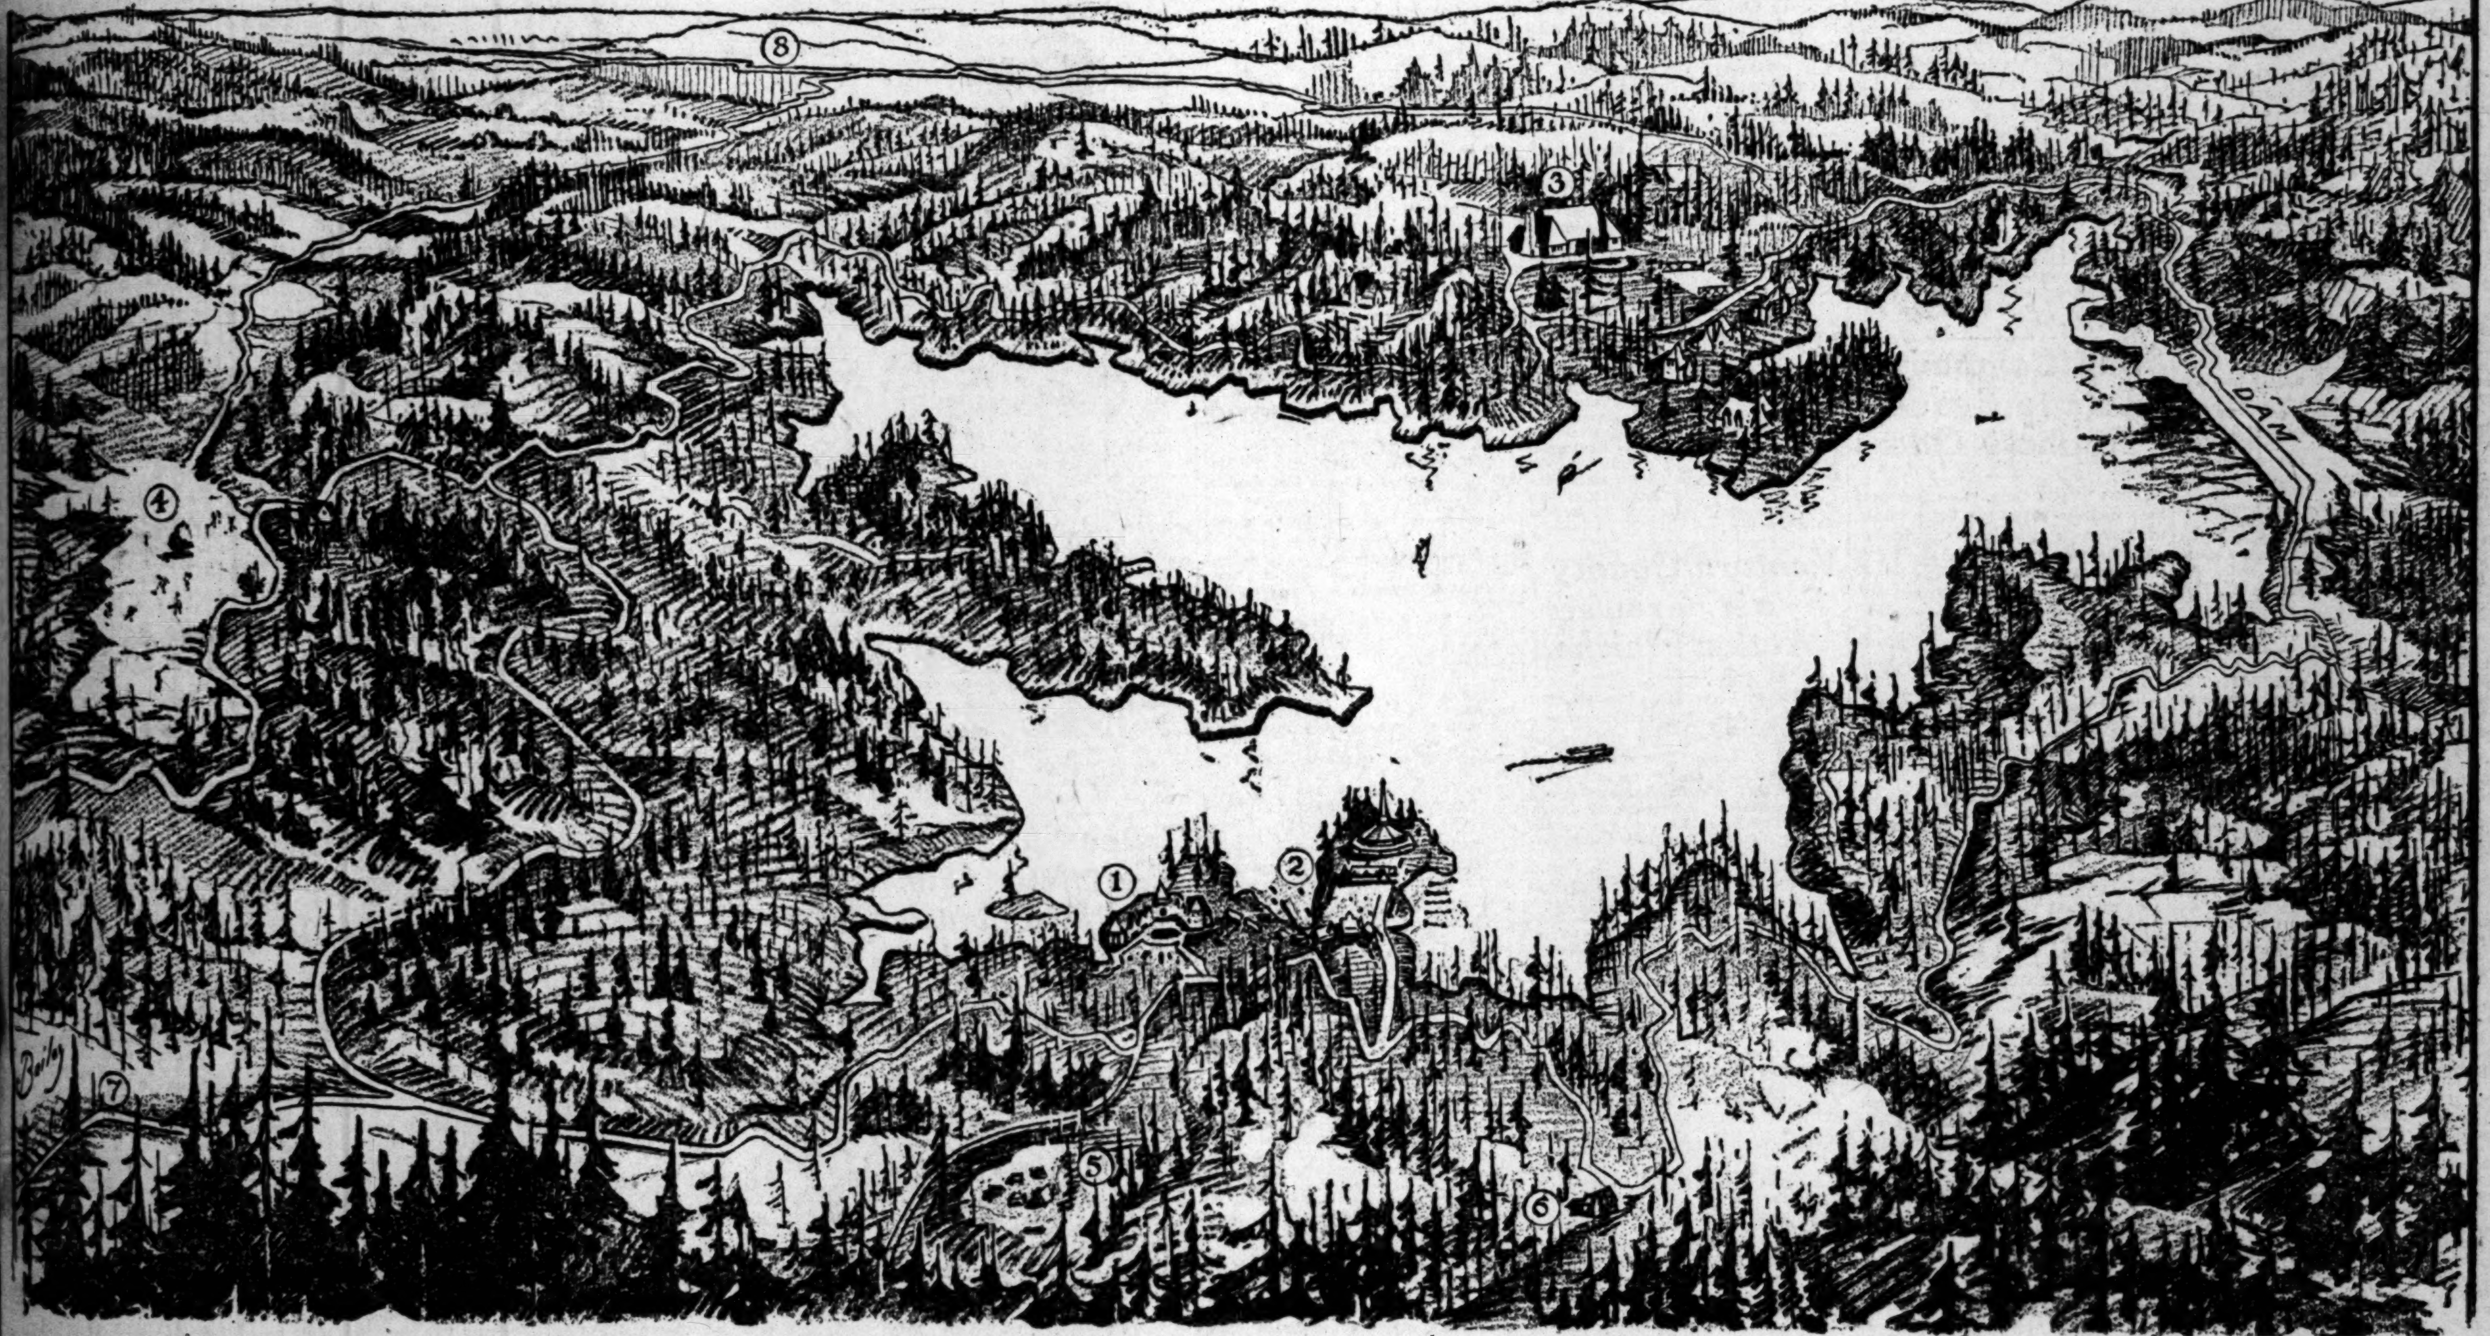
UNIQUE, DE LUXE MOUNTAIN HOME COMMUNITY UNFOLDING IN LAKE ARROWHEAD WOODS

Modern, Comprehensive, Complete, Convenient, Controlled, Conserved, Restricted

Quaint Norman English Village and Homes---With Handsome and Modern Interiors. Natural Beauty of Great Forest Perpetually Preserved. Delightful Journey to a Far Country in Four Hours

By Sidney Creager



1 Lodge. 2 Village. 3 Club. 4 Golf Course. 5 Cottage Grove. 6. Camp Fleming. 7 Road to Pinecrest, San Bernardino and Rim of the World Drive. 8 Road to Hesperia.

Lake Arrowhead in Lake Arrowhead Woods---a Mile Above Sea Level---Exclusively Controlled---A Rich Heritage for the People of the Southwest

Lake Arrowhead Woods community is unique.

There is nothing else like it—in this territory.

Nor can there be.

Thirty-six years ago the lake was a beautiful valley and mountain meadow.

Men from the plains below sought water for their thirsty farm lands.

Wealthy eastern men were persuaded to build a dam on Little Bear Creek.

Five years ago a group of Los Angeles men of wealth, vision and constructive bent acquired 5000 acres of this forest—including the lake—in the midst of the Angeles National Forest—and conceived the building of an ideal home community playground and retreat.

The foundation has been laid—and much of the superstructure has been built.

Many prominent citizens from the metropolis and elsewhere have built attractive homes—and have become a permanent part of this unique community.

The lake and its neutral border must forever remain fully protected for the people who own homesites in Lake Arrowhead Woods.

Every tree is under the permanent guardianship of the Title Insurance and Trust Company. Title to trees does not pass to owners of homesites — and no tree can ever be harmed except by permission and for sufficient reason.

An architectural committee passes on both the architecture and placement of homes.

Homes are placed so the lake can be seen, but so that the home does not mar the natural landscape as seen from the lake.

Water, sewer, electricity, telephone, garbage disposal and all modern conveniences and sanitary conditions are supplied.

There is a complete community center—Lake Arrowhead Lodge—a strictly first-class hotel in a beautiful setting—magnificent lobby and views—and other hotels, the Village Inn and The Raven.

There is a complete grocery and market, a drug store, a cafeteria, a sporting goods store, art shop, outdoor theater, dance pavilion, beauty shop, bakery, garage, oil station, bath house, boat house, telephone office, chamber of commerce, school house, and real estate and information office — all in Norman English architecture — a quaint Old-English village.

There is a country club with tennis courts on the north shore for all home owners—and a golf club house and golf course in beautiful little Grass Valley, surrounded by wooded slopes.

There is Camp Fleming with cottages in the shade of the big trees.

There is the Lakeside camp for girls—and a Robin Hood camp for boys.

And there is an automobile camp.

There are boating and fishing—hiking and horseback riding—swimming, dancing and all manner of recreation.

Automobile roads go around the Lake, to Grass Valley, to the Mohave desert, to the Rim of the World, and to beautiful spots and magnificent views.

Special events are staged on the lake or in the village week-ends and mid-week.

There is something interesting for everyone and no conflict of interests.

Every citizen of Southern California should become acquainted with Lake Arrowhead Woods. That requires a stay of at least a week—it should be two—the first trip. Most people will only begin to know it a little in that time.

Lake Arrowhead Woods is one of the things Southern California has to be proud of. From now on it will play a very important part in the life, pleasure and social history of the Southwest.

It will be an important constructive force. It will strengthen people physically, refreshen them mentally, and lift them up spiritually.

It will create and maintain clean, high standards.

It will be a model—the demonstration of an ideal—the fulfillment of a dream of creative and constructive accomplishment.

The company controlling the entire project and the trustee are able to carry through to the ultimate goal.

The officers and directors of the Arrowhead Lake Company are J. B. Van Nuys, Wm. H. Allen, Jr., Harry Lee Martin, Morgan Adams, Alfred Brant, Robert Frank Gross and O. P. Clark.

The offices of the company are in the Van Nuys Building in Los Angeles and in Lake Arrowhead village.

Enjoy Lake Arrowhead Woods this summer if you can. Then go often—in the fall—in the winter—in the spring. The more you go the more you will love it.

Tramp its woods, its ridges, its mountains. Get back to nature — and out of the rut.

The road is in good shape—it has just been oiled all the way up Waterman Canyon and to Crestline on the ridge. Take your time—use slower speeds whenever necessary—and enjoy the trip—and the magnificent views. Take Arrowhead Avenue, in San Bernardino, north to Waterman Canyon Road. Motor Transit busses run from 5th and Los Angeles Streets, Los Angeles—or from San Bernardino.

Saturday, August 14—Second annual swimming meet for women, under A.A.U. sanction. U.S.C. dance. Wednesday, August 18—third annual model yacht race. Saturday, August 21—Fifth annual mile-high swimming and diving meet, A.A.U. auspices. At night—close of series of Saturday night college dances. Big all-college night with cup trophies. Saturday, August 28—Annual regatta and boat pageant, third year.

CHARTER BOARD READY TO BUILD

Organization Completed by Long Beach Members

Committees Named for Each of City's Departments

Citizens Invited to Offer Basic Law Suggestions

LONG BEACH, Aug. 11.—With the completion of its organization, the recently elected board of freeholders is ready to begin the huge task of revising the Long Beach city charter. No less than fourteen committees, composed of the fifteen members of the board, have been named to gather data and draft charter provisions.

According to a scheme worked out by Mrs. Florence Wightman, Howard Cleveland and Wilbur Downs, three of the members, each of the fourteen committees will be assigned a certain number of articles in the existing city charter to either amend or write anew.

One committee will have charge of drafting charter provisions for public service and engineering; another will create new charter provisions for city planning, public welfare, and so on down the line, practically all of the board's work being carried out on the committee plan.

B. H. Tucker has been named chairman of the board, and Miss Emily F. Smith will be named secretary. Office space for the latter is to be established in the City Clerk's office, where she will be on duty daily to receive, on behalf of the board, all suggestions for charter revisions or amendments that the citizens of Long Beach may have to offer. All suggestions will be turned over to the committees. The Long Beach Chamber of Commerce will be asked to appoint a committee from its organization to submit charter suggestions to the board.

The committees appointed by the board of freeholders, together with the particular phase of municipal charter revision assigned to each committee, are as follows:

Judicial provisions—Wilbur Dows; public safety, Dr. F. L. Runers, Mrs. Florence Wightman and Miss Mary Foster.

Legislation and powers of the City Council—Cliff Holz, Howard Cleveland and Wilbur Downs.

Finance—Mrs. Florence Wightman, Frank Blair and Dr. F. L. Rogers.

Direct legislation—Dr. H. C. Buell, Charles Seymour, Mrs. Florence Wightman.

FARM CENTER HEADS ARE TO BE SELECTED

GIRARD, Aug. 11.—Two important topics will be brought up at the combined July and August meeting of the Farm Bureau Center in the San Fernando Valley district at Owensmouth tomorrow. The effect of zoning on the farms of the district, and the nomination of new members, will be discussed at the home of C. W. Burch on Shoup avenue. The directors will also present nominations of officers recommended for election next month, for 1927. The list includes: W. B. Browning, Chatsworth, president; W. F. Brown, Walnut Acres; Nat E. Heacock, Owensmouth, and R. B. Long, Chatsworth, vice-president, Walter M. Swearingen, Girard, recording secretary and treasurer, and Omar Wilson, Owensmouth, field secretary. The Farm Bureau plans a picnic following this year's harvest, it is announced. An exhibit is to be entered at Pomona at the county fair. A chairman of each line of production will be named when officers are elected.

BOY LITTLE HURT AS AUTO RUNS OVER HIM

VISALIA, Aug. 11.—Although one heavy wheel of the heavy automobile driven by Fred Sawtelle passed completely over him, 8-year-old Eddie Pottichen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Pottichen of Visalia suffered no broken bones when run over while playing in front of his home Friday evening, and he will recover, it is announced. According to the account given out by witnesses, the lad ran into the street behind one automobile directly into the path of the other before he was seen.

FIREMEN CALLED OUT BY BLAZING BOX CAR

CORCORAN, Aug. 11.—A blazing box car on the siding of the Santa Fe track caused some excitement and brought out the fire department last night. It was loaded with straw and Station Agent Arnold thinks a lighted cigarette carelessly thrown by one of the men engaged in loading the car was the cause. Not much damage was done.

POMONA NAMES INSTRUCTORS

CLAREMONT, Aug. 11.—The appointments of Thomas M. Beggs, to the position of instructor in art, and James K. Hall, instructor in economics, on the Pomona College faculty for the ensuing year were announced today by Dr. Jaqua, dean of the faculty.

FILE RINDGE CASE MOTION

Ventura County Asks Order Remanding Question of Road Through Estate to State Court

VENTURA, Aug. 11.—Notice of a motion for an order remanding the case to the State court was filed today in the Federal Court by Asst. Dist.-Atty. James Hollingsworth for the County Board of Supervisors against the Marblehead Land Company and the Rindge estate.

The latter are seeking to have the condemnation suit pending against them by the Ventura County Board of Supervisors heard in the Federal Court on the grounds that the company is incorporated under the laws of Delaware.

The motion filed today demanded that the case be heard in this county as the controversy does not exceed $3000.

Hollingsworth also today filed in the Federal Court an answer to the petition filed by the Marblehead Land Company and the Rindge estate for the removal of cause to the Federal Court and filed also an affidavit of H. H. Eastwood as to the amount of damages involved.

The Board of Supervisors is seeking a right of way through approximately two miles of the Rindge estate, to give the settlers in the Yerba Buena district an entrance and exit from their homes to the State highway.

For years the settlers there have at times had to fight armed guards of the Rindge estate in order to leave or enter their property, and at times the trouble has assumed the proportions of a feud.

Shell Company Acts to Reduce Refinery Odors

LONG BEACH, Aug. 11.—Assurances that definite steps are being taken to eliminate the gasoline-refinery stenches that have aroused the ire of Long Beach residents and city officials were given to the latter today by representatives of the Shell Oil Company, one of the thirty-five refineries adjacent to Long Beach that have been named in complaints.

The Shell company, city officials were assured, is carrying out an extensive program of alteration to their refining plant at Watson. A new refining process is being installed, it was said, and it is expected that it will be in operation by September 1. It was said today that if the process works successfully in elimination of undesirable odors and if other refineries follow the course adopted by the Shell company, legal steps to enforce abatement of the stench nuisance among local refineries will be dropped by the city.

Appeals were made recently to Gov. Richardson, Dist.-Atty. Keyes and the county health authorities to intervene and force the abatement of the stenches.

NEW PARK PRAISED

Government Playground Termed Second Yosemite

TULARE, Aug. 11.—Declaring what is known as the New Yosemite in the Kern River Canyon, recently added to the Sequoia National Park, to be "equal if not greater than the original," Col. John R. White, Superintendent of Sequoia and General Grant National parks, gave a highly interesting talk before the Lion's Club at their luncheon meeting here today.

The park, with its enlarged boundaries, includes the famous Kaweah Peaks and Mt. Whitney, the highest mountain in the United States, and has a museum building, nature guide service, etc., at Giant Forest, park headquarters. According to Col. White, the park now has sixty miles of roads, 200 miles of trails, 220 miles of telephone lines, 500 camps, six miles of water mains, all under the supervision of the superintendent, and is watched by six rangers in winter and fifteen in summer.

McFARLAND SCHOOL TO GET NEW CLASSES

McFARLAND, Aug. 11.—First-year high school classes will be established at McFarland in connection with the McFarland grammar school this year by a contract between the schoolboard trustees of McFarland and the Kern county high school trustees, according to announcement made today by Principal H. A. Spindt of the local high school. The plan will be tried this year as an experiment and if it proves successful, it is possible that the second year's work will also be offered in McFarland. The plan would eventually result in the elimination of one school bus from McFarland to Bakersfield. The high school busses will transport the advanced McFarland students to the Kern County High School this year, following the usual plan.

MANY GIRLS TO LEAVE FOR COLLEGE IN FALL

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 11.—A group of Huntington Park girls are planning to leave here early next month for the various colleges and universities. Mills College in the northern part of the State will be the destination of several who will spend the coming college year there. Among them will be Miss Florence Perrigo, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Perrigo; Miss Frances Ketcherside and Miss Georgia Lowe, all graduates of the Huntington Park Union High School this year. Miss Virginia Flint and Miss Christine Becker will go to the Southern Branch of the University of California, while Miss Ruth Rear will attend the University of California.

JURY ACQUITS MAN IN DEATH BY KNIFE

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 11.—A. Salcillo, who has been held in the County Jail since Saturday afternoon when he killed Ramon Osuna, an employee on the Giffen ranch near Arvin, with a pocket knife during an argument over a board bill, was exonerated by a Coroner's jury which held an inquest over the body of Osuna today. The jury turned in a verdict that Osuna died "from the effect of knife wounds in the heart inflicted by A. Salcillo in self-defense," according to Coroner N. C. Houze. During the hearing eyewitnesses told of the fight in detail and shattered the possibility that the killing was a murder.

School Board Faces Unusual Mix-up on Levy

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 11.—A peculiar situation has been created in the affairs of the Huntington Park Union High School district in a certain assessment on stockholders of the Maywood Mutual Water Company Number 1, it has been brought out. The district purchased land in Maywood some time ago and with this purchase acquired water stock which went with the land. Later when the assessment was levied the district board referred the matter to the county counsel for advice.

The county counsel announced that the district cannot, under the law, own stock in a private corporation and therefore cannot pay the assessment. In the meantime it was shown that the high school board has a tenant on the land who will need water and if a plant is built there in the future it will also be in need of water.

This gave rise to the suggestion that the district contract with the water company for service from the mains. When they conferred with the water company officials, it developed that the company cannot legally sell water to anyone except its stockholders. The district is more or less undecided as to what to do in the matter.

Ventura County Fruit Growers Action Finished

VENTURA, Aug. 11.—The trial of the case in which apricot growers of Ventura county are seeking legally to withdraw their membership from the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association, was ended Tuesday afternoon in Superior Court here following arguments by counsel for the plaintiffs and for the defense.

Judge Lacey Jennings of San Diego, who was presiding during the trial, took the matter under advisement and today said he would render his decision as quickly as he had studied all sides of the case as presented in court. The case was based on a general and special demurrer filed by the defendant association in which it is contended that the growers had no cause for action, and were not entitled to the writ of mandamus requested.

Charles Blackstock of Oxnard was attorney for the growers and Milton T. Sapiro of San Francisco was attorney for the defendant association.

IMPROVED TELEPHONE SERVICE FOR TEMPLE

TEMPLE, Aug. 11.—A construction crew from the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company is busy in Temple placing a new cable which will bring the telephone facilities up to a high degree of development as the work being installed is the very latest in telephone equipment. The work will cost the telephone company about $7000, and will make it possible to give patrons here almost anything they want in telephone service. The new cable will add to the efficiency of the exchange as it places all of the wires in closed cable from the main office at Alhambra through the Temple district. The demand for telephones here has been ahead of the service on account of the rapid growth of the Temple district during the past two years.

BAKERSFIELD GREEKS PLAN TO BUILD CHURCH

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 11.—Plans for a Greek church to be erected in Bakersfield have been completed and a committee under the leadership of Nick Gombos will meet in the near future to make final decisions as to the site and financing of the construction. The Greek community of Fresno is already working to raise funds for the building under the direction of the president, James Pulos, of the committee and arrangements have been made for Rev. M. Mandellas of the Fresno Greek Church to deliver one sermon monthly in Bakersfield. Plans which will be adopted by the committee when final decisions are made, will call for a first-class structure that the members expect to be a credit to the city and to the Greek community.

IMPERIAL YOUTH DIES AS AUTO TURNS OVER

IMPERIAL, Aug. 11.—Everett Hyers, 14 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hyers of this city, was killed today when the motor car he was driving went over an embankment pinning the body underneath the machine and crushing his chest. The lad was swimming in New River with several other boys, and was turnings the car around on the bank of the river to start home, when the accident occurred. A pulmoter was used for forty-five minutes in a vain effort to restore life.

PORTERVILLE LEGION WILL WORK AT POLLS

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 11.—Believing it to be the duty of every qualified American citizen to express his preference for candidates for office at the primary election to be held on the 31st inst., local Post No. 20 of the American Legion has appointed a committee to aid in "getting out the vote" on that date. The local post emphasizes the fact that the interest shown is nonpartisan and nonpolitical, and the committee is instructed to give out information as to polling places, and to furnish transportation wherever needed.

San Diego Base to House Many Noted Aviators

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—Several of the foremost pilots in the Naval Air Service, including Lieut. Allan Snody, who will attempt a trans-Atlantic nonstop flight with Rene Fonck, noted French ace, on the 20th inst., will be based with the special long-distance scouting-plane squadron at San Diego during the next ten months, it was learned here today. This squadron, commanded by Commander John Rodgers of Hawaiian-flight fame, will consist of two new-type PN-11 planes, two PN-10's and possibly the PB-1.

According to information received here, Commander Rodgers, who is now at the Philadelphia naval aircraft factory, accompanied by the pilots which he is to select for flight duty with his special-service squadron, will fly to San Diego from Philadelphia via either the Panama Canal or around South America.

Arriving at San Diego, the squadron will base at the North Island Naval Air Station for several months thoroughly testing out the cruising range of the seaplanes and training the personnel. About August, 1927, it is planned to make another attempt to fly from California to Hawaii in a continuous flight. This time, it is understood, the start will be made from San Diego.

McClellan Hits Hiram Johnson and C.C. Young

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 11.—R. F. McClellan, chairman of the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors and candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, was guest of honor here today at a special luncheon attended by more than 200 representative business and professional men.

The Los Angeles Supervisor was enthusiastically received and after briefly summarizing his platform, expressions of approbation and support were strongly evidenced.

McClellan declared that he was not interested in the controversies existing between other gubernatorial candidates, that he had been so busy prosecuting his own campaign that he had no time to even familiarize himself with their troubles. He added, however, that Senator Hiram Johnson and Lieut.-Gov. Young could work to better advantage by staging a few rehearsals with respect to their ideas on the issues involved in the construction of the all-American canal and the high Boulder dam. This would at least help to reconcile some of their public statements.

ANAHEIM AUTO CRASH CREDITED TO LIQUOR

ANAHEIM, Aug. 11.—A brain befuddled with liquor is declared to have been the cause of an accident at Katella Station yesterday. A car driven by B. Futch, Los Angeles, crashed into the rear of a machine driven by Miss Frances Leonard, 112 South Claudina street, Anaheim. No one was injured. According to reports, Miss Leonard, who was accompanied by her father, C. F. Leonard, had slowed down to cross a railroad track when the Futch car crashed into her auto. Jack O'Brien, Anaheim officer, arrived on the scene of the accident shortly after it happened and placed Futch under arrest on drunkenness charge. Both machines were damaged considerably.

VALLEY NIGHT PATROL AGAIN IN OPERATION

VAN NUYS, Aug. 11.—At the recommendation of Capt. O. L. Poor, commanding the Valley Division of police, the night patrols in the San Fernando Valley are again on the job throughout the district. Not long ago the patrols were called off by officials of the Los Angeles department and certain results followed that showed it had been unwise to discontinue the service. Capt. Poor made a special trip to Los Angeles to urge that the patrols be operated again. While the patrol system was abolished for a few days a number of wholesale chicken thefts and other crimes took place in various valley sections.

RECORD FOR SERVICE BY HEALTH CENTER

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 11.—San Fernando's Health Center on South Maclay avenue, under the direction of the Los Angeles County Board of Health and in charge of Miss Theresa B. Collette, has made a record service during the first seven months of 1926, according to a report made by Miss Collette to the City Council meeting Monday evening. The report showed 2708 vaccinations had been made; 1634 school permits issued; 1387 home visits for child welfare and communicable diseases, 788 treatments, 318 cultures, and various other details in connection with the health work.

WOMAN HAS HUSBAND JAILED AND PAYS FINE

HANFORD, Aug. 11.—Few wives would pay $280 cash to get their husband out of jail after having him arrested for striking her, getting drunk and failing to provide for his family. Mrs. Maggie Krantz was very bitter against her spouse and told the judge she wanted him severely punished but the next morning she appeared in court, paid Krantz's fine of $200 for possession of liquor and $80 for admitted assault on her. Hand in hand they left the jail and departed in their auto.

WOODLAKE NAMES NEW SCHOOL HEAD

WOODLAKE, Aug. 11.—Following the resignation of R. S. Hicks, for the past two years principal of the Woodlake Union High School, who leaves to accept a position at Casper, Wyo., at a salary $1500 more than his position here paid, S. E. Hargus of Redwood Falls, Minn., has been named head of the local school.

SATURDAY WILL BE FRIENDS' DAY

Quaker Life Conference to be Conducted at Whittier

"Waiting on the Spirit" to be Observed There

"Plain Language" of Thees and Thous to be Heard

WHITTIER, Aug. 11.—A Quaker life conference, which will be of interest to the various Friends churches of California, as well as other church organizations, is to be held on the Whittier College campus on the afternoon of the 14th inst.

As there are some 4000 or 5000 members included in the California yearly meeting of the Friends Church, it is estimated that this, the fifth Quaker conference of its kind on the Coast, will attract many members of the faith.

Among the eminent speakers, there will be Dr. Walter Friar Dexter, president of Whittier College, one of the best-known college presidents on the Coast, and an orator of distinction; Dr. Albert Russell, formerly of the Friends College, Swarthmore, Pa., but now a member of the faculty of Duke University, North Carolina; Rev. Rachel Lockwood, pastor of the First Friends Church at Pasadena, and Rev. David E. Henley, pastor of the First Friends Church of Los Angeles.

The conference is notable from the fact that the differing factions of the Quaker church, the followers of George Fox, the founder; the "Hicksites," the conservatives; the orthodox, and the conservative orthodox, are all uniting in this big conference.

The "silence," or "waiting on the spirit," so dear to the hearts of the older Quakers, will be observed at all of the sessions, and the "plain language" of the gentle "thees" and "thous" will be heard again by the older Quakers, with whom it was the conversational language in the earlier days of the church.

The committee issuing the call for the conference is composed of Ira S. Frame, Henry W. Sanders, Walter F. Dexter, Leila Pennock, Charles Pearson and John W. Dorland.

Grape Shippers Complete Plan for Distribution

FRESNO, Aug. 11.—Electing F. M. Mill, manager of the Fresno Traffic Association, as permanent chairman and R. S. Hodson of Visalia as secretary, the Lower San Joaquin Valley Advisory Committee of Growers, Shippers and Bankers, at a meeting here today, completed plans for placing in operation on the 15th inst., the 1926 grape crop car-distribution project for the American Railway Association.

C. F. Burr, a Lindsay shipper, was elected to membership and a publicity committee was elected as follows: F. P. Roullard and Whit C. Barber, horticultural commissioners of Fresno and Kern counties, respectively, and Hodson.

The advisory committee, which represents Fresno, Madera, Tulare, Kings and Kern counties, will work with H. F. Hovey in operating the plan, the essential details of which provide for bonding of shippers and placing of car-requirement requests with the association ten days in advance of the delivery date. Hovey is a representative of the car-service division of the railway association.

INGLEWOOD TURNS ON NEW STREET LIGHTING

INGLEWOOD, Aug. 11.—Inglewood residents turned out en masse last night to celebrate the turning on of the new ornamental street lighting system on West Boulevard. Mayor Miller pressed the button at 7:30 p.m., resulting in the flooding of the thoroughfare with brilliant illumination from Sixty-fourth street to the Santa Fe Railroad tracks. Dr. J. E. Hunt, president of the Fairview Heights Commercial Club, made the address of welcome, to which the Mayor responded. There was also a talk by Col. Thomas H. Jennings, vice-president of the Inglewood Chamber of Commerce. Following the ceremonies there was a two-hour concert by the Inglewood Municipal Band under the leadership of Director Hornaday. There will be special programs every afternoon and evening throughout the week at the intersection of Hyde Park and West boulevards, culminating with a free street dance on Saturday evening.

LOVE FINDS WAY FOR GIRL IN ELOPEMENT

VISALIA, Aug. 11.—Pretty little Dora Babcock, 15 years of age, ran away from the camp home of her parents at Cutler, to marry her youthful sweetheart, Oby Robirds of Los Angeles, but instead spent the night in the custody of the County Jail matron, Mrs. Jennie Uniacke, while the officers looked about to find Robirds. Finally they found him with the girl's parents, who, when told of the detention of the girl, gave their consent to the wedding, which was promptly solemnized. Twice the young people had sought a marriage license, only to be refused until consent of the parents of the girl, which the lovers feared to ask, could be obtained.

MONROVIA BOASTS OF RECORD LOW FIRE LOSS

MONROVIA, Aug. 11.—Monrovia's per capita fire loss during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, was one of the smallest in the State, according to report of Fire Chief Stevens, filed today. A total of thirty-nine fires recorded a loss of $7535, or 63 cents per capita. Fire underwriters consider any per capita loss under $1 good, Stevens said. Grass and brush fires and defective automobile wiring led in the cause of fires for the year.

LOVE LAUGHS AT ELLIS ISLE

English Bride-to-Be Fails to Crash Uncle Sam's Gate, So Riverside Octogenarian Crosses Ocean and Brings Her Back as Wife

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 11.—Love, long credited with the ability to laugh at locksmiths, enjoined a hearty guffaw at the expense of Ellis Island immigration officers today when James Boyd, 86-year-old pioneer Riversider, arrived home with his bride, 56 years of age, following a seventeen-day journey from England.

When the bride, formerly Mrs. Rosina Llewellyn of England, failed twice to get into the United States to keep her wedding engagement with the pioneer Riversider, Mr. Boyd decided it was time to do something about it. The Ellis Island authorities might prevent her from entering the United States, but they couldn't keep him from going to England.

Acting on this idea, Mr. Boyd sailed for Britain, married Mrs. Llewellyn at Manchester and returned to the United States without difficulty.

Their marriage is the result of a romance started three years ago, when the couple were both attending a spiritualist conference in Europe.

Plans for establishing a Spiritualist church in Riverside were outlined by Mr. and Mrs. Boyd yesterday. Mrs. Boyd declares she has been a medium for twenty years, while her husband has been interested in such phenomena for half a century.

OFFER PASADENA AIR MEET

All That Is Needed Is Consent of City Directors to Use Site for Landing Field

PASADENA, Aug. 11.—The consent of this city to the use of forty acres of outlying municipally-owned property is all that is needed to establish definitely the site for Southern California's second annual world flight commemoration, it was revealed today by Charles H. Babb, secretary of the National Aeronautical Association, Southern California chapter.

Babb called on City Manager Orbison today in an attempt to get Pasadena's consent to the use of the field for the event which will be held September 26. Orbison will bring the request to the attention of the Board of City Directors, which is expected to approve the proposal.

The meet will bring together a large number of planes, noted pilots and champions of the air, and according to Babb, it will be one of the greatest air meets in the history of Southern California. Last year the event was held at Santa Monica and attracted large crowds. The forty acres owned by Pasadena would provide an ideal landing field, and the Aeronautics Association is very anxious to obtain use of the site, Babb said.

He was accompanied by President Woodbury and Secretary Davis of the Alhambra Chamber of Commerce and President Bach of the Alhambra Exchange Club, who are anxious to have the project approved here as the field is close to Alhambra.

Silver Cup Will Go to Winner in Bathing Parade

LONG BEACH, Aug. 11.—A silver trophy cup, three feet high has been added to the numerous cash prizes to be awarded in the annual Long Beach bathing-beauty parade, to be held here next Sunday, it was announced today. The cup will be awarded to the winner of the title "Miss Southern California" and will accompany the title each succeeding year.

It will become the permanent property of the girl who wins it three successive years.

The name of Miss Marjorie Williamson of Long Beach, winner of the title last year, will be engraved on the cup and Miss Williamson will compete for the title again this year, but will not be entered in the competition for the other grand prizes.

Preparations are being made for the handling of a record crowd of out-of-town visitors who are expected here to witness the bathing-beauty pageant this year. All records for crowds in the amusement zone were broken at last year's event.

ECHO IN "SHAME" CASE

Wife of Tia Juana Ex-Police Chief To Sue for Divorce

MEXICALI, Aug. 11.— Mrs. Llanos, wife of former Chief of Police Senadio Llanos of Tia Juana, who was acquitted two weeks ago in the famous Peteet case plans to file suit for divorce immediately, acordincg to unofficial statement at the territorial palace here today.

Mrs. Llanos declined to comment on the report but close friends confirmed the fact that she has contemplated bringing action agains her husband for some time and that the papers probably will be filed within the next day or two.

It is understood that the Peteet matter will be only one of several allegations included in the complaint.

FITTS CLUB FORMED FOR SAN FERNANDO

SAN FERNANDO, Aug. 11.—A "Buren Fitts for Lieutenant-Governor Club" has just been organized in San Fernando with the following officers: H. H. Dace, president; H. P. Loomis, J. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Oda Faulconer and H. J. Poppleman, vice-presidents; Claire Flynn, secretary; Jack Keeley, treasurer; Charles W. Waite, H. G. Muegge, Chas H. Temple, L. B. Kirby, D. J. Calderon, Fred C. Reed, S. Glenn Chamberlin, W. Ross Bryant, and E. R. Elkins, executive committee. No meetings have been conducted as yet, but gatherings are scheduled for the latter part of the week.

LANDLUBBER BESSIE LANDS SAILOR'S CASH

LONG BEACH, Aug. 11.—Her name was Bessie. That's all Frank P. Farley of San Pedro knows about her. He would like to know more for Bessie, he told police today, has got his wallet and $53 in cash, to say nothing of his seaman's certificates. "It was a nice evening and I was lonesome. A man that I had met on the Pike introduced me to her and we took a little stroll. Then she said good night, and I said good night, but I thought I was saying it to her. I guess it was my money I was talking to," Farley told police.

TOWN LAW TO FORCE PLANES TO FLY HIGH

MONTEREY PARK, Aug. 11.—Airplane pilots flying over Monterey Park must stay "up in the air," the City Trustees have decided. Acting on their instructions, the local City Attorney is preparing an ordinance that will prohibit airplanes flying lower than 1500 feet over the city. Stunt flyers must be 2000 feet above the city. The action was taken at the request of Secretary King of the Monterey Park Chamber of Commerce.

REALTY BOARD WILL BOOST AUDITORIUM

PASADENA, Aug. 11.—The Pasadena Realty Board today organized a committee of 350 of its members to work for the passage of the $1,250,000 bond issue for the building of a new municipal auditorium here, which will come before the voters of the city at the end of this month. The real estate men will co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in urging the approval of the measure.

Valley to Wage Active War on Puncture Vine

MISSION ACRES, Aug. 11.—Another organized effort is being made to get property owners in various San Fernando Valley towns to grub up and burn the puncture vine while it is in its green state, and before it can spread farther in affected areas.

At Mission Acres, Van Nuys and other towns in the central part of the valley specimens of the menacing weed are being displayed at prominent places, with an appeal that property owners look for the weed around their homes and ranches and grub it up wherever seen. By autumn the sharp steel-like prickles on the vines will have dried. Later the vines will be blown by the fall winds over the highways and hundreds of auto tires will be punctured as a result. Last year the damage caused motorists was very large, and this year even more money loss is expected because of the increase in growth of the peculiar weed pest.

RIGHTS OF SETTLERS TO BE GIVEN HEARING

TAFT, Aug. 11.—Roy McDonald, who has had charge of the progress of Ford City as a city and the development of the northern extension of the townsite for some months past, today received a telegram from May Ronsavalle, secretary to Senator Shortridge, advising him of the success of the Senator in receiving an extension of time in the matter of settling the pre-emption-rights' proposition for the settlers on the new addition. At the request of Shortridge, the Secretary of the Interior has granted a reconsideration of the recent decision of the department ordering the immediate sale of the lots without pre-emption rights. The telegram further stated that Commissioner Spry of the General Land Office will pay a personal visit to the district at some time in the future and investigate the conditions.

ALHAMBRA Y.M.C.A. BOY RESCUES MAN IN LAKE

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 11.How a 16-year-old boy of Alhambra saved a man weighing about 150 pounds from a watery grave in a lake near the Alhambra Y.M.C.A. camp in the San Bernardino Mountains was told today by youths who have returned from the camp. The heroic youth is Paul Stathem and the man saved is George Harrison. The latter, who was visiting his son at the camp, had attempted to swim the lake and was seized with cramps when a long distance from shore. Seeing the man's plight, Stathem, who was the camp's Mayor, plunged into the water and safely brought the near-victim ashore.

FASHIONABLE CORNER IN PASADENA LEASED

PASADENA, Aug. 11.—A syndicate of Pasadena investors have leased for ninety-nine years the southwest corner of East Orange Grove avenue and Lake avenue at an aggregate rental of $700,000, it was announced today. New improvements are expected to be built on the property, but their nature has not yet been disclosed.

NEW RAIL RIGHTS GRANTED

INGLEWOOD, Aug. 11.—Permission was given by the City Council last night for Inglewood Industries, Inc., to build a spur track from the Santa Fe Railroad through its industrial tract in the western part of the city. This spur is said to presage considerable further development there, according to Roy A. Lind, chief engineer for the industrial development corporation.

NEW RICHFIELD OIL PLAN GIVEN

Three for One is Basis for Exchange of Stock

Company Will Acquire More Producing Properties

Shares Will be Listed Here and in New York

Stockholders of the United Oil Company will receive three shares of stock in the newly formed Richfield Oil Company of California for each share of United Oil held, according to a confirmation obtained yesterday from United Oil officials. It was also indicated that the new company will be both a holding and an operating company under a plan of operation intended to make it an increasingly important factor as an oil producer.

Public announcement conveying the details of this plan will be made to stockholders early next week, and it is said that substantially all of the large holders of United Oil stock have informally agreed to make the exchange, thus assuring the success of the plan.

LARGER CAPITALIZATION

The new corporation has a capital structure sufficient to provide for the expanding activities of a rapidly growing business. The authorized capital includes 2,000,000 shares of common stock with a par value of [illegible] a share, whereas the United Oil Company capital structure consists of only [illegible] shares of the same par value. Of the latter, 317,466 shares are outstanding, while 66,666 shares are held against conversion rights of outstanding first mortgage 6½ per cent bonds of the company, and [illegible] shares are reserved against the warrant rights accompanying the outstanding $2,500,000 6 per cent notes. Under the plan of exchange, the new Richfield company will issue to present United Oil stockholders [illegible] shares, or three times the number of shares of stock they now hold, leaving a balance of 1,047,602 shares unissued. Of this latter amount there are being reserved 244,[illegible] shares to cover exchanges of the additional United Oil stock now reserved for the conversion of outstanding bonds and note warrants.

Acquisition of substantial oil-producing properties, and of companies having settled production, is understood to be under way for the account of Richfield Oil Company. It will be the definite policy of the consolidated company to own its own production to the extent of at least [illegible] per cent of the requirements of its refineries. This program requires acquisition of an amount necessary to bring the present production up to 18,000 or 20,000 barrels a day.

GAS SALES GAIN

Sales of Richfield gasoline for July, established a new record in the company's history, amounting to nearly 12,000,000 gallons. Total sales of all products in that month were reported to be $2,995,000, or at the annual rate of more than $35,000,000, as compared with total sales of $19,[illegible] for 1925.

It is expected that application will be made to list the shares of the Richfield Oil Company of California on the Pacific Coast stock exchanges and the New York Stock Exchange.

PARAFFINE PROFITS OF YEAR SHOWN

Common Stock Earnings Equal to $9.36; Sales Show Increase Over 1925

Completion of a satisfactory year in the manufacture and sale of roofing, paints, building paper and related products was reported yesterday by the Paraffine Companies, Inc., which operates three plants in Los Angeles, along with others on the Pacific Coast. Net income after all charges, including preferred dividends, totaled $1,516,676.69, equivalent to $9.36 on the outstanding common stock. This compares with $9.91 for the previous twelve months' period.

Gross sales for the year ended June 30, last, amounted to $19,322,492, compared with $16,794,236, according to the report signed by R. S. Shainwald, vice-president and general manager. Net profits after Federal taxes totaled $1,941,716, against $1,332,591 for the previous year.

Since the last stockholders' meeting in August, 1925, the company has added to its investments the Sunset Paper Mills of Los Angeles, a modern plant manufacturing air-dried chip and binder's board, the first of its kind on the Pacific Coast. It is also stated in the report that in the eight an done-half years of the company's existence the value of realty, buildings, machinery and equipment has been increased by the expenditure of $8,200,000.

In March of this year the preferred stockholders were given the right to exchange one share of preferred for 1 1-4 shares of common, and the authorized common was increased from 94,000 shares to 200,000. In June stockholders were extended the privilege of buying common stock on the basis of one new share for each eight then owned.

The consolidated income account for the year ended June 30, 1926, follows:

Profit from operations after deducting all expenses, and provision for Federal income taxes		$1,941,716.43
Deduct:
Deduct:
Dividends declared on preferred stock	$413,553.00
Dividends declared on common stock	$559,332.00	972,885.00
Net addition to surplus for year....		957,244.69
Add:
Surplus at June 30, 1925		4,634,732.09
Surplus as per balance sheet		$5,591,976.78

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1926, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Aug. 11. (By Wireless)—The markets were quiet but firm today, especially the rails and industrials, which were affected by growing signs that the miners are returning to work and rejecting alike counsels of agitators and the ill-judged intervention of the clergy. Agitators are manifestly uneasy, but it is impossible yet to determine whether the end of the deadlock is in sight.

French stocks are exceptionally dull on the further reaction of the franc to 175.

Keen interest is being displayed in the appointment of Reginald McKenna and E. R. Peacock of Bartnos as London directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Formerly the company had only one London director and the eminence of those now elected is welcomed here as indicating the financial interest in Canada.

The chief feature of the afternoon markets was the keen demand for money, partly by bankers calling in connection with monthly balance sheets and credits. The money market probably will be easier at the end of the week but nevertheless expectations are for an upward rather than a downward trend in discounts and those holding these expectations are not entirely uninfluenced by the consideration of the Wall street position.

The markets are quietly firm, and even French stocks rallied a little. The franc closed above the worst. Railways however, finished easier and the decline in sterling emphasizes the previous remarks about the monetary position.

Bond Company Appoints Two New Officers

James Furlonge, president of the Royal Securities Company, specializing in the underwriting and sale of street improvement bonds, yesterday announced an increase in the board of directors from three to five members, and the election of two new officers. The new vice-presidents are H. L. Donald of Grand Island, Neb., and H. H. S. Van Velsor, formerly of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Donald, who is vice-president of the Donald Company of Grand Island, intends to make his home in Hollywood, and will be active in the street-bond business. Mr. Van Velsor spent a number of years in the banking business in Pittsburgh, and in the Pacific Northwest.

FEW FOREIGN BONDS SEEN

Babcock Believes American Dealers Virtually Out of European Flotations; Absorbed Abroad

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Most of the investment bankers from here and elsewhere who return from jaunts through the principal European countries usually have a number of reassuring remarks on European securities to offer for the consumption of their salesmen, their customers and the public. This is well and good, for the data on economic progress support the opinions expressed, and then it is good business, of course, to prepare the way for the new foreign issues expected. Different circumstances, however, influence the comment of David T. Babcock, vice-president and resident partner of Blyth, Witter & Co., who returned last week from a European trip.

Mr. Babcock probably would not concede that the market on European securities needs the support of his opinion or of any other investment banker. But even if it did, he could hardly be accused of furthering his own interests. This is understood from the trend of his remarks made yesterday on the impending capital requirements of the leading countries in Europe. In brief, Mr. Babcock is of the opinion that the countries in whose securities American investers would place their money, have virtually completed their financing, and the American market, with some exceptions, will have to look elsewhere for sound investment securities.

DEMAND HEAVY

The new financing, Mr. Babcock said, that will originate in the next year or so from countries like Germany, Hungary and Italy, will be absorbed almost entirely by European investors. The American market may participate in some large blocks, but on the whole, the day of large distribution of the prime European securities in this country is over. The trend, he observed, is illustrated particularly by the situation in Germany, where the investors are demanding that the new issues shall be payable in gold marks, instead of dollars, as has been the rule since the war.

While visiting the large investment markets in Europe in company with other officers of his firm, Mr. Babcock was told that the 7 per cent bonds now outstanding as the obligations of Germany, Switzerland, Hungary and perhaps a few others, will probably sell above par within the next two years, and be called for retirement. By that time the European investment experts believe that refunding programs at lower rates of interest will be feasible, but they also say that the refunding issues will be sold almost entirely in the European markets.

EXPANSION UNLIKELY

The Blyth, Witter & Co. officers found that the investment demand is especially noticeable in Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, England and Switzerland. The Italians are not yet buyers and probably will not be for some time, although Mr. Babcock was impressed by the spirit and the industry in Italy. Unlike the French, they are busily at work in rehabilitating their basic industries, in planning and executing industrial and public improvements, and in ironing out the rough spots in their finances. Whatever new capital is required, Mr. Babcock believes, will be forthcoming without difficulty.

American investment bankers, in his opinion, will have little opportunity to participate in the underwriting and sale of European securities to European investors. The German municipals, English, Central European and Italian securities that will be issued will undoubtedly be purchased by the European banking houses for sale in large blocks to banks, insurance companies and investment trusts. The American dealer, he pointed out, depends principally on the method of retail distribution, but in Europe there is no retail market. And, moreover, the American house that might seek to build a European clientele would probably find the experience and the prestige of the Europeans in international finance an obstacle too formidable to overcome. For the American dealer the alterntive is to carefully comb the domestic and the world market for new wares for their clients.

Mining Permits Issued for New State Concerns

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 11.—Mining permits issued by the State Corporation Department during the past few weeks reveal that large sums of money are to be expended in the immediate future for extension and development work of companies operating in various counties of California. The permits would indicate considerable activity in mining circles.

A number of Northern California enterprises occupy prominent places in the list. Several companies operating outside of this State were also granted permits.

One of the permits is in the name of the Henry Clay Mines, Inc., whose property adjoins the Brown Bear Mine near Lewiston, Trinity county. This company plans to expend about $30,000 in development work and in additional equipment.

The Sterling Gold Mining Company, which is operating near Yreka, Siskiyou county, was granted a permit to provide for additional development. This company has a mill constructed which is about ready for operation. The development of some newly acquired property near its original holdings is among the early plans of the company.

The Plumas Sierra Investment Company, which owns placer property on the boundary between Sierra and Plumas counties near the head of Slate Creek, was also given a permit. Considerable work has already been done on the property of the company by stockholders, who are principally residents of the city of Lodi.

BANK STOCK OFFERED

BERLIN, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Deutsche Bank's new issue of 40,000,000 shares of 1000-mark denomination may be acquired by holders of 3000-mark shares at 150 per cent, plus tax, it was announced today. The new shares will carry the full dividend for 1926. Certificates held in the United States may be lodged with Speyer & Co. for purposes of conversion up to August 30.

Arizona July Business Held at Fair Level

PHOENIX, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—According to the Arizona Industrial Congress, business with the the State "held a very fair level" during July, with notable improvement in the northern part of the State, due to tourist and Arizona travel. Agricultural conditions have continued favorable, with 510,000 acres in field crops, compared with 470,000 last year. Cantaloupe shipments aggregated 390 carloads.

Range conditions have been maintained by summer rains, with favorable indications ahead. During the first half of the year, cattle shipments totaled 126500 head to points outside the State. The wool production is expected to be about the same as last year, or 6,400,000 pounds. Of value to the mines has been an advance of a half-cent in the price of copper. Bank deposits increased $1,800,000 during the fiscal year and bank loans decreased $2,600,000.

Tide Water Oil Earns 75 Cents; is First Report

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Tidewater-Associated Oil Company in its first quarterly statement after the consolidation of the Tidewater Oil Company and the Associated Oil Company, reports net earnings to June 30 or $3,471,110, after payment of preferred dividends. This is equivalent to 75 cents a share on the common stock.

ELECTRIC PUBLIC SERVICE LIENS OUT

BANKERS OFFER SECURITIES FOR COMPANY SERVING THE MIDDLE WEST

A new issue of $2,000,000 Electric Public Service Company fifteen-year 6 per cent secured gold bonds, series "B," is being offered at 98 and interest to yield more than 6.20 per cent by a syndicate which includes R. E. Wilsey & Co. Inc., Stanley & Bissell, Inc., Gorrell & Co., Inc., and First Illinois Company. The bonds are due August 1, 1941.

The company will serve without competition, directly through its subsidairies, electric light and power to eighteen communities in Ohio and Oklahoma in which the total population is approximately 65,000.

Net earnings for the twelve months ended April 30, last, were more than 2.45 times the total annual interest requiremens of all outstanding bonds of the company, including this issue, and more than 2.13 times annual interest requirements on all bonds of the company as well as annual prior charges on all securities of subsidiary companies outstanding in the hands of the public.

OFFER COMMON STOCK OF STEEL BOILER FIRM

A private offering of 12,000 shares of no par value common stock of the Pacific Steel Boiler Corporation will be made this week by the firm of Noyes & Jackson, members of the New York Stock Exchange. The offering does not represent any new financing but is part of an original issue of 160,000 shares authorized last January. The price is announced as $12.50 a share to yield 8 per cent on the $1 annual dividend.

ROYAL DUTCH HEAD OPTIMISTIC IN OIL

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—The oil industry was described as being in a "very healthy state" by H. W. A. Deterding, managing director of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company, upon his departure today for Europe. "The expansion of the oil industry, however, depends on credit," he said, "and to develop the industry properly will require hundreds of millions of dollars."

RETURN OF OIL ISSUE TO BIG BOARD LOOMS

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Shares of the Standard Oil Company of New York, which heretofore have been dealt in only on the New York curb market, may soon be presented for listing on the New York Stock Exchange, it is reported in Wall street. Several years ago the company withdrew an application because of a disagreement over the cost of the listing privilege.

EXTRA IS DECLARED

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (AP)—An extra dividend of $1 a share on the common stock, as well as the regular quarterly dividends of 1 3-4 per cent a share on the preferred stock and 2 per cent on the common stock, was voted today by directors of the United States Gypsum Company.

BOSCH EARNINGS OFF

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—The American Bosch Magneto Company reports for the six months ended June 30 net income of $243,752, after charges but before Federal taxes, equal to $1.17 a share of common stock. Share earnings for the same period last year were $1.75.

PUBLIC UTILITY LIENS OFFERED

Gold Debentures of North American on Market

Properties in Middle West Owned by Company

Two Stock Issues to Follow Present Financing

One of the most important underwritings of public utility securities of the year, and the largest investment offerings to be made in several weeks, comes today in the form of $15,000,000 North American Light and Power Company thirty-year sinking fund 5½ per cent gold debentures, series "A." The bonds are due July 1, 1956, and are offered by a banking group headed by E. H. Rollins & Sons at 94½ and accrued interest to yield about 5.90 per cent.

The company represents ownership in the entire common stock of Illinois Power and Light Corporation and Missouri Power and Light Company, two public service operating companies which directly or through subsidiaries serve a population of more than 1,350,000 in over 520 municipalities in the Middle West.

Contracts have been entered into providing, on completion of the reorganization of the company, in which the issue and sale of the debentures constitute a part, a large majority of its common stock will be acquired by the Middle West Utilities Company and the North American Company. The North American Company, one of the two principal stockholders in the company the debentures of which are now being offered, in addition to operating properties in the Middle-West owns a controlling interest in various important Pacific Coast public-service companies, including San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation, Great Western Power Company and Fresno City Water Company.

This issue of debentures will be followed by 85,000 shares no par value of preferred stock and 600,000 shares of no par value common stock. On the basis of the price, $25 a share, at which this common stock is changing hands between the former owners and the new interests, the common and preferred stock of the company indicate an aggregate market equity of more than one and one-half times the principal amount of the debentures to be outstanding.

For the twelve months ended April 30, last, gross earnings of the North American Light and Power Company and subsidiaries totalled $33,738,742, while the balance available for interest on the debentures, after deducting all prior charges amounting to $2,977,330, or over 3.6 times the annual requirements of the issue.

UNITED OIL LEADS RISE IN MARKET

Marine Continues Advance Closing at 1.58 1-2; Julian Firm With Heavy Volume

Oil stocks were generally stronger on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, with United Oil leading the advance, although selling irregularly. United opened ½ of a point higher at 76 7-8 and sold around that figure throughout the morning, and rallied to 78 in the early afternoon, and closed at 77 5-8, after receding again to 77 1-4.

Julian Petroleum preferred continued to show the greatest activity, and closed firm at 14 3-4, after reaching a high at 14 7-8. The common held at 2½. Union Oil of California lacked strength and moved off 3-8 of a point to a close at 52½, while Associates lost a point to 54. Standard of California added a fraction to 59½, as did California Petroleum to 32 7-8. Marine Corporation continued to gain and closed 1½ points up at 1.58½. Shell-Union was active at 28, 1-4 of a point higher than Tuesday's close.

Southern California Edison common was active and sold around 21½ in the morning and closed in the afternoon a tthat figure. The 7 per cent and 6 per cent preferred issues were firm at 28 1-8 and 25, respectively. Los Angeles Gas and Electric preferred added 1-4 of a point to a close at 97 7-8. Los Angeles Investment receded further to 3.15.

Bancitaly Corporation closed at 80 3-8, after selling most of the day at 80 1-4. Bank of Italy held at 455.

San Francisco Gold closed 1 point lower at 10½, while Lucky Boy Divide added ½ of a point to 4 with a large turnover. North Star rallied ½ of a point to 8, and United Western moved up 1½ points to 28.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—In a quiet and steady market prices of crude rubber today remained unchanged from Tuesday's levels, ribbed smoked sheets being quoted at 38 cents for spot. The London market weakened and closed off ⅛d at 19d. Trading in the local market was almost completely at a standstill to 2 o'clock, turnover being under fifty contracts.

There are practically no outside buying consumers of rubber apparently having loaded up on inventories during the last quarter in the effort to thwart the application of the British restriction plans.

CROP PROSPECTS PLEASING

Present Wheat and Cotton Reports Give Indication of Generally Satisfactory Effects

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—No new high records in agricultural production will be set in 1926 perhaps but government estimates indicate plainly enough that bumper crops may be expected in both wheat and cotton. How will this affect the general prosperity of the country?

Large crops do not always portend greater wealht for the agricultural regions since sometimes an increased yield is more than offset by falling prices but it so happens that the present estimates indicate a condition pleasant to contemplate.

More Wheat for Export

A winter wheat output of 626,482,000 bushels and a spring crop of 212,719,000 would make a total 1926 production of the commodity of 839,201,000 bushels or substantially more than was expected a month ago. It compares with a final output last year of only 666,000,000 bushels.

So sizeable a crop of that leading grain is all the more significant since late yesterday afternoon the Canadian estimate showed nearly a 100,000,000-bushel decline in the expected yield across the border. The total wheat crop in Canada now is estimated at 316,960,000 bushels, as against 411,375,700 for last year.

All of which is to say that if the Canadian output finally falls sharply and the harvest here is abundant, as now seems likely, the farmers in this country will be in position to export more heavily than had been thought possible down to the present time. It still is too early to predict what price the farmer may expect for the bulk of the commodity but there is no reason now to doubt that the grain can be marketed at a figure that will add wealth to the regions that most need it.

Price of Cotton

In the cotton trade the estimate of a 15,6210,000-bale crop was disappointing for such a production, the experts reckoned, and would tend to hold down the price of the commodity. The logic of such an argument becomes more impressive on examination of the large carryover of cotton from last year's crop. But a low price of the commodity may be a blessing in disguise. The farmers of the South are in better position to accept a modest profit from their plantation enterprises this year than are the wheat growers of the West. Stablization of the price of the commodity for a period will, furthermore, greatly help to rejuvenate the cotton-goods industry. A good cotton crop would be an influence of moment in raising the industry from the doldrums and induce more prosperous price levels.

Russell Urges Co-operation of Cattlemen

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—"Arizona must help California stabilize the market, if we are to receive better prices for our Arizona cattle," according to Wayne Thornburg of Kirkland, speaking before the Arizona Cattle Growers' Conference here. About twenty-five members were in attendance.

The principal address was that of Hub Russell, president of the California Cattlemen's Marketing Association, who declared that prices could have been held level during the past year had the big producers in California co-operated. Both cattlemen and packers could have made money, he said. A plea was made for full co-operation between the big and small producers.

Mr. Russell stated that Nevada, with half of last year's cattle production, is marketing thirty days earlier than last year, with conditions about the same in Idaho. H. M. Rice, secretary of the California Association, stated that 85 per cent of the Arizona shipments go to California, including 40,000 calves this season. There is little competition with California production, as Northern Arizona ships in the fall and the Salt River Valley in the winter.

STATE REPORTS YIELD OF PETROLEUM FIELDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The average daily production of oil in California the first week in August was 618,100 barrels. The estimate for the week ended August 7 by the American Petroleum Institute today gave the daily average for each field: Long Beach, 106,000 barrels; Santa Fe Springs, 50,000; Huntington Beach, 46,000; Torrance, 29,500; Dominguez, 21,000; Rosecrans, 16,000; Inglewood, 40,000; Midway-Sunset, 95,000; Ventura avenue, 45,100; all others, 163,500.

STOCK PRICES OFF AT CLOSE

Another Sharp Downward Revision Evident

Reaction Reaches Climax in Late Trading

General Motors Sells at Bottom After Rise

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(AP)—Another sharp downward revision of prices took place in today's stock market. The reaction, which covered practically the entire list, reached its climax in the last few minutes of trading, and followed an early period of strength during which many issues had been marked up 1 to 9 points. These early gains were wiped out, for the most part, and replaced with net losses ranging from fractions to 6 points.

In the absence of any large overnight accumulation of selling orders after yesterday's drastic break, operators for the rise started to mark up prices soon after the opening. They were aided by a plentiful supply of call money around 4 1-2 per cent and a favorable quota of trade news, including the announcement that freight traffic in the week ended July 31 had attained a new high level for the year and the publication of the weekly steel trade reviews, calling attention to the fact that August business was running ahead of July, with indications that 1926 will exceed 1925 as a steel year.

General Motors, which has been the feature of recent markets, opened 1 1-2 points higher at 208, crossed 212 before midday and then broke to 203, closing at the bottom. United States Steel common was hammered down from 151 5-8 to 147 3-4 and then rallied to 148 1-4 off 1 3-4 points net. Extreme nervousness characterized the trading in these two issues due to the uncertainty as to what dividend action will be taken by General Motors directors at their meeting tomorrow.

HOLD OUT FOR EXTRAS

Professional traders were of the opinion that General Motors dividend action is likely to determine the immediate trend of prices. Hope is still held out for a stock dividend of 50 per cent and a cash extra of $3 or $4, in addition to the regular payments.

Although it is generally conceded that the technical position of the market has been materially improved by the drastic decline of the last two days, commission-house advices continued to suggest caution in the making of commitments on the

STEEL BUYING CONTINUES UP

Business in August Holding at Pace Set in July

Unfilled Order Gain First Turn from Decline

Coke Stronger and Higher; Composite Unchanged

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—August thus far is repeating the story of the unprecedented volume of steel buying written by July, the Iron Trade Review will say today. New business entered for the first part of the month is fully up to the unusual magnitude of the past six weeks and fresh requirements are on a scale calculated to sustain a broad market indefinitely. August business is comparable with July, and will help to give the steel industry at large its greatest midsummer vitality in history.

Indications of substantial gains over July are not infrequent in reports of current conditions. A Chicago independent booked more than 50 per cent greater tonnage last week than in the corresponding period a month ago.

A leading producer entered last week with the greatest tonnage of sheets of the present year, excepting one period in March. New business in sheets for this maker at present is averaging 90 per cent of mill capacity. Strip steel business is reported 25 to 30 per cent better than in July. A comparative record covering a large fraction of the total finishing capacity shows sales and specifications in heavy products, as well as shipments, of the past seven months 12 per cent ahead of the same period in 1925.

UNFILLED ORDERS UP

A gain of 124,010 tons in unfilled orders in July by the United States Steel Corporation marks the first turn from the period of decline ever recorded for that month. In 1925, recovery after a tapering off from the heavy buying period came two months later and in 1924 one month later.

More steel ingots were produced in July than in any similar month on record, and tonnage represented 78.2 per cent of the total capacity, compared with 80.34 per cent in June, and 84.51 per cent in May. Because there was one less operating day in July, this year, than in July, 1923, the daily average output was slightly less than in the latter month. In July, the country was making ingots at an annual rate of 43,670,000 tons.

STEEL SALES SHOWN

The iron and steel scrap market has moved forward under real consumer buying in volume. Sales of heavy melting steel reported from different districts this week total about 150,000 tons. In several districts various grades of scrap advanced from 50 cents to $1 a ton.

Coke is stronger and has advanced. The Treasury Department in Washington has temporarily lifted the ban upon importations of Indian pig iron pending further notice. The Treasury has been unable to determine the amount of bounty paid, upon which it is to fix the countervailing duty. Prolongation of the destructive British coal strike with its drastic effects upon industry is indicated by the refusal of the British government to extend its subsidy to miners pending its settlement. A few more blast furnaces have managed to resume, using imported coal.

The Iron Trade Review's composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products stands at $37.61, unchanged from a week ago.

STANDARDS FOR COTTON REJECTED

Outcome, However, Fails to Discourage Americans in London Conference

LONDON, Aug. 11. (AP)—The cotton conference today at the American Embassy between members of the various cotton associations of Europe and America failed to adopt world standards for cotton staples, but the American officials who attended the conference are far from dissatisfied with the outcome.

The meeting was called at the initiative of the United States Department of Agriculture because of the feeling that with the present grade and color agreements working so smoothly it would be wise to go a step further and adopt standards for the length of cotton fibre. To that end the Department of Agriculture recently invited representatives of the various European and American cotton shippers' association to consider the question. The meeting here today was attended by thirty-five cotton men including a delegation of nine from the United States, representing the American Cotton Shippers' Association and five representatives of the Department of Agriculture.

Lloyd Tenny, who headed the agricultural department forces, in a long address reviewed the whole situation and urged the need for fixing standards of staple lengths.

The meeting was very friendly and a statement issued later explained that a majority of the Europen cotton men were unwilling to take any action adopting such standards. They will submit at a later date a statement detailing their reasons. The minority delegates favoring the adoption of such standards hope for an early agreement.

Wilshire Region Will Have New Athletic Club

That the Wilshire district is to have a new athletic club was learned yesterday with the announcement of plans for a $500,000 eight-story club building to be constructed on South Vermont avenue between First and Third streets, under the name of the Wilshire-California Athletic Club.

According to Architect William Allen, construction will begin in ninety days.

The club will include all social and recreational luxuries usually found in an establishment of its kind. On the board of directors are Victor Ford Collins, O. T. Rosellin, Charles Gilbert, Captain of Detectives Alfred Slaten, A. E. Smidt, Richard Cantillon, W. L. Shay, Dep. Dist.-Atty John J. Hill and James Thomas Johns.

GUIDING INSURANCE BUYERS

BY GRIFFIN M. LOVELACE
Professor of Insurance, New York University

LVII—LIFE INSURANCE FIRST

Frequently the question is asked, "which should we do first, build up a substantial savings account, buy a home, or secure a satisfactory amount of life insurance?" Perhaps you might expect that the banker, the real estate man and the life underwriter would present three different answers to this question. Of course, the ideal thing is to have a large bank account, to own one's home free and clear, and to have an adequate program of life insurance, as well as a good line of bonds and stocks.

But suppose a man's income is quite limited. What then is best?

If he has a large savings account, rents a home and has no life insurance, he has provided against certain emergencies and has started a small provision for the future, but misses the comfort and happiness that may come from living under his own roof tree. If one owns his home, but has no savings account and no life insurance, the home will not only provide much comfort, but may also, as security, provide for emergencies.

Both the savings account and the equity in the home will also provide some benefit in event of death, but only to the extent of the savings or the equity in the home. If the head of the family dies, his few hundred or thousands of dollars in the bank or in the home may pay him out of the world, but will do little for his family.

BEST FOUNDATION

Though some of you may think I am wrong, I shall none the less submit a plan that begins with life insurance. As I write this I am keeping in mind a number of men I have known who postponed taking their life insurance until they were "impaired risks" and unable to secure insurance they wanted and had always intended to take some day; and I think, too, of a number who died before they got round to the life insurance part of their plans.

A young man marries and means that his vow to support his wife shall cover as long as she lives, rather than only "until death do us part."

His outlook on life is sane. He is committed to a thrift program. He means to have a good savings account, to own his home, to secure a substantial amount of life insurance, and also to build up a good list of bonds, and finally to add worth-while stocks to his holdings.

But just now he is unable to save much money; let us say only $200 a year. It seems to me that it is better for him to invest in about $10,000 of life insurance. And it might be desirable for him to put the next $100 a year into life insurance.

Thus his first $300 a year will create and maintain an estate of about $15,000 to cover his liabilities at death and to assure a small income to his young wife, who may soon be a mother, who might, indeed, become a mother after his death. The comfort, peace of mind, which this use of his $300 of annual savings will give him is incalculable.

After a couple of years the life insurance policies will have loan values, which may be borrowed in emergencies. And if he needs to borrow more money than he possesses in collateral his banker will probably be more ready to help him because of his provident attitude toward his responsibilities and because the insurance would cover the liability if he died.

DEPENDENT PROTECTED

And if he should die early in life, as many men do, he would leave his obligation to his wife fulfilled to the best of his ability, and if perchance there were a child surviving him, or born post-humously, there would never be any doubt in any one's mind regarding whether he had been wise to begin his financial program with life insurance rather than some other plan.

If you could read the 110 letters before me on my desk, as I write, each telling of some one who has died and left a family unprovided for, and in each instance a family that has suffered some great hardship, privation or tragedy because of the need of money that couldn't be got, I believe you would see the situation from my viewpoint.

As for the savings account and the home, every one should add these as soon as possible to his program. Young men should use the savings bank also to accumulate their life insurance premiums. A number of savings banks have succeeded in inducing many young men to accumulate from year to year in small monthly savings the amount necessary to meet their annual life insurance premiums.

If it is true, as I believe it is, that one's financial program should begin with the investment of savings in that plan which will provide against the most important emergencies, then life insurance should be the bottom layer in the young man's financial structure. Upon this he may then add other layers in the form of a savings account for the purchase of a home, then the home itself and a savings account for emergencies.

Upon these should be laid other sound investments such as high-grade bonds and preferred stocks. On the average, I am sure that such a plan will bring more permanent safety and happiness than any other.

LIQUIDATION RUNS HEAVY IN COTTON

Weather and Crop Data Prove Too Good in Most Sections of Belt

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Heavy liquidation marked cotton contracts today mostly by tired longs among the local trade and Wall street interests who carried their cotton over the break of 70 to 80 points when the government crop report was announced Monday. Although Liverpool made a better showing than expected by advancing 10 more points than due, the weather map was too good in most sections of the belt.

The weekly government weather and crop bulletin presented a summary that was surprisingly favorable in view of the many private bad-crop reports in circulation in the last week.

These developments proved too much for the market with the limited amount of outside investment or speculative buying and only a moderate demand, principally of a scale down character from trade interests.

It resulted in a maximum break of 50 to 55 points from yesterday's closing quotations, sending October contracts to 16.20 cents, December and January, 16.21 cents; March, 16.20 cents and May, 16.57 cents.

This decline carried prices 20 to 30 points under the low reached on the break on Monday's government report and within 20 to 30 points of the season's lowest records of the season reached July 2, when October sold at 16.02 cents, December, 16 cents; January, 15.90 cents; March, 16.08 cents and May, 16.25 cents.

Fine weather prevails all over the belt to promote the rapid progress of the crops. Before the break here, Liverpool futures closed at a net advance of 3 to 4 points against 4 to 5 advance due.

Most of the southern spot market went off this afternoon 25 to 40 points from yesterday's prices.

New Municipal Playground to Open Saturday

A new municipal playground of sixteen acres, designated as Manchester Playground and situated at Ninetieth and Hoover streets, will be formally dedicated by the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department next Saturday afternoon.

Participating in the dedicatory exercises will be many southwest-side organizations. Chairman of the day will be Playground Commissioner P. H. Halbriter, and formal acceptance of the playground on behalf of the community will be made by Councilman Colden, in whose district it is situated. The flag-raising will be conducted by Boy Scouts, music will be furnished by the Playground Harmonica Band, and among the speakers will be Principal H. Conchman of Manchester School, Mrs. Lou Williams, president of Manchester Parent-Teachers' Association, and L. D. McGahan, editor of "Southwest Topics."

A playground flag, woven in the Manchester colors and emblazoned with the city seal will be presented and Superintendent Hjelte will introduce the playground staff of directors.

BUSINESS PHILOSOPHY

BY WILLIAM FEATHER

GOOD buyers of materials or service are like those with the ability to see wise investments.

Failure is harder than success: who works harder, the man who saunters down to the train ahead of time or the one who misses it by fifteen seconds after running three blocks?

Distributing our wheat crop is a greater feat than growing it.

Capital is the harness of natural resources.

An admission of failure is a sign of manhood.

Advice to advertisers: When everything else fails try improving the product.

Havana Issues Ultimatum on Tobacco Limit

HAVANA, Aug. 11. (AP)—Unless the United States amends its customs regulations to allow cigars and cigarettes to be imported in small quantities, the Cuban government will abrogate the present parcel-post convention. Director of Mails Montalvo says he has written Assistant Postmaster-General Glover at Washington saying he is authorized to state that it has been definitely decided to abrogate the parcel-post agreement, which went into effect last winter. In the first quarter of 1926, Senor Montalvo said, 68,128 packages were received in Havana and 4508 sent to the United States.

It is estimated that Cuba's income at the present ratio is $100,000 a year. The agreement was for eighteen months and would be made permanent by the lowering of the minimum of 3000 cigars or cigarettes allowed to be imported into the United States under the present customs regulations.

Luter Pleads in Behalf of State Reapportioning

"I have taken every opportunity to urge voters to work for and vote for the measure at the coming November election," said John W. Luter, Los Angeles attorney, in a communication to the All-Parties Reapportionment Committee, indorsing the reapportionment initiative on the November ballot.

"This is a measure which should receive the most ardent support of every man and woman in Southern California," he added.

"For many years I have been keenly interested in having this action brought about and since our Legislature has neglected the duty of giving our section of the State proper representation, and failed to carry out the constitutional law of our State, it is now the duty of our citizens to do it themselves."

Mr. Luter volunteered his services for the all-parties speakers' bureau, which is being organized to conduct a campaign in behalf of the legislative reapportionment initiative.

Elysian Brick Yards Removal at Once Urged

Residents of the Elysian Park district will appear in a body before the City Planning Commission at 1 p.m., today, to renew their protests against the presence of two brick yards, declared to be operating in their district, despite court orders to the companies to get out.

A. J. Sneed, Jr., speaking in behalf of the residents of the district, said the City Health Officer declared the brick yards a nuisance, the City Planning Commission zoned the district for residences, hundreds of families built homes and are living there, the courts have ordered the brick yards moved, the City Council ordered an ordinance prepared abating the yards, and still they are operating.

Now the brick companies are asking three more years in which to operate. A petition from residents of the district was presented to the City Council yesterday, praying for immediate relief.

North American Light & Power Company

30-Year Sinking Fund Gold Debentures, Series A, 5½%

To be dated July 1, 1926 — To be due July 1, 1956

The Company will agree to reimburse upon timely application the holders of these Debentures, for the Pennsylvania, Connecticut and California personal property tax not exceeding 4 mills, and for the Massachusetts income tax not exceeding 6% per annum.

The following is taken from official sources:

BUSINESS

North American Light & Power Company, incorporated under the laws of Delaware, controls the entire common stocks of Illinois Power and Light Corporation and Missouri Power & Light Company, which directly or through subsidiaries serve a population of more than 1,350,000 in over 520 municipalities in the states of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska. About three-fourths of the net earnings of the system are derived from power and light. The electric properties include generating stations with an aggregate capacity of 375,960 h.p., serving 271,762 customers. The gas properties furnish artificial gas to 90,410 customers. The railway properties consist of 550 miles of trunk line electric railroad connecting central Illinois with St. Louis and a steam road of 45 miles and city railways with an aggregate of 235 miles of track.

CAPITALIZATION
(After Giving Effect to Present Financing)

30-Year Sinking Fund Gold Debentures, Series A, 5½%	$15,000,000
Cumulative Preferred Stock—$6 dividend—entitled on dissolution to $100 per share and accrued dividends—without par value	85,000 shares
Common Stock (without par value)	600,000 shares

SINKING FUND

The Debenture Agreement will provide for a cumulative sinking fund beginning July 1, 1931, of $150,000 annually, payable semi-annually which may, at the option of the Company, be used to purchase and retire Debentures of this issue and/or to purchase stocks, bonds or other securities of the constituent or other companies which shall be pledged with the Trustee. The income on all Debentures retired or securities purchased by the sinking fund will be added to the sinking fund. It is estimated that the operation of this sinking fund will retire 40% of this issue before maturity and/or correspondingly increase the security therefor.

EARNINGS
Consolidated Statement for 12 Months Ended April 30, 1926

Gross Earnings		$33,738,742*
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes		20,805,009
Net Earnings before Depreciation		$12,933,733
Deductions:
Interest and Amortization of Subsidiary Companies	$6,230,870
Preferred Stock Dividends of Subsidiary Companies and Allowance for Minority Common Stock Interest	2,243,128
Depreciation and Sinking Fund Reserves in accordance with Subsidiary Companies' Mortgages	1,482,405	9,956,403
Balance		$ 2,977,330
Annual Interest on $15,000,000 30-Year Sinking Fund Gold Debentures, Series A, 5½% (this issue)		825,000
Balance		$ 2,152,330

Balance of $2,977,330 is over 3.6 times annual interest requirements of this issue.

*Includes $336,797 profit realized on sale of certain properties.

EQUITY

These Debentures will be followed by 85,000 shares (no par value) of $6 Dividend Cumulative Preferred Stock (entitled on dissolution to $100 per share and accrued dividends) and 600,000 shares of common stock of no par value. On the basis of the price ($25 per share) at which common stock is changing hands between the former owners and the new interests, the common and preferred stock of the Company indicate in the aggregate an equity of over one and one-half times the principal amount of the Debentures to be outstanding.

A portion of the Debentures may be issued to former shareholders of the North American Light & Power Company (Maine) in connection with the Reorganization, in which case the Company will receive cash on account of common stock equal to the cash it would have received had such Debentures been sold by the Company.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of the Debentures sold by the Company (and cash received for any common stock so issued) will be used to retire the entire issue of the notes of this Company known as North American Light and Power Corporation 7% Secured Notes and the preferred stock of North American Light & Power Company (Maine), to furnish additional working capital, and for other purposes in connection with the reorganization of the Company.

MANAGEMENT

Arrangements have been made whereby, on completion of the reorganization of the Company (of which the issue and sale of the foregoing Debentures constitute a part) the Middle West Utilities Company and the North American Company will each acquire a substantial interest in its common stock. It is believed that this affiliation with two of the foremost public utility interests of the country will permit of new economies and promote increased efficiencies in operations. Mr. Clement Studebaker, Jr., and his associates will also become holders of a substantial interest in the new common stock and Mr. Studebaker will continue as President in active charge of the operations of the Company.

Price 94½ and accrued interest, to yield about 5.90%

These Debentures are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and received by us and all legalities in connection with this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Pam and Hurd of Chicago, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Defrees, Buckingham & Eaton, of Chicago, for the Company.

It is expected that Interim Certificates of the Trustee or Temporary Debentures will be ready for delivery on or about August 20, 1926.

SUGAR PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Raw sugar, 4.27; refined, 5.10@5.80.

DRIED FRUITS

WOOL BUSINESS SLOW

BOSTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Wool business here is slow, trade and mill factors both waiting for the result of further good openings this week. Although prices of new lines are expected to be about on a parity with recent openings, traders are not pushing sales. Mills have not been pursuing a policy of buying ahead of requirements, and apparently are convinced of sufficient stocks in the market.

PRODUCE MARKET

(United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.)

Trading today was moderate. Supplies were liberal and prices fully steady. Apples are holding their own. Figs are weaker and grapes about steady. Tomatoes are scarcer with prices higher. Peas are slightly lower with liberal receipts.

APPLES—Northern, Gravensteins mostly 2.50@3.60 per cwt., packed fancy 1.50@1.60, C. grade 1.25@1.35 per box. Bellefiowers 3.00@3.25 mostly 3.25 per cwt.

BANANAS—Mostly 6@6½, ripes, 3½@4 per pound.

BEANS—Local, green pod, Kentucky Wonders, best 7@8, few 9; Limas 3@3½, Wax mostly 6@8 per pound.

BUNCHED VEGETABLES—Per dozen bunches: Beets, 30; carrots, 30; onions, 15; spinach, 25; turnips, 25; red radishes, 25; white radishes, 30@35, Parsley 15.

CABBAGE—Local, mostly 50@75 per cwt.

CANTALOUPES—Local, Tip-Tops large 75@90, small or soft 50@75 per crate. Paul Rose 1.00@1.25, few 1.50, poorer 75@90 per field crate.

CELERY—Local, 1.50@1.75, poorer 1.00@1.25 per crate.

CORN—Local, best 50@65, poorer 25@40 per lug.

CUCUMBERS—Local, 85@1.00 per lug box.

FIGS—Local, Blacks mostly 7@10. Northern, Whites 65@75, Blacks 50@65 per flat.

A man cannot rightfully claim to be successful until he has put aside enough to insure the continued welfare of himself and those dependent upon him. —HARRIMAN theory that further correction may be necessary.

To those who have not begun to systematically save, the task of accumulating a substantial reserve fund seems a difficult, almost impossible undertaking. However, thousands of men and women have proved that system plus persistence accomplish it. Every pay day a tenth of the income safely deposited—this is the way to progress and growth.

Among the few stocks which were able to maintain part of their early gains were American Agricultural Chemical, American Safety Razor, Brooklyn Manhattan Transit, Interborough Rapid Transit, Murray Body, Shubert Theaters, United States Industrial Alcohol and Ward Baking B. R. H. Macy, Butterick Publishing and Norfolk and Western attained new 1926 highs. The sharpest breaks took place in such issues as Air Reduction, American Brake Shoe and Foundry, Baldwin, Manhattan Electrical Supply and National Lead, all off 4 points or more.

WHEAT FUTURES OFF

The principal commodity markets were reactionary. Wheat futures dropped 3 to nearly 4 cents a bushel in reflection of the bearish interpretation placed upon the government crop report. Cotton also sold down 39 to 47 points on selling inspired by favorable weather. Raw sugar declined 1-32 of a cent a pound, and coffee sagged 3 to 7 points.

Call money held steady at 4 1-2 per cent all day. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges moved irregularly lower. Renewed selling of French francs carried them down several points to around 2 3-4 cents, with sympathetic declines in the Belgian and Italian rates. Demand sterling eased slightly to around $4.85 11-16. Scandinavian exchanges were firm.

Wheat Prices Off at Close; Corn Uu Early

CHICAGO, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Bearish sentiment prevailed in the wheat trade and while the market was about steady at the start, the finish was well toward the bottom with net losses of 2⅝@2¾ cents, with September leading. The latter sold down 4 cents to 1.36 and finished at 1.36⅛@1.36⅜ with December, 1.41⅛@1.41 and May, 1.46⅛@1.46⅛. Corn after selling up 1⅛ cents early to 91⅛ for December, a new high on the crop, reacted 2⅛ cents from the top, and closed ⅛@⅜ cent lower with September 84⅜@84⅜, December 89¼@89 and May, 95⅜@95⅛. Oats were 1@1⅛ cent lower with September, 41⅛ and December 44⅛@44⅜. Rye was off 2⅛@2⅜ cents with September 1.00⅜@1.01, and December, 1.05⅜.

There was nothing in the general run of the news to account for the selling, as the government reports on wheat were construed as moderately bullish. General selling, however, developed immediately after the opening, and there was a lack of aggressive support with numerous stop-loss orders caught on the way down. Buying against bids and short coverings checked the decline.

The Canadian trade was inclined to the belief that the government report of the three provinces was considerably too low, and that market was 2⅛@2½ cents lower at the last. Minneapolis was weak and 3⅛@3⅜ cents lower while Kansas City was off 2⅞@3⅛ cents. Broomhall estimates the world's exportable surplus of wheat at 768,000,000 bushels or only 18,000,000 bushels more than last year, while import needs are 704,000,000 bushels, against 682,000,000 bushels last year.

Failure of importing countries to buy cash wheat in round lots, with sales at the seaboard estimated at 400,000 to 500,000 bushels in all positions tends to increase bearish sentiment, although it was pointed out that the disposition is to run on small stocks abroad, and the weekly clearances indicate that there is a much better demand than is being claimed. Cash wheat here sold as low as $1 for damp grain, and the percentage of contract grades in the daily arrival is much smaller than recently, reflecting the heavy rains when the grain was in the shock.

A bullish construction placed on the government report of corn led to general buying at the start with December and May at a new high on the crop. Profit-taking and the easier tone in wheat caused a reaction, however, and the finish was at the bottom. Some of the best recent buyers were on the selling side during the day, and there was also free buying of September and selling of December to close spreads. Good rains were reported in parts of Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois with the forecast for showers over the greater part of the belt. Shipping demand showed improvement with sales of 210,000 bushels.

Oats showed considerable resistance to selling pressure, the decline being largely in sympathy with wheat. Buying was of a good class and sentiment generally inclined to be bullish due not only to the smaller crops of oats in this country and Canada but also on the storage in barley and hay. Rye was dominated largely by the action of wheat.

Weakness and lower prices for provisions resulted in a tame close at the lowest of the day with net losses on lard of 20@25 cents on the near-by deliveries and 7½ cents on January, while short ribs lost 20@25 and bellies 25@32½.

Hogs were lower with receipts heavier than last week and last year.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Receipts were 650 head yesterday and offerings again carried a wide range in quality, with not only California and Arizona, but Texas, Nevada, Utah and Idaho represented. Monday's [illegible] of Imperial Valleys brought 8.25, with a part load of good steers at 8.20. The market was fully steady to strong on these. In-between grades, however, met a dull trade, sales being on a peddling basis, but with prices during the morning showing little change. One load of smooth grassers brought 7.75, but the bulk of the plain steers ranged from 6.75@7.15, with common kinds 6.25@6.75.

Best of the good grass cows sold steady, two loads bringing 6.00 and 6.15. Medium and common she stock was draggy, several loads of medium cows brought 5.25@5.75, with common kinds 4.00@5.00. Cutters ranged from 2.50@4.00. Few good heifers were offered, bulk being light weight medium grades at 5.50@5.75, with a few up to 6.40. The few bulls on sale sold steady.

CALVES—The calf market was almost demoralized during the morning. Late Wednesday several cars arrived and sold 25@50c lower than the morning market. Yesterday with a narrow demand and about 100 holdovers in addition to 200 head of fresh receipts a very dull trade ruled. A few odd head of good near-by vealers sold around 10.25@10.50, or better, and a deck of light weights at 9.00. Few of the grass calves were sold at a late hour, and bids made for limited numbers were lower.

HOGS—Under a limited but urgent demand as the result of recent light supplies hogs sold 10@20c higher yesterday. Several loads of 160 to 195-pound Colorado and Nebraska hogs brought 15.75@15.85 and a load of good California butchers 15.75. Near-by butchers, 200 to 225-pound averages, sold at 14.75@15.00. Light smooth packing sows brought 13.50@14.00, with 300-pound averages around 12.00.

SHEEP—No sheep or lambs were on sale. The market is quoted steady on a basis of 12.50@14.00 on medium to choice lambs and 5.00@7.00 on ewes.

THE INVESTOR

Byllesby Executive Says Almost a Thousand Muncipally Owned and Operated Utilities Have Been Sold to Private Interests in Last Five Years—Unprofitable Under Old Managements.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—Not so long ago there was considerable pressure in all parts of the country for municipal ownership of public utilities, including gas, power and light, railroad and telephone companies. Investors were undoubtedly disturbed by the charges of mismanagement which were made and in numerous instances turned to other industries for their investment requirements.

In recent months, however, little has been heard from the propagandists on the question of municipal ownership. The reason, according to Halford Erickson, vice-president of the Byllesby Engineering and Management Corporation, is the losses sustained by cities and communities which have taken over the operation of certain public utility enterprises. Mr. Erickson explains the situation as follows:

"Advocates of municipal ownership and operation of public utilities usually attempt to sustain their position by a varied assortment of alleged facts. They say, among other things, that one of the advantages of the municipal ownership system over private ownership and operation of such utilities is that the municipality can obtain all the capital it needs for the purpose at much lower cost or rates than in the case for private companies.

"They argue that this is the case regardless of whether the municipality bonds or pledges all of its taxable property as well as its credit and tax-levying power as security for the loan, or whether only the property and earnings of the utility are so pledged.

"Such arguments are advanced mostly in order to convince property owners, taxpayers and voters generally that it is their best interest to vote for municipal ownership and operation of the utilities; that they are at least running no financial risks in doing so.

"The sentiment in favor of municipal ownership has of late been disturbed by the big operating losses of such plants that have from time to time come to light. These losses have, in fact, become so pronounced that during the last five years nearly one thousand municipally owned and operated utilities have been sold to and taken over by private companies."

Mr. Erickson goes on to say that the cost per unit of producing current is from 30 to more than 50 per cent higher for municipally owned than for privately owned power plants. While for municipal plants, he says, the top rate is, as a rule, lower than for private plants, this difference is more than offset by the fact that for municipal plants the lowest rate for domestic service and the power rates in the schedules are much higher than for privately owned plants, making the average rate a kilowatt hour sold much higher.

According to Mr. Erickson, the service provided by the municipally owned properties is not up to standard, the fluctuations in voltage in some instances being so wide as seriously to interfere with the use of its power. Interruptions in service are much more frequent and of longer duration than is the case with privately owned plants, he contends.

To quote Mr. Erickson once more: "In plants operated by the municipality the motive forces back of the desire of earning profits are largely replaced by motives of a political nature.

"Plants are often badly constructed and poorly maintained. Extensions to the plant are frequently made for other reasons than because they are in line with good business and general public interest. The business or service is seldom fully and uniformly extended and developed. The prices charged for service are, as a rule, discriminatory and are levied without much regard for the cost of the service."

operators in the new West Huntington Beach field yesterday, by taking out a permit to build three derricks in that area, the Petroleum Securities Company being the operating company. The Petroleum Securities will drill two wells on Twenty-first street, between Olive and Orange avenues, and one well on Nineteenth street, between Olive and Orange.

The Petroleum Securities Company is the thirteenth operator to enter the new field, and the three wells run the total number of drill projects in the field up to thirty-three.

Spud Wildcat Well

Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world, is looking for oil on his farm near Burbank, and the test well to determine the existence or nonexistence of petroleum was spudded in a few days ago, and is now down about 300 feet. The well is not far from the project started and stopped by the Half Hill Packing Company, and was originally projected by that company, which has relinquished the enterprise to C. J. Jeffries.

United Plugs Back

The United Oil Company is plugging back in its Barnes No. 1 well in the Los Cerritos district, and will make a test for production in the shallow zone at 4425 feet, according to field reports. The well is located near Weston Place and Thirty-fifth street.

Official Report

Oil-field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. D. Bush during the week ending the 7th inst., show twenty-five new wells started, as compared with twenty-one during the previous week. Of the twenty-five notices to drill filed this week, two were for wells in the Long Beach field, one in the Torrance field, one in the Santa Fe Springs field, eight in the Huntington Beach field, one in the Richfield field, two in Los Angeles county, and seven in the fields of Kern county. The total new wells this year is 754, as compared with 858 at the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered fourteen, as compared with thirty-one during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 870; total to same date last year, 945.

Deepening or redrilling jobs this week numbered twenty-seven, as compared with thirty during the previous week. Total to date this year, 690; total to same date last year, 603.

Abandonments this week numbered nine, as compared with ten during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 292; total to same date last year, 260.

BOND QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Bond prices drifted aimlessly today in one of the dullest trading sessions of the year. Recent indications of stiffer credit conditions placed a damper on buying for both speculative and investment account, although special considerations accounted for a few independent displays of strength.

Foreign obligations held moderately firm, with French issues recovering in response to the adoption of the sinking fund measure sponsored by the new Cabinet. The government's bonds improved fractionally and some of the municipals gained a point or more. Rheinelbe Union 7's crossed 108 to a new high record, leading other German issues to higher ground.

Railroad liens, particularly those of an investment caliber, were subjected to profit-taking despite predictions of large July earnings, and further increases in traffic. Atchison General 4's, Baltimore and Ohio general 5's, Southern Pacific refunding 4's, Ontario and Western refunding 4's, Denver and Rio Grande 5's and Chicago Milwaukee and Puget Sound 4's were heavy. Norfolk Southern refunding 5's continued their extraordinary rise, mounting more than 4 points to a new high price at 90, and Columbus and Hocking Valley 4's were strong.

Reflecting the better tone of the sugar market, Manati 7's and Warner Sugar 7's of 1939, worked moderately higher. Granby Mining 7½s responded to recent improvement in the company's position by scoring a new top price at 114½.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars,) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Heavy selling by professional traders just before the close of today's curb market checked a promising rally, and brought about considerable irregularity in closing quotations. A broadening of public interest was noted in the early upturn, but the buying was of a cautious character.

Oils were sluggish on confirmation of private estimates of a large increase in crude oil production during the past week and the fact that the proposed retirement of Standard Oil of New Jersey preferred stock, involving heavy financing, would have a temporarily depressing influence on the oil group. Net recessions, as a rule, were held to fractions, although Red Bank and Reiter-Foster yielded a point or so.

A sudden revival of speculative interest in the baking group was accompanied by reports of marked improvement in that industry. Continental Baking "A" jumped 4 points to 79, and the "B" advanced 1 1-4. Purity Baking "B" closed more than 2 points higher at 36 7-8, and General Baking "B" improved fractionally. Motors also showed signs of good buying support, Reo jumping 3 points while Durant closed nearly a point higher on another turnover of about 50,000 shares. Central Steel, Metropolitan Chain Stores, Music Master and Todd Shipping all showed substantial gains. Servel was heavy on selling inspired by recent price-cutting on some types of electrical refrigerators.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Oil Machinery Sold for Taxes at $5800 Loss

The Sheriff's office reported yesterday that the mystery of the disappearance of apparatus valued at $6000 from an oil well in the Lomita field had been solved.

The lease of M. Palloy of Portland, Or., had been sublet to an outfit which failed and abandoned the 150-barrel well about eighteen months ago. Palloy decided to resume pumping and sent men to the well. The Sheriff's office was notified the apparatus was gone.

Yesterday Deputy Sheriffs Casey Jones and Purrier reported the machinery had been sold by the county tax collector for $200.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (Exclusive)—As was to have been expected, a highly irregular movement of prices characterized today's trading session on the Stock Exchange. Though it was apparent that the sharp retback yesterday had gone far to remove existing technical weaknesses, sufficient fresh profit taking and speculative selling was encountered during the day to more than offset such new demand as developed. The thinness of the market for many stocks as shown in the previous session was somewhat disconcerting to those bullishly inclined, but strong support was extended throughout the day to the leaders which had to withstand frequent renewal of bear efforts

Plenty of opportunity was afforded for covering in General Motors and others in advance of the meeting of that company's directors after tomorrow's close for dividend action. Here and there special strength was shown in a few individual issues, but on the whole, movements were quite erratic, and the pronounced falling off in activity indicated a widespread disposition to await the outcome of pending developments, primarily the action of the General Motors board.

Erratic Movement

Fairly sharp recovery in the popular industrials early in the session was followed by a renewal of erratic fluctuations later in the day as the bear crowd made a fresh effort to push its recently gained advantage. General Motors at one stage was up some 6 points or so and Steel common almost 2 points, with proportionate gains in specialties that had been severely pounded on Tuesday. A lively contest was staged by opposing forces in stocks that have been the leaders of the advance with the bear crowd working on the theory that if those issues could be forced below the low levels reached yesterday, further liquidation would be forthcoming. Powerful support was met when prices turned downward, however, and further sharp recessions were prevented.

Time Money Bid Raised

Current firmness in demand and time money rates has been effective in turning attention anew to the credit situation as a factor in the speculative securities market. While it is the consensus of opinion among leading bankers that no change is likely in the Federal reserve discount rate in the immediate future, the more or less persistent calling of loans by out-of-town banks has tended to revive interest in the weekly meetings of the local bank's directors. A disposition to await not only tomorrow's meeting of the General Motors board, but likewise the gathering of reserve bank directors at that time, was more noticeable than it had been for several weeks heretofore. Some $15,000,000 additional was withdrawn from the call market this morning and it looked as though the loaning rate would duplicate yesterday's performance. The return of eased the situation and maintained funds withdrawn earlier, however, the call loan rate at 4½ per cent. In time money, however, the bid for sixty and ninety-day loans was lifted to 4 3-4 per cent. Heretofore money has been offered at that figure.

Advising Caution

Though satisfied that the current wave of profit-taking and the expansion of the short account as a result of selling by the reactionist trading element will do the market a great deal of good, the general run of commission houses were admonishing their clients to exercise more than ordinary caution in new commitments for the time being, at least. Feeling seemed to be that the demand which carried some stocks upward quite sharply from the low levels of yesterday's recession during the day represented very largely the covering of lines put out yesterday. Opinion seemed to be that the leaders would not make any marked recovery until after the process of correcting technical irregularities brought about by the recent brisk speculation for the rise had been more thorough.

Smelters Earnings

Metal shares were quiet making little or no response to the appearance of an unofficial estimate, placing profits of the American Smelting and Refining Company at a figure which indicated a balance of about $11.50 a share, earned for the common stock in the first half year. If this estimate is borne out by the actual figures as seems likely the showing would compare with the equivalent of $7.59 a share in the corresponding period last year. The company, it is contended, should make relatively as good a showing in the final half of the year inasmuch as the prices of all its products with the exception of silver are well above the levels prevailing at that time. Copper stocks, which recently enjoyed more than usual interest marketwise, appear to have fallen into the doldrums again despite the strength of the industry's position.

American Sugar Meeting

No effort was made by the bear crowd to capitalize the announcement of the postponement for a week of the meeting of American Sugar directors for action on the quarterly dividend. The announcement furnished little basis for bearish interpretation, however, inasmuch as the decision was based wholly on the inability to get together the necessary quorum, but in their present aggressive mood, speculators for the decline might have been expected to endeavor to place a different interpretation on the development. The meeting, which was to have been conducted today, will take place on the 18th inst., or a week hence. The stock was restored to the dividend list late last year after a lapse of four and one-half years prior to that time.

St. Paul Stock Strength

The strength in stocks of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway turned attention to the likelihood that the net operating income of the road in the July report will again show a substantial increase over July, last year, though not so great a gain as was made in June over June, 1925. While it is still rather early to hazard close figuring on the July figures the trend and character of the month's traffic suggested that gross operating revenues will show no great change from those of July a year ago. Owing to reduction in operating expenses, however, it would not be surprising if the net operating income for July ran $500,000 ahead of the $427,055 in net made in July last year. The June report showed an increase of approximately $630,000 in gross and an increase of close to $1,500,000 in net compared with June, 1925.

GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

RESPECT FOR THE AGED.
A child whose manners are correct
Will always show a great respect
For people who are growing old.
They do it without being told.
But Goops will treat rudely and mockingly
Their Grandpas and their Grandmas shockingly.

The Hysterical Congressman

The famous Peabody Fourth of July letter imploring the American people to forgive Europe all her war debts led Senator Smoot to say at a Provo dinner:

"Hysterical. That hysterical letter reminds me of a Congressman who was wined and dined by some French friends last month at Larue's in Paris.

"The Congressman appreciated the exquisite food, but he appreciated the exquisite wines still more, and at the end of the feast he grabbed up his hat and said:

"'Friends, I'm off to the Chamber of Deputies to find Joe Caillaux and tell him—hic—that France doesn't love America one darn cent.'"—[Exchange.

BELIED HIS NAME

A traveling company had performed in a tent on a wet and cold night. The leading actor, who took the part of Appius Claudius had "died" immediately under a leak in the roof, and had got very wet. As he left the stage he was accosted by a woman intent on congratulating him.

"Are you Appius Claudius?" she gushed.

"No, madam," replied the actor, "I am as miserable as sin."—[Exchange.

CAPTAIN SCRAGGS
by Peter B. Kyne

OUR STORY:

Three Musketeers of the Sea there are; each as strange a character as the other; each subject to the same impulses and emotions; each as stubborn, cranky, impulsive and loyal as the others—meet them:

CAPT. PHINEAS P. SCRAGGS, ratfaced, snaggle-toothed and furtive, master-owner of the steamer "Maggie" and a freighter of vegetables to San Francisco Bay.

ADELBERT P. GIBNEY, a large imposing, capable but socially indifferent person of a somewhat adventurous experience who is cursed with too much brains and imagination and a thirst. He holds a license as chief mate of steam, any ocean or tonnage and is chief mate of the Maggie.

BARTHOLOMEW McGUFFEY is a good engineer gone wrong. He nurses the ancient junk in the Maggie's engineroom with loving care and is a fit mate for the other two.

After running the "Maggie" aground in the Golden Gate and through a ruse persuading Dan Hicks and Jack Flaherty, towboat captains, to pull them off, Scraggs averts punishment at the hands of Hicks and Flaherty by promising McGuffey and Gibney extensive repairs to the "Maggie." When Scraggs fails to come through in a week's time, McGuffey and Gibney, both being in funds, quit. Scraggs gets them drunk that night.

The next morning they awake in a sailors' boarding-house, broke. They visit the Maggie seeking their jobs, but Scraggs will have none of them, and for a week they prowl around the waterfront looking for work without success. Finally they go to Halfmoon Bay in search of the Maggie again—a twenty-mile walk.

Upon Scraggs' return to the Maggie, his new mate and engineer, angered at the loss of salvage money for the Chesapeake's rescue, quit their jobs. McGuffey and Gibney, with money in their pockets, pay a visit to the Maggie and while waiting for Scraggs to appear, watch a little tug kicking the schooner "Tropic Bird" into a nearby pier.

From the Tropic Bird came an odor of copra and pineapple and Mr. Gibney sighed; evidently that South Sea fragrance aroused in him old memories, for presently he spat overboard, watched his spittle float away on the tide, sighed again, and declared, apropos of nothing:

"When I was a young man, Mac, I was a damned fine young man. I had a bunch o' red whiskers an' a pair o' fists like two picnic hams. I was a wonder."

Silently Mr. McGuffey nodded an indorsement of his comrade's indicated horsepower and peculiar masculine beauty in the days of the latter's vanished youth. He continued to prune his hands.

"I was six feet two in my socks, when I wore any, which wasn't often," Mr. Gibney continued "I've shrunk half an inch since them days I weighed a hundred an' ninety-seven pounds in the buff an' my chest bulged like a goose-wing tops'l. In them days, I was an evil man to monkey with. I could have taken two like Scraggsy an' chewed 'em up, spittin' out their bones an' belt buckles. I sure was a wonder."

"You must ha' been with them red whiskers on your face," McGuffey agreed. He refrained from saying more, for instinct told him Mr. Gibney was about to grow reminiscent and spin a yarn, and B. McGuffey had a true seaman's reverence for a goodly tale, whether true, half-true or wholly fanciful.

Mr. Gibney sniffed again the subtle tang of the South Seas drifting over from the Tropic Bird, and when a Kanaka, scantily clad, came on deck, threw a couple of fenders overside and retired to the forecastle singing one of those Hawaiian ballads that are so mournfully sweet and funereal, Mr. Gibney sighed again.

"Gawd!" he murmured. "I've sure made a hash o' my young life."

"What's bitin' you, Gib?" Mr. McGuffey's voice was molten with sympathy.

"I was just thinkin'," replied Mr. Gibney, "just thinkin', Mac. It's the pineapples as does it—the smell of the South Seas. Here I am, big enough and old enough and ugly enough to know better, and yet every time the City of Papeete or the Tropic Bird or the Aorangi come into port and I see the Kanaka boys swabbin' down decks and get a snifter o' that fine smell of the island trade, my innards wilt down like a mess o' cabbage an' I ain't myself no more until after the fifth drink."

"Sorter what th' feller calls vain regrets," suggested McGuffey.

"Vain regrets is the word," mourned Mr. Gibney. "It all comes back to me what I hove away when I was young an' foolish an' didn't know when I was well off. If there'd only been some good-hearted lad to advise me, I wouldn't be a-settin' here on a hemp hawser, a blasted beachcombin' bucko mate and out of a job. No, siree.

"I'd a' still been King Gibney, Mac, with power o' life an' death over 2000 odd blackbirds, an' I'd a' had a beautiful wife an' a dozen kids maybe, with pigs an' chickens an' copra an' shell an' a big bungalow an' money. That's what I chucked away when I was young an' nobody to advise me."

McGuffey made no comment on Mr. Gibney's outburst. There are moments in life when silence is the greatest sympathy one can offer, and intuitively McGuffey felt that he was face to face with a tragedy. When a shipmate's soul lay bare it was not for the McGuffey to inspect it too closely.

"Yes, McGuffey, I was a king once. Some people might try to make out as how I was only a chief, but you take it from me, Mac, I was a king. I was King Gibney, the first, of Aranuka, in the Gilberts, with the seat of government at Nonuti, which is a blackbird-village right under Hakatuea.

"No matter which way you approach, you can't miss it. Hakatuea's a dead volcano, with ashes on top and just enough fire inside to cast a glow against the sky at night. There's a fair anchorage inside the reef, but it takes a good man to land through the surf at high tide in a whaleboat. I used to do it regular.

"Aranuka was a nice place, with plenty of fresh water, and some of the Island schooners, and once in a while a British gunboat would stop there. Gawd, McGuffey, but when I was king, they used to pay dear for their fresh water, except the gunboats, which, of course, came on and helped themselves without askin' no questions of me and parliament—which was both the same thing. I was in Aranuka first in '88 and again in '89, and I was a fool for leavin' it."

"What was you doin' in this here Aranuka?" asked Mr. McGuffey.

"In '88 I was blackbirdin' and in '89 I was—why, what d'ye expect a king does, anyhow? You don't suppose I worked, do you? Because I didn't. I ate and drank and slept and went in swimmin' with the court officers and did a little fishin' an' fightin'; and on moonlight nights I used to sprawl in the grass out on the edge of Hakatuea with my head in my queen's lap, rubberin' up at the Southern Cross and watchin' the rollers breakin' white over the reef.

"And everything'd be as still as death except for that eternal swishin' of the surf on the beach, babblin' of 'Peace Peace! Peace!' an' maybe once in while the royal voice lifted in one of them sad slumber songs of the South Seas—creepy and dirgelike and beautiful.

"My girl could sing circles around a sky lark. I taught her how to sing 'John Brown's Body Lies A-Smolderin' in th' Grave,' though she didn't have no more notion o' what she was singin' than a ring-tailed monkey."

"How d'ye come to pick up with her?" inquired McGuffey politely.

"I didn't come to pick up with her," answered Mr. Gibney. "She took a fancy to them red whiskers o' mine, and picked up with me. She used to stick hibiscus flowers in them red curtains and stand off and admire me by the hour. You can imagine how gay I used to feel with flowers in my whiskers. That was one of the reasons why I left her finally.

"But them was the days! Me an' Bull McGinty was the two finest mer north or south of the Line. We was worth six ordinary white men each, and twenty blacks, and we was respected.

"I first met Bull McGinty in Shanghai Nelson's boarding-house, over in Oregon street, not three blocks from where we're settin' now. I was 20 years old an' holdin' a second mate's ticket, for I'd been battin' around the world on clipper ships since I was fourteen, an' I'd bit my way to the front quicker than most.

"Bull was a big dark man, edgin' up on to the thirty mark. His great grandmother'd been a half-breed Batavian nigger and his father was Irish. Bull himself was nothin', havin' been born at sea, a thousand miles from the nearest land. However, that ain't got nothin' to do with the story. Bull McGinty was skipper an' owner of the schooner Dashin' Wave, 259 tons net register, when I met him in Shanghai Nelson's place. Also he was broke, with the Dashin' Wave lyin' out in the stream off Mission Rock with a Honolulu Chinaman aboard as crew and watchman, while Bull hustled around shore tryin' to raise funds to outfit her for another trip to the Islands.

Another installment of this rollicking tale of the Three Musketeers of the Sea will appear in tomorrow's Times. Watch for it.

SOMEBODY SCORED

"I heard you lent Biggs 5 shillings last night," said Tompkins.

"True," replied Simmons, "but it was only an investment It will come back to me. Biggs owes Dick five shillings, and will hand over my two half-crowns to him. Dick will then pay it to Sam, who lent him that amount last week. Sam will then give it to Joe in settlement of an old bet. Joe owes me the same amount and I shall take care to get it from him directly he receives it from Sam. I always looked on Joe's debt as a bad one, but by this means I shall get my own back.—[Tit-Bits.

Tells How to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots and Have a Beautiful Complexion

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine from any drug or department store and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.—[Advertisement.

Heals All Skin Ills
Zemo Soothes, Heals, Gives Instant Relief

All skin troubles quickly disappear with the use of Zemo. Often a single application heals minor blemishes over night. Zemo is a cleansing antiseptic liquid that penetrates below the surface and quickly stops itching, burning, chafing and all skin sores or eruptions. It does not show and is ideal for daylight use. For overnight application use Zemo ointment, which has the same healing and soothing properties.

As a preventive of skin troubles use Zemo soap, antiseptic, fragrant; will keep your skin white and cool. Every good druggist can supply Zemo, 60c and $1.00.—[Advertisement.

STEELE LOSES IN RECALL VOTE

Santa Monica Commissioner Defeated by Michel

Ex-Officio Mayor Accused of Blocking Progress

More Than Half Registered Population Ballots

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

Returns from forty-six out of forty-eight precincts at a late hour tonight gave 3331 votes for Michel, and 2141 votes for Steele. City Clerk [illegible] A. Helton announced that the returns from the two remaining precincts which will be counted tomorrow, cannot change the result.

The recall against Steele was launched shortly after the Clover Field bond election. Those who launched the campaign against Steele and worked for his recall declared that he resisted every proposal for the future growth and development of the city, and hindered its progress. Fred S. Wilson, president of the Santa Monica Bay District Realty Board, headed the forces fighting Steele.

An organization known as the Committee Against Abuse of the Recall got into the fight on the ground that the recall against a public officer should not be invoked merely on the ground of difference of opinion as to policies such official might be pursuing, but that the recall should be reserved to remedy gross abuse of office and kindred offenses.

Today's election was remarkably quiet for a recall election. There was no disturbance of any kind at the polls. Crowds congregated on the streets to hear the returns. A little more than half the city's 12,000 registered voters cast ballots in today's election.

When he was informed that he had won, Mr. Michel, who is a banker, said he would do his best to give Santa Monica the most progressive administration it ever has had.

Mr. Steele, in commenting on his recall, said:

"The people have spoken, and whatever they say is satisfactory to me. I always have abided by the will of the majority."

Mother Riding in Plane Sees Child on Train

Demonstration of comparative speeds of aerial and ground travel was given yesterday by Mrs. James G. Woolley, wife of the traffic manager of Western Air Express, Inc., operating daily air-mail and passenger service between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Woolley planned for a vacation visit with relatives in Salt Lake City. Her sister, also, was traveling east. The latter accepted custody of the former's daughter, 4 years of age, for the trip.

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Woolley put her little girl aboard the Union Pacific train here. Yesterday morning she took passage in one of the regular mail planes piloted by Capt. [illegible] Graham. Shortly after noon the airplane overtook the train on the Escalante desert and, flying low, Capt. Graham gave mother and daughter a glimpse of each other as the winged ship raced past. An hour later Mrs. Woolley reached Salt Lake and last night she was at the depot there to take her daughter from the train.

BAR NAMES CANDIDATES FOR BENCH

Committee Will Work for Success of Those Given Association's Indorsement

The Los Angeles Bar Association yesterday announced its indorsement of candidates for the Superior Court in the primaries of the 31st inst. Those who received the indorsement for the long term are Charles S. Burnell, Charles S. Crail, Walter S. Gates, Harry A. Hollzer, P. E. Keeler, Sidney N. Reeve, Ruben S. Schmidt, Albert Lee Stephens, F. C. Valentine and Myron Westover.

For the unexpired term of Judge York William Hazlett was indorsed; Edward T. Bishop was indorsed for the unexpired term of Judge L. H. Valentine, while no recommendation was made for the unexpired term of former Judge J. P. Wood.

Seven of the ten indorsed for the long term were voted upon and indorsed in the bar association's plebiscite of last May. They were Stephens, Hollzer, Gates, Reeve, Valentine, Crail and Burnell. All are incumbents. Judge Keeler and Schmidt and Westover were indorsed in a plebiscite conducted July 30, last.

Announcement was made that the bar association will organize committees and conduct a campaign to insure the success of the men named by them for the judicial positions. It was the stated intention of the association to work actively in the field for the election of the twelve men winning the plebiscites.

Ballistics Expert to Give Exhibit at Session Here

Judge C. E. Waite, head of the bureau of forensic ballistics of New York City, originator of the system of "finger printing" bullets in criminal investigation, will arrive in Los Angeles Monday, according to Capt. C. E. Crossman, ballistics expert and director of the National Rifle Association.

Judge Waite will assist Capt. Crossman in putting on a firearms identification exhibit at the convention of the International Association for Identification, which opens at the Alexandria Monday. Methods of connecting bullets with the weapon used through grooves and markings on the projectiles will be shown.

PLUMMER HEADS DRY DRIVE

Police Captain to Direct Force of City and Federal Agents Against Distillers

Following a conference in Chief of Police Davis's office yesterday which was attended by Col. Robert E. Frith and representatives of the W.C.T.U., the Women's Law Enforcement Committee and the Anti-Saloon League, it was announced that Capt. Clyde I. Plummer will at once be placed in command of an emergency squad of Federal and local police officers created to check the distillation of bootleg liquor in Los Angeles.

Capt. Plummer, heretofore commander of the Hollenbeck Heights police division, will have full charge of the new squad; will establish headquarters in the Federal Building and will be provided with government automobiles. All expenses will be shared by the municipal and Federal governments.

Although Col. Frith had no statement to make regarding the rather unusual procedure of a police officer being placed in charge of Federal prohibition agents, it is understood the action is really the indirect carrying out of one of his earlier wishes. Three months ago he offered the post of assistant prohibition administrator in charge of enforcement to Capt. Plummer, but the latter refused it on the ground that he has [illegible] years of service on the police force before being eligible to a pension. The present move is seen as a step toward the later appointment of Plummer as a Federal officer.

AFTER DISTILLERS

Chief Davis in the presence of the men and women attending the conference told Capt. Plummer that his first duty will be to strike at the sources of the Los Angeles liquor supply. He instructed him to ignore the two-bit bootleggers and not to "waste time" raiding roadhouses and cafes, but to "get" the big distillers.

"This meeting was called for the purpose of completing the plans

DEPOT DECISION AWAITS BRIEFS

Carriers' Ninety-Day Request Reduced on Objection

Commission Engineer Again Urges Plaza Location

Commission Ruling Held Up Until After November 1

Submission of the union passenger station case to the State Railroad Commission for a decision will not come before November 1 under an arrangement made by the commission yesterday in order to give railroads plenty of time in which to brief their case of opposition to the project.

Frank Karr, chief counsel for the carriers, requested sixty days in which to prepare briefs and thirty days after that in which to prepare replies. Both City Attorney Stephen and the city's special counsel, Max Thelen, objected to ninety days as too long a period and suggested thirty days. Compromise was effected on October 1 for first briefs and November 1 for replies.

The commission decided for the time that oral arguments will not be heard unless subsequent developments cause carriers particularly to urge that the case be argued orally. Decision of the commission in the case was made unlikely until sixty days or so after final submission of the case by the action yesterday.

PLAZA DEPOT REINDORSED

The unqualified indorsement of a union station in the Plaza area as a solution to the passenger and grade-crossing situations by A. G. Mott, the commission's transportation engineer, was the feature of the closing of the hearing.

This expert testified that nowhere in the city does there exist such an opportunity for union station development as in the Plaza area and he said railroad engineers are fully capable of developing a station and layout for the area that would come far within reason as to cost and practicability. He said other sites in the area, besides the Hill-plan site, are available and that the Hill plan was offered by commission experts merely as a sample of what could be done. Mott especially commended the Cook and Hall proposal to locate the station at Broadway and Sunset Boulevard.

"The cost of placing a union station in the Plaza area," Mott testified, will be substantially less than the cost of carrying out the plan that the carriers are advocating for the improvement and maintenance of separate stations on their present locations. The cost of a union station in this area would be less either as to new money required, as to total investment and as to operation thereafter."

The expert especially warned against the soft-toned carrier proposal of going ahead now with the separate stations proposal and then in ten or twenty years creating a union station after the city has developed a rapid-transit system. He said:

"If Los Angeles is ever to get the union station it could be got now better than then and if the city does not get it now the city probably never will get a union station."

"Certainly," he said, "a city of the kind and the size of Los Angeles is entitled to some consideration when it wishes a union station to harmonize with its civic plans."

REASONS ADVANCED

Mott, however, reasoned for the Plaza union station principally on an engineering, economic and scientific basis. He declared such a station is superior to the carriers' proposal on the bases of site adequacy, accessibility, convenience, flexibility of railroad operation, cost, construction facilities train interference and other bases. He gave detailed reasons in support of each of the bases.

"I don't believe the carriers' plan offers a sound solution to the terminal problem," Mott testified. He said also that the Pacific Electric Railway part in the situation of the problem by the carriers' plan involves Pacific Electric line changes that will meet only temporary conditions and actually delay the permanent and broader solution that eventually must come.

"A solution of the whole problem can be reached for $10,000,000," Mott said in closing. Thelen added that the Interstate Commerce Commission has found that expenditure of $10,000,000 by the carriers for the purpose would work no financial impairment on them.

Sale of Tickets to Pageant of Churches Opens

Sale of tickets to the musical pageant, "Down in Alabam'," to be presented under the auspices of the Federated Church Brotherhoods of California at the Shrine Civic auditorium the 27th inst. opened yesterday at the George J. Birkel Music Company, 446 South Broadway.

Schenck Announces Plans for Circuit of Theaters to Cost $1,000,000 Each

Definite announcement was made in Chicago yesterday by Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the United Artists Corporation, that that city will have the first of a string of theaters costing $1,000,000 each to be built in twenty-two principal cities of the country in a $20,000,000 project in which Schenck, Sid Grauman and the Shuberts are associated.

Plans of the project were made public about three months ago by Grauman, when he stated that the deal was under way and that Los Angeles will be the distributing and production point for the entertainment for the theaters.

Schenck outlined his plans in Chicago yesterday where he went from Hollywood for a conference with William Phillips, New York banker, and I. C. Freud, Detroit real estate dealer. They discussed possible sites for the new theater on which construction will start next summer.

Mr. Schenck in outlining his plans said theaters of the same type will be constructed in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Detroit and other cities for advance releases of the most pretentious pictures in expensive settings. Sid Grauman, Los Angeles moving picture magnate, will direct presentations. He will embody the same ideas in the new chain that are employed in his Los Angeles theaters. The control of the chain will be direct from this city.

The company was incorporated three months ago for $20,000,000 by Seligman & Co., Wall street bankers. bankers.

Agent Who Took Bootlegger's "Dirty Money" Writes Warning From Prison Cell

Warning to dry agents to beware of offers of money from bootleggers was contained in a letter from James L. McDonald, recently convicted of bribery and serving a term in San Quentin, and read yesterday by George Contreras, chief county dry agent, to the men of his force. The letter, addressed to the dry agents, was received by Contreras yesterday. After reading it to his men, Contreras pasted it on the wall. The letter follows:

"Fellows, I know the dough looks easy; you, maybe, as well as I did, may have bills coming due that you must pay, and the paycheck won't cover it all. You knock over a 'legger' who's got plenty of 'jack,' who offers you something to forget it.

"Then you think, 'I will need that dough to pay the grocery bill, to pay for that suit, to make this month's payment on the car; it will put me on my feet, what's the difference? No one will ever know.'

"Listen, fellows—this comes from the heart out, because I know most of you, I have worked with you, and know that you are married, have homes, and loved ones there. And tonight, while I am behind San Quentin's prison walls, you are each of you going your different ways to your homes, and to those who are waiting for you, trusting you, believing in you—can all the damned dirty money any bootlegger ever made pay you for that privilege?

"God, as I stand here in my cell, listening to the hushed voices around me in this big cell house, there isn't anything I would not give to have the same clear conscience and the same privilege.

"Think of where I am, what I lost, before you make the mistake I made. I hope you will take this in the spirit in which it is meant, and I sincerely hope it may help some other poor devil if temptation comes his way."

Funeral Today for Woman Here on Her Vacation

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Mrs. Henry Ragon Dunavan of Evansville, Ind., at the home of her cousin, John Graham Wartmann, 268 South Wilton Place.

Mrs. Dunavan had been in Los Angeles since March on a vacation. Two weeks ago she was taken ill and removed to the Glendale Sanatorium, where she died Tuesday morning.

Her relatives came to this country from France with the Huguenots in the sixteenth century. She was prominent in social affairs of Evansville. She was 48 years of age and a widow. Her body will be accompanied to Evansville by her cousins, Miss Sarah DeBruler Wartmann and John Graham Wartmann of this city, with whom she was stopping. Burial will be in Evansville. Funeral arrangements here are in charge of Pierce Brothers.

PASADENA ANTS PERIL BUILDINGS

Structures Said to be in Danger of Collapse

Inspection Finds Supports Eaten Away

Situation Declared Grave and Widespread

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 11.—Convinced that a ghost army of white ants has created an "extremely dangerous" situation in the buildings of the city which have wood in their construction, Chief Building Inspector Walter Putnam announced today that he plans an exhaustive survey of all wooden structures in Pasadena to determine the exact extent to which they have been undermined.

Discovery of the "ant menace" in Pasadena was made last week when it was found that a large number of municipal records had been literally devoured by the insects in the basement of the City Hall. Further investigation into woodwork of buildings under repair or being moved has revealed astounding conditions, Putnam reports.

Of twenty-five varying types of structures examined within the last day or two, twenty-four show evidences of inroads by the ant hordes, according to Putnam. In one instance, 2000 feet of roof over a public garage would have collapsed with-

MAY REOPEN CARMEL QUIZ

Jury Also Likely to "Ask Keyes" for Report; Two New McPherson Witnesses Found

Following the discovery of two new witnesses to events at Carmel-by-the-Sea where the mysterious "Mrs. George McIntire" spent ten days at a bungalow overlooking the sea with Kenneth G. Ormiston, formerly radio operator at Angelus Temple, a movement is under consideration for the grand jury to reopen this phase of the case by bringing witnesses to Los Angeles from that place who said pictures of Aimee Semple McPherson bore a marked resemblance to the radio expert's woman companion, it was learned yesterday.

Interest in the case will again center on the grand jury when that body meets today to determine whether it will be necessary to send Superior Judge Keetch, its presiding officer, a complete report of the jury's action on Tuesday in reaching a "satisfactory settlement" of the scandal which followed the destruction of valuable documentary evidence pertaining to the case. One member of the jury was suspected and accused of destroying two grocery slips bearing handwriting of "Mrs. McIntire," but this person entered a complete denial.

PLAN TO CALL KEYES

In line with the movement to reopen the Carmel phase, plans are being laid by the grand jury to summon Dist.-Atty. Keyes to determine what action he is taking, if any, in pursuing a secret investigation into Mrs. McPherson's strange disappearance. Such an investigation was ordered by the jury several days ago after it heard the evidence found in Carmel by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ryan.

The plan to call Mr. Keyes for a report as to the progress of the secret investigation comes as the result of many conflicting reports in circulation at the Hall of Justice concerning his attitude toward the McPherson case. Some of the jurors want an explanation, it is said, of a newspaper quotation attributed to the District Attorney several days ago in which he said the case was "a closed incident" as far as his office is concerned.

It is expected an effort will be made to locate Mr. Keyes today for a report. If this action is not taken today his appearance will be requested early next week when the move to bring the Carmel witnesses here under grand jury subpoena is expected to be taken.

DEFINITE ACTION SOON

Definite action will be taken either today or early next week by the jurors interested to swing over sufficient votes to re-open the Carmel inquiry. These witnesses had been subpoenaed by Mr. Keyes to appear before the grand jury several days ago but the District Attorney suddenly and without explanation stopped service on the subpoenas.

Later he announced the Carmel evidence had "completely fallen down under closer scrutiny" and that there was no reason to bring these witnesses here unless something more definite developed due to the expense involved.

The two new witnesses are a Santa Barbara millionaire and his wife, who were visitors at Carmel on May 25, last. On that day, according to advices from Santa Barbara last night, these witnesses saw "Mrs. McIntire" walking down Scenice Drive in Carmel near the bungalow occupied by Ormiston and "Miss X."

They made a special trip to Los Angeles to go to Angelus Temple last Sunday where they saw Mrs. McPherson in the pulpit. The man says the woman they saw in Carmel closely resembles the evengeleist, while his wife asserts "there is a very strong resemblance."

HAD GOOD LUCK

According to their stories, they drove down the main street in Carmel and turned their machine around at Scenic Drive. As they went to turn around they saw a woman with a black hat walking down the shady lane. She stopped, the witness said, when she saw them and they were able to get a good look at her.

The story of these witnesses is substantiated in part by the testimony of Mrs. Jeannette Parkes, who resides next door to the bungalow occupied by "Mr. and Mrs. McIntire." Mrs. Parks asserted that several days after the arrival of the couple in Carmel she saw the woman leave the cottage one afternoon to take a walk along Scenic Drive.

May 25 was the date upon which Ormiston went to San Francisco to change the license number plates on his blue Chrysel coupe. He went to San Francisco to get a California license in the place of his Washington license.

Disappearance of McPherson case evidence was followed by resensational scandals in recent grand jury history and was followed by reports yesterday the juror under fire intended to tender a resignation to Judge Keetch. The juror, it was reported, had contemplated resigning before the incident occurred. Judge Keetch said he had not received any

THERE seems to be a painful lot of "lid clamping" going on in this county.

Felonies of the gravest nature flit down dark alleys and disappear; evidence vanishes; attackers of girls somehow waft out of jail without any very clear reason why.

SMALL-BORES

Two or three facts seem to stand out in glaring manner:

That the grand-jury system is archaic and useless. Under this system grand juries do a lot of fussing around and seldom really accomplish anything. It is not the fault of the grand jurors, but of the system that creates them.

That California's freak laws—parole, indeterminate sentences, direct primaries, etc.—are wrecking the strength and dignity of the courts.

That our present political system favors the selection of men of the mental capacity of peanut venders for jobs of overwhelming importance.

INSULTING UNCLE SAM

The nasty letter of Georges Clemenceau to the President of the United States is an echo of universal experience.

It was too much to expect of France that she should be grateful. Because . . .

The older I grow the more firmly do I become convinced that the human soul is incapable of gratitude.

THE COURAGE TO BE KIND

There is nothing in human experience that requires more steadfast courage than to keep on being kind.

In the nature of things, I have been in a position to do many favors for many people. The reward almost always has been ingratitude.

In fact, I have learned when holding out a helping hand always to get the other one ready to fend off a blow. It invariably follows. Sometimes it seems that it is brutally selfish people who get the most return for their efforts.

THE CHINESE IDEA

After all, the Chinese, in their philosophy, have the right idea. Do the right thing simply because it is the right thing; not with the idea of any reward—even reward to the extent of decent consideration.

But, brethren, it takes a lot of courage and devotion of spirit to do this and not become embittered.

THE SNAKE DANCES

The Hopi snake dances, set for the 21st inst., bring up again an ancient controversy.

What do the Indians do to prevent death by snake bite? No one seems to know very definitely.

I know two men who have been very close to the tribe. One says that the Indians have a secret antidote—a weed whose identity they have never revealed. It is very scarce, and they know the white people would grab all of it overnight.

On the other hand, my other friend says that the Indians depend wholly upon the protective power of thought.

"Why," the Hopis ask him, "should the rattlesnake bite us? He knows that we are his brothers and have love for him in our hearts. Why should he bite us?"

POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION OF STRANGLER SUSPECT MADE

San Fernando Man Inspects Brown Through Keyhole at Station; Prisoner Taken North

Phillip H. Brown, held as the confessed strangler of a dozen women along the Pacific Coast, last night was positively identified at San Fernando as the man who attacked and killed Mrs. Ollie B. Russell in her rooming-house at Santa Barbara on June 24, according to Sergt. Wilson and Officer Rich of the San Fernando division. The identification was made by William J. Franey of 2206 Manitou street, Los Angeles, employed as a fireman at the Southern Pacific roundhouse.

The identification was made through a keyhole. Franey had related he had peered through a keyhole at the time of the attack on Mrs. Russell. Last night it was arranged for Franey to look at Brown through a keyhole at the San Fernando Police Station. His identification was most positive, Sergeant Wilson and Officer Rich reported. During the stay in San Fernando Brown did not speak a word, it was said.

From San Fernando, Brown, whose real name is said to be Paul Cameron, was taken to Santa Barbara, where it is believed a formal charge of the murder of Mrs. Russell will be placed against him. No statement as to whether the evidence is regarded as sufficient was made by Santa Barbara authorities during their brief stay here yesterday.

UNAWARE OF CHARGE

Brown arrived here from San Bernardino at 5 p.m. yesterday, accompanied by Chief of Police Lester Desgrandchamp of Santa Barbara; Dist.-Atty. Clarence Ward of Santa Barbara county, and George W. Russell, husband of the murdered woman.

According to Ward, Brown has been unaware that he is facing a murder charge. He apparently believes he is involved in a statutory case, the official said.

Brown was first taken to the Wilde Hat Store, 760 South Main street. A felt hat was found in Mrs. Russell's room. In his asserted confession at San Bernardino, Brown admitted having left his hat in the room because it was blood-spattered. He stated he had purchased the hat in Los Angeles and laughingly said "he hated to lose that hat."

H. T. Wilde, proprietor of the hat store, could not definitely remember Brown as a customer. He finally said he had a faint recollection of a man similar in appearance but somewhat heavier who had been in his place about eighteen months ago.

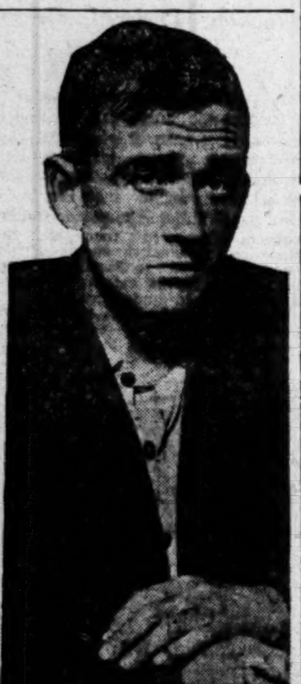
REAL NAME CAMERON

Brown's real name is said to be Paul Cameron and he is about 28 years of age. San Bernardino officers said yesterday they had confirmed the report he had been in Patton under that name and had escaped in September, 1916. According to dispatch from San Diego, Brown left National City about two weeks ago after visiting his uncle, Archie Duncan, theater proprietor.

Duncan, expressing surprise at Brown's plight, said his real name is Cameron and that he had been in trouble with the authorities on several occasions in recent years and had caused his family considerable embarrassment.

"He just drifts around the country," he said.

Court records here show that Paul Cameron was arrested April 9, 1915, charged with lunacy. An affidavit by Leo W. Marsden asserted delusions of persecution, that Cameron thought he was heir to the famous De Baker estate and that his people were trying to make away with him so he would not get the property.



Phillip M. Brown

The report of medical examiners said he had been in Los Angeles county three years, coming from Tacoma, Wash. He was said to be suffering from convulsions followed by violence and was epileptic. His relatives at that time were listed as Mrs. Susan Cameron, mother, 328 West Seventeenth street; Hazel Pitts, sister, Serena Apartments, 150 West Fourteenth street, and Guy Cameron, brother, living with mother.

When Brown was questioned here yesterday he admitted having been in a fight "with my sister, Mrs. Pitts," before he was committed to the State Hospital.

In Judge Reeve's court on July 15, 1915, the record continues, Cameron's mental condition was found to be such as to endanger his health and person and he was ordered to Patton. There is no record here of his escape.

MENTALITY FADES

Officials who questioned Brown at San Bernardino said disease and narcotics had reduced his mentality almost to the vanishing point. The haze over his memory left them uncertain regarding many of the murder mysteries about which he has been questioned. With regard to the Russell murder, however, they said he gave definite particulars.

In Santa Barbara, he said, he called at Mrs. Russell's rooming-house and asked to rent a room. She led the way to a room and Brown said he forced her into it, there choking her to death. She "put up a good fight" and Brown choked her until she quit struggling and then tied a cord about her neck.

Later Brown attempted to throw up a defense by evading direct questions, answering: "I don't remember." He retracted his statement he had attacked twelve women "in cities along the Coast."

From his earlier statements it appeared he left San Pedro on June 1 by boat, going to San Francisco. In the north he registered as P. H. Brown at the Peterson rooming-house in Embarcadero street. The ship continued on to Seattle, Brown said, but explained he left the boat at San Francisco and later in the month returning to Southern California by automobile.

EXPECT DISCLOSURES

The attack on the woman in San Francisco occurred in a hotel on Dolores street, "about ten blocks from a place called Thousand Oaks," the strangler suspect said. He then left San Francisco and on his way to the south stopped at Santa Barbara.

This attack was the strangulation of Miss St. Mary. Officers who questioned him at San Bernardino believe Brown eventually will confess the slaying of Mrs. Clara M. Newman at San Francisco on February 20 and Miss Laura J. Beale in San Jose on March 20, middle-aged rooming-house keepers.

Brown was next taken to the Salvation Army Hotel on Weller street, where he was recognized as the man who worked there as a roustabout from June 24 to July 7. Nothing unusual about his conduct was noticed there, the officers were told.

When Brown was confronted here by a battery of cameras, he seemed to get considerable amusement from the proceedings. He posed willingly and laughed when the flashlights went off.

He said he had been in a lot of fights and was always in trouble. He had been sent to the State Hospital at San Bernardino for drinking and fighting. Some of his fights were with women, he said.

"Did you ever beat up a woman at Fifteenth and Grand?" he was asked.

"Yes, back in 1916," he said. "I was in a fight with my sister, Mrs. Pitts, but I didn't hurt her any. There were two other men and two other women along and we were all drunk. That was why I was arrested and sent to the State Hospital."

Asked whether he had attacked women in San Jose, Santa Barbara and San Francisco, he said he had never been in San Jose. He ignored the rest of the question. During parts of the brief interview, he mumbled and rambled.

For the most part, he appeared to have a tendency to say what his questioner wished. He responded, as a rule, to leading questions by following the apparent lead. He was shabbily dressed and wore a black felt hat far back on the head. His body is thin and stooped, his fingers long, and double-jointed.

CRIME DETAILS RELATED

At San Bernardino yesterday Chief of Police Desgrandchamps and Dist.-Atty. Ward both declared that Brown undoubtedly is the murderer of Mrs. Russell. They questioned him at length in the San Bernardino jail yesterday and Brown, they stated, calmly recited the revolting incidents which culminated in the woman's death. The strangler, they declared, undoubtedly is insane, but his story of wholesale death fits so accurately that there can be no question of his responsibility for some of the crimes which he has willingly confessed.

In the meantime, police of the Coast were seeking to connect Brown with many other cases in which women were strangled to death after being attacked. As far north as Seattle and south to Phoenix, records of past crimes in which women were victims under circumstances similar to those which brought death to Mrs. Russell were under investigation again by authorities in the belief that Brown's confession may serve to clear them up.

In his confession, Brown, in rambling fashion, named himself as the attacker and slayer of a dozen middle-aged women. To Sheriff Shay of San Bernardino county, who brought him here from Needles yesterday, he declared that he had attacked two women in San Francisco, one in Oakland, one in San Jose, one in Oakland, one in San Jose, one in Santa Barbara and several others in the vicinity of Los Angeles. Closely questioned as to dates and circumstances of the various stranglings, Brown apparently became befuddled and contradicted himself repeatedly.

At the conclusion of two hours' questioning by Santa Barbara and San Bernardino peace officers, Brown left Sheriff Shay's office, smiling wanly. To newspaper men he said:

"I did not confess anything. They accused me of a lot of things and told me I did this and that, so I just said it was true."

But Sheriff Shay declared that he was absolutely convinced that Brown is the "dark strangler" who created a veritable reign of terror all up and down the Coast last spring, and who choked Mrs. Russell to death.

In his original statement at Needles, where he had been picked up as a vagrant, Brown confessed to strangling Mrs. Clara Newman of San Francisco last February, Mrs. Laura J. Beals of San Jose on March 2, and Miss Lillian St. Mary of San Francisco on June 10. In each case the method followed was the same. The strangler would apply to a rooming-house landlady for a room. He would be shown an empty room. There he would attack and strangle the landlady and then disappear.

Seattle police also are vitally interested in the case in connection with the strangling of Sylvia Gaines, Seattle nurse and Smith College graduate. Wallace C. Gaines, the girl's father, is now on trial for the murder, but police believe that Brown's confession may liberate him and disclose the real slayer. Evidence already in the hands of Seattle authorities indicates that Brown's description tallies with that of the slayer of Miss Gaines to a much greater degree than that of her father.

CLUB WILL FETE BACKERS

Promoters of the forthcoming Industrial Exposition will be guests this morning of the Breakfast Club, including President Bent and Secretary Arnoll of the Chamber of Commerce, Seward C. Simons, manager of the exposition; A. A. Normandin, S. J. King, W. W. Storey, P. J. Swearingen, William Lacy and Fred Czerniski. Plans of the exposition will be talked over. Bruce Barton also will be a guest. There will be music by the K.N.X. Rounders and by Zez Confrey's band, and Confrey as a piano soloist. The latter numbers are provided by the courtesy of Fred H. Solomon.

BEACH CLUB FINANCIAL SIFT ASKED

Casa Del Mar Members in Concerted Move to Have Investigation

Steps looking toward legal investigation into the organization of the corporation and the financing of the building of the Club Casa Del Mar, exclusive beach club at Santa Monica, were taken last night when more than 300 members of the club voted as the Casa Del Mar Protective Association to employ competent counsel to conduct a preliminary investigation into the affairs of the club and advise the association as the feasibility of litigation. The meeting, which was conducted in the ballroom of the Bryson Apartments, also pledged more than $1000 toward counsel fees for the investigation.

The association, it was brought out at the meeting, charges that the officers of the club, of which Dr. H. Clifford Loos is president, were not properly elected and that the club is being administered, together with its finances, by men appointed by Harter and Harter, the holding company which financed the building of the club. It was further charged that the holding company is using the interest from more than $830,000. obtained by the sale of memberships, when this money should be used for the club and would be sufficient to pay the club rental of $50,000 a year.

It was indicated that the association seeks to obtain control of the club and its administration, and to elect officers from the membership and by vote of the members. The association also seeks to determine who owns the land on which the club was built and to obtain a complete audit of the club's books.

The meeting was presided over by Willedd Andrews, a local attorney, and Fred Le Blond, vice-president of the Liberty National Bank of Beverly Hills, was named treasurer for the association committee.

Dr. Loos last night said the club is making excellent progress and is in good financial condition. He declared that the officers were legally elected by the outgoing board prior to the opening of the club in April, and that the books of the organization are always open to inspection. Charges made at the meeting last night that the memberships in the club were sold as low as $100 each were denied by Dr. Loos.

The Club Casa Del Mar was organized in June, 1924, and was opened last April. It has a membership of approximately 3300 persons and boasts a club building representing an investment of $1,750,000.

in a few months if the work of the ants had not been discovered, the Building Inspector said today.

SITUATION SERIOUS

His announcement today reveals that the situation is far more serious than at first believed. The ants will destroy an entire wooden structure if given sufficient time a fact which threatens every wooden building in Pasadena, with ultimate collapse if the insect invasion is not checked, he said.

In one home in the city, the building department discovered that an oak floor had been so eaten away that it had to be renewed three times within the last few years. In another house, the insects had eaten away all lath and studding for a six-foot area, so that only the plaster held up that side of the house. In another house, joists were so undermined by the ants that a piano fell through the floor. In another, a couch fell through the floor a few weeks ago.

"A thorough survey of actual conditions throughout the city is our first step in combating the problem," said Putnam, "for with our present information, we cannot tell at what moment the first building may collapse."

PEST WIDESPREAD

As soon as possible, he plans to call a meeting of numerous municipal building inspectors of Southern California, for present information leads to the belief that while the ant invasion was first discovered to be a serious problem here, it is fairly widespread over the Southland.

The city chemist of Los Angeles has been working on the problem for years in the effort to protect powerline and telegraph poles, Putnam says, and the insects are known to be at work in San Diego, Santa Ana and other widely divergent points.

The insects are technically called termites, but generally known as white ants The Federal government has been devoting attention to the problem of their extermination in the Philippines, Hawaii and the Panama Canal Zone for many years, and more recently in New Orleans. The termites are tropical insects, and their earliest known advent in Southern California was about 1912 This is the first time, however, that their inroads have been regarded as a serious menace.

They will devour every kind of wood except teakwood, the hardest type known, and always work in the dark. When they attack the outer surface of a frame dwelling, they first build a sand tunnel, under which they dig, which provides one means for their detection. A concrete foundation is a deterrent, but not absolute protection. A large colony can eat through a heavy foundation timber in a surprisingly short period of months. No permanent preventive measure has so far been discovered by the local building chief.

Identified

A menagerie had been visiting Aberdeen, and on the day after leaving the city one of the gorillas died. Instead of burying it they threw it over a dyke by the roadside. Later on in the day two Aberdonians passed. They noticed the gorilla.

"An' what'll it be, think ye?" asked one.

The other examined the corpse. "It's ower big for a MacPherson; it canna be a Gordon for it has nae kilt; judgin' by its een I'm thinkin' its ana o' thae American veesitors."—[Tit-Bits.

made to eliminate the importation of liquor, the importation of gunmen and hijackers and the distillation of poisonous or illicit liquor in Los Angeles," Davis later stated. "We aim to co-ordinate the efforts of Federal prohibition authorities and the police so that they may be wholly effective, or as effective as is possible.

"Capts. Finlinson and O'Brien have details of men working and a special prosecutor will be appointed so that all cases that can be prosecuted under the Volstead Act for conspiracy will be placed before special prosecutors to be brought before Raymond I. Turney, municipal judge.

"There is now under command of Capt. Plummer an additional detail of men to work with Col. Frith against the distillers of poisonous liquor and the bootleggers of poisonous liquor in this city."

In addition to Col. Frith and Chief Davis the conference yesterday was attended by Mrs. Ada B. Cummings, representing Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president of the W.C.T.U.; Mrs. John C. Urquhardt, president of the Women's Law Enforcement Committee, and Rev. S. T. Montgomery, local head of the Anti-Saloon League.

Chief Davis characterized the action as "the most drastic step taken by an American city to check the liquor evil," and declared that he is convinced the new squad will "produce startling results."

JAMES FOX TO FACE GRAND JURY TODAY

Gunmen and gangsters, or such as can be found, will have their chance to display their firearms today before the county grand jury, which will take up consideration of the case of James S. Fox, admitted bootlegger, being held for the murder last week of Harry Schwartz, member of a rival gang.

Fox already has been accused in a complaint, but the matter, it was decided by the District Attorney, should be taken before the grand jury to expedite justice and to investigate further into the activities of gangs of bootleggers and gunmen.

Two others, members of a gang opposed to Tony Cornero's gang, of which Fox was a member, have been already accused of the murder of Harry Moran, killed in the same fight in front of the St. Regis Hotel. Moran was a member of Cornero's gang.

A Coroner's jury exonerated Fox on the ground of self-defense, but the District Attorney filed a complaint for murder and Municipal Judge Scott refused Fox his liberty on bail and set his hearing for the 23rd inst.

MOSTLY BELOW PAR
The average man is sure that too much is expected of him. And when he delivers he finds this judgment was right.

PERSISTENT EFFORT
Far more of us succeed in making fools of ourselves than in making wise men of ourselves. But, then, look how much harder we try.

MUST THINK QUICKLY
An eastern physician believes that thinking will prolong life. Perhaps he means one should be able to think quickly when in the midst of traffic.

JAZZ FOR COWS
A Minnesota farmer put a radio in his dairy barns and says the output of his cows increased 20 per cent. He must be getting the cream of the program.

SUNBURN
Vacation time is one continuous season of peeling off. First of all he has to peel off greenbacks and for two weeks after he gets back to the office he peels off skin.

BITTER PILLS
Most of us are so constituted that life's bitterest pills would seem a lot more palatable to us if they were prescribed by prominent specialists who charged us stiff fees for making us take them.

GOOD RISKS
Many a summer man has sworn that he was ready to die for some girl or other in the last few months, but up to date no insurance company has rejected any of them on the chance that they would do it.

INSOMNIA
There are about 100 different ways of putting oneself to sleep when one is wakeful at night. And if one conscientiously tries them all, one after another, giving full time to each, the hundredth usually succeeds.

GREYHOUND OF THE SEA
The French people have just launched a 40,000-ton ocean liner with nine decks. It would seem that the Parisians still expect to have friendly contacts with the American tourist. Anyhow, they are making the ocean trip as pleasant as possible.

RAILWAY CENTENNIAL
Regular passenger service on American railroads was first instituted on January 15, 1831. The railways of the country might well have a centennial exposition five years hence to show that they are still able to keep a lot of their business free from capture by motor trucks and busses.

KEEPING THE PEACE
President Coolidge is determined that no arms or ammunition leak over our border into Mexico. The battlers of the cactus republic will have to get their lethal weapons elsewhere or build them themselves. Uncle Sam will sell the Mexicans safety razors, but nothing else in the bloodletting line.

INDIAN CLAIMS
Thirty-five Indian tribes have filed land suits against the government asking land or indemnity to the amount of $1,250,000,000. It would be the square deal to listen to all these cases, but the government probably never will. The Indians have been used for goats for generations and have grown hardened to it.

SPARING THE ROD
A scientist insists that children do not inherit temperament or a flighty disposition. These attributes are acquired through unwise or careless training. There have been a lot of illusions about temperamental folk, but the judgement of experts would insist that the proper corrections could have been made with a shingle applied at the right time.

THE WILD BARD
Gabriele D'Annunzio, the bald eagle of Italy, is punctuating his retirement by writing two plays as well as certain memoirs and political preachments. In one of the dramas Christ is a leading figure and in the other St. Francis dominates the action. Yet the poet is said to have recently confided to a friend the statement that he would be remembered as the first humorist of his time. Possibly he does not aim to get this reputation from his writings, but rather from his mannerisms and eccentricities.

THE LIFE SAVERS
The Public Health Department of Illinois has for seven years been directing a definite and practical campaign against the inroads of tuberculosis and the results show that this disease is losing much of its terror. The death rate has been reduced nearly one-half in the entire State and in some of the counties where the campaign has been exceptionally efficient the deaths from tuberculosis have been lowered to but 10 for each 100,000 of population. The rate for the State was 134 when the work began in 1918. In other days the treatment consisted in shipping the patient to Arizona or California, but Illinois is now saving them at home. There are thirty sanatoriums at which patients may be received and treated.

AN ARMY OF BUYERS
Judging from the responses to the invitations sent out several weeks ago an army of buyers is coming to Los Angeles to see what we have to offer by way of merchandise. This invasion will be the result of the enterprise of the leading spirits of commercial and industrial Los Angeles. As a demonstration of the ability of this great market place to provide the whole West with whatever supplies it may require there was planned for the week of August 16-22 a Western Buyers' Convention and Industrial and Trade Exposition, to which 16,000 retailers were invited, of which about 7000 will be in attendance.

This affair is to be directed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, always to the front in enterprises of this kind, which should assure its complete success, as the chamber never does anything by halves, and in this case it is blowing the local trade trumpet loud enough to be heard all over the western land. The retailers are being assured that they will find here in the Southland opportunities for pleasure and profit that will make their journey to the metropolis of the West not only one of commercial gain, but of keen enjoyment. The idea is to make outside merchants and manufacturers "see" Los Angeles as a great wholesaling center. Many of them are not very well aware of the advantages that might accrue to them if, instead of sending their orders to eastern houses, they would send them here. Others already know, but the knowledge has not sunk into their consciousness quite deeply enough to make them obey the impulse to patronize our people instead of sending to far-away markets for their supplies.

But, while the exposition is primarily planned to interest the outside retailer, it has other aims, among them that of educating a large number of Angelenos who as yet are not fully cognizant of their opportunities for supplying their products to the vast field the Chamber of Commerce has in view and is urging all our local producers to reach.

The great show will be as entertaining as it will be educational. It will occupy the Shrine Auditorium and overflow upon an adjacent tract, where canvas will be stretched. A Chamber of Commerce theatrical performance to be called "The Fashions and Follies of 1927," will be given each night in Shrine Theater, with a cast of 100 persons, about half of whom will be Los Angeles girls garbed in attire originated in local apparel factories. It will be a style show intermingled with vaudeville and the appearance of motion-picture stars.

It will thus be seen that the managers of the affair recognize the fact that buyers, out on their annual jaunts, like to look at samples other than those of a purely commercial character and are by no means averse to a little entertainment. The grand army of buyers coming to Los Angeles will not be disappointed in this respect. Even those who go away without buying so much as a can of peaches will carry with them memories of the sight of those gathered in for display from Hollywood and other parts of a city noted for its beautiful girls.

Part of the program of the week will be tours of the county, luncheons and other entertainment, and even if the buyers learn nothing about the advantages of Los Angeles as a great business mart they will at least be impressed by the fact that it is the playground of the nation.

But we may trust the Chamber of Commerce to make fully known to its multitude of guests that in this $1,000,000,000 market place they always may be certain to find what they want, not only in merchantable commodities, but in sympathetic understanding, considerate service and helpful co-operation. The chamber may be relied upon to "sell" them Los Angeles on a large and effective scale.

A TRAFFIC EXAMPLE
Detroit is expending $113,000,000 to improve traffic conditions in that city. The Michigan metropolis is growing apace. It had a population of 285,000 in 1900 and 1,242,000 in 1925. Enthusiastic residents say their city is growing at the rate of 100,000 a year. Los Angeles will feel no qualms of jealousy in contemplating this extraordinary growth, for hers has been even greater, but perhaps Los Angeles can learn something from the example of Detroit, which has tackled the problem of traffic congestion so valiantly and at such enormous cost.

The expenditure of this $113,000,000 by Detroit will be a good investment. In that city there is one automobile for every three inhabitants, or about the same as in Los Angeles, but what may be called the urban spread is not so great as here. The traffic is more confined, and it may be some years before we shall have quite so serious a problem of how to prevent street-jamming, though it is bound to come in time.

Woodward avenue is Detroit's main artery. Along that street a score of skyscrapers have been condemned, with other buildings, the total cost of the improvement to be $73,000,000. This will create a boulevard eight miles long and 120 feet wide, leading from the center of the city. Other important streets in the downtown district are to be widened at a cost of $40,000,000. For the purpose of making it eighty feet in width a street straight across town was condemned recently, but before the work was begun the plans were altered so as to make it 120 feet wide.

Detroit had spent many millions to facilitate street traffic before the present improvements were planned. All that has been done, however, has proved futile so far as the solution of the great problem has been concerned. It was resolved, therefore, to undertake this solution on a scale that would not fail to bring satisfactory results. The New York Times, commenting on Detroit's enterprise, says the Michigan city is setting an example which other cities are bound to follow and that "streets capable of accommodating ten or twelve lines of motor cars, with frequent tunnels for pedestrians under them, are certain to come."

A street with twelve lines of motor cars in it, all running at once, would be a sight, indeed. But if there is any great urban center that will have such a street and such a sight it should be Los Angeles. For even Detroit, where motor cars are turned out as fast as the shining products of a tin-can factory, has nothing on this city when it comes to the matter of gas buggies.

THE COMPETENT MAN
Senator Johnson's efforts to oust his seatmate in the upper Congress is in tune with past performances. The fact that Senator Shortridge has been able to serve the people of California is gall and wormwood to Hiram.

"—And Whosoever Is Deceived Thereby Is Not Wise!"

MAGNANIMOUS
In the new light thrown upon Abraham Lincoln by the recently published letters and talks of his son Robert, who passed from earth in July, no fact shines forth more luminously as a guide for ambitious people than that to be great is also to be magnanimous. What has been set forth by history as to the generous spirit of Abraham Lincoln, particularly as displayed in his pleas for moderation in the treatment of the defeated South by the Federal government after the close of the Civil War, is not only given full substantiation, but also amplification by the report of the Great Emancipator's sentiments privately expressed to his son.

Robert Todd Lincoln, who was on Gen. Grant's staff at the time of Lee's surrender, was the first eyewitness to relate to his father the story of the pursuit and capture of Lee's army. Robert tells of this in a letter to a friend. He saw Lee, dressed in spotless new uniform, enter the McLean house to surrender to Grant and saw the great southern soldier emerge, still wearing his sword through the magnanimity of Grant. It was proof of Abraham Lincoln's own magnanimity that he delighted in that of Grant.

In all his term of office Lincoln showed the same generous spirit. To his most powerful rival, Salmon B. Chase, he gave the greatest place a President has to bestow, that of Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

"To be magnanimous," says Ruskin, "is, indeed, to be great in life; to become this increasingly is to advance in life." We are prone to think of Alexander and Caesar as great men, but here was an essential element of greatness they and other ancient rulers did not possess. They were cruel and vengeful to defeated foemen. In the Middle Ages and later the leaders of rebellions, as well as other foemen, when captured were nearly always put to death, which was sometimes preceded by terrible torture.

Elizabeth, though a woman, with a woman's heart, showed no mercy to Mary, Queen of Scots. Ranting Richard III took vindictive delight in crying, "Off with his head! So much for Buckingham!" Even Cromwell, the great Puritan leader, "mighty of heart and mighty of mind," did not have that spirit of clemency which would have prompted him to spare the life of an enemy chieftain captured in battle. Though badly wounded, the Earl of Derby "laid down his head at Bolton, where once he had carried it so high," as Carlyle tells the story.

Many persons deemed the Allies too lenient in their treatment of the defeated German and Austrian leaders, who, they said, should have been dealt with most severely. But the spirit of magnanimity toward a defeated foe which prevails in this civilized age was manifested here, even while the bitterness engendered in the world's greatest war still lurked in the hearts of men.

After many vengeful and cruel years there dawned upon the world the thought that to be merciful to a fallen foe and not subject him to the depths of humiliation or torture or death was not only to ennoble oneself, but to increase one's right to the enjoyment of clemency, compassion and good will. For, as Spencer truly says,

> Who will not mercy unto others show,
> How can he mercy ever hope to have?

And as the meek and lowly one of Nazareth said, "Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy."

BEAUTY AND ORANGES
A famous eastern writer on diet and beauty themes is urging women to consider the wonderful value and importance of oranges and other citrus fruits. Instead of a cup of tea or coffee a glass of cool orange juice will supply as cheering a draught as the heart could wish. Doctors approve of the morning orange because it is gently laxative as well as stimulating. Oranges are loaded with vitamins, but are a very clean food because they have little protein. Take it all around, the citrus industry is vastly important to the health and beauty of the women of America.

SAME OLD BLUFF
Not since Grover Cleveland declared the protective tariff a "local question" and at the same time consigned it to "innocuous desuetude" have the apprehensive Democratic leaders made such a show of simulated eagerness to make the tariff an issue as in the Congressional campaign of the present year.

It is the initial move in their familiar old "shell game" of attempting to hoodwink the Middle-West farmer into a belief that he is being pauperized by protection. It has been successfully worked in but isolated instances, but that fact does not deter them from trying it over again.

They may succeed in fooling a few of the voters by slick manipulation of the farmers' complaints and by clouding with misinformation the actual beneficial results of protection, but it is inconceivable that any great number of intelligent western farmers can be beguiled into an attempt to break down our well-tried protective system without at the same time bringing the industrial workers of America down to the level of cheap European labor.

Where would the American grower of wheat and breeder of cattle find himself were the tariff removed from these two gigantic sources of farmer wealth? Wheat from Canada and beef from South America would quickly take the market away from him and he would be calling for relief from the "foreign invaders."

No class of Americans are today more nearly independent or enjoy a higher standard of living than our progressive farmers, and the honest student of economics sees it as the result of an equitable system that gives protection alike to our urban and rural workers.

NEED AN ANTHEM
The capital city of our country wishes a song or anthem that shall be wholly its own. Such excellent musicians and composers as Charles Gates Dawes and Nicholas Longworth should be able to co-operate in giving Washington an anthem really worth while. However, if it would have to command the indorsement of the Senate before being recognized it hasn't a ghost of a chance.

THE JOY OF PRIVATE FISHING

By James J. Montague.

When I fare forth in search of trout
  Along the lonely mountain trails,
I take care not to drag about
  A yard stick or a pair of scales.
I know not what the prizes weigh Nor do I ever care at all
If—as is very likely—they Are small.

The fun I get is in the quest
  In casting in a likely place,
With all the interest and zest
  That is attendant on the chase.
I leave behind all cares or frets,
  No imprecations do I say
When some big, strong three-pounder gets Away.

And when next day my friends inquire
  What luck I had with rod and line,
My eyes aflash with ardent fire
  I always promptly answer "Fine!"
I tell them all the streams I fished,
  And all the giant trout I sought,
Describing every one I wished
  I'd caught.

I know they all believe I lie,
  But what of what they think, forsooth?
I know they'd think the same if I
  Had only told the simple truth.
My yarns at first may make me grieve,
  But when I've told them twice to you,
Or any one, why I believe Them, too.

THE CAT TALKS

By The Foothill Philosopher

You can hardly be expected to believe it—although I can produce 100 men, who do not know me well, who will swear that I never patronize dope peddlers nor bootleggers. As for my cat, he has never been suspected. He isn't human. But he talked—and I'm going to violate the ethics of journalism and quote him, for I'm sure that his lack of human qualities makes him averse to publicity.

I lay on my bed, unable to sleep for thinking of how hard it would be to compute my income tax if I were worth $1,000,000, when Tom jumped up on the foot of the bed and addressed me. He asked me why I couldn't sleep. I told him and he grinned.

"You humans are a queer lot," said Tom. "You complicate life for yourselves until you are miserable, with all your noted achievements and so-called luxuries. You even make things tough for the lower orders of creation by the way you treat them. It isn't so hard for the animals you breed and fatten and kill to satisfy your semicannibalistic taste — but it's rough on your pets which you let live, not because you love them, but either because you can't eat them or because they can serve you better in life than in death.

"Take the cat, for instance," continued Tom. "He seldom has any peace in modern civilization. He is always half crazy from your pianos, phonographs and radio concerts—and when he leaves the house he is chased by dogs—which seems to amuse you humans. His only place of refuge is in the basement or cellar and you wouldn't allow him there if he had a human appetite or if there were not mice and rats there which you want to get rid of. The cat was worshiped in ancient Egypt, he is tolerated or despised in modern America—but he has never been understood. His grace and quietness have been mistaken for weakness and hypocrisy, his individualistic tendencies for stubbornness and cruelty.

"I do not want to be worshiped—but neither is it pleasant to be condemned," said Tom. "I am neither a saint nor a sinner. I'm just a cat. Read Hugo's 'Epic of the Lion' and you'll get an idea of what I'm driving at. Of course, I am courageous, but I take no credit to myself on that score. God made me brave. You humans have a habit of admiring courage, regardless of the use to which it is put. That is a philosophical mistake, to say the least. Courage is a quality and is no more good or bad in itself than fire, water, color or light.

"We are proud, too, we cats—but that should not be charged against us, since vanity, also, is a quality which, in humans, may be turned to noble advantage. We deal little with other animals. We are not curious concerning that which does not touch our immediate lives. However, we have often wondered why artists have not used us more as subjects of masterpieces. We are not only beautiful—but we never wear clothes. We are always nude and cannot understand why we are never pictured as feline Stellas. What do your artists do with us? They caricature us on Valentine and Halloween cards. Why don't you speak to me? Are you ashamed to see me sitting here naked on your bed?"

"Get out!" I yelled. "Your main business is to keep folks awake at night!" I threw the pillow at him and he made a leap for the stairway. Then I settled back to sleep—of course, you'll say "again."

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

"As for Me and My House"

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Are the hammer wielders or knockers hoping for greater power, at the hands of voters, so that they may "loot" the State Treasury? My vote and that of my family will be cast for Friend W. Richardson, as the State needs him in the Governor's chair because he has made good and has the backbone to enforce the laws and cannot be stampeded by designing or crooked politicians.

It would be a calamity to turn the State government back to the political machine and give them an opportunity to confiscate our property by excessive taxation to carry out their pet schemes.

If the things are true that Candidate Young is charging why, as an official of the State, did he not make mention of it long ago and not wait until he announced himself a candidate?

It seems to me that the State Superintendent of Schools is also making a lot of noise for such a little person.

If he is not satisfied with things in this State why doesn't he migrate?

What is the true motive behind the noise? EFFIE HILL.

Not All the People

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Laziness or selfishness is what is permitting the cities of the United States to be barnacled by corrupt bosses and this city is an example. Ingratitude of the American people is worse than their laziness or selfishness. The worst feature of it all is that the politicians know these facts too well.

How many people in Los Angeles appreciate the hard work The Times is doing in defending the people against the Parrot ring in town and the Allen ring at the harbor? How many know what the "open shop" means and the good work The Times is doing to lift the burden the people are bearing under the oppression of unionism?

The wheels grind slowly but exceeding fine, but it seems a long wait to educate the people to a sense of gratitude or wake them from their selfish slumbers. Dooley said the "Nager was joyous, light-hearted and asely lynched." Is it not so also with the white people?

The Times deserves the most hearty support of every man and woman voter in Los Angeles. Will they show their backing or will they lie down and be skinned?

A Touch of Optimism

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Permit me to congratulate The Times on the cartoon and editorial appearing this morning entitled "Watchman, What of the Night?"

It is encouraging to meet a serious and inspired editorial leader in these days when we are often convinced that our press is steeped in commercialism. It may appear submerged at times, but we know that the newspaper must still reflect the spirit of the day.

"Yet, so the world passed from the darkness of B.C. into the light of Anno Domini." A masterpiece—two lines of optimism neutralize three columns of calamity.

More power to you.

A. BUCHANAN.

Man's Disquiet

ONTARIO, Aug. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your timely editorial yesterday, "Watchman, What of the Night?"

Man's disquiet will not be stilled until he finds the object of his search, that which the spirit has in store for him. Not a new religion, but one older than the oldest.

Through many prophets in many lands and times has it spoken with the one purpose of drawing men into greater harmony—each within himself and all with the Divine—man the microcosm into man the macrocosm.

It is now for men to discover the likeness of purpose in these various messages, these various "religions," and unite in developing the individual into harmony, peace and love without strife or bickering over creeds.

That murmurs to them many

  Vast as eternity;
Of seas and tides and winds that

  Spice-laden from far isles,
Of ghostly ships that pass at night

The storms have swept these barren boughs
  And bent them to and fro,
Until they've taken gnome-like

  In which to breathe and grow;
There silhouetted on the hill
  A dancer one may see,
With beck'ning hands and swaying limbs,
  The specter of a tree.

TEN JAILED IN CURRENCY PLOT

Five Women Accused as Counterfeiters' Aides

Money Believed Sought for Financing Rum Business

Ten persons accused of comprising a "million-dollar liquor and counterfeiting ring" are under arrest in Los Angeles and San Francisco, according to Secret Service Agent W. W. Ashe. Five are women. Thelma Joan Ford, 19 years of age; Constance Shockley, 22; Roy Garland, Walter M. Feagan and Earl Bowers were arraigned before United States Commissioner Head yesterday. Bond was set at $2500 each for the women, who are charged with passing counterfeit $10 notes, and $3000 each for the men, charged with manufacturing the notes.

Meanwhile, it is said, Jay R. Garner, William Barton, Grace Sherman, alias Brown; Myrtle Bersie and Laverne Whitney, a woman, have been arrested in San Francisco by Thomas B. Foster, secret service agent for the northern district.

According to Ashe, the moving spirits of the asserted gang turned to counterfeiting to raise money to enter the liquor-manufacturing and rum-running business on a large scale. Counterfeit notes totaling thousands of dollars have been passed in both the southern and northern sections of California, Ashe said.

TWO PRIME MOVERS

As he declared Garner and Barton were the prime movers. Garner, he said, is on parole from San Quentin and Barton was previously convicted of counterfeiting in Spokane. Garner and Barton are said to have conceived the idea in June, but had no engraving set. They took in Feagan and Garland, a former photographer, the story continues, and Garland had a friend, Earl Bowers, employee of a commercial photography shop here, who supplied two sets of plates for $10 notes.

Garner, Barton and Grace Sherman rented an apartment in Hollenbeck Heights where the plant was set up and the first notes produced, it is said. The three later went to San Jose, where they met the Whitney and Bersie girls, and had them pass notes there, it is asserted.

INVOLVE GIRLS

As she said they returned to Los Angeles, where more notes were passed, and started the Ford and Shockley girls, the former Barton's niece, passing notes. Both girls were waitresses.

Meanwhile, Ashe said, Feagan and Garland were operating a beer plant at 1108 South Burlington street.

The asserted counterfeiting group went to Fresno, where more notes were passed in beer and whisgy dives, Ashe, who followed, declared. Word was sent to Secret Service Agent Foster, who then watched operations in the north.

GIRLS HELD FIRST

The Ford and Shockley girls were arrested first, the former, according to Ashe, declaring she was intoxicated when she agreed to help pass the notes. Then Ashe raided the Hollenbeck Heights apartment, seizing the engraving sets. Foster raided the San Jose apartments of Barton, he reported, finding notes there.

All concerned have made full confessions, according to Ashe. Detective Lieutenants Hickey and Post cooperated in the investigation here.

Court Recesses to Let Child Eat All of Her Cone

Municipal Judge Scott decided from the bench yesterday that a child had certain inalienable rights, among these being her right to finish an ice cream cone, when it is given to her as an inducement to testify in court.

As a result, the court declared a recess to allow Mary Jordan, 9 years of age, to consume to the last sweet drop, the ice cream which had just been given her.

The court, however, cautioned Bailiff Fulford not to give her a second one. When the little girl finished, the court resumed testimony in the case of John A. Smith, charged with six offenses against children. The defendant was held to answer and bail was fixed at $5000.

RAILROADS DECREASE DELAYS OF HOT BOXES

Railroad hot boxes, which worry engineers as punctures and blowouts badger motorists, had a tough time living up to their evil reputations last year, according to a statement made yesterday by T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific Company. The hot box was a cool box most of the time, with a consequent improvement in the regularity of freight and passenger train service. Williams's figures show that an average of 146,720 car miles per hot box was averaged by freight cars last year as compared to 75,696 miles per hot box ten years ago. A corresponding decrease in hot boxes on passenger cars also was recorded. But the railroad man was unable to produce any figures to prove that the unhappy vacationist who travels on rubber does not pick up the same high average of tacks, nails and broken bottles.

NEW COUNTY EXHIBITS TO START SOON

'Sheik's Tent' Will be Used to House Southland Wares at Detroit Exposition

Finishing touches are being made on the second and third Los Angeles county exhibits which are to tour the country, according to Charles P. Bayer, field secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who announced that the two displays being packed will leave Los Angeles early Sunday morning.

One of the exhibits will be entered in the Toronto fair and the other in the Michigan State fair to be held at Detroit. Another exhibit is already on the road, and the combined fairs at which Los Angeles county will be represented number eight.

The local display for Detroit will consists of a blue and old rose colored velour tent, 61x17 feet in size, which will be known as the "Sheik's Tent." The interior and exterior of the tent will be in keeping with the name. Large ferns and palms will be profusely used, according to Mr. Bayer.

Two oil paintings, 4x6 feet, now being completed by Chris Siemer, noted Southland painter, will be one of the principal features of the Detroit exhibit.

Furniture made in Pasadena and Los Angeles also will be one of the features of the display. A fashion display featuring gowns worn by prominent movie stars in recent productions will be included to show Los Angeles textile products.

In the interior of the tent, two gold hanging lamps will be suspended, which will be used to illuminate the display.

Cross-Bill of Wife Confronts Septuagenarian

Vincent Morgan, 73 years of age and reputedly wealthy, will have to answer the cross-complaint for divorce filed by Katherine Morgan, said to be a former medium, Judge Hazlett ruled yesterday in denying Morgan's motion to strike the cross-bill from the files.

Morgan started the divorce proceedings when he filed a complaint in which he accused his mate of desertion, charging she left him five days after they were married June 12, 1924. Before their marriage, he said, he was weighted down with grief because of the death of his former wife and was advised to consult the present Mrs. Morgan, who was then said to be a medium known as Katherine MacCorkell.

Morgan declared she told him his former wife had ordered that he give her $5000 with which to purchase a house, and Morgan said he did so with the provision that he and the medium were to live in it after they married. Shortly after the marriage, he declared, he also conveyed her a joint tenancy in his other property.

In her answer and cross-complaint, Mrs. Morgan entered a general denial of her husband's charges and asserted he had urged her to marry him over a period of two years. She declared she finally agreed to marry him "in name only" and that she declined to stay at his house nights after he was asserted to have attacked her with a razor. She said, however, that she continued to be with him in the day time.

Morgan sought to have the cross-complaint thrown out on the ground it had not been filed with the answer, but Judge Hazlett held that the counter-bill had been filed within the legal period of time and ordered Morgan to file his answer.

With the filing of the answer the case will be in a position to be set for trial.

ACTOR HURT BY HORSE GIVEN COMPENSATION

Disabled by the fall of a horse, A. E. Tilton, motion-picture cowboy, was awarded $20.83 weekly compensation insurance pending further orders, according to a decision handed down here yesterday by State Industrial Accident Commissioner Carrigan. Tilton's back and hips were injured when the horse rolled over him three times, according to Carrigan. The cowboy was employed by the Famous Players-Lasky Company on location near Yuma, Ariz., when the accident occurred, March 31, last, Carrigan stated. The award was against the Travelers' Insurance Company.

RECORD FOR EXECUTOR'S BOND FALLS

Altadenan Ordered to File Personal Security of $3,000,000

Judge Reeve yesterday broke all Probate Court records for size of bond required for an administrator when he ruled that William C. Lindley, of Altadena, will have to file personal surety bond of $3,000,000 or corporate surety in the sum of $1,500,000, to qualify as administrator of the estate of his late wife, Margaret S. Lindley.

While many estates larger than the $1,500,000 fortune left by Mrs. Lindley are probated in the Los Angeles county courts, it happened that hers consisted almost entirely of personal property. Large estates usually include much realty, and the administrator is bonded only in the amount of the annual income.

Personal property, however, requires bond to the amount of its reasonable value.

Mrs. Lindley died June 19, last. Besides her husband she leaves her mother, Mrs. Margaret Gray of Washington.

New Accusation on File Against Officer Hreha

Conrad Hreha, suspended police officer, yesterday was charged with contributing to the delinquency of 17-year-old Evelyn Capito, 116 East Fifty-ninth street, in a complaint filed in Judge Keeler's Juvenile Court by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Florence Woodhead.

Filing of the contributing charge came as an aftermath to the dismissal in Municipal Judge Ballard's court of a complaint accusing Hreha of attempting to attack the girl. Arthur P. Munson, also a suspended police officer, has been bound over to Superior Court for trial on a charge of attacking the girl in his home July 26, last.

In the complaint in Judge Keeler's court Hreha is asserted to have encouraged the girl to remain away from home all night and to have taken her to Munson's apartment, where he also was declared to have sought to force his attentions on her. Hreha was arraigned and his preliminary hearing on the new charge was set for next Tuesday.

LAST CALL TO IOWANS

This will be the last call for the Iowans to meet in Bixby Park for their summer all-day picnic reunion.

The program will include music and oratory and introduction of all candidates who hail from Iowa. Among these will be Senator Shortridge, Gov. Richardson, Judge Frederick W. Houser and others. Joe Crail, candidate for Congress, will preside as the president of the Iowa Association of Southern California. J. F. Parkinson, president of the Long Beach Iowa Association, will voice the welcome.

NO, YOU WOULD NOT!

Would you throw a dollar into the Pacific Ocean? No. Because it would be unwise, foolish, ridiculous.

A Dollar thrown away is gone FOREVER. A Dollar saved in practical food-buying at the Grand Central Public Market will increase your savings account 100 cents. Money is not easy to get. Make it work HARD, make it SLAVE for you!

French Pianist Will Play at Bowl Tonight

With Mme. Germaine Schnitzer, French pianist, as the soloist, the second of the Eugene Goossens programs at the Hollywood Bowl probe given tonight.

Mme. Schnitzer, who plans to go abroad for concert appearances in France and England within a few weeks, plays the Tschaikowsky B minor concerto tonight. She made her debut in Berlin when only 15 years of age. Since then she has appeared on the concert stages of America and countries of the continent and now claims New York as her home. She is married to Dr. Leo Buerger, New York surgeon, and has two children.

Goossens, who made his first bow to western audiences with his concert at the Bowl Tuesday evening, is leader of the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra. He is a composer as well as a conductor and his works have been played on the Coast even though he has never appeared personally before. He is the youngest man ever to direct the Bowl orchestra and the first "new" conductor of this season's group at the bowl.

Following is tonight's program:

Polonaise, "Eugene Onegin"	Tschaikowsky
Dance Rhapsody	Delius
Concerto No. 1 in B Flat Minor	Tschaikowsky
Mme. Germaine Schnitzer, pianist.
Intermission.
Fountains of Rome	Respighi
Molly on the Shore	Grainger
Slavonic Dances	Dvorak

Police Scored on Small-fry Rum Prosecutions

Criticism of Former Chief of Police Devilla of Venice and Officer J. McDonald of the Venice division was voiced yesterday by Municipal Judge Scott after a jury in his court acquitted R. F. Hayes and Leo W. Jones on a Wright Act charge. The officers testified that on May 27 they found in the room of the two men at 54 Navy street, Venice, a flask containing a small quantity of whisky. Neither man was present at the time and both denied ownership.

"This verdict expresses the sentiment of the public as a whole regarding trifling cases with such a small amount of liquor involved," said Judge Scott. "I think the police officers would better devote their time to rum runners and bootleggers."

WOMAN ACCUSED IN GIRL CASE GOES FREE

CHARGE OF AIDING HUSBAND IN ASSERTED WRONGFUL ACT HELD NOT PROVED

Mrs. Nelson Buckert, who was charged with aiding and abetting her husband in an asserted offense against a 17-year-old girl, yesterday was given her freedom when Judge Keeler of Juvenile Court dismissed the complaint.

It was charged that Mrs. Buckert had aided in persuading the girl to enter into a relationship with her husband, but during her preliminary examination Mrs. Buckert denied she had had anything to do with the asserted affair.

Judge Keeler held there was not sufficient evidence to warrant holding Mrs. Buckert for trial and ordered her released.

Buckert, who is charged with contributing to the girl's delinquency, has not yet been apprehended.

HE'LL PAY HIS MONEY THEN SEE HIS CHILD

To see his child on Sunday Louis Nabut must first pay over to Mrs. Opha Nabut on Saturday, the sum of $15 in cash, lawful money of the United States. And, on the other hand, when Nabut comes around for his Sunday visitation, Mrs. Nabut must meticulously refrain from "hollering 'police.'" Judge Gates made these orders yesterday after a hearing in alimony proceedings in the Nabut divorce case. "Glad to pay for my child's support, but I want to see it," Nabut said. "Whenever I go out there Mrs. Nabut begins to holler 'police.'" "Well, you pay your money and you see your child, and Mrs. Nabut had better stop calling the police," Judge Gates ruled.

Clubs Society of Interest to Women

What Women are Doing

By Myra Nye

Mabel Walker Willebrandt was in her happiest speaking mood at the luncheon given in her honor at the Woman's Athletic Club yesterday by the Professional Woman's Club and the Woman Lawyers' Club.

Dr. Valeria Armstrong presided at the function which was graced by more than 100 leading women in professional and club work.

Mrs. Willebrandt who is home for a brief period from her Assistant-Attorney-Generalship at Washington was first presented with a giant basket of California flowers by Bessie Helen Porter, as "a token of our love and admiration." And then she launched into a charming speech, replete with sly irony about the numerous "exceptional women" that have been given high posts in Washington. Always, she said, the men are reluctant to appoint a woman, and when they finally do, they always declare that she is "an exceptional woman."

"Not knowing our secret, you see," twinkled Mrs. Willebrandt, "that the world teems with exceptional women today."

The speaker paid tribute first to Elizabeth Kenney, then to Clara Shortridge Foltz "who dreamed dreams that women might some day be lawyers long before exceptional women had been discovered." Then to Florence Collins Porter, staunch leader of women in political fields. Then to Mrs. O. P. Clark, worthy leader in women's club realms.

After that, Mrs. Willebrandt told about "exceptional women" in Washington, forming what they gaily call "The Baby Cabinet." First Annabelle Mathews of the Treasury Department who must hear weighty arguments about tax refunds and inspire the respect of corporation presidents. Then Betty Breuggenan, chairman of the Employers' Compensation Committee, entailing disbursements exceeding $20,000,000 since she took office.

Next came Mary Anderson, of the Women's Department of Labor, "who settled the garment-workers' strike before they struck—as strikes should be settled." Then Grace Abbott, in charge of the Children's Department of Labor.

Next came Maj. Julia Stimson, head of the Army Nursing Department, "the only known woman to hold that military commission." Then Lucy Minnegarode, a Virginian, head of the Public Health Nurses for Washington, D. C.

Lucille Atcheson, who won her way into the diplomatic realms via a super-civil service examination and was appointed assistant to Hugh Gibson in Switzerland with serious misgivings, was another. So was Patty Field, now of the Consular Service in Amsterdam. Then there was Dr. Louise Stanley, head of the Home Economics Department of Agriculture, who reaches 400,000 homes. Then Dr. Mina Van Winkle who instituted the women's police bureau at Washington. Then Judge Katherine Sellers of the Juvenile Court of Washington, D. C. And Judge Mary O'Toole, formerly a bank director of the Municipal Court.

"Families today," said Mrs. Willebrandt, "are too small to take up the whole of a woman's time. We must not forsake love and parenthood, but we must accept it and prepare for a comeback—prepare for the hardest part, being out of our work, our careers for a while, but prepared also to go back to them, a spiritual and intellectual comeback." By facing this condition, Mrs. Willebrandt feels that the unrest of our sex and the seeming conflict between parenthood and careers can be adjusted.

Republican Study Club

Hon. Frank F. Merriam, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and Judge William Waste, candidate for judge of the State Supreme Court, and other candidates will be speakers at the Republican Study Club meeting in Barker Brothers' Auditorium tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Political League

A number of candidates for judge of the Superior Court will speak at the meeting of the Women's Political League Thursday, the 19th inst., in the Windsor Tea Rooms. Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, president, will preside.

The Playcrafters

One of the interesting social affairs of the week was the first of a series of parties arranged by the Playcrafters at the lovely hilltop home of May S. Forrester on Micheltorena street, Hollywood, Monday evening. The motif of the evening was the production of a clever comedy sketch, "Fried Chicken and Mashed Potatoes," by Mitchell Earll, a local playwright and member of the Playcrafters. A delightful musical program by prominent local artists was given during the evening, chief of which was the rendition by Miss Vivian Caldwell of a new song composed by Lucy Field Greens, secretary of the Playcrafters, this being the first time the song was presented to the public.

Since there are many clever people among the Playcrafters, these parties promise to be very interesting to those interested in artistic expression.

RUSS FILM NOTABLES WELCOMED

European Director and Blonde Star Arrive Here to Work on Screen

Two Russian screen celebrities, Viachetslav Tourjanski, director, and Nathalie Kovanko, blond star, were welcomed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio officials, led by Harry Rapf, upon their arrival at the Santa Fe Station from New York yesterday. They came here from Paris after completing negotiations to work in pictures in this country.

The European artists were discovered as American screen possibilities by Harry Rapf during his recent visit to Paris, where they were working in a picture that was being filmed in that city. Miss Kovanko is well known in Europe, where she has been starred in a number of productions. Tourjanski has directed her in a number of pictures abroad. According to studio officials Miss Kovanko's arrival gives the screen the first important Russian star since Nazimova. Tourjanski is the second Russian director now under contract on the staff of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Dr. Ryland Quits Congregational Church Pulpit

Dr. E. P. Ryland has resigned his pastorate of the Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church to accept the position of secretary of the Church Federation of Los Angeles, according to announcement made yesterday by officials of that church.

Dr. Ryland, who is now on vacation, will begin his work with the Church Federation on October 1, but will remain in charge of the Hollywood Church until his successor is chosen. He has been pastor of the church for the last nine years and has brought the membership up to more than 650.

COMMISSION HEARS CASE AGAINST CAFE

Testimony that considerable freedom was a habit in Sutton's Cafe was given yesterday before the Police Commission by Officers Kynette and Karney. The commission reserved decision until Tuesday on the question of rescinding the cafe's dance permit, which has been suspended by Chief of Police Davis. No direct charges were made against Fred Sutton, the proprietor, but the officers said they had had the place under observation from July 19 to 29, last, and had made three arrests of waiters for serving liquor; a fourth, they said, was made Tuesday night. There was considerable consumption of liquor by patrons, and many of the patrons were well-known underworld characters, according to the officers. Sutton was present at the hearing, but said nothing.

ELOPEMENT OF COUSINS ENDS IN WOE

Youths Facing Charge of Contributing to Delinquency of Two Relatives

Asserted to have participated in what started out to be a four-cornered elopement, Jack Paul and Johnnie Crenshaw, Montebello youths, were charged with contributing to the delinquency of two minor cousins of that city in complaints filed yesterday in Judge Keeler's Juvenile Court.

The cousins in the case are Lela Lucas, 17 years of age, and Marguerite Lucas, 16. Paul and Crenshaw are said to have persuaded the girls to leave home the 10th inst., without the consent of their parents.

According to Dept. Dist.-Atty. Florence Woodhead, who filed the complaints, the girls left notes at their home in which they explained they had eloped and that their relatives would next hear from them in Florida or New York.

Acting upon information supplied by the police and Sheriff's office, the quartet was arrested late yesterday in Ventura and will be returned to Los Angeles county on orders signed by Judge Keeler.

WIFE SAYS INCOME SPENT ON LIQUOR

Declaring her husband kept liquor in the refrigerator and collected rent from their tenants with which to purchase more liquor, Mrs. Jessie E. Ruffner yesterday was granted a divorce by Judge Wood from A. A. Ruffner. Mrs. Ruffner stated she and her husband operated an apartment-house, but that they defaulted in the payments on the lease because of her husband's asserted habit of collecting the rents and spending the money on liquor. She declared several of their guests left because of Ruffner's asserted drunkenness.

RIGHT TO FILE SUIT FOR ESTATE ASKED

Letters of administration over nothing more than a lawsuit yet to be filed were asked yesterday in a petition filed in Judge Reeve's court by Attorney H. K. Cohen, in behalf of William Hart. Hart is a brother of Emma Hart Johnson, who was killed in an automobile accident last December. Attorney Cohen said the estate consists of a claim against Chauncey Miller, the owner of the car that killed Mrs. Johnson, to be litigated in a suit to be filed.

WAMPAS CLUB GIVES DINNER FOR McGUIRE

The Wampas Club of the City Engineering Department had a luncheon yesterday at the city yards in Yale street, in honor of the reappointment of Hugh J. McGuire to the Board of Public Works and his re-election as president. Speeches in praise of President McGuire were made by President Pat Doyle, H. H. Kinney, secretary to the Mayor; Judges Houser, Valentine, Keeler and Hazlett; City Engineer Shaw, Assistant Police Chief Murray and County Counsel Mattoon. President McGuire responded.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children"

SICK AND IRRITABLE FROM WRONG DIET

Mrs. M's husband is greatly troubled by gas in the stomach and intestines and has had to give up his work because of the foul odor from the bowel gas. He is 40 years old, not overweight, but has a good appetite. He has been examined at a city clinic and the doctor has found the heart, blood pressure and lungs all normal. However, Mrs. M. says that he really is sick and is very irritable. Being poor, they have to have a diet consisting of a lot of bread, white and rye, cornmeal, bacon and coffee. and home-made jellies.

I should say the answer to you Mrs. M. is that "lot of bread, cornmeal and coffee" and lack of vegetables, fruits and milk. There is no doubt that all that excess starches and sugars cause a fermentation and gas in themselves; then the unbalance of the meal caused by lack of fresh vegetables and fruits with their vitamins and salts and the lack of protein foods—especially milk—causes an undermining of the mucous membrane of the intestines (and of all the tissues of the body) so that the intestinal tract does not function properly. The food not only ferments, but putrifies, thus causing the foul gases and products which no doubt are absorbed, causing a chronic poisoning and acidosis. Scurvy and pellagra are known to be due to deficient diets.

If it is possible, your husband should go on an exclusive buttermilk or milk diet for three or four days (and it might be better to take the juice of two or three oranges some time during the day.) His lower bowels can be cleared out with enemas. Later he must get on a balanced diet if he expects a return to health. (Naturally, other hygenic rules must be observed.) When he is in better health he can earn more.

We have articles on Balanced Diet and Constipation which I suggest you send for. (Enclose self-addressed envelope with your request. Allow two weeks for its receipt.)

I just happened to think—coffee and sugar are not cheap! And why not eat some of the fresh fruit instead of making it into jam? What you can't use, you had better can, under the circumstances.

A STRIPED SKIN

Mrs. J.—If the skin over the abdomen becomes very extended and tense from pregnancy, tumor or other conditions which can extend it, after these conditions are changed there may be, and often are, white streaks under the skin, which are in the nature of scar tissue. They are known by the technical name of striae.

These can be largely prevented by a thorough daily massage with some lubricating agent. However, this rubbing might not be advisable if a tumor is the cause.

Those who are excessively fat not only have the deep layers of fat in their abdominal wall, but deep layers of fat in the membrane which extends over the intestines—the omentum—and after reducing, they also may have these striae.

It occasionally happens that the skin on the arms and neck is tensely distended by fat, so while reducing it is advisable for those so afflicted to thoroughly massage the parts daily.

Do you need to reduce? Or to gain? We have a "million-dollar booklet" (the name given by those who follow it,) which you may have by sending 10 cents in stamps with self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Tomorrow—Answers to Mothers

My dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose ten cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interests. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

The LAST WORD

By ALMA WHITAKER

OH, REALLY, MONSIEUR!

"Boys," remarks a much-read male writer, "are no longer girl-crazy." Good gracious, where has the dear man been lately? He certainly has not had much to do with boys.

We swarm boys in our district, all kinds of boys of all ages. And my own observation is that they start taking a romantic interest in girls at about 4 years of age, which continues unabated until well, until they are as old as the aforesaid male writer, who is probably enjoying a lucid interval himself for the first time in his life and is judging the other boys by his own temporary preoccupation.

When I was a small girl with a patronizing brother, I regarded boys with awed wonder, as superior young humans who had precious little use for girls. If they did take any notice of girls in those days, it was a secretive affairs of which they were rather ashamed. And woe betide the girl who "gave them away."

GIRLLESS BOY "OUT OF IT"

But now the shoe is on the other foot. The boy who has not "got a girl" is mournfully out of it—and that goes for any age from 12 to 20. And I should say that every bit of their mind that isn't actually preoccupied with their school studies—and maybe their pet sport—is devoted to girls.

Thirty years ago school dancing parties were rare, because so few boys learned to dance, and so many girls had to dance with each other if they were to have any partners at all.

Today the weekly school dance is the most important social event of high-school life, and the vogue for "cutting in" has had to be introduced, as otherwise there would not be enough girl-partners to go round. The "stag line" at these school dances is amazing. A girl wallflower is almost unknown.

And so many of the boys "go stag" for the reasons that either they were too bashful to ask a girl to accompany them or the girls they wanted most were already booked by other fellows, or because they did not own any sort of vehicle for taking a girl home afterward. But they go just the same and make the better equipped boys mad by "butting in" on their dances. They don't even pretend they don't like girls anymore—but would rather be semi-wallflowers than entirely out of feminine company.

INTERESTING REVERSAL

Wherever two or three boys are gathered together, the conversation is bound to get round to "girls" in no time at all. They will, of course, wax sumptuously critical and essay to appear sublimely indifferent . . . but where their hearts are, there will their conversation be also.

Quite as many lovesick boys write to this column as lovesick maidens. But there is this subtle difference. The boys usually complain that the girls fail to concentrate and insist upon dividing their favors between several boys. How does a fellow make his special girl-choice be true to him alone? Whereas, the lovesick girl usually moans that her pet boy has grown cold and distant, just because she went out with another boy one time . . . and how does one regain a hypersensitive touchy fellow like that, and why should he mind her talking to other boys anyway? Which you must admit is an interesting reversal of conditions.

In my day it was so often the girls who "concentrated" to the embarrassment of the boys—who were wont to agree that "for man love is a thing apart, but for woman it is all her life." But that, of course, was before the girls started winning scholarships and having careers and all sorts of other engaging interests besides boys.

MEETING TO DEBATE AIDS TO BUSINESS

North Central District Representatives Seeking to Solve Street Problem

For the purpose of deciding upon plans to stimulate business conditions in the north central business district of Los Angeles there will be a large meeting of property owners, leaseholders and business men, together with public officials and experts from civic associations at 3 p.m. today in the third-floor assembly room at the Alexandria.

In connection with the meeting, sponsored by the executive committee of the Central Business District Association, F. L. Mowder, secretary of the association, said:

"The closing of Spring street and the west side of Main street north of First street, occasioned by the construction of the new City Hall, has created an adverse business condition all along those streets, and even affecting the north end of Hill street and east and west tributary streets as far south as Fifth street that must receive immediate measures for relief."

One of the relief measures to be discussed at the meeting will be the possibilities of obtaining additional surface transportation on Spring, Main and Hill streets.

Among the city and county officials and civic experts, who have given considerable thought to the problem and who will be present at the meeting, are:

John Shaw, City Engineer; Gordon Whitnall of the City Planning Commission, A. J. Barnes of the City Council Committee on Widening and Opening of Streets, David Farries of the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, J. O. Marsh of the Board of Public Utilities, Jack Bean of the County Board of Supervisors and R. B. Hill, superintendent of operations of the Los Angeles Railway Company.

Doctor Accused of Giving Love to His 'Subject'

Something of the strange devices employed by Dr. L. A. Ostrom in the correction of human ills was disclosed yesterday when his wife, Virginia D. Ostrom, told her tale before Judge Hollzer and obtained a divorce.

For there was "another woman" in the case, and this woman, it was testified, was one of the doctor's "devices." He professed to give "radio-electronic-magnetic treatments," which involved the employment of a third party, referred to as "the subject." The doctor employed a girl to act as "subject" and attached electrical apparatus to her in the presence of his patient, it was explained.

"Could you not have served as 'subject?'" Judge Hollzer asked.

"Oh, no. He told me the physician's wife could not be his subject," Mrs. Ostrom said.

She charged that an infatuation existed between the doctor and his "subject."

"She would have nervous spells and he would bring her to my home and pet her out of them," the wife said.

After it had been testified that Mrs. Ostrom and her mother had financed Dr. Ostrom's education in "radio-electronic magnetism," Judge Hollzer expressed the opinion that he was a most ungrateful man and granted the wife a divorce.

CHEF WYMAN'S Suggestions For TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast

Sliced Peaches with Cream
Eggs Poached in Tomatoes
Toast Grape Conserve
Milk Coffee

Luncheon

Halibut in Lemon Sauce
Beet and Pepper Salad
Marmalade Parfait
Tea

Dinner

Strawberry Soup
Radishes
Parisian Salmon
Green Peas Mashed Potatoes
Cabbage Salad
Orange Bombe Glace
Coffee

GRAPE CONSERVE

Five pounds of grapes, one and one-half pints of sugar, one and one-half pounds of seeded raisins, half a pound of walnut meats. Remove pulp from grapes, boil five minutes. Put through a colander to remove seeds and boil. Add raisins, sugar and nut meats chopped fine and boil about thirty minutes until thick.

EGGS POACHED IN TOMATOES

Stew slowly for ten minutes half a can of tomatoes and one small onion, cut fine. Season highly with salt and pepper and butter. Break six eggs into a bowl without beating, and when everything else is ready to serve slip them into the hot tomatoes. Lift the white carefully with a fork as it cooks, until it is all firm; then prick the yolks and let them mix with the tomato and white. The mixture should be quite soft, but with the red tomatoes, the white and yellow of the egg quite distinct. Serve at once on toast.

HALIBUT IN LEMON SAUCE

Three pounds of halibut, cut into pieces, four inches long and one inch thick, two onions, medium size, sliced thin, two cupfuls of water, three tablespoonfuls of oil, one tablespoonful each of ground ginger and mace and one-eighth teaspoonful of red pepper dissolved in one cupful of boiling water, one cupful of strained lemon juice, three tablespoonfuls of flour, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, three eggs, one-half cupful of canned tomatoes. Wash the fish, then salt it, let it stand for two hours; take the water, onions, and oil, and boil until the onions are cooked, then pour this into a bowl. Put the fish in a sauce pan, pour the onion mixture over the fish, also the dissolved spices and tomatoes; boil until the fish is cooked. Beat the eggs and flour together, then add the lemon juice, pour a little of the gravy that is on the fish into this, beat well so that the eggs will not curdle, pour this on the fish and let it simmer for a few minutes, place the fish on a platter and the sauce in a gravy bowl.

STRAWBERRY SOUP

Hull one quart of strawberries and set aside one cupful of the finest ones. Sprinkle the rest with two cupfuls of sugar, add one cupful of cold water, mash fine and let stand for two hours. Rub through a fine sieve, add a quart of cider and the juice of half a lemon and set on ice for three hours. Add the whole strawberries and serve in sherbet cups.

PARISIAN SALMON

The salmon should be cut, if possible, from the middle of the fish in rather thick slices. After it is washed and dried, wrap it securely in cheese cloth and let it simmer until tender in soup stock, to which have been added a bay leaf, two chopped onions, a stalk of celery, one diced carrot and some parsley, then drain and place on a hot platter, pouring over the following sauce: Place in the upper part of the double boiler a cupful of milk, adding when hot half a teaspoonful of meat extract, salt and celery salt to taste and a tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water; be sure the sauce boils at least twice and then stir in a cupful of asparagus tips. Serve garnished with a border of mashed potatoes and a tiny circle of green peas.

The Vacuum Cleaner

Keep the brush clean.

Empty the bag frequently.

Oil the motor according to directions given with your particular make of cleaner.

Turn off the motor when called away. It takes but a second and may save you a great deal of trouble.

Learn how to rewire the plug when the wires wear through. It is very simple and something very useful to know.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Cooler-Looking Kitchen

One housewife has a cover of linoleum to fit the top of her range during the summer when there is no fire in it. It can be scrubbed, looks cool and neat, and saves her polishing the stove during the warm weather.

Poor Ironing

So many laundresses do not iron their clothes dry and this results in easily creased garments which look unsightly at one wearing. Do not dampen the clothes so much that it is difficult to iron them dry.

Care of Piano Keys

Apply wood alcohol with a damp cloth to the soiled piano keys. All marks will disappear and the alcohol will prevent the keys from turning yellow.

Cleaner Water

Cut off the leaves and thorns that are to be under the water in a vase. The flowers will keep better if this is done.

Good for Them

Empty your dishpan of greasy water at the roots of the grapevine and rose bushes each day. It will make them thrive.

Juicy Steaks

When pan-broiling steaks or chops, be careful to pick them up by the fat when turning. A fork stuck into the meat will let out the juices.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Baby's Drinking Water

One Mother Says:

I always give special care to the preparation of the water that my baby is to drink. After the water has been boiled I put it into a sterilized container, then allow it to cool and place it in the ice box. I never put ice into this water but cool it in the refrigerator.

Domestic Science teachers prefer Tillamook cheese

52% express personal preference for Tillamook cheese for ALL purposes.

Only 12% express a preference for any other cheese.

THESE preferences were shown in a recent survey among the food experts themselves—the domestic science teachers the length of the Pacific Coast. They choose their foodstuffs not alone from the taste standpoint, but for their purity and nutritive value as well. The fact that over half of them prefer Tillamook is another striking evidence of its excellent quality. Get Tillamook at your grocer's.

How Women

Now keep fresh, charming under hygienic handicap—new way provides true security—discards like tissue

THE uncertainty and insecurity of the old-time "sanitary pad" has been ended. Scientific protection now supplants it.

Wear sheer gowns, keep up with social and business requirements, at all times . . . without handicap.

"KOTEX" is a new and remarkable way . . . five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

✓ You discard it as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

Absorbs and deodorizes at the same time. Thus ending ALL fear of offending.

You get it for a few cents at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." Women ask for it without hesitancy.

"ALL TIMES" IN KHJ BROADCAST

Monthly Program Given by Newspaper Workers

Saxophone Artiste Renders Own Compositions

Two Daughters of Russia in Children's Program

BY UNCLE JOHN

Representing interdepartmental co-operation and comradeship of co-workers of a big institution, the "All-Times" Monthly program last night in the studio of KHJ carried that wonderful spirit which makes for success. Each participant was an employee of The Times.

In the same way that the tower studio of KHJ is an open forum, for the best interests of the public, its microphone last night fused the various interests of a great newspaper.

From the art department came Salvador Baguez, a young artist whose baritone voice has enthused fellow-artists of "Boss" Dodge's department to such an extent that his men insisted upon Mr. Baguez taking vocal instruction. They actually made up a purse to that end. His progress has fully justified the conviction of their brotherly co-operation, for his voice never broadcast more successfully than last night. From the editorial department Sarge Clark, tenor, upheld the musical temperament of this important branch of the big newspaper. Marion Skilken sang for the adjustment department, and her popular numbers adjusted the blues of more than one listener-in.

Willard A. Graff, display advertising, felt more at home last night, as he played his ukulele and sang feature songs. On his last appearance he knocked over a canary-bird cage, fortunately not hurting the little golden-throated mascot of KHJ, but upsetting him to such an extent that tears almost came to his eyes and he could not sing after the mishap.

FUTURE PROSPECT

Alma Whitaker thus far has had microphonitis and has not talked through the awe-inspiring instrument, but we hope to have her next month.

Bill Henry, Sunday editor, gave another of his happy informal talks on "Sunshine and Blue Skies." If you plan to sleep on the ground during your vacation trip, ask Bill Henry how to make a hip hole. The neophyte of the program was Elvia Allman, who finished her first day's employment with the radio department by giving musical readings and recitations, "Is You," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and "He Met He on the Stairs," evoked much mirth from the visitors' gallery. Other members of the radio department who added variety and color were Mona Content, concert pianist, who played "Second Rhapsody," by Brahms, and Chopin's "Impromptu in E Sharp Minor," and E. K. Barnes, assistant manager, who deftly handled the Celeste. The little French instrument which was sent to KHJ by the Southern California Music Company, is used nightly as an introduction to the children's hour. Hardly a day passes without phone messages inquiring just what the Celeste is.

YOUR VACATION

Nearly everyone consults The Times Resort, Travel and Hotel Page before deciding on vacation plans. For years this feature of The Times has been the most complete vacation guide in Southern California. If you wish a lively time, with something doing every minute, or a quiet restful spot, or something betwixt and between, you'll find interesting suggestions on this page which appears daily and Sunday in The Times.

SAXOPHONE ARTISTE

Kathryne Thompson preceded the "All-Times" program, specializing on her own compositions for saxophone. No more loyal supporter of radio broadcast is to be found than this composer who is at the head of the Kathryne Thompson School of Saxophone. Her latest undertaking is the preparation of a course of saxophone lessons for the blind, using the Braille System. When "thirty" came for the Times employees, Jerry Grant's King's Dance Palace Orchestra broadcast an hour of syncopation.

The noon hour also brought popular dance music with Le Roy Parry and his entertainers augmented by the weekly appearance of June Parker, "blue" singer, and songs by Gabriel Ruiz and his ukulele.

Feature guests of the "Children's Hour" were two talented daughters of Southern Russia, Raiya Fidler and Gene Fidler whose parents are now American citizens. It was their first public appearance in Southern California, as they are on their way to Philadelphia with their mother, Vera Fidler, a pianist who has won renown on the concert stage in Southern Russia and in California and Hawaii. In the Quaker city they will continue their studies under Joseph Hoffman.

TALENTED JUVENILES

The younger of the two, Gene, although but 9 years of age, has already won with her talent warm commendation from celebrated pianists who have heard her perform. The technique of Raiya, 14, shows marked achievement for one so young. They are descendants of a long line of lyric musicians. Their ancestors played in the courts and palaces of princes and kings, but the daughters of the seventh generation now delight democratic audiences in free America. And they are perhaps happiest of all.

Two little tots, 5 years of age, who never fail to warm the hearts of listeners-in are Lois Jane Campbell, a pupil of Winifred Pollard, and Patricia R. Eccleston, "Little Daffodil." Dick Winslow, boy reporter, has a big following and has been broadcasting from The Times studio for almost three years. Little Glen Pitts first learned to love radio at the Orthopaedic Hospital. The day he was released from his bed of suffering he was carried into KHJ. Now he walks in, always with a smile and a bunch of flowers. We all love the little fellow.

June Hellewell, accompanied by Katherine Thompson, played saxophone solos. Though totally blind, she broadcast a splendid demonstration of what can be accomplished in fifteen lessons on the saxophone.

The educational phase of radio was presented yesterday by Dr. Mars Baumgardt in his weekly talk on astronomy, Fred C. McNabb, garden expert, who for three years has fostered home gardening, and R. H. Kee, membership secretary of the Y.M.C.A., with readings from the Scripture.

Woman Tells of Attack in Baldwin Hills

Deputy Sheriffs Sepulveda and Mendoza yesterday began an investigation of a story told by Mrs. Margarita Garcia, 65 years of age, of Mesa Drive and Adams street, that she had been attacked by an unidentified man in the Baldwin Hills Monday.

The man, approaching from behind, threw a shawl over her head and about her neck, searched her for money and then attacked her, she declared, then bound her and left her lying on a brush pile. She freed herself by struggling and reached the home of her son-in-law, Lorenzo Martinez. In her struggle with the man, she said, she bit him on the hand, drawing blood.

The spot was not far from where the bodies of the two murdered Martin girls were found.

COUNCILMAN GIVES ETIQUETTE LESSON

Councilman Ash of the Fourteenth District yesterday administered a lesson in etiquette, he said, when he arrived at the City Hall. Sitting in a crowded street car, he said, his foot happened to brush the trouser leg of a younger man standing before him and he apologized. "I'll knock your block off if you do it again," he said the man retorted. "Do it now," the Councilman said he replied, taking off his glasses and reaching for those of his opponent. The Councilman said he arose, siezed the stranger by his coat lapels and shook him. No blows were struck, but in the melee the stranger's glasses were broken. The man left the car, Councilman Ash declared, after other passengers had made caustic comments on his lack of manners.

ELEPHANTS GRAFTED ON WILD WEST

Zelma Zimmerman and Pachyderm Train

ELEPHANTS with a wild West—it is the 101 Ranch Real Wild show? Certainly—why not, when West and Great Far East, with oriental spectacles featured in its arena. What would Hindus and Burmese do without a few elephants?

As the 101 Ranch, coming to Washington and Grand, Los Angeles, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 13, 20 and 21, carries 1400 persons of all nations, including the imperial Russian Cossack circus from the London Olympia, it must have animals characteristic of many nationalities. Hence the elephants, camels, sacred cows, buffalo, oxen, longhorn steers, Egyptian donkeys, Arabian stallions and bronchos. These total 600.

Chief Praises Two Officers in Hold-up Case

Police Officer A. J. Jensen of the Central Division and Detective-Lieutenant Oscar Bayer were personally commended by Police Chief Davis at the regular weekly meeting of division commanders yesterday for meritorious and courageous conduct the 3rd inst., in capturing two men suspected of trying to hold up the jewelry establishment of F. B. Dukeman at Fourth and Broadway.

The two suspects fled down the stairs when Dukeman resisted, and Jensen captured one after a chase the fugutive drawing his revolver. The other was arrested by Bayer after that officer had trailed a woman who had called at the station to see the jailed suspect, it was reported.

Jensen has captured six hold-up men in his service of less than five years. Bayer won fame in a battle with bank bandits.

Cross-Bill of Cartoonist in Suit Withdrawn

Through an agreement reached yesterday in Judge Wood's court, Charles E. Philippi, cartoonist, withdrew his cross-complaint for divorce to the suit of his wife, Dixie Philippi, known on the screen as Dixie Lamont, and Mrs. Philippi then was granted a decree after she had amended her suit for separate maintenance to one for divorce.

It was also agreed that Philippi give his wife half of the community property, valued at $10,000, and pay her alimony of $40 a month for one year.

With the withdrawal of Philippi's cross-complaint Kenneth Sanderson, known on the screen as Buddie Roosevelt, who had been named co-respondent by Philippi, was automatically cleared of the charge made against him.

THOMAS TOURISTS ARRIVE

Approximately fifty tourists, comprising a Thomas tour party, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday over the coast line of the Southern Pacific from the north. The party, which has been visiting in the Northwest, occupied two special cars on the train and is to visit in Los Angeles for some time.

RETURN GOODWIN TO CITY

Actor-Priest and Slaying Suspect Faces Local Bank Officials for Identification

First steps toward definitely identifying Phillip A. Goodwin, actor-priest of the American Catholic Church, who is being held in Santa Ana to face trial on the charge of murdering Joseph J. Patterson, local stock broker, as the man who cashed checks apparently signed by Patterson, were taken yesterday when the prisoner was brought here to face bank officials through whom the checks are said to have been negotiated. The slayer-suspect will again be brought to Los Angeles today for further identification in his asserted financial activities that officers say wiped out the bank account of the murdered stock broker.

Goodwin was escorted here from the Santa Ana jail by Chief Criminal Deputy McClellan of Orange county and returned there last night. Complete identification was not effected yesterday owing to inability of the officer to reach all the bank employees who are said to have come in contact with Goodwin in his asserted banking activities.

According to Orange county authorities, Goodwin forged the name of Patterson to several checks made to the order of Sam Reador and these were then deposited to the credit of the payee, said by officers to have been Goodwin. The Reador account was then closed out on checks, the majority which were drawn to the order of Goodwin, police say.

Goodwin still hints, authorities say, that the murder of Patterson, whose badly burned body was found in Santa Ana Canyon last March a few days after he had disappeared, rests on the shoulders of Albert Gaines—known as Cowboy Abe Dewey—who is still being sought by the police.

The actor-priest, who was arrested in a New York vaudeville artists' club several weeks ago, was returned to Orange county early this week by Deputy Sheriff Moncrief of Santa Ana and Deputy Sheriff Davidson of Los Angeles.

Thank You!

THE formal opening of the new Schwabacher-Frey store is over. Now we wish to thank our many friends who celebrated with us on Tuesday...thank them for their visit...for their best wishes...for their support.

—and to those who were unable to be with us on opening day, we wish to extend an invitation to call at their convenience...to inspect the many departments of this new store—the finest store of its kind in the United States.

TIP LEADS POLICE TO TIA JUANA

Shipley Sought on Border for Shooting of Guard at Jackie Coogan Home

Police officers late yesterday sped toward the Mexican border on a "hot tip" purporting to disclose the whereabouts of Herman Everett Shipley, alias Don McCrae, former chauffeur for Jackie Coogan's parents, who is wanted for the shooting of Joseph Block, special watchman, in a gun battle on the lawn of the Coogan home last Tuesday morning. Although police refused to divulge their destination, it was generally rumored Shipley has been seen in Tia Juana.

Physicians at the Good Samaritan Hospital stated last evening that Block has had a turn for the better and now is believed to have a good chance to recover. He was shot three times, the shots being fired, he told police, by Shipley.

The officers from the Hollywood Division have been assigned to guard the Coogan home during the search for Shipley. It is feared that the discharged chauffeur may attempt to injure members of the family, as he is said to have threatened them prior to the gun battle with Block.

Bitter Contest for Custody of Child Expected

What is expected to develop into a hotly contested court battle for the custody of little Barbara Jean Rice, 2 years of age, is expected to get under way in Judge Keeler's Juvenile Court this morning, when a hearing will be conducted on a writ of habeas corpus filed by Mrs. Herbert Ginich, mother of the child, in which she asks that she be awarded her child's custody.

The writ is directed at the child's parternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice, who are said now to have Barbara.

Mrs. Ginich, formerly Mrs. Jeanette Rice, asserted the child is the daughter of her and Garrett A. Rice, from whom she obtained an annulment in Judge Hollzer's court last July. According to Attorneys Cantillon and Hamilton, counsel for Mrs. Ginich, it was agreed that Rice might have the custody of two older children, but that Mrs. Ginich was to have the custody of Barbara.

Rice was said to have left the State with the two older children after leaving Barbara in care of his parents. Mrs. Ginich charged that she had demanded that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rice surrender the child to her, but they were declared to have failed to do so.

Witness Fined for Contempt During Trial

George Hobran, principal witness for the State in the trial of Nick Buconich, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, yesterday was fined $100 and sentenced to serve five days in jail by Judge Burnell after the court held Hobran guilty of contempt for calling Buconich a liar during an open session of court.

The incident occurred during the testimony of Buconich, who is asserted to have assaulted Hobran with a billiard cue, January 19, 1924.

Buconich had testified he had given $20 to Hobran for a suit of clothing and Hobran jumped to his feet in the courtroom.

Judge Burnell gave Hobran two days in which to pay the fine and made the provision that if the fine is not paid Hobran will serve an additional day in jail for each $2 of the fine.

TALE OF TWO SISTERS RELATED IN COURT

A tale of two sisters contesting for the affections of C. J. Colby, Long Beach business man, while Colby's wife protested ineffectually from the side lines was told before Judge Hollzer yesterday by Mrs. Brenda Colby, who was granted a divorce on the strength of her narrative. "This is a most amazing situation," Judge Hollzer exclaimed when Mrs. Colby told him that the husband of one of the sisters permitted her to stay out with Colby until 5:30 one morning. The "other women" in the case were Mrs. Julia Buffom, wife of Harry Buffum, and her sister, Mrs. Geraldine Seawell, according to Mrs. Colby. Mrs. Seawell, Mrs. Colby visited her home several her absence.

ACTRESS GRANTED DECREE OF DIVORCE

Louise Fazenda

When Louise Fazenda, film actress, suspected the conduct of her husband, Noel M. Smith, she did not sit with her hands folded and wait for him to come home, it developed yesterday when she appeared before Judge Hollzer, told her tale and obtained a divorce.

She went right out, hopped into her car and followed him, Miss Fazenda said.

"But he had a faster car than I did, so I never caught him," she added ruefully.

This was merely by way of explanation of the event that Miss Fazenda cited as her cause of action, Smith's desertion of her on August 14, 1923.

"One night he just left and he never came back," she said. "He had been kind of working up to this for a long time, staying out nights later and later.

"Do you know where he went evenings?" asked her attorney, E. T. McGann.

"No, his car was too fast for me. I tried to follow him but I could not keep up," was the reply.

Miss Fazenda told Judge Hollzer she was married March 7, 1919, in Santa Ana. Her story was corroborated by her father, James K. Fazenda, and her mother. Smith is a film director.

It was at this time that Thomas Quinn, his eldest son, became the fourth Earl. He had no male descendants. In 1861, records show, according to the attorney, Hanna Porter and Joseph Riordan were married in Nova Scotia, formerly the Country of Arcadia.

Riordan, formerly a resident of Nova Scotia, came to California from Lynn, Mass., about twenty years ago, he states. He is a former British subject and now a naturalized American citizen.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED

The aged Pasadena attorney was convicted last October of embezzlement on charges preferred by Miss Clara Burg, 61 years of age, of Pasadena, that he defrauded her of more than $8000 worth of property while representing her in a lawsuit. The property was embezzled, it was charged, after his client had given it into his hands in the course of the proceedings. The case is at present before the Second Appellate Division, District Court of Appeals, following an appeal taken by Riordan. He was convicted after a jury trial in Judge Burnell's court.

With the death of Lord Dunraven it was announced his estate, which among other things includes a $650,000 yacht a 10,000-acre estate in Ireland, a country home in Glamorganshire, and Adare Manor, county of Limerick, reverts to Col. W. H. Wyndham-Quinn, a cousin.

INSURANCE COST AT HARBOR CUT

Saving of $25,957.52 for City Reported

Further Reduction in Rate Declared Possible

Local Coast Guard Praised by Prohibition Chief

The Harbor Department has just effected a saving of $25,957.52 in premiums yearly on insurance carried on city harbor properties, according to Commissioner Burge's report yesterday to the Harbor Board. Coverage has been reduced more than a million dollars to $6,889,609.48, accounting for part of the saving. The rest is due to a reduction in insurance rates from $1 to 87 cents on each $100 valuation, granted by the Board of Underwriters recently, at the instance of Burge's committee, he reported.

The committee, which has been working on the subject since last fall, consists of Burge, Commissioner Souden, General Manager Spear, Secretary Starr, Controller Edwards and Charles Brough, the latter acting for the Board of Underwriters.

The reduction in rates was effected, Burge reported, through the separation of inflammable from noninflammable properties such as the Badger avenue bridge, heretofore carried under a blanket clause.

A further rate reduction to 75 cents is possible, Burge reported, provided for the Harbor Department will follow the recommendations of the Board of Fire Underwriters and install a central signalling system, intended to expedite alarms in case of fire.

A claim for several years of back salary yesterday was filed with the board by Walter H. Mitchell, through Clarence L. Kincaid, his attorney. Mitchell asserts he was hired and discharged during Edgar McKee's administration of the Harbor Department, and later hired and discharged again, but never in accordance with civil service requirements. His claims total several thousand dollars.

COL. R. E. FRITH AT RUM CHASERS' BASE

Col. R. E. Frith, Federal prohibition administrator for Southern California and Nevada, yesterday paid a visit to section base 17 of the United States Coast Guard, Los Angeles Harbor. The base comprises eight small chasers and two cutters and is under command of Commander L. E. Covell. It covers the California shore line from Point Concepcion to the Mexican border. Col. Frith expressed himself as highly pleased with the co-operation accorded his forces by the local base in curtailing liquor importations, and also lauded the efficiency of the base personnel.

The Japanese liner Siberia Maru of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is due from Yokohama via San Francisco today, to discharge oriental freight and pick up local cargo and passengers for the Orient. She has been booked to embark more than two hundred Los Angeles passengers, most of whom are Japanese, bound home either to remain or to visit and return. She will sail for the Bay City and Japan tomorrow.

James Otis's three-masted schooner Sequoia has been chartered to the Standard Picture Corporation of Hollywood for use in filming a sea picture. The craft has been put under the command of Capt. Harry Miller, and will sail for Santa Monica today with more than thirty motion picture actors aboard. She will be gone about a week.

The Admiral liner Ruth Alexander has been booked for another excursion to Ensenada, Lower California, over the Labor Day week-end. The ship will leave her dock at Wilmington at 10 p.m., September 3, next, and arrive back at 5 p.m., September 6, affording a thirty-six-hour stay at the Mexican resort. Admiral Line ships have conducted four successful excursions to the Lower California port recently, several hundred men and women taking passage on each.

The American Navy tanker Ramapo is due back today from a trip to Guantanamo, Cuba, with 78,060 barrels of fuel oil for the Navy. She will remain here until the 26th inst., when she will sail again for Guantanamo with a like cargo. The fuel is to be stored for use during the concentration of the scouting and battle fleets in the Caribbean this winter.

The lumber steamer Horace X. Baxter, which sailed from Everett two days ago, is due Sunday, with 1,500,000 feet of poles for the J. H. Baxter & Co.'s new creosoting plant at Long Beach Harbor.

Two more ships shortly are to be added to what seems an endless increase in bottoms for the McCormick Steamship Company, whose ramifications on sea lanes are developing daily. The latest additions are the steamers Red Bird and the Redman. They are being turned over by the Munson Steamship Company to the Munson-McCormick service for operation in the intercoastal service. The former is scheduled to arrive at Los Angeles the 28th inst., and the latter September, 4, next. The additions were made necessary by increased demand for cargo space, according to M. A. Richley, local agent for the McCormick Line.

Two Ford ships will arrive simultaneously the 14th inst., the first time more than one of the motor car manufacturer's craft have been in port at one time, according to the Marine Exchange. The Oneida, a frequent caller here, is bringing automobile parts for the Los Angeles assembling plant, while the East Indian is to call for bunkers only, en route west around the world. The latter, recently Dieselized, and equipped with many modern nautical devices, is making her maiden call at this port.

The Shipping Board freighter West Honaker, built by the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation, is destined to be one of the first vessels to complete conversion to Diesel, of the government's program for conversion of fourteen such vessels. She is being equipped by the Fore River plant of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, and will be ready for her sea trial late in October. The West Cussets, built by the same local yards, also being converted, will follow the West Honaker out of the eastern yards a few weeks later. The fourteen craft were selected for conversion because of their general excellence in construction, and the picking of two local ships is regarded as reflecting credit upon the Los Angeles yards. The ships are 410 feet long, of 8600 tons deadweight, and were completed in 1920.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11. (AP)—The Dollar round-the-world steamer President Adams with a capacity list of travelers on board arrived here from New York today. She will remain in San Francisco until Saturday and then proceed on her world-girdling trip.

Water-transported cargo handled through the port of San Francisco is increasing monthly, according to figures released today by William A. Sherman, president of the Harbor Board Commission. Cargo aggregating 959,025 tons was handled here during the month of July. This is an increase of about 50,000 tons over the corresponding period last year and approximately the same increase over the previous month this year.

A local representative of one of the conference intercoastal lines announced today that the present rate on steel westbound would soon be cut considerably.

SEATTLE, Aug. 11.—Bringing a large shipment of sulphur from Gulf ports the steamer Commercial Guide is expected here the 19th inst. After discharging the vessel proceeds to Ketchikan, Alaska, where she loads 2,500,000 feet of spruce lumber for New York. She is one of the largest freight carriers ever routed to Southeastern Alaska.

After loading 1200 tons of canned goods and general cargo here, the steamer Charles Christenson shifts tonight to Tacoma to load 4,000,000 feet of lumber. The vessel was here two months undergoing an overhauling and installation of new cargo booms.

The British steamer Min, which arrived here today, loads 500,000 feet of lumber for Australia. She carries a total of 4,500,000 feet and had loaded at other Puget Sound and British Columbia ports. She leaves tomorrow for Bellingham to load.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 11.—The Yonan Maru is en route upstream to Portland in tow of the tug Oneonta. The steamer which broke its tail shaft while 1400 miles northwest of the Columbia River will be drydocked tomorrow. It will likely be ready to start loading wheat Saturday morning. The vessel will take 6000 tons here.

The Yogen Maru, a fleet mate, which picked up the Yonan Maru, the 1st inst., and reached Astoria with the crippled steamer Tuesday, started loading lumber at Longview today.

Lumber is also being loaded by the Yojin Maru, another vessel of the same house flag, which is at Rainier.

The General Steamship Corporation is agent for the three vessels, which are operated by the Ocean Transport Company.

TACOMA, Aug. 11.—The Munson-McCormick liner Munsomo arrived from down sound this morning to load lumber for Cuba and the Atlantic Coast. The ship took 500,000 feet and is to sail for Vancouver late tonight.

SCRUB BRUSH WINS NICHE IN MUSEUM

MAHOMETAN BATHING PLAQUES INCLUDE ROUGH EARTHENWARE FOR RUBBING SKIN

The scrubbing brush as a work of art has come into its own at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, where the Near Eastern collection has been increased by a rare group of thirteen Mahometan bathing plaques of the eleventh to thirteenth century. The plaques, made of variously shaped earthenware with decorations in relief, were found in ruins of public baths in Mesopotamia and Persia.

For a long time little was known about the provenance and use of the curious tile-like objects. Lately it has been learned that they were used for rubbing the skin while bathing. For this purpose the undecorated side of the plaques was roughened by adding small stone chips to the clay before firing.

The plaques are on view in the room of Recent Accessions. Each one shows a different ornamentation in low relief. For the decoration special molds and stamps were employed. These were probably made by artist-sculptors and were objects of artistic admiration as well as of household utility.

The decorations show high artistic quality, the motifs consisting of animals, birds, palmettes in interlacing linear pattern. Several are circular, three or four inches in diameter. One is decorated by an animal group, a lion attacking an ox; another shows an interesting decoration consisting of a sphinx or centaur, whose tail ends in a dragon's head contained in a circular medallion surrounded by zigzag points and dots.—[New York Herald Tribune.

NEGRO KILLER SHOT TO DEATH BY LYNCH MOB

LOUISVILLE (Ark.) Aug. 11. (AP)—Judge Powell, negro slayer of Deputy Sheriff Jamie Dooley late today, was taken from two deputy sheriffs and his body riddled with bullets by a mob of 500 men, most of whom had formed parts of posses hunting the negro.

COMPLACENT IGNORANCE

"They are the most backward people in the country, but they think themselves the most advanced. Well, ignorance is always satisfied."

Peter Ericson McCall, the Denver ethnologist, was talking about a colony of illiterate mountaineers. He went on:

"A friend of mine was summering in the mountains. One day, when the clock struck twelve, the mountain hotelkeeper yawned and said from his armchair:

"'Noon. Noon all over the world.'

"'No, Henry, you're wrong there,' said my friend. 'It's 7 o'clock at night now in Constantinople, 6:30 in the morning in Honolulu, 5 o'clock in the afternoon in London, 10:30 at night in—'

'But Henry the hotel man interrupted my friend with another yawn.

"'Well,' he said, 'thanks to the Almighty anyhow I live in a town whar noon's noon.'"—[Exchange.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT

By the Sentry on His Beat

With the opening yesterday of headquarters for the women's division of the Richardson-for-Governor Southern California Citizens' Committee in the Hayward Hotel definite plans were consummated for a campaign among the women that will reach every phase of social and industrial life in Southern California, according to Mrs. G. Edward Winn, vice-chairman of the general committee.

The headquarters will be in direct charge of Nellie Kelley, well known in political and club circles, having been in charge of organization work for the Republican Women's Federation for some time; while various women throughout the Southland will daily donate their time to act as hostesses at the headquarters.

Organization meetings will be conducted among the women, with prominent volunteer speakers to deliver addresses. These speakers will carry a message designed particularly to call the women's attention to the humanitarian work Gov. Richardson is responsible for.

"The women of California have the right to know that Gov. Richardson has been responsible for more money being spent on State institutions like the Home for the Blind and the State hospitals, than any other Governor in the history of this State," Mrs. Kelley declared today; "and we propose to do all in our power to see that they do know about it."

That Gov. Richardson will be renominated and re-elected by much larger majorities than in 1922 is the opinion of State Senator Ingram of Grass Valley, who is in Southern California on an automobile tour.

Senator Ingram has served two terms in the upper house of the Legislature and is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He is recognized as one of the constructive factors in the official life of the State and takes a broad interest in the general affairs of the commonwealth. Senator Ingram adds:

"Gov. Richardson is very strong throughout the northern and central sections, and while I do not claim to be so familiar with political conditions in the South, my observations have confirmed my belief that the Governor is certain to be returned. The people of the State are fortunate in having the prospect of Gov. Richardson on guard for another four years."

An estimate shows that 90 per cent of the newspaper editors of Southern California are supporting the candidacy of Frank F. Merriam for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, according to the statement yesterday of Sam Greene, former secretary of the Southern California Editorial Association. Mr. Greene declared that there is a widespread belief in Merriam among the people in Southern California who are not members of organizations or political bodies, but who rely on him because of his sixteen years' experience in the newspaper business and his long term of service in the Legislature and the field of public affairs.

Fourteen indorsements of the candidacy of Judge Albert Lee Stephens, who is seeking re-election to the Superior Court, were announced yesterday by Judge Stephens's campaign committee. The organizations that announced their support are Los Angeles County Bar Association, the Blackstone Club, California Jewish Voice, Central Labor Council, Jugo-Slav Central League, Lorena Heights Club, Republican Protective League, Sixty-fourth Assembly Republican Club, Twelfth Ward Republican Club, Twelfth District Civic League, the Civic Federation of Los Angeles County, the Harmony League of Republican Clubs, the United Veterans of the Republic and the Colored Nonpartisan League.

Indorsement of Judge Frederick C. Valentine, a candidate for re-election to the Superior Court, has come from the Long Beach Bar Association, it was announced yesterday by the Valentine campaign committee, which is directed by former Judge Dana R. Weller. Judge Valentine is foregoing his vacation this year, it was announced, due to the fact that his calendar is crowded and that he substitutes in the forenoon as presiding judge.

A daily addition of names of men and women prominent in social, club and political life in the Bay District is being made to the roster of the Santa Monica Shortridge-for-Senator Club, it was stated yesterday. Many women, who take an interest in national issues vital to California, are enrolling and working in behalf of Senator Shortridge, seeking his renomination in the Republican primaries.

Ralph L. Criswell, Republican candidate for Congress from the Tenth District, addressed a meeting of the Beverly Hills Realty Board during luncheon yesterday at the Beverly Hills Hotel, on the need of an adequate domestic water supply to permit the growth of Los Angeles to continue unhampered.

Los Angeles and Southern California have been unjustly and unlawfully treated by both Congress and the California Legislature in respect to reapportionment of those bodies, it was declared in a statement issued by Joe Crail, candidate for the Tenth District Republican Congressional nomination, supporting the campaigns for reapportionment of both the national and State legislatures.

"Congress owes it to Southern California to enact the Federal reapportionment legislation for which the Constitution of the United States so specifically provides, and most certainly the State Legislature has not paid a similar debt on State redistricting," said Mr. Crail.

"It goes without saying that I will support Congressional reapportionment to the limit of my resources if I am sent to Washington, and I wish to say that I am in hearty accord with the purpose of the initiative measure for legislative reapportionment to be placed before California voters at the November election."

Buron Fitts, chief deputy District Attorney of Los Angels county, has received the indorsement of the Bay District Civic Club in his race for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor, it was made known yesterday by the club's president, Claude H. Hartman. Mr. Fitts was commended for his efficient record in the District Attorney's office and for his efforts in behalf of disabled war veterans in the club's indorsement. David P. Barrows of Berkeley, former president of the University of California, and major-general commanding the Fortieth Division, National Guard, has come out with a strong indorsement of Buron Fitts.

Former Assemblyman Clarence W. Morris, in charge of the northern headquarters for Frank K. Merriam, Republican candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, says: "The consensus of opinion is that Mr. Merriam should be overwhelmingly elected Lieutenant-Governor. The chief reasons, as explained by men, women and organizations that send indorsements in here, are because he strongly favors the development of the State school and educational program; the maintenance and extensions of the highway system; economy in the business of government; support of all measures pertaining to crime suppression and prevention, and effective laws both to effect cures of drug addicts and to curb the operation of those who traffic in narcotics."

In the hope of gaining Democratic support in California for his Presidential candidacy in 1928, Al Smith, New York's wet Governor, has joined forces with wet interests in this State to bring about repeal of the Wright Act, thereby nullifying enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, Charles H. Randall, candidate for Congress from the Ninth District, charged at a prohibition rally at the Fremont Baptist Church, Pasadena.

William Mulholland, veteran chief engineer of the Municipal Water Department and builder of the Owens Valley-Los Angeles Aqueduct, last night issued a public statement calling upon the voters of the Tenth District to send Ralph L. Criswell Republican candidate, to Congress.

Mr. Mulholland said:

"I'd like to see Ralph Criswell Congressman from this district. None of his opponents could possibly be as well equipped as he is to do the work ahead. And there has never been a time in the history of Los Angeles when there was such important work to be done in Washington.

"I consider Ralph Criswell as exceptionally qualified to be our representative in Congress. He has the training, the intimate knowledge of every angle of the Boulder Canyon project, the acquaintance and standing in Washington to get results."

Judge Jesse W. Curtis, associate justice of the Supreme Court of California and candidate to succeed himself at the primaries the 31st inst., left last night for San Diego to attend several luncheons to be held in his honor and also to look after his campaign activities in that section of the State.

When Judge Curtis arrived in Los Angeles last Monday it was the first time he had left his judicial duties since he took the oath of office. During his two days' sojourn in Los Angeles he was the guest of honor at a luncheon at 401 South Broadway, which was attended by one of the most prominent gatherings seen at such an affair in Los Angeles in some time.

The justice will leave San Diego tomorrow for Los Angeles, where he will remain for a brief stay. He is scheduled to speak at San Bernardino Saturday. He will return to San Francisco Sunday.

According to H. E. Mutchler, secretary of the Curtis campaign committee, this probably will be the last visit to the Southland that Judge Curtis will make until after the primaries. It was said, however, that he may change his plans.

Letters of indorsement continue to pour into his campaign headquarters and indications point to a tremendous support of Judge Curtis's candidacy from many war associations throughout the State. Among the prominent individuals who have recently given their indorsement to Judge Curtis are Marco Hellman, William Gibbs McAdoo, Frank P. Flint and S. W. McNabb.

Prominent Los Angeles attorneys who this week gave indorsement to the campaign of Justice Frederick W. Houser for an associate justiceship of the State Supreme Court, have made a total of more than 3000 lawyers who are sponsoring his judicial elevation.

More than $100,000,000 will be expended by Los Angeles county in the next four years in flood control, road improvements, hospitals and other institutions, and unless this vast sum is administered in a thoroughly businesslike manner, losses to the taxpayers will result. This was the statement of Sidney T. Graves, candidate for Supervisor from the Third District, in a talk yesterday before a luncheon meeting of the City Club. Graves's minute knowledge of county affairs and the duties of a Supervisor brought comment from his hearers. He pledged a "business administration" with a "dollar's value for every dollar spent."

Arthur Alber, candidate for the Assembly from the Sixty-third District, which includes Hollywood and the Wilshire district, will be one of the speakers at a mass meeting tonight of ex-servicemen at the Hollywood clubhouse of the American Legion. Alber is a prominent member of the Legion and a director of the Hollywood Stadium committee.

Campaign headquarters of Walter J. Little, candidate for re-election to the Assembly from the Sixty-second Assembly District, announced many indorsements of Mr. Little's candidacy. Making an appeal for his re-election upon the basis that only by his retention in the Legislature can Los Angeles county be assured of continued representation on the important Colorado River Commission, the following organizations and individuals have pledged their support:

Republican County Central Committee, Sixty-second District, Young Men's Republican League of Los Angeles county, Hyde Park Commercial Club, United War Veterans of the Republic, Los Angeles and Southern California Retail Druggists' Association.

Harris W. Taft, Walter Brinkop, Judge Al McDonald, Thomas W Aisbitt, John M. Boyle, Rev. J. D. H. Browne, Judge Collamer A. Bridge, Samuel V. Carlisle, Harry Culver, Samuel Berkeley, Judge John I. UNIQUE HOTEL OPENS SOON

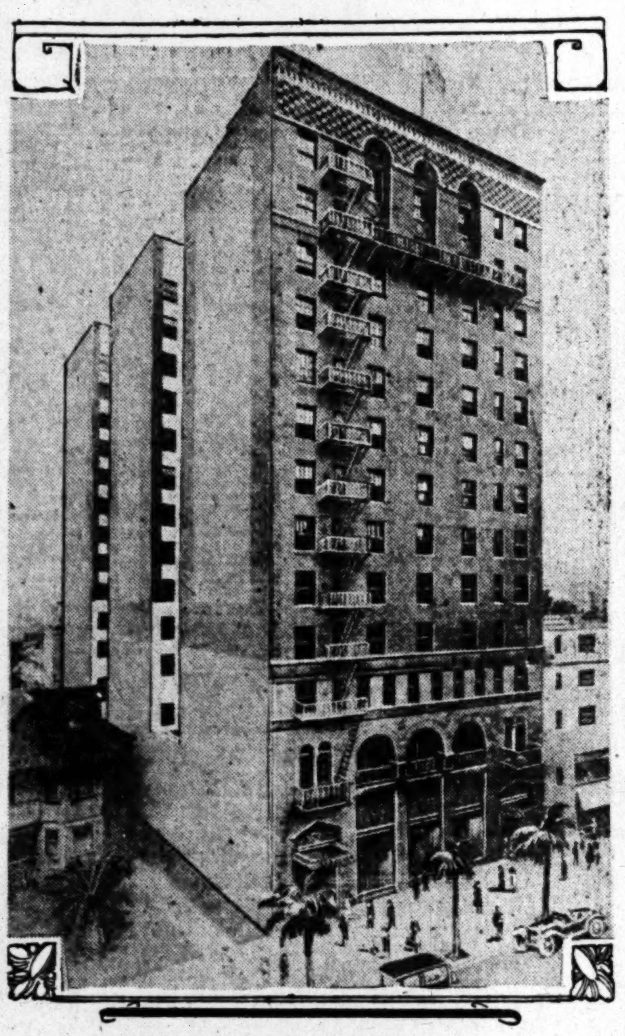
Project Built and Operated by Women



Architect's Drawing of the Figueroa

UNIQUE in the annals of hotel history in the United States and in the world, as far as can be ascertained, is the Hotel Figueroa, 939 South Figueroa street, which is to be formally opened Saturday night with a dinner-dance. It is the largest project of its kind to be financed, built, owned, and operated by women. The approximate cost of the building is $1,500,000. It is limit height, fireproof, Class A structure, with 400 rooms.

The profits derived from the hotel will be used eventually to finance the building of a working-girls' hotel. Business, professional and traveling women will be the especial concern of the hotel, although three floors will be for men and their families. Every modern convenience is embodied in the building, and a high degree of service and comfort for its guests is the aim of the management.

Approximately 1000 invitations have been issued for the opening. The guests will be entertained during dinner by a Spanish orchestra in costume, Spanish dancers and singers, and the Prior Moore Orchestra will furnish the necessary rhythm for dancing.

Tomorrow night there will be a preliminary dinner for the board of directors, of which Mrs. Chester C. Ashley is president, and the building committee, at which time official inspection will take place. On next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the hotel will be open from 3 to 10 p.m., for public inspection, with tea being served in the patio. Guides will show visitors about.

Mrs. Maude N. Bouldin is the managing director. Stanton, Reed and Hibbard were the architects, builders and contractors, and it was furnished by D. M. Kelley of Barker Brothers.

Board Awards New City Hall Plumbing Job

The Board of Public Works yesterday awarded the contract for the plumbing, drainage, sprinkler system and gas fittings in the new $5,000,000 City Hall to Lohman Brothers, whose bid was $158,315. This bid was the lowest of the five received, Architect Austin reported to the board. The other bidders were Coony & Winterbottom, Thomas Haverty Company, Hickman Brothers, and the Turner Company.

The new bids were opened by the board last Monday and sent to the architects for examination and report. This was the second advertisement for plumbing bids, the first set of bids being rejected and the specifications changed, on recommendation of the architects. On the first set of bids, the low bids were Thomas Haverty Company, $177,685 and the Turner Company, $176,000.

Autoist Afoot in Tunnel Meets Serious Injury

George F. Kissam, 23 years of age, is in the Methodist Hospital with a skull fracture as a result of an unusual accident yesterday in the Second-street tunnel.

Kissam was driving his car through the tunnel when it stopped. He had exhausted his supply of gasoline. He set out for a near-by oil station and was returning when he became confused in the darkness and ran into an automobile driven by Merle Mosher of 439 North Myrtle avenue, Monrovia.

Kissam lives at 223 West Queen street, Inglewood. He was treated first at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Renfrew, who pronounced his injury serious. Later Kissam was removed to the Methodist Hospital.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES TO ATTEND BARBECUE

Several hundred employees of the Los Angeles Division of the Southern Pacific Company are to attend a picnic and barbecue Sunday at Oak Park, Santa Barbara, under auspices of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station employees. All Los Angeles division employees of the railroad have been invited to attend the outing and the Southern Pacific has arranged to run a special train for the affair. Events at the park will include a baseball game between the Southern Pacific and the All-Star teams.

Roach to Build 'Dude Ranch' on New Holdings

Negotiations have just been completed whereby Hal Roach, motion-picture producer, becomes the owner of a large ranch near Los Vegas, Nev., which he expects to convert into a "dude ranch" de luxe.

HAL ROACH

Roach, who is an ardent sportsman, states the ranch is located in the heart of a veritable hunters' paradise, and that fishing conditions are ideal. He expects to improve the property extensively, installing golf courses, swimming pools, airplane landings and other accessories of modern life, to blend with the rough and rugged environment nature has supplied for the vacationing "dudes."

Should occasion warrant, Roach also expects to utilize the scenic attractions of the ranch as backgrounds for motion pictures, and he intends to establish thereon a permanent location camp for his own units as well as other motion-picture outfits.

EIGHT NEW COURSES FOR BUSINESS SCHOOLS

Night courses in corporation accounting, credits and collections, systems, corporation finance, foreign trade, business organization, life insurance salesmanship, business law, economics, advertising and city planning and zoning are scheduled for the fall quarter of metropolitan college, University of Southern California to open in September.

Other commerce courses to be given in the University of Southern California downtown evening school beginning next month include traffic management, purchasing and stores, California real estate law and real estate methods and advanced accounting.

FORD TO CONDUCT

Lincoln Park Concert to Offer Special Features

The Sunday concert at Lincoln Park, scheduled for 1:30 p.m., will be under the personal direction of Glendon Ford, acting as guest conductor for the entire program. Mr. Ford has been a feature soloist with the Roberts Golden State Band for the past six seasons.

The band will offer as special features Harry Coe and Murray Teck in a group of popular song selections, accompanied by the brass ensemble. Philip T. Cuthbert, cornet soloist, will play a series of request numbers as the featured instrumental offering. The complete ensemble program to be presented is as follows:

For Liberty March	Morris
Overture, "Poet and Peasant"	Von Suppe
Cornet soloist Philip T. Cuthbert
Intermezzo, "After Sunset"	Pryor
Atlantis, Suite in four parts	Safranek
Amorita selection	Laurendeau
Popular vocal duet numbers
Harry Coe and Murray Teck
"When Irish Eyes Are Smilin'"	Ball

"Star Spangled Banner"	Key

STAR WILL GO EAST

Virginia Valli to Shop and Work There; Jean Acker Says It Isn't So; George Jessel Leaves for New York

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Virginia Valli is looking forward to a trip to New York. Just as soon as ever she finishes playing the lead for Fox in Harry Carr's story, "A Royal Romance," she is going to pack her grips and be off to the East. It is just possible that, having gone so far, she may take a run over to Europe.

Virginia Valli

The star is expecting to do some shopping in New York both for clothes and for rare bric-a-brac with which to adorn her new Beverly Hills home. Incidentally she had a twinkle in her eye when she told us the purpose of her visit, and rumor says it is just possible that a sentimental interest attaches to her trip, though she wouldn't own up to it.

And that isn't all. It is likely that she may make a picture for First National while in the East, although she isn't at liberty to mention what it is.

In the meantime the star is delighted with the role she is to play in "A Royal Romance." It is that of an Apache girl in Montmartre, Paris, and will give her a splendid opportunity to act.

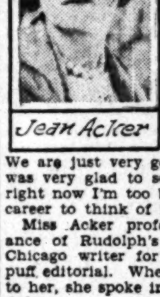
Lou Tellegen Director

Typewriters of the scenario geniuses are rattling and cameramen are working day and night taking screen tests of actors for forthcoming roles out at the Fox studios these days. Frank Borzage, for instance, is taking at the rate of ten tests a day with a view to casting the leads in "Seventh Heaven."

Lou Tellegen has been made a director, and is to have as his first picture "My Wife's Honor." Dolores Del Rio and Ben Bard have been cast in leading roles, Miss Del Rio as heroine and Bard as heavy. This isn't the first time that Tellegen has directed pictures by any means. His first effort was the making of a picture starring Sarah Bernhardt, with whom he formerly appeared on the stage. Later he directed a couple of pictures for Paramount, then the Lasky organization. Ben Bard at present is playing the Orpheum circuit but will soon finish his tour and return for the picture.

Remarriage Denied

Jen Acker will not remarry Rudolph Valentino. She said so herself yesterday, according to word just received at the Paramount Long Island studio, where she is playing in Adolphe Menjou's starring picture, "The Ace of Cads."



Jean Acker

"I was with Rudolph while he was in New York, and that's what started the rumors that we were to get married again," Miss Acker said between scenes. "That's all rot. We are just very good friends, and I was very glad to see him again, but right now I'm too busy with my own career to think of marrying anyone."

Miss Acker professed total ignorance of Rudolph's challenge of the Chicago writer for the pink powder puff editorial. When it was explained to her, she spoke in her ex-husband's defense.

"How silly," she exclaimed. "Anyone ought to know that every motion-picture player has to use a powder puff. And if Rudolph is serious about this fight, the newspaper man had better look out. Rudolph has a splendid physique and he is very powerful."

Syd Chaplin's Next

Syd Chaplin's next Warner Brothers' picture will be called "The Missing Link," they let us know at the studio yesterday. The story is an original by Charles Reisner and Darrell Zanuck. Reisner will direct, and casting is starting.

Syd Chaplin

Looking as brown as two berries, the star and two writers returned yesterday from Catalina, where they wisely went to get pep for the writing of their story, and where they did actually write it, though not letting this work interfere too much with the serious business of fishing and swimming.

Georgie Jessel to Flit

Bidding good-by to our beaches and mountains facing the desert heat, Georgie Jessel, who came West to make a picture for the Warners, is to start back to New York today accompanied by Mrs. Jessel.

Georgie is going back to "The Jazz Singer," on the stage, and won't see Hollywood again until next May, when he will return to film that play for the Warners.

Deep-Sea-Going Note

Four of Hollywood's handsomest are to be lost to Hollywood for a week at least. The quartet, composed of Richard Barthelmess, Ronald Colman, William Powell and Charles Lane, are going to take a cruise in Barthelmess' yacht up and down our California coast. And yo-heave-yo, those four jolly tars leave today.

The literati of the Paramount studios, likewise those not so literary, are all agog over the purchase of two new stories to be filmed by that organization.

Paramount Buys Stories

One of these stories is Percival Christopher Wren's "Beau Sabreur," which promises to be a success as sensational as his preceding work, "Beau Geste." The latter story is indeed a sequel to the former, and takes up the adventures of Major Henri Beaujolais of the Foreign Legion.

The other story is "The Cross-Eyed Captain," a story by Dixie Wilson. This will be a big-scale special production with an all-star cast, and will be made at the Long Island studio.

Percy Marmont Hopes

While not one single thing has been settled in the matter, I am delighted to know, and I know that you will be, that Percy Marmont and First National are very anxious to film "Sorrel and Son," a recent popular story. Also Gardner James wants to play the son in the story.

But Marmont is under contract to Paramount, and whether they will loan him to First National or not is not known. But here's hoping! This should be a great vehicle for the talented actor.

Mabel Normand to Work

The jolly Mabel Normand isn't to be allowed to party around Hollywood and environs much longer. She has been visiting a part of her thirty days' vacation at Norma Talmadge's home in Santa Monica, but is prepared to don the make-up again and start on the third of her series of Roach comedies. Actual production is slated to begin on the 19th inst.

MABEL NORMAND.

Goes Into Silence

Rosalie Mulhall would seem to be blessed by the gods above the average in artistic gifts. Miss Mulhall, who is well known as a lyric soprano of the concert stage, has turned scenario writer.

Her first script, tentatively entitled "Ladies First," written for Douglas MacLean, seems to have been so good that the picture people simply wouldn't let her go back to singing. So she has laid her voice up in cotton wool, and now is engaged in writing a story for a feminine star.

Jack Vosburgh in North

Jack Vosburgh, who took on the dignity of being named as John in the Egan Little Theater programs, when he became leading man in "White Collars," and later in "Charm," has left us flat. He has been engaged to play leads with the Henry Duffy Company in San Francisco and Seattle.

RATHER LONG HOURS FOR COLLEEN MOORE

SHE GETS TO STUDIO SO EARLY SHE COULD "OPEN UP"

Colleen Moore is putting in more hours at the First National studio than the carpenters and prop men working with her unit which is filming "Twinkletoes," a story of the London Limehouse district.

Miss Moore has established a 7:30 a.m. arrival time and after practicing for an hour in preparation for the dances she is to perform in the picture, she spends a half-hour making up.

After viewing "rushes" in the projection room from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. with Director Charles Brabin, she usually spends a half-hour dicussing the next day's work with Brabin and John McCormick, producer of all her pictures. With good luck, she starts for home at 7 p.m. ending an eleven and a half hours' day.

Kenneth Harlan, Gladys Brockwell and Tully Marshall are featured in support of Miss Moore in "Twinkletoes."

WALLACE CONCEIVED ESTHER TO BE TIMID

NIBLO PRAISES MAY McAVOY AS GENTLE HEROINE IN "BEN HUR"

"The most perfect interpretation of a difficult role" is the tribute paid May McAvoy by Fred Niblo, who directed "Ben Hur," now playing at the Biltmore.

Miss McAvoy, who portrays the feminine leading assignment of "Esther" in this production, is said to give a remarkable exhibition of her ability, as the character conceived by General Lew Wallace is timid to a fault, which is a direct contrast to the vivacious May.

However, her thorough understanding of the bounds in which she was restricted enabled her to restrain her enthusiasm to the extent that her delineation, according to Niblo, is in perfect harmony with the other members in the cast.

"WANING SEX" NEXT FEATURE FOR LOEW'S

"The Waning Sex," adapted from the noted stage play by Frederick and Fanny Hatton, is Norma Shearer's latest starring production, which is the feature attraction opening at Loew's State Friday. Conrad Nagel plays the leading masculine role opposite Miss Shearer.

"The Waning Sex" is a satirical comedy of New York life, and recently proved a hit on Broadway. The tale revolves about a "dual" of the "modern" woman seeking a career, and an old-fashioned "feminine" girl, rivals for a man's love.

"LADDIE" DIRECTOR TO FLY FROM CATALINA

J. Leo Meehan, director of "Laddie," the picturization of Gene Stratton-Porter's novel, will fly from Catalina to be present at the world premiere of the picture at the Figueroa Theater Friday night. Mr. Meehan is Mrs. Porter's son-in-law.

He will be accompanied by Gene Stratton, grand-daughter of the author, who is cast as Little Sister in "Laddie."

POLA AT RIALTO

Pola Negri—the one and only. Fascinating, fiery and gorgeous as always in "Good and Naughty," Miss Negri is said to achieve still another triumph. "Good and Naughty" is a comedy in which the twist of laughter is mixed with love intrigue. This latest picture of Pola Negri's opens at the Rialto tomorrow.

RUTH ROLAND RESTS

Ruth Roland and rest do not seem to go together. But at the present moment that is what Miss Roland is doing between pictures. She has just finished "The Masked Woman" for First National studios, which marks her return to the screen and is considering several offers, but cannot just decide which will make the best vehicle for her.

Home-for-Aged Licenses Given to Twenty-nine

Twenty-nine homes for the aged were licensed yesterday at a meeting of the State Board of Public Welfare. Five applications were denied on the grounds that conditions of the proposed homes are not the most desirable.

The board members discussed proposed amendments to the child adoption law with a view of suggesting changes for the better protection of children. No final decision was reached and the discussion will be continued today.

It was announced after the meeting that every effort will be made by the board to curtail people seeking private subscriptions for the unfortunate.

DRIVERLESS AUTO TO APPEAR ON STREET

ACTOR'S MACHINE, AFTER TRIP OF 148,000 MILES, TO SHOW OFF HERE

With no driver visible at the wheel, a motor car will travel up and down Broadway this noon. The car, in charge of Murray Lafayette, has just completed a trip across the continent and from Los Angeles will go northward to Vancouver.

Already the car, which belongs to Johnny Hines, motion-picture actor, has traveled 148,000 miles, a check of the speedometer at the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles shows.

This apparently driverless car has created much interest in other cities, and gave rise to stories that it was propelled by radio waves or special electrical device. Climbing Courthouse steps and other like feats has added variety to the "phantom" trip through traffic in several cities.

DEMAREST A HIT

OLSEN - JOHNSON - COWAN SHOW CHIEFLY HILARIOUS

By Edwin Schallert

It is "Olsen and Johnson in 'Monkey Business,'" but the name of William Demarest might also well be added to the major billing of the revue that opened last night at the Majestic Theater. For it is Demarest who will come as near to stopping the show as anybody because of the laughter that he wins for his burlesque 'cello act, and the travesty on the acrobatic act in which he shared honors with Johnson. Both of these turns are familiar, of course, to vaudeville-goers, but they are always sure-fire.

The new show, which follows Will Morrissey's Musical Hall Revue, is on the whole a bright and breezy one. A very fair summer weather show, though perhaps nothing more momentous. It is staged effectively and costumed quite prettily for a light type of entertainment, and except for a few spots moves at a pace that is lively.

Really to estimate this divertisement, devised by Lynn Cowan, requires a certain amount of imagination. Revues have habitually started off with shortcomings here, but they have in many cases picked up rapidly. The possibilities of this one are very promising, and when it is smoothed up, as well as built up, in the course of the next week or so it will probably register very favorably. favorably.

In interest, "Monkey Business" is primarily designed for hilarity. Though I have mentioned Demarest especially, and while he is also the star of the performance, some of the majority laurels also go to Chick Johnson who specializes in the usual line of "liz" chatter that seems more or less essential for the popularity of a musical revue nowadays. Though this has been perhaps rougher, it is rough enough as per usual.

Clyde Hager also broadly amuses with an assortment of talk and gags not the least successful of which is the Houdini take-off that continues on through the performance at intervals, and causes uproarious outbursts on each occasion.

The singing of Willard Hall in the Egyptian and Gypsy numbers is acceptable. This chap has a smooth voice, and uses it easily. Ruby Lake proves pleasing also with him in one song number, and also in the Band Box Parade.

Edyth Evans, who is the feminine lead in the cast, was most successful in the "Daffodills" with Lynn Cowan, which was very attractively done. At times, her work could have been snapped up considerably.

Ole Olsen needs much better material than he has as a sort of informal introducer for the various acts. He has the style, perhaps, but not the native wit to match the job, and it is a question, therefore, of supplying him with a livelier line. Percy Bronson is virtually in the same predicament. Their parts particularly need building.

The Angelus Sisters who dance, and have names that are worth noting, namely, Tula and Ebba, are very pretty. Their black cat and shoppe girl number, and also the minuet have a sparkle. They should be quite a hit.

Other dancing principals were Manuel and Vida, and others doing duty were Sidney Gibson in some of the comedy and George Redman as leader of the orchestra, as well as Cowan himself who helped the show along occasionally at the piano and on the stage, as well as in the general supervision. The chorus, too, adds quite materially to the performance. A late hit in the show was the ventriloquist gag in which Demarest amused greatly. This also is from vaudeville, which brings the last-minute thought that they might liven things up with a new one or two, funny though these familiar stunts may be.

The printed program was not followed closely, owing evidently to last-minute changes in the order of the performance. There were some rather ragged moments in the staging, but these naturally will not obtrude in subsequent givings of the show.

The lyrics of the show are by Earle Fox, and in some cases are quite lilting.

The program also mentioned that the sketches were compiled by Ballard MacDonald. "Compiled" is right in certain instances.

Orpheum Tells Notable Stars 'Coming Soon'

Elsie Janis, fresh from two years' triumphs in Europe, Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, with a revue of eighteen people; Helen MacKellar, the young dramatic actress, and a score of equally famous names are included in the list of artists made public by the Orpheum yesterday under the heading of "coming soon."

Elaborate plans are under way for the shows to be presented at the Orpheum this fall and winter and many famous stars are scheduled for an appearance at the vaudeville theater. Not only has the Orpheum planned carefully its offerings for the early fall and winter season, but the vaudeville circuit has inaugurated an expansion program which provides for the new theaters in Chicago, Omaha, Seattle, Vancouver, Sioux City, South Bend, Springfield and Madison.

Other stars which have been announced as coming soon are Elsa Ersi and Company, the Hungarian musical-comedy star, Adela Verne, an English concert pianist, Bert Lytell in "The Valiant," Bill Robinson, "The Dark Cloud of Joy;" Flo Irwin and Company; Albertina Rausch's "Pompadour Ballet;" Lady Odon Pearse, Charlie Foy and the Four Young Foys; Wellington Cross, Owen McGiveney, Sylvia Clark, Val and Ernie Stanton and others.

Pasadena Sees New Production of Schirtzinger

Premiere of Victor Schertzinger's "Siberia," adapted from the stage play by the same name and written by Bartley Campbell, was staged at Bard's Pasadena Theater last night.

Russian from start to finish, one would never realize, it is said, that the snow and sleet scenes which were supposed to have beer taken in the heart of the Siberian salt mining regions were really "shot" in the north woods of America.

Orange Grove Blossom

Carlotta Miles

Appearing as the leading lady in "Partners Again" which will be seen for the first time in Los Angeles at the Orange Grove Theater tonight.

Players Attend Performance of 'On the Stairs'

Four New York stage players will view a performance of "On The Stairs," the thriller at the Morosco, with the arrival of the Sunset limited from New York Tuesday.

Alma Tell, John Litel, Elizabeth Allen and Mitchell Harris, who was last seen in Los Angeles at the Mason as the minister in "The Fool," have left New York to join the Morosco forces and will occupy a box Tuesday night.

Alma Tell achieved attention by her work in "Eyes of Youth," "The Rise and Fall of Susan Lennox," "When We Were Young" and "Main Street," having played the leads in these plays on Broadway, New York.

As star of "It Is the Law" at the Ritz Theater and in Michael Arlen's "These Charming People" she asserted her right to stardom. John Litel, is best remembered for his playing the leading male role in the eastern production "Irene." He was decorated several times for his bravery in the late World War, having served with the A.E.F. for four years. Elizabeth Allen, played the ingenue in "The Handy Man" at the Thirty-ninth-Street Theater, New York, and in "The Holy Terror" and in "Dawn" at the Sam H. Harris Theater.

GARRET TO OFFER ONE-ACT SKETCHES

On the play bill to be offered by the Garret Players for four days starting tonight at their tiny playhouse at 132½ South Spring street are three original one-act sketches by Sada Cowan, Rupert Hughes and Ralph Wheelright.

"Pierrot of the Minute," one of the little theater gems, will also have its first Garret presentation on the same program.

TELLS OF PEOPLE EVERYONE KNOWS

Blanche Douglas

"White Collars," about to enter its 123rd week at the Egan Theater relates the experience of a young bride who insists on taking her wealthy husband to the home of her family in an upper East-side flat in New York. Her object is to show him the fmaily point of view of why they cannot accept his bounty. Already very much of a democratic young man, Uncle Henry of the play insists on trying to "democratize" him anyway.

Forum Adopts Innovation in Seating Crowd

Beginning next Saturday with the premiere showing of Lois Weber's romance of the show world, "The Marriage Clause," what is believed to be an innovation in local theatrical presentations will be inaugurated at the Forum Theater.

No one will be seated during the last fifteen minutes of each performance, thus insuring perfect enjoyment of the picture on the part of those already seated, and also because of the intense dramatic climax of "The Marriage Clause" it is Mr. Goring's idea that the picture would be spoiled for anyone seeing this part without understanding the events that lead up to it.

"The Marriage Clause" will be given an elaborate premiere at the Forum Saturday. Francis X. Bushman, Billie Dove, Warner Oland and Grace Darmond play the leading roles in this picture.

Orange Grove Reopens With Comedy Tonight

With the opening of "Partners Again," at the Orange Grove tonight that theater has been the scene of intense activity for several weeks past. Alexander Carr, who plays the leading role of Perlmutter, directed the production. Eddie Lambert plays the part of Potash.

This play is the latest adventures of Potash and Perlmutter, from the pen of Montague Glass.

In order to get the two automobiles on the Orange Grove stage which are used in the play it was necessary to remove two seats from each of the twenty-six rows of seats in the theater. A special gangplank was then built from the floor over the orchestra pit onto the stage. It required an expert driver to drive the cars through the front door of the theater, through the house and onto the stage.

TALMADGE STARTS FIRST U PICTURE

MAX BRAND MAGAZINE STORY CHOSEN TO BEGIN SERIES

Richard Talmadge has started production on the first of six feature pictures which he is making for release by Universal.

"The Black Rider," a magazine story by Max Brand, is the title of the picture, and is being directed by Irvin Willat. It is a romantic comedy-drama with the setting in Spain and Baja California and combines the star's usual thrilling stunts with fast moving comedy.

The six features which Talmadge will make for release by Universal Pictures Corporation will be a special unit of the program of the company. The athletic star in the past two years has become one of the leading attractions of the screen, and in his new series, will make his pictures on a larger scale than ever.

EL PATIO AWARDS CONTEST PRIZES

Two of Screenland's players are to officiate at the contests to be held this week at El Patio. To night Miss Kate Price, featured screen actress will act as judge of the old-fashioned waltz contest, and will award the prizes to the winners, while on Friday night when the regular collegiate contest is to be held at El Patio, Miss Juddy King, who is now under contract at the Fox studio, will be guest of honor and select the winners of the contest.

The music on both occasions will be furnished by the new El Patio orchestra, which is under the direction of Ross and Moulton.

HOLT MAY DO EXTRA

Although he is now in Fresno on business, Jack Holt, featured Paramount player, may return to Hollywood within the next few days to start work on a new picture. He recently finished work in "Forlorn River," a film made from the Zane Grey story of the same name. He is to start work on another Grey story in October but may "slip in" a third production before that time.

PLAY CHARMINGLY DONE BY STUDENTS

Marta Oatman School Presents Pleasing Version of "East is West"

With a charming oriental setting, a capable cast, pretty costumes, and a Shipman-Hymer "East-is-West" love-plot, dainty little Jane Fuller, one of the best proteges from the Marta Oatman Theatrical School, could not fail but make a pleasing and effective debut to those persons interested in the work at the Dramatic Academy. "East is West" began last night the first of a series of three performances, the leading role of the play to be portrayed by a different student during each presentation. With a charming and effervescent personality, Miss Fuller presented the little Chinese-American girl with a delicacy and fineness of characterization. Her voice carried well, regardless of the great rapidity with which she spoke. However, many of her deeper emotional scenes failed to come up to par because of a seeming lack of voice volume. An awkwardness of movement—especially in the kneeling scenes—was also noticeable at intervals.

Donald MacBurney, who played opposite Miss Fuller in the role of Billy Benson, failed to display enough genuineness and poise.

Two of the most even character-portrayals of the whole performance were given by Bradley, the proprietor of the Love-Boat, and Joe Gearns, as James Potter, friend to Billy Benson. Mr. Wright was typically Chinese in make-up as well as in action and speech; even more so than Pete Ziegler and Fernando Rodriguez, who had longer parts. The latter students' make-up was bad and greatly marred the finishing touches of their work. Joe Kearns virtually robbed the leading man of most of his honors, by exemplifying those bits of poise and realness which the lead failed to "put over."

Remarkably pretty and quaint were the settings and costumes. Much of the merit of the play was due to their attractiveness. The direction of the play, which was done by Joseph McManus, was very smooth and clever, but the waits between the acts were needlessly long, causing many in the audience to leave rather early in the course of the performance. However, once the curtains were parted and the players appeared, the act moved along without any seeming impediment or fumble in the staging.

Other members of the cast were Kenneth Marstella, Burrwood Jones, Jack Hutchinson, Alice Briody, Charlotte Young, George Calliga, and Janet Prendergast. The technical part of the production was in the hands of Jim Haynes and Peggy Dolan.

Follow Script With Fidelity in New Revival

In the renewal of Alexander Bisson's powerful drama, "Madame X," which Louis O. Macloon brings to the Playhouse with Pauline Frederick starred in the role of Jacqueline, the John N. Raphael adaptation and the William Henry Wright stage version will be used. Lillian Albertson, who has staged this revival, has followed this script with fidelity.

A large company is required for this play and the most infinite care has been exercised by Miss Albertson in the selection of the players to aid Miss Frederick in this effort. Among those who will be seen in important characterizations are Edward Woods, Blanche Fisher, John Merkyl, Frank Elliott, Olaf Hytten, Eugene Borden, Howard Nugent, Claire Du Brey, Katherine Lang, Clark Gable and others.

Her Ambition is to Appear in Home Town

One ambition in the life of Ona Munson, the "Tip-Toes" Kaye of the musical comedy coming to the Mason Theater on Monday, has not been fulfilled up to the present. She has always wanted to appear on the stage in Seattle, her native city, as a star. For several years her name has been flashed in bright lights, but she has never played in the north.

When the opportunity does present itself she will not only appear as a star, but will also return with a husband. Miss Munson married Eddie Buzzell, one of the leading comedians of "Tip-Toes," when the show played San Francisco.

SCOUTS WITH THOMSON

The Boy Scouts of America have appeared in thousands of feet of news-reel film during the last few years, but they are to have an important part in an actual motion picture when David Kirkland, director, starts work on "The Regular Scout," an F.B.O. production starring Fred Thomson. A number of Los Angeles Scouts are to be used by Kirkland during the filming of some of the most important scenes.

ALL THE DRINK THEY WANTED

Louise Fazenda and Ethel Wales, comedy partners in First National's "Ladies at Play," broke all soft-drink records the other day, in the interests of their art. The script called for the consumption of a large number of cherry phosphates. Then, of course, there were second and third "takes" and different angles of the scene required, so now both actresses declare they will never approach a soft-drink counter again!

HORSEY, HORSEY MIND DIRECTOR!

Because horses develop "temperament" when they become actors, King Baggot is confronted with a new problem in making the racing scenes for "Down the Stretch," the racetrack drama he is filming for Universal from a Gerald Beaumont story, according to word received from the director, on location with his company at the Riverside county fair grounds.

Since each spirited animal has an innate desire to win, Baggot has been forced to run tryouts to determine which thoroughbred should bear the hero to victory as the fastest horse. Three times since he started filming the great races some ambitious pony has spoiled the scene by beating the slated winner to the tape in spite of the jockey's efforts to "pull" him down.

DEFINITE and consistent progress in the development of a major highway system to meet the bewildering problem of traffic congestion throughout the city is indicated in a comprehensive survey and report made public by the Traffic Commission.

Some 200 or more opening, widening and paving projects, all directly and closely linked with the Major Traffic Street plan, are well under way, the report revealed. Additional projects are being pushed vigorously and major advances are shown in the work of pushing through the most essential phases of the general plan.

In making the survey, the commission took cognizance of only those projects that would be considered of more than local benefit but the report shows that there is scarcely a square mile in the city where an important highway plan has not been projected and advanced by official action.

PROCEEDINGS IN COURT

Scores of the improvements are now in the courts, undergoing condemnation proceedings. Final judgments have been filed in a few cases.

The first unit of the general plan, which involves the extension, widening or paving of twenty-six traffic arteries considered as the most essential to relieve congestion in the downtown area, has received the greatest attention and has been carried further than any other of the projects. Actual work on the first unit probably will begin within a year, the report said, and the first major artery to receive attention will be Third street.

Figueroa street, Glendale Boulevard, Fremont avenue and North Spring street will be taken up in quick succession to relieve the present "bottle neck" condition. One fact brought out in the report is that property values have increased greatly in all sections where major arteries have been projected and that the development in these sections also has been tremendously stimulated.

ALLEYS WIDENED

A veritable network of arterial thoroughfares, most of them leading directly to the downtown district, is envisaged in plans now being prepared by the City Engineering Department. Streets now little more than alleys, the report says, are being widened to 100 feet. Other important thoroughfares little used because of uneven roadways are being paved and entirely new streets are being opened and developed.

Through the major highways committee of the Traffic Commission, David R. Faries, legal counsel, has aided city officials in solving problems arising in the carrying out of undertakings of such magnitude.

"While there are still many streets under the Major Traffic Street plan which must be opened and widened to co-ordinate the entire program," Mr. Faries said, "the progress up to the present time has been most encouraging. The City Engineering Department under Maj. John C. Shaw, has done an immense amount of work in preparing plans and the staff of City Attorney Stephens has been most active in pushing condemnation proceedings.

REALIZE BENEFITS SOON

"It will not be long now before Los Angeles will begin to realize the benefits to be derived from carrying out this comprehensive traffic plan."

The Major Traffic Street plan was drawn by engineers employed by the Traffic Commission and was adopted by the voters five to one. The first unit of the general program, which embraces the twenty-six most essential street projects, was financed by the passage of a $5,000,000-bond issue.

A map showing the progress to July 1, last, accompanied the report of the commission. This indicates in graphic form the scope of the undertaking and the degree to which it has been put into effect. The heavy black lines on the map show projects for which the city engineer is drawing plans.

SOME ADVANCED

Among the major projects that have been advanced since the plan was adopted two years ago are Tenth street, Broadway, Figueroa street, Third street, Eighth street, Santa Barbara avenue, East Fourth street, Exposition Boulevard, Hoover street, Fremont avenue, Pico street, Washington street, Florence avenue, Manchester avenue and Slauson avenue.

Records in the City Hall show the following projects for which condemnation proceedings have been completed: Fifth street, Grand to Boylston; La Brea avenue, Pico to Venice Boulevard; Western avenue, Pico to Washington; Vermont, avenue, San Marino to Washington.

Projects for which condemnation proceedings have been instituted include: Cahuenga, avenue, Highland to Melrose; Eighth street, Figueroa to Windsor Boulevard; Fletcher Drive, York Boulevard to Riverside Drive; Florence evenue, Pacific avenue to west city boundary; Flower street, Seventh to Thirty-eighth street; Hoover street, (via Virgil) Geneva to Sunset; Jefferson street, McClintock to Vermont; Olive street, Seventh to Twenty-third at Hill; Riverside Drive, Los Feliz Boulevard to Dayton avenue; Second street, Figueroa to Glendale Boulevard; Seventh street, Figueroa to Lucas (grade lowering); Silver Lake Boulevard, Riverside Drive to Beverly Boulevard; Slauson avenue, Figueroa to west city boundary; Temple street, Hoover to Vermont; Third street, Figueroa to Vermont; Vermont avenue, Hollywood Boulevard to Wilshire; Vine street, Sunset to Melrose; Washington street, Figueroa to Alameda; Western avenue, Twenty-fourth to Santa Barbara.

CONSIDER ORDINANCES

LATE IN MAY, 1861, GEN. BENJAMIN BUTLER WAS GIVEN COMMAND OF THE FEDERAL "DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA" WITH HEADQUARTERS AT FORT MONROE. THE CONFEDERATES WERE ACTIVE IN THIS REGION, THE VIRGINIA CAVALRY FROM LITTLE BETHEL (8 MILES NORTH OF NEWPORT NEWS). FREQUENTLY RAIDING THE UNION PICKETS.

ON THE NIGHT OF JUNE 9, BUTLER SENT 3,000 NEW YORK AND NEW ENGLAND TROOPS UNDER GEN. PIERCE TO LITTLE BETHEL. IN THE GRAY DAWN THE UNION FORCE ENCOUNTERED THE CONFEDERATES' MAIN BODY, 1,800 STRONG, UNDER COLS. MAGRUDER AND HILL, AT BIG BETHEL ENTRENCHED BEFORE THE VILLAGE CHURCH AND SUPPORTED BY MASKED BATTERIES.

IN THE DIM LIGHT, THERE WAS MUCH CONFUSION AND ONCE THE NORTHERN SOLDIERS FIRED BY MISTAKE UPON THEIR OWN MEN. DURYEE'S ZOUAVES AND COL. BENDIX'S NEW YORK STEUBEN (GERMAN) REGIMENT CHARGED AGAIN AND AGAIN, BUT EACH TIME WERE REPULSED.

THE VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA MENTS OF THE CONFEDERATES KEPT UP A DEADLY FIRE AND SUCCEEDED IN CRIPPLING FEDERAL ARTILLERY. LACKING THE OF HIS GUNS, PIERCE GAVE THE WORD TO RETIRE AND THE UNION TROOPS RETREATED TO NEWPORT NEWS AND FORT MONROE.

SALESMEN

One of our salesmen made $960 last month. It wasn't luck—but hard work that did it. He was an intelligent salesman who appreciated selling, a legitimate development 8½ miles from the center of Los Angeles where upwards of $1,000,000 have been spent in improvements in 14 months.

This property is being developed by Bert Farrar, a master community builder with 20 years' experience, a man of high standing in every community on the Pacific Coast. You will find an opportunity here to offer property priced at 1-3 the price of other comparable developments.

We are expanding our organization now in contemplation of a large fall business which is indicated by our increased rates during past few weeks.

Glendale is due for a mighty forward stride this year with the opening of new bridges and wider highways.

See W. J. Barr, director of sales.

DIRECTIONS:
Drive to Glendale via Glendale Blvd. and Brand Blvd. to Colorado st., turn east on Colorado to Chevy Chase Drive, then north to Chevy Chase main office.

Saleswomen and Solicitors

TUESDAY, AUGUST 17

2:30 P.M.

JOSEPH McDOWELL MATHEWS

TRAINING IS INDISPENSABLE

Present conditions, together with assurances of an active autumn and winter, have caused us to decide to perfect a selling organization surpassing anything in our history.

A NEW SUBDIVISION SELLING PLAN
in which there will be a place ONLY for those who complete our course.
CLASSES LIMITED TO 35
Phone for reservations if convenient. Mr. Mathews or Miss Jansson, TR. 5051. SUITE 206, Central Bldg. 6th & Main.

EPISODE 27
"THE CALL FOR HELP"
CAPT. EBEN TRUE NOW EXPLAINS TO THE COLONIST SOLDIERS THE MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE HE HAS JUST RECEIVED
IT'S FROM COLONEL PRESCOTT. HE SAYS HIS MEN HAVE ENTRENCHED THEMSELVES ON BREED'S HILL!
ALSO THAT THE BRITISH TROOPS MAY ATTACK THEM ANY DAY NOW AND FOR US TO SEND ALL AVAILABLE RE-ENFORCEMENTS AT ONCE!
EBEN BEGS HIS TORY SWEETHEART, BARBARA, TO REMAIN IN SAFETY WHILE HE PROCEEDS TO BOSTON WITH HIS MEN
NO, DEAREST, MY PLACE IS BY YOUR SIDE — WHERE YOU GO, I GO!! I, TOO, AM A "REBEL" SOLDIER NOW!
THE NEXT DAY MAJOR BLUDGEON RECEIVES A REPORT FROM ONE OF HIS PAID SPIES
THE GIRL IS WITH HIM, SIR, AND I UNDERSTAND THAT THEY ARE GOING TO JOIN COL. PRESCOTT'S MEN ON BREED'S HILL!
AH-THE GODS ARE KIND!!! NOW TO CAPTURE THEM BOTH AND REAP MY REVENGE
MEANWHILE ON THE CREST OF BREED'S HILL, ALL IS ACTIVITY
FACING THE FOE HERE TO-MORROW

"PARNASSUS ON WHEELS"
The ultimate in a bungalow on wheels. Christopher Morley's hero had the idea, but you can have the realization of luxurious modern gypsy life on wheels. The owner paid $4000 for this camp car on a Reo Speedwagon chassis. It is equipped with every conceivable convenience & luxury from cook stove to looking glass. Driven only 7000 miles—one trip. Need money, a bargain. Ph MR. BARBER, Colorado 6175, Pasadena, for appt.

intimation the juror plans to quit. Reports also were current yesterday that a number of other jurors may tender resignations in view of the vote Tuesday.

It was learned yesterday that seven members of the jury voted for action against the juror under fire in connection with the destruction of the two grocery slips. Nine votes favored the juror, it was said, thereby blocking any ouster move or taking definite action against the persons suspected of throwing the evidence down a drainpipe of a lavatory adjoining the grand jury's chambers.

During the time the discussion and balloting took place the suspected juror was absent from the jury room, returning after the third and last ballot was taken.

William H. Carter, foreman of the grand jury, yesterday declined to issue any statements concerning the grand jury's action or to say what the plans are for today's meeting. He did indicate, however, the McPherson case is not a closed issue and that some discussion of a number of phases of the case may take place at today's meeting.

KEYES GONE AGAIN

Mr. Keyes was absent from his office all day yesterday and could not be located for a statement. His secretary stated yesterday "was one of the days of his vacation." He was reported to have left the city to be gone until the latter part of the week.

As far as the grand jury is concerned, all investigation into the destruction of the grocery slips is closed and any future action depends on Mr. Keyes or Judge Keetch. The latter, however, asserted any action rests solely with Mr. Keyes, while Mr. Keyes stated he had not been officially informed of the matter and would not act until he was.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of Mrs. McPherson, said yesterday:

"Sister and I just returned from a nice restful trip and we are having lovely meetings. There are no new developments here and there is absolutely nothing to say about the case."

It was reported representatives of the evangelist are still conducting a search for Ormiston to produce the mysterious "Miss X," who, he told Mr. Keyes, spent ten days at the Carmel bungalow with him. Search for Ormiston and "Miss X" is being made, her agents said, definitely to clear the incident.

HOW IT LOOKS TO A BISHOP

Bishop Welldon of England has the following to say relative to the often discussed subjects of reason and instinct:

"I find much difficulty in drawing a hard and fast line between reason and instinct. It seems to me clear that human beings sometimes act instinctively, as the lower animals sometimes act rationally, at least if 'reason' and 'instinct' are words understood in their commonly accepted sense. Nobody, I think, can well doubt that a dog, if it finds itself placed in novel circumstances, will not infrequently debate and then adopt such action as, if it were human, would be called rational. But after all, the adaptation of conduct to the conditions in which a human being or animal lives is itself an exercise of the reason. I do not doubt that animals in exercising their reason depend more or less upon some faculty or faculties more highly developed in them than in human beings. But that they do at certain times and in certain places act reasonable or in accordance with reason is a fact which it is difficult to disbelieve.—[Our Dumb Animals.

WHERE IT STARTED

Lord Aberdeen, in his book "Tell Me Another," has a story about a celebrated lawyer named Curran. During the proceedings of a court on circuit in the country on a summer day the windows were wide open. While Curran was addressing the court a donkey in an adjoining field brayed loudly. The judge, interrupting, said: "Excuse me, Mr. Curran, one at a time, please." Curran bowed acquiescence, then proceeded with his address. Later, when the judge was delivering his charge to the jury, the donkey brayed again; on which Curran arose, and said: "I'm sorry, Your Honor, but there seems to be such an echo that I can scarcely make out what you are saying."—[Outlook.

THE PUBLIC AND THE McPHERSON CASE

Aimee Semple McPherson and her troubles are still of paramount interest to the public. Despite the slow death of the investigation, a large number of letters continue to reach The Times daily. The old question of Mrs. McPherson's tale of kidnaping is being forgotten, however, and many of the writers now are turning their attention to discussions of the grand jury's activities and to comments on the operation of Angelus Temple.

"It seems to me this grand jury is a big joke, and also that it is functioning in a queer way, indeed," declares E. S. Collins. "At one time we hear that the District Attorney has incriminating evidence; that the handwriting is so clear and positive that an expert is not needed; witnesses are being subpoenaed, etc. Next the District Attorney has a conference with Mrs. McPherson's attorneys with the result that no subpoenas are served.

"Judge Keetch orders secrecy; and enough of it follows to permit someone to get away with the grocery slips, the best evidence in the case.

"This investigation is becoming a big joke throughout. It looks to me as though we need a new District Attorney, a few new judges and a new grand jury."

C. E. Sackett, writing from the Val De Mar Hotel, believes that "the show-down needed in the McPherson case is on the question whether there is any legality at all in the grand jury investigation.

"It was asserted that the purpose was to indict the supposed abductors provided sufficient evidence was produced," he adds. "But the authorities knew just what evidence Mrs. McPherson had to offer. They must have known, therefore, in advance that no indictments would be returned. The general public, so far as I have been able to ascertain, has from the start looked on the grand jury investigation as a move, not against the abductors, but against Mrs. McPherson, an effort to discredit her. And, strange to say, the public imagines that such a move is legal and proper."

A bouquet is tossed to The Times by Jackson J. Parks of 509 Taft Building, Hollywood, as follows:

"Thank God for the Los Angeles Times! With every other newspaper in Los Angeles bowing to the intimidation of fanaticism, The Times displays the intestinal stamina to go ahead trying to pry the cover off the McPherson case.

"This case is a challenge to real newspapers. No newspaper is going to lie down on it while it is still a mystery. Some of the handbills might because they are afraid of it. Success to The Times."

While he believes "the public is satiated with McPherson news," P. S. Stover of 300 North Palm Drive, Beverly Hills, also is convinced the investigation should continue:

"The Carmel evidence has put a new aspect on the case," he writes, "and it seems now that the logical thing for us to do is to withhold our judgment until the grand jury finishes. Mr. Keyes's position is not a bed of roses. The grand jury has acted wisely in requesting a continuance of this investigation.

"The writer, listening in on the Angelus Temple, overheard the entire congregation singing something about 'Lyin' Ryan.' I do not believe it. Mr. Ryan is simply doing his duty, as are all the other officials. This did not strike me as broadcasting a Christian message."

Apropos of the finding of another shack in the Mexican desert which Mrs. McPherson has expressed belief is the one wherein she says she was held captive by kidnapers, Daniel C. Daggett of 416 Eighteenth street, Santa Monica, inquires pointedly:

"Why not send an expert to the newly discovered cabin for the purpose of obtaining fingerprints of 'Rose' and Aimee and settling once and for all this disgusting controversy?"

Quincy Hamilton of 951 South Figueroa street is interested little in the grand jury inquiry, but he is curious to learn why Angelus Temple ushers bar him from Mrs. McPherson's church because of his crippled condition:

"Experience has taught me," he writes, "that to enlist in an army it is essential to be physically perfect. Also, in commercial life, an able-bodied man has more opportunities for success than a cripple; but until last Sunday I did not know that it is necessary to have a doctor's certificate as to physical fitness in order to attend a religious service in a Los Angeles church. I have always understood that the church catered to our spiritual side, and left the physical to the doctors.

"Last Sunday I joined a throng of Los Angeles citizens entering Angelus Temple, anxious to see Aimee, 'the peer of evangelists,' but was told by an usher that 'cripples are not wanted.' Just to satisfy myself that such an order was general, I passed down the line of entrances and was informed in turn by three ushers that 'cripples are not allowed.' One man at the outer entrance threatened me with arrest when I protested at the treatment I was receiving."

EXCESS OPTIMISM

"A bald-headed man went into a barber shop and asked the barber if he had any good preparations for growing hair.

"'Here, sir,' said the barber, who was bald-headed himself, 'is an excellent thing.' He took a bottle of pink liquid from a shelf. 'My own invention,' sir. Warranted to grow hair on the baldest head. The large-sized bottle is worth five simoleons. The complete cure of six bottles would cost you twenty-five.'

"'All right; I'll take the complete cure,' said the man.

"And he chuckled happily, looked round the shelves and added:

"'By the way, you might wrap me up one of those patent electric hair-curlers, too.'"—[Exchange.

NEEDED EVERY DROP

A certain river in Scotland is apt to run short of water in a dry season. On this river plies a small steamer.

The captain of this vessel had the ill luck recently to run his craft aground on a mudbank, owing to the very low tide. After expressing his opinions of the river, his steamer and its crew, he leaned gloomily on the rail, waiting for the rising tide to lift him clear.

Presently he saw a girl coming down to the river bank with a pail. Obviously she was after water. That was too much for the skipper.

Leaning over the side and shaking his fist he yelled.

STANDARD INSTALLMENT CREDIT PLANS DISCUSSED

Resolution to be Proposed as Move to Establish Standardized Business

[Times Photos]

Above, left—"Jim" Van de Water is only 10 but he knows one sure way of getting credit from a credit man and he's proving it to his father, J. H. Van de Water (left,) general manager of the Retail Merchants' Credit Association, and David J. Woodlock, managing director. Above, right—Miss Sara Cummings of Oklahoma City, youngest delegate to the convention, explaining something or other to Leopold L. Meyer of Houston, Tex., vice-president of the national organization. Below—Some of the women delegates, left to right, they are: Ruth M. Diehl, Bakersfield; Enna Wilstach, San Bernardino; Martha Jury, Redlands; Ethel Hatchett, San Bernardino; Estella Elsche, Cincinnati, and Gladys Johnson, Los Angeles.

ACTION to control installment overbuying and overselling was taken by the department store group of the convention of the Retail Credit Men's National Association at its afternoon session at the Ambassador yesterday through the appointment of a committee to draft a resolution to outline control of installment merchandise sales, which will be submitted to the general convention for its approval at the closing session tomorrow.

This decision came after a discussion of the installment sales problem by the department store group in a conference lasting almost all afternoon. This problem is the outstanding one under consideration by the convention and virtually the entire day will be devoted to its discussion today at a general assembly of all the delegates. Yesterday's session divided into ten group conferences, each representing a different line of business and each discussing the problems peculiar to its particular line, no general assembly being had.

The department store group, which was the largest, finished its discussion of various technical matters pertaining to the operation of department stores early in the afternoon and then took up the subject of installment sales during the discussion of which it was revealed that in the opinion of the 200 or more credit managers present retail credits at this time are o nthe verge of creating a demoralization in business unless properly controlled.

In seeking to assign a cause for the excessive spread of installment selling, several delegates expressed the opinion that the automobile is mainly responsible for this condition because it has unduly popularized the idea of buying on the installment plan things that the public wants and that this development has in turn given rise to a purchasing mania on the part of the public which should be halted.

This opinion was vigorously assailed by other delegates who pointed out that the automobile has had a generally good effect on the public in placing at its command an instrumentality that has broadened its vision and made life more worth living. The automobile, said these delegates, is one of the principal factors that have contributed to the elevation of the standards of American living. It was pointed out that if demoralization has in fact taken place as a result of the public's undue zeal in taking advantage of the installment system, the responsibility therefor is rather to be placed on the merchants and credit men themselves, whose business systems have not kept pace with the public's increased buying inclination.

Human honesty and human pride came in for considerable discussion as elements having a bearing on the credit situation. A majority of the department-store group were inclined to regard anywhere from 90 to 98 per cent of the public as honest, though several added that not every honest purchaser is good pay, suggesting that though the honest man always pays eventually, his deliberation in that matter often leaves the seller without profit.

"The principle aim of these discussions of the installment system is to endeavor to arrive at standardization of methods of extending credit," said Leopold L. Meyer of Houston, vice-president of the association, and general chairman of the group conferences. "The installment system, in itself is a good thing and has had a large share in contributing to the progress of this country. The difficulty is that there has been a tendency to abuse of the system. There is no uniformity in the methods of handling it employed by different merchants.

"The worst feature of the situation is the growing tendency among the sellers to compete in credit. This is fatal. Competition is permissible along any other line, but when merchants compete in the extension of the lowest credits, the commercial balance is jolted and disaster can ensue.

"Credits are based on certain perfectly sound economic principles and if these are properly observed, the credit system is not only a safe element in business, but of great advantage as well, to both buyer and seller. One principle that is being more and more disregarded these days is that which holds as unsound the extension of credit on any article for a period longer than the life of that article. Selling groceries on the installment plan, therefore, would be a highly unsound proceeding, and the same applies in a less pronounced degree to clothing. And yet the installment plan is employed on an ever-increasing scale in the clothing business today. What this convention hopes to accomplish is to evolve a credit policy that will embody the economic principles that experience has found to be sound and then to try to get it generally adopted by the merchants of the country."

While the credit men are deliberating over the problems of their line of endeavor, the retail exchange division of the association, which includes the men whose business is the collection of outstanding accounts, is also holding its annual session in another room of the Ambassador under direction of the chairman of the division, William H. Gray of Cleveland. What methods are best adapted to the collection of bad debts was the principal topic of discussion of this division yesterday.

"There are five methods of collecting from recalcitrant debtors—by a personal call, letter, telephone, telegraph and suit," said I. G. Moody of Tucson. "All have their merits, but when it comes to a particularly hard-shell case I have found that a lawsuit is most efficacious. A peculiar sort of psychology seems to govern the public attitude toward a court judgment which causes a man to dread this form of pressure more than any other. I have had experience with innumerable cases where the debtor was supposed to be what is commonly known as 'judgment-proof' and yet came across and paid his bill when a court judgment was entered against him."

In dealing with debtors, J. A. Gross, head of a collection agency in Los Angeles, holds that tact and mild methods are best.

"I don't believe in being hard-boiled," said Mr. Gross. "Occasionally an irate debtor comes up to our office and offers to 'clean up' the institution, but invariably a little tact and diplomacy cool him off. In fact, a time ago a man from whom we had collected a debt with a good deal of difficulty became a good friend of ours and one day brought up a client for our firm, to whom he explained that we had been able to collect money from the erstwhile debtor and hence he could see no reason why we should not be able to make a collection for his friend."

HUSBAND FAILED TO PAY DEBTS, SAYS WIFE

Although Walter W. Wood had plenty of money with which to gamble and go out nights, he refused to pay his debts and his wife was bothered by his creditors, Amelia M. Wood told Judge Walton J. Wood yesterday in getting a divorce. Mrs. Wood also charged her husband left her alone when she was ill and unable to leave her bed. In addition to granting her a decree, Judge Wood allowed her $50 a month for the support of herself and minor children.

ASK LAND CONDEMNED

The condemnation of property for use as street purposes at the intersection of Hollywood Boulevard and Laurel Canyon Road was requested of the City Council yesterday by the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce. The land to be condemned is a triangular in shape and located in the center of Laurel Canyon Road.

SHOOTS AT HOLLYWOOD MARAUDER

Officer Falls in Chase Allowing Burglar to Get Clear at Actress's Home

Hollywood residents in the neighborhood of 1745 North Kenmore avenue were aroused early yesterday by shots fired in a burglar chase by Policeman Lillenthal of the Hollywood station who was pursuing a man who had attempted to break into the apartment of Alyce Mills, film actress. The intruder, who was discovered by the officer fumbling with the window leading into Miss Mills's apartment, made his escape by jumping over a fence in the rear of the house.

Miss Mills told the police she had been home about twenty minutes when the man was discovered by the officer. She told the police she had noticed another car trailing her home but thought nothing of it. Miss Mills said she wore a large amount of jewelry.

A short while after the chase a man answering the description of the burglar entered a coffee shop on Santa Monica Boulevard and asked directions downtown. Lillenthal described the man in his report as about five feet ten inches, 180 pounds wearing a dark gray suit and a straw hat. Officer Lillenthal believes the man may be wounded by one of his bullets.
